Hill System Will Show Outside People What This State Holds for Them.

Home builders are moving into central Oregon in constantly increasing numbers. They are in advance of the thousands prospecting to come in a few months by rail.

"They will be able to raise vegetables and fruits and grains," said F. W. Graham, western industrial and immigration agent of the Great Northern Railway company, who is in Portland yesterday. "They will go into this great country of undiscovered possibilities and make it the scene of development that will become historic."

President Louis W. Hill of the Great Northern insists that Oregon development shall catch up with that of Washington. Let me explain just what that means to Oregon, then the great benefit will be realized. Washington is only two-thirds as large as Oregon. Oregon's area is 98,499 square miles. Washington has 68,137 square miles. But Washington has 4180 miles of railroad with 900,000 population, according to the count of 1915, while Oregon has but 2000 miles of railroad and 450,000 of population according to the count of 1918.

Oregon Just as Good.
In other words, Washington with only about two-thirds of the area has nearly twice as many miles of railroad and consequently nearly double the population that Oregon possesses. Remember, please, that this is contrast between Hill and Harriman development enterprises. Oregon is as good, mile for mile, as Washington. Oregon is an unexploited area of extensive development. It is simply been a question of transportation, and that question will be answered by the completion of the Oregon Trunk. But President Hill does not intend to limit his railroad building in Oregon to the Oregon Trunk.

Mr. Graham has recently completed a journey through central Oregon. His statements were evidence obtained through personal contact with the country. He was gathering specimen products to be used in the Hill train of Oregon exhibits. He will be able to show from interior Oregon splendid specimens of grain, fruits and vegetables. He has figures to show that the production would long ago have been wealth bringing had there been any means of transportation.

The exhibition train will begin its journey across the continent, said Mr. Graham, during the early autumn. The car of Oregon exhibits will be taken to all the eastern county seats and wherever the people deem together, in order that all may learn what Oregon has to offer. The train will contain between 400 and 500 big jars full of Oregon fruits and fish and grains. In accordance with the plans of President L. W. Hill there are to be compartments representing the various sections.

To Preserve Beauty.
For instance, there will be great clusters of splendid roses preserved by special process representing Portland, the Rose City. English walnuts will represent McMinnville, the walnut city, and cherries—a wealth of them, Royal Annes, Black Republicans and G. H. France, the cherry city.

It is apparently no part of President Hill's intentions to neglect any portion of Oregon in his exposition of its productions. The area west of the Willamette valley, which will be represented impartially with the great central area which Mr. Hill is making just now the scene of his pet development plans.

The work of preserving the fruits and other exhibits for the Hill train is being done by H. Brewster Wight, the Chamber of Commerce expert. Mr. Wight's success in causing fruits and vegetables to retain their natural coloring and fresh appearance is unusual, and his employment by the Hill interest was a result of special arrangement for his services with the Chamber of Commerce.

WAGNER GOING AFTER ASSEMBLY NOMINATION
Lou Wagner, who wants to be county clerk, is going for the assembly nomination for all. He filed his declaration of intention several days ago and announced that he would not be a candidate before the convention which meets Saturday morning.

According to political gossip the "leaders" of the convention have framed things for Sig Wertheimer, who wants Wagner's job. They have promised Wertheimer that he shall have the nomination.

J. J. Fitzgerald, chief deputy district attorney, William Kierman, chief deputy constable, and Count Senosky, business associate of all four of them, have been working the wires to defeat the dictum of the managing committee. The three friends of Wagner have been busy with the telephone during the week calling each delegate to the county convention and attempting to persuade them to give their vote to Wagner for the nomination for constable. Whether their efforts will be sufficient to break the slate remains to be seen.

SAYS ALAMEDA NEEDS SEWER CONNECTIONS
Answering the complaint of Mrs. Elma G. Hughes and the Prospect Park company, who recently stopped the plans for connection of Alameda park sewers with the Irvington district, the Alameda Land company asserts there is urgent need to permit the connection to be made, as much of the territory to be benefited cannot be given proper drainage for two years if the construction of the sewer for the Sullivan's gulch district is avoided.

The answer declares no damage will be done to the property of the plaintiffs by permitting the connection to be made. It is further pointed out that about 25 acres belonging to the Alameda company are within the Irvington sewer district and have been assigned for sewers. It is declared the connection will be made in accordance with the city regulations and is in no way unlawful.

