

POOR OF LONDON CHARGE OF CLUMSY BUNGLES

Insert Ads in Papers All Over Europe Asking Mile. Leneve to Please Surrender—Important Clue Discovered.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, July 15.—Advertisements were inserted in leading morning papers here and on the continent today appealing to Mile. Leneve to appear and surrender to the London police. The ads were inserted by the authorities here, who hope to convince the woman that her safety lies in helping them find Crippen. The advertisements ask her to reveal Dr. Crippen's whereabouts and represent that she has nothing to lose and everything to gain by siding with the police.

Police Called Bunglers.
Baffled at every turn by the ingenuity of the murderer of the woman supposed to be Mrs. Hawley Crippen, formerly a noted singer of noble Polish birth, the police are being accused today by press and public as clumsy bunglers who have let a criminal slip through their hands.

Scotland Yard has nothing but a web of suspicions to entangle Dr. Hawley Crippen, the American dentist, whom they charge with the murder. Every tangible clue has ended in a bling alley and in desperation the detectives have called upon Dr. Pepper, the government analyst and criminologist, to assist.

Dr. Pepper has been of little comfort to the Scotland Yard men, as he has steadfastly refused to declare that the lime eaten corpse found under the concrete flooring in the cellar of number 33, Hilldrop Crescent, Islington, is that of Mrs. Crippen. Dr. Pepper believes the mutilated remains are those of the famous singer, but he declines to swear to that belief.

Meanwhile the police are seeking Crippen and his alleged companion, Mile. Ethel Leneve, even though they have nothing legally to show that Mrs. Crippen is dead. This has caused them to postpone holding the inquest until next Monday.

Police Look for Jewelry Sales.
The latest official announcement from Scotland Yard is that Crippen fled from London with $250 in money and $25,000 worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Crippen. They believe that his funds will soon be exhausted; that he will be forced to sell the jewelry and that they will be able to pick up the trail as soon as the jewels are identified.

The police believe that Mile. Leneve is no longer with Crippen, if she ever was in his company. They assert that she is hiding in France.

Dressmaker Produces Clue.
The authorities have discovered a dressmaker who declares that, shortly after February 2, the day on which it is believed Mrs. Crippen was killed, Mile. Leneve came to her with a half-dozen of clothing to have the dresses altered. The clothing has been identified as that of Mrs. Crippen. According to the seamstress, the young woman said she intended to marry Dr. Crippen and that the gown had been made for her by an aunt, Mile. Leneve called and took away the dresses on the day before she and Dr. Crippen are alleged to have fled.

Popular clamor against the methods of Scotland Yard is growing here. The press is almost unanimous in criticizing the work of the foremost English detectives detailed on the case. The defense of the police that they had no warrant to arrest Crippen or the woman is seemingly unavailing in turning the storm of disapproval.

BRYAN BY PROXY AT TICKET'S HEAD

Lincoln, July 15.—Ex-Senator W. R. Patrick, a lieutenant of William J. Bryan, today filed notice of his candidacy for the nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket. This is believed to be a move on the part of William J. Bryan to defeat Governor Shallenbarger for reelection on account of the governor's refusal to espouse the cause of county option, for which Bryan is making a strong fight. Conventions are being held today in 46 counties to select delegates to the state Democratic convention. The issue is Bryanism, and the fate of Bryan's efforts to force a county option plank into the state platform will be known tonight.

FIRE THREATENS LOSS OF $250,000

Hoguslam, Wash., July 15.—One of the worst forest fires of the year in Chehalis county is raging northeast of this city on the Wishkah river and it threatens the destruction of logging plants of the Coast Logging company and the A. J. West Logging company.

The fire started yesterday has swept over a large area of logged off lands. The camp of the fire is in the north. Men were called out last evening and 400 men spent the night fighting the flames by building back fires. Should the flames reach the camps 20 miles of railroad and the outfit of both companies will be destroyed, resulting in a loss of more than $250,000.

BANK CLEARINGS FOR WEEK SHOW GAIN OVER SAME PERIOD IN 1937

Bank clearings for the week ending at noon today show a gain of 27.3 per cent on those of the same week one year ago. This increase is somewhat less than average weekly gain for several months past, but is accounted for by the fact that the clearings for the week ending July 15, 1937, were unusually large.

The figures in detail are as follows: 1938, $10,975,656.76; 1937, $8,622,855.12.

DEATH OF RIGDON REMAINS MYSTERY

Only Witness Refuses to Testify as to Tragedy in Chicago Broker's Office.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, July 15.—The examination of Miss Mary Wilson, a beautiful southern girl, who saw the shooting yesterday of Mrs. Emma Deufex, a widow, by C. W. Rigdon, a broker, who afterward committed suicide, revealed nothing to the authorities. The young woman was the first witness at the inquest over Rigdon's death. She was defiant and refused to give the police any information.

So unsatisfactory were Miss Wilson's statements that the coroner finally postponed the inquest, which he began today, to July 25.

Maintaining a haughty air, Miss Wilson refused to give her address. She refused to say Hindeale was her home, saying she lived with her mother in a suburb. She indignantly was the young woman's replies given that it is believed the coroner will order her under arrest instead of holding her as a witness.

Miss Wilson finally denied she knew who prompted Rigdon to shoot Mrs. Deufex. She said she met Mrs. Deufex on the street and accompanied her to the office of John C. Feber, where Rigdon was waiting. She said she was not listening to what Rigdon and his companion were saying when suddenly a shot rang out and Mrs. Deufex cried, "I'm shot."

Nothing further could be learned from the young woman.

Joseph Rigdon, son of the broker, testified before the coroner that his father had no permanent address. Most of the time, he said, his father traveled.

SPANISH PEOPLE SUSPECT ALONSO

(United Press Leased Wire.) Madrid, July 14.—The garçons of the leading cities of Spain are being quietly increased today in anticipation of revolts expected to occur following the conference arranged between King Alfonso and the cabinet tomorrow.

Barcelona is the principal scene of unrest and the most serious apprehension of a revolutionary uprising there is felt by the Spanish authorities. Rebels have been active at Bilbao and other cities spreading the anti-clerical propaganda and urging a united front against "the rule of the hierarchy."

General Weyler, formerly captain general of Cuba, where his reconcentration methods earned him the title of "The Butcher," is in command of the local forces. It is probable that at the first sign of trouble he will declare martial law and throw large forces of troops into the disturbed cities.

The courts are still considering the bill introduced by Premier Canalejas and signed by the king, refusing to admit any more religious orders into Spain until a concordat between Spain and the Vatican is agreed upon.

The people suspect Alfonso of insincerity in signing the bill, and they are prepared to resist his action should he endeavor to prevent its passage.

There is strong suspicion that the purpose of the conference tomorrow is to devise ways for frustrating the desires of the people.

Thousands of troops are being massed at Valencia in anticipation of an outbreak as serious as that which occurred while the campaign against the Moors was being waged. Troop trains are being kept under steam constantly and preparations have been made to rush soldiers into Barcelona on a moment's notice. The regular passenger schedule has been interrupted to insure a clear track for the troops.

That an extensive plot directed at cabinet leaders and the king has been discovered in Barcelona is one of the rumors current today in the highest circles. It is reported that the conspiracy is the most formidable yet unearthed by Alfonso's secret agents.

NO TALK ABOUT ANY THIRD TERM

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 15.—A report published in New York papers that Theodore Roosevelt discussed the prospects of a third presidential term with Dr. E. T. Cresson, former ambassador to Brazil and later to Mexico, under Roosevelt's administration, caused Colonel Roosevelt to dictate a sharp editorial today for the Outlook, to be labeled "Newspaper Accuracy."

The column was pitching hay today when questioned regarding the report. He stopped, mopped his brow and said: "I have really nothing to say. Thompson and I are old friends and he did not broach the subject yesterday."

Among the visitors at Sagamore Hill today were four negro politicians who invited Roosevelt to visit the negro fair to be held at Richmond, Va., in the fall.

COP HITS BLOODHOUND; MUST ANSWER FOR IT

Charges against Special Officer Turner were made this morning with Chief of Police Cox by E. T. Rushton, an engraver, who declared Turner shot and badly wounded a valuable bloodhound which was muzzled at the time. Rushton said that the hound had frightened some people in the neighborhood and when they complained to him he bought a stout muzzle and put it on the dog. This morning the animal was on the porch at First and Hall streets and growled when Turner passed. The officer is said to have leaped over the porch railing and shot the hound through the jaw, the bullet coming out of an ear. Rushton declared Turner could not help but notice that the dog was muzzled and therefore harmless.