Some time ago the Alameda company secured a permit from the city for the connection, but the work was interrupted by the filing of the injunction suit. The proposed extension is from the termini of the Irvington sewer at East Twentieth and Klickitat streets to East Twenty-fourth and Fremont streets. The proposed extension would be made in accordance with the city regulations and is in no way unlawful.

Steffen Mitchell was fined $10 in the municipal court this morning by Judge Bennett, charged with carrying concealed weapons. It was charged that Mitchell attempted to shoot a man on North Second street.

Lafferty at St. Johns
A. W. Lafferty, direct primary candidate for congress, speaks tonight at St. Johns. Carl E. Kelly, campaign secretary.

Former Debtor of Defunct Bank Shown to Have Been Loaned Eating Funds.

Although Late Pence owed the Oregon Trust & Savings bank many thousands of dollars on notes, he "touched" W. H. Moore for $5 and $10 loans, so he might continue to eat about the time Moore became president of the bank. This testimony given by Moore under cross-examination by A. E. Clark in the civil suit of Receiver Devlin against officers of the bank on trial before Judge Delaney in the circuit court.

Moore said this was after the bank had quit extending credit to Pence, the Pence notes antedating his entry into the bank. As the defense has been intimating that the Pence fiasco schemes were good prospective investments for two or three years after Moore went into the bank, Clark apparently derived considerable satisfaction from Moore's admission that he did not consider a man who "touched" him for $5 on which to eat a strong man financially.

In an effort to show the court that Moore had sufficient knowledge of bookkeeping to ascertain the standing of the bank had he taken the trouble to look at the figures, Clark asked Moore many questions as to his ability to determine the status of accounts. He said he knew how to find the record of notes; how to get the daily balance of separate accounts and how to read the cash balance.

At first Moore said he had frequently looked at the notes register, and Clark demanded how it was he had never seen the record of the Golden Eagle notes carried there. Moore then said he had made a mistake as to the note register. What he intended to say, he declared, was that he knew how to find the notes themselves in the note pouches. His answer related to the register for a long time before the bank closed, he said, as he found it was not kept up to date and might lead him into error. Cashier Morris talked of putting in a new system, he said, and the matter was allowed to run along from time to time without the right kind of record being kept.

Moore yesterday gave a detailed history once more of his connection with the transactions called in question by the suit. On much the same lines as in the former trial, he discussed the accounts of the Golden Eagle, the John Baker, the Pullman and the Pacific company, the Pence company, the Order of Washington and the Board of Trade building company. He told of his effort to arrange a deal with Guy Lombard on the Board of Trade building after the bank failure, to save any other person in the same line of business from taking his advice. He testified he consented under pressure to the sale of the building for whatever price could be had.

In the conduct of the bank, Moore testified, he relied on Cashier Morris for the bookkeeping. He does not understand that part of it, he said. He had no reason to suspect Morris or others under him of lack of integrity. Moore testimony was finished this morning and the defense called John W. Ferguson, accountant, who once examined the books of the Oregon Trust.

FUNNY STUNTS ENLIVEN CAMP LIFE FOR BOYS
The boys who are summering at Spirit Lake, near Mount St. Helens, are writing back to their Portland friends that they are having the time of their lives. Under the leadership of J. C. Clark, director of the boy's department of the Y. M. C. A., they climbed to the top of the mountain, where is of the boys registered at the Mazanias' box. To make the trip they were obliged to leave camp at 6 o'clock in the morning, returning at 6 o'clock in the evening, as tired as boys may well be.

A cabin is being used for a school. Here the boys who are making up back work, or who wish to get extra credits before the fall term of school commences, study. On one side of the cabin whose least ability is in vocal music. Plans are made for each day, so that something new is always happening to sustain interest and prevent monotony. The camp closes and the Y. M. C. A. boys come home September 3.

CASE AGAINST SOL BLUMAUER DISMISSED
Sol Blumauer was arraigned in police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of violating the traffic ordinance. The case was dismissed by Judge Bennett, the judge holding that there was an equal number of witnesses for and against Mr. Blumauer. He also took into consideration the fact that Blumauer's chauffeur had been prominent in aiding the police to act against speed maniacs.

It was alleged that Blumauer had driven an automobile through a crowd which was attempting to board a car at Fifth and Washington streets. The complaining witness was R. J. Little, an electrical engineer, who testified that the crowd was divided and part of it forced close to the side of the car when the automobile passed through. Blumauer and his chauffeur said the car had not yet come to a stop when they passed it.

An attempt was made by Blumauer to get a warrant for the arrest of Randolph, whom he accused of cursing the chauffeur, but the warrant was refused him.

Norwood Tichenor was fined $25 for speeding his automobile on Twenty-third street.

SENT TO ROCKPILE FOR SHOOTING GREEK
Peter Grichis, was fined $300 and sentenced to 90 days on the rockpile this morning by Judge Bennett, municipal judge, for shooting a fellow Greek in the leg in a coffee house on Burnside street on July 5.

Grichis claimed that he was shooting in self-defense, but evidence was produced sufficient to prove that he was guilty of assault and battery. Peter Stancarek, the wounded man, was in bed and unable to testify.

Wickerham-Nagel Itinerary.
Seattle, July 15.—The statesman Albert Wickerham has been ordered to sail from Seattle for Vancouver, B. C., to meet Attorney General Wickerham and Secretary Nagel, July 23. They will sail from Vancouver for Alaska direct on that date, visiting Seattle on their return trip. They are due back in Seattle September 5.

Bishop Hoop of Noted Abbey.
Belmont, N. C., July 15.—Bishop Leo Hoop, head of Belmont Abbey, celebrated his sixty-first birthday today. Belmont Abbey has just been elevated by the pope to the dignity of cathedral abbey, which gives it premier rank over all abbeys in North America.

FIGHT IN THE FACE

Victor Malsch Struck Team Driver and Ran, but Was Caught.

While B. A. Finch employed by the Henderson & Finch Transfer company, 73 Front street, was waiting for a car at Goldsmith and Albina streets at 6:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon, he was struck in the face by Victor L. Malsch. Before Finch could recover from the blow sufficiently to defend himself, Malsch fled. Finch pursued his assailant, who ran under Barber's dock at the foot of Hancock street. Malsch was struck by Henderson & Finch's car, which was attempting to escape and pulled him from the docks.

Malsch was arraigned at the police station on a charge of assault and battery. He was fined $25 in police court this morning. Mr. Finch does not know Malsch and does not know his motive in attacking him.

William Kyle and J. Mitchell, teamsters, working for Henderson & Finch, 73 Front street, were assaulted Wednesday night at 7:15 o'clock by two men, Russell street and Albina avenue. The victims of the assault were coming out of a restaurant when they were attacked. Mitchell has a badly swollen eye, but Kyle was not hurt much. The two men who made the assault escaped. The police have made no arrests.

PLAN AUDITORIUM FOR BIG GATHERINGS
Plans for the erection of a monster auditorium in Portland for the housing of all big gatherings will be discussed when the convention bureau recently appointed holds its first meeting at the Portland Commercial club Wednesday.

The convention bureau, the work of which will be to obtain as many connections as possible for Portland, met yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club and organized. The question of an auditorium was immediately raised. A movement was started to get the old site of the exposition building for that of an auditorium.

BUILDING BE RAZED; TENANTS WON'T MOVE
A communication has been sent the executive board by Building Inspector Plummer in which he states the condition of the remaining part of the old Baker theatre is unsafe. The theatre part is being torn away, while a section on the corner, a fruit store adjoining, and a news stand and shining parlor have been allowed to remain.

The building inspector and W. H. Breiner, deputy fire marshal, looked over the building yesterday and found the structure to be in a more dilapidated condition than expected. Since the theatre part has been wrecked the rest of the building is practically unsafe for use.

MILLINER SUES FOR $5000 DAMAGES
Rose Daley, who conducts a dressmaking and millinery establishment on the ground floor of the Rummel building, 575 Washington street, objects to having any other person in the same line of business in the same building. She has begun suit in the circuit court against Johanna C. Rummel, owner of the building, for $5000 damages for alleged violation of her rights under a lease.

The plaintiff says she leased the place for two years from last February at $20 per month for the first year and $40 per month for the second. It was understood no other millinery establishment would be permitted, she says, but later the Chicago Cleaning & Dye Works opened in the same building. She complains that another lease was executed to the National Manufacturing company without any provision excluding use of the premises for a millinery store.

STUDENTS OF NEW LANGUAGE TO MEET
Espérantists of the northwest will get together at the Portland Commercial club tomorrow and hold the first Esperanto convention in the history of the northwest. Sessions will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning, 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock at night. In the convention hall on the sixth floor of the club building.

The convention is being fathered by the Commercial club, which sent out invitations over all the northwest to students of the new language. Among those who will attend the convention, at which the Northwestern Esperantists' association probably will be organized, will be Fred Rivers of Tacoma, Wash., editor of the only Esperanto publication in the northwest.

The Commercial club, in addressing correspondence over all the world, has found Esperanto invaluable.

WOMAN SEEKS PAY FOR CATS DELIVERED
Mrs. Emma R. Chute says the Portland Bird company has cheated her out of $45 worth of kittens and now she has come before Justice Olson in an attempt to recover the value of the feline property by process of law.

Mrs. Chute raises cats at Two Rivers, Wash. She claims that last October she sold to F. A. Stahr, of the Portland Bird company, Union avenue, and Alder street, ten felines, fat healthy kittens at an agreed price of $5 each. She alleges that the bird company have paid her only $5 and therefore is indebted to her in the sum of $45.

THIRTY-FOURTH COMPANY, COMMANDED BY CAPTAIN RAYMOND BREAKS RECORDS.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Fort Stevens, Or., July 13.—The season's target practice was concluded Thursday, when the Thirty-fourth company, Fort Columbia, fired 16 rounds of three inch shells from the 15 pound batteries of both posts. The Thirty-fourth company, C. A. commanded by Captain Willis, obtained six hits out of the 16 shots fired from their batteries.

The Thirty-fourth company, commanded by Captain Raymond, achieved record breaking results, both from the standpoint of time and accuracy. They fired 16 shots at a rapidly moving target in 50 seconds and scored 16 hits.

Result Is Remarkable.
This is a phenomenal result. A boat of the type supposed to be fired at by such caliber rifles (three inch) would have been completely riddled by such a destructive rain of shells. These guns are designed for use against torpedo boats, torpedo boat destroyers, gunboats and the numerous small craft that prove so elusive to larger and more cumbersome rifles.

The season just closed has been an exceptional one, unusually fine results being attained. Wednesday the Ninety-third company made a brilliant record with 13 inch mortars; today the Thirty-fourth company has obtained results that cannot be excelled, and may not be equaled.

Wife Made Will.
Last August, said Delaney, his wife made a will giving her property to her sisters and leaving him $1. She told him about it afterward and said she had decided to kill him and then commit suicide. He said she had threatened violence to him on three occasions he had taken a knife away from her. She told him she would poison him some day, and he had to adopt precautions in eating the food she prepared for him.

Other Witnesses.
Other witnesses, who lived in the same house with the Delaneys at the time he left her, last May, testified that she has since acknowledged to them she was wrong in accusing her husband of murder. She was to blame, Delaney and his wife were married in Philadelphia, Pa., in March, 1892. When he left her he paid her $500 and agreed to pay her $60 per month, which he has done.

Hubbard Just "Left."
Mrs. Margaret Lutz told how her husband, Joseph C. Lutz, after notifying her he was going to Gearhart Park to visit his parents, took a steamer for San Francisco. She heard he was accompanied by a woman. He was employed in one of the large grocery stores and telephoned to her of his supposed trip to the beach. Later he came out and packed his suit case. He departed ostensibly for the coast, but went to California instead. This was in August, 1908. Later, she said, he came back and told her he was not serious. They were married in Tacoma, Wash., in 1905, and have a child two years of age. The child was awarded to the mother.

"He told me he was tired of married life and tired of supporting a family," Mrs. Roxie Bennett explained in securing a divorce from her husband. She said she left with this declaration in February, 1907, after a married life of two years. They have two children, one with the father in Vancouver, Wash., and the other with the mother. Each parent will support one child. The Bennetts were married in Brush Prairie, Wash.

Decree on the ground of desertion will be given to Anna Cummins from Elvira Cummins and to Edith Wetheren from A. M. Wetheren. Mrs. Cummins was married in December, 1902, in Clark county, Wash., and lived with Cummins until September, 1904. Mrs. Wetheren was married in Benton county, Or., in 1900, and her husband left her, she said, in June of last year.

POLICEMEN ARE AFTER DILATORY MOTORISTS
A list of about 300 delinquent automobile licenses have been given the police department with instructions to arrest the drivers of such machines. The list was furnished by the license office. Two patrolmen will be assigned the work of rounding up those who have not complied with the city ordinance.

This license fee has been due several weeks. Several have paid by since the list was made. The machines are being operated in flagrant violation of the ordinance. The largest number of delinquents assign their failure to register to their misunderstanding of the law. They claim their understanding of a state law exempted them from the city ordinance.

ARREST SIX FOR RIDING BIKES ON SIDEWALKS
Following an order of the chief of police to put a stop to the practice of riding bicycles on the sidewalk, Patrolmen Hatten, stationed in the vicinity of Union and Klickitat avenues, made six arrests of persons violating the ordinance in that respect. The prisoners gave names and addresses as follows: W. C. Carr, 416 1/2 Alberta street; E. Williams, 37 Church street; C. Carlson, 436 Oxford street; George Warner, 542 Delaware avenue; Ross Everett, 410 Emery avenue, and Nathan Hilton, 2385 Oberlin avenue. Carr and Warner forfeited bail of $5. Everett forfeited $1 and the others were fined $2 each in the city court.

MISTAKEN AS BEING DRUNK, MAN DIES
H. C. Giese, a painting contractor, 1211 Montana avenue, died yesterday afternoon in the police station. Patrolman Hatten called on Giese to go to the floor while eating lunch in a restaurant at 23 1/2 North Third street. The restaurant man, thinking Giese drunk, sent for the police station. Upon reaching the station the officers were unable to arouse the man and upon investigation it was found he was dead. Death was due to heart failure. No inquest will be held. Giese is survived by a widow, one daughter and two sons.

Agent Took Her Machine.
J. Hickey, agent for the New Home Sewing Machine company, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Wagner, charged with stealing a sewing machine by Mrs. Li Sun of North Seventh street. The woman claimed she owned $3 on the machine and when the agent called she had but $2 in the house. Instead of accepting this, she says the agent forced his way into the house and took the machine away from her. Hickey was held under $1000 bond. He will be arraigned at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Motorcycle and Auto Collide.
N. P. John, riding a motorcycle, collided with an automobile driven by Neil E. Brennan, manager of the Wertz lumber & mill company, at 21st and Burnside streets yesterday afternoon. John's machine was wrecked, and he suffered scratches and bruises. Witnesses of the accident say both machines were going slowly, but the view of each was obstructed by buildings on the corner.

Irwin Aspires to Supreme Bench.
Montevideo, Wash., July 13.—Mason Irwin, judge of the judicial court of Chelan county since 1880 with the exception of four years, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the supreme court. The Chelan county Republican central committee has urged his candidacy, pledging the support of its delegates.

Carlson, 436 Oxford street; George Warner, 542 Delaware avenue; Ross Everett, 410 Emery avenue, and Nathan Hilton, 2385 Oberlin avenue. Carr and Warner forfeited bail of $5. Everett forfeited $1 and the others were fined $2 each in the city court.

MISTAKEN AS BEING DRUNK, MAN DIES
H. C. Giese, a painting contractor, 1211 Montana avenue, died yesterday afternoon in the police station. Patrolman Hatten called on Giese to go to the floor while eating lunch in a restaurant at 23 1/2 North Third street. The restaurant man, thinking Giese drunk, sent for the police station. Upon reaching the station the officers were unable to arouse the man and upon investigation it was found he was dead. Death was due to heart failure. No inquest will be held. Giese is survived by a widow, one daughter and two sons.

Agent Took Her Machine.
J. Hickey, agent for the New Home Sewing Machine company, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Wagner, charged with stealing a sewing machine by Mrs. Li Sun of North Seventh street. The woman claimed she owned $3 on the machine and when the agent called she had but $2 in the house. Instead of accepting this, she says the agent forced his way into the house and took the machine away from her. Hickey was held under $1000 bond. He will be arraigned at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Motorcycle and Auto Collide.
N. P. John, riding a motorcycle, collided with an automobile driven by Neil E. Brennan, manager of the Wertz lumber & mill company, at 21st and Burnside streets yesterday afternoon. John's machine was wrecked, and he suffered scratches and bruises. Witnesses of the accident say both machines were going slowly, but the view of each was obstructed by buildings on the corner.