EX-POLICE CHIEF HUNTS RECOVERY NOT EXPECTED

Ex-Chief of Police C. H. Hunt, who is seriously ill at his residence, 1215 Grand avenue, is reported to be very low today, with scarcely any hope held out for his recovery. Watchers at the bedside of the sufferer expect the end to come at almost any moment.

CITIZENSHIP IS SOLD TO FOREIGN LEFT'S GOLD ROLLS MAN DOWN STAIRS

Half Hundred Applicants Examined Today by Judge Morrow.

Half a hundred residents of Portland are today being examined upon application to become citizens of the United States. Circuit Judge Morrow and United States Naturalization Examiner Henry B. Hazard, with headquarters at Seattle, are passing upon the merits of the applicants.

Until noon but two of about 15 examinees were refused admittance and this upon technical grounds. These applicants had declared their intention under the old naturalization law, before 21 years of age, and hence could not be admitted today but will have to start all over again by again declaring their intention and then wait two years for the final papers. One of these applicants this morning presented a puzzling case. Henry E. Hurlig came to the United States from Germany when a native lad, having been brought here by a relative who at that time was a full fledged citizen of the states. In 1932 Hurlig declared his intention at Hillsboro before he had reached the age of 21.

Nearly all the nation's citizens were compelled to deny the application, on the ground that the declaration of intention had been made prior to June 29, 1906, when the new law changed the age limit from 21 to 18 years. Hurlig immediately made a new start and in two years he will file a new application for full citizenship.

The applicants and their witnesses filled the courtroom to overflowing and quite a line extended into the corridor. Nearly all the nation's citizens were represented. Two applicants accepted this morning were Canadians.

One of the applicants who was fairly well posted on matters in general as to the government of the United States, well known in the city as how Mayor Simon came in possession of his office.

"He was appointed by the governor," he said.

Thomas Joseph O'Brien has lived in Oregon 30 years but never thought seriously until this summer of taking out his citizenship. In explanation of this he said he had just completed a trip to Europe with his family and had come to the conclusion that he would now settle down under the Stars and Stripes for good.

"Have you ever been arrested?" Ex.aminer Hazard asked of Adam Hitzer, a teamster.

"Yes, once."

"One of my horses broke loose in the barn one evening and got out on the street."

"Yes, the case was dismissed."

Another applicant admitted that he takes a drink once in awhile, when pressed for an answer he said he had been in the habit of getting drunk about three times a year. He said he had decided to quit the practice.

Some applicants would not be shaken by the examiner's questions, some of these applicants were complimented by Judge Morrow.

Among those admitted this morning were Thomas Joseph O'Brien, Ireland; Albert C. Olsen-Broten, Norway; James Leonard Elisp, Canada; Adam Hitzer, Germany; Salvatore Dindo, Italy; Henry Dixon, Norway; Scott Elster, Norway; and Adolf Ludwig Ritter, Germany.

WILL CALL HALT ON NICARAGUANS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, July 15.—An announcement at the state department today that steps would be taken at once to protect William Pittman and Dr. Lawrence Burghelm, prisoners of President Madriz in Nicaragua. The announcement was made after a telephone conference today with President Taft at Beverly.

United States Consul Moffatt at Bluefields has been ordered to investigate the report that Dr. Burghelm has been imprisoned so that he might be compelled to "sign" the state department's army. If this report is confirmed, according to the state department, the release of Dr. Burghelm will be demanded.

United States Consul Olivares at Managua has been instructed to watch closely the treatment accorded William Pittman. It is intimated that the slightest indication of cruel treatment will be followed by a demand on the part of the United States for the liberation of American engineers.

The fact that the state department has determined to act decisively following the news that Madriz is sending special representatives here caused the belief that affairs in the little republic will be straightened out soon and that the United States will be called upon to play an important part in the renovation.

STANDPATTERS OF OHIO AT BEVERLY

(United Press Leased Wire.) Beverly, Mass., July 15.—Pursuant to instructions that President Taft was preparing to assume active leadership of the Republican party in the coming congressional campaign without waiting for anybody's O. K., Wade H. Ellis and Senator Dick of Ohio, are here for the purpose of persuading the president to enter the Ohio campaign at once.

Ellis bears the draft of a platform he expects the Republican state convention to adopt. It indorses Taft, the Aldrich tariff law and other measures attacked by the insurgents. Ellis and Dick will confer with the president this afternoon and tomorrow. Senator Burton of Ohio will probably attend tomorrow's conference.

Representative Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Colonel Roosevelt, as Republican nominee for governor of Ohio. President Taft is making it clear that he will not attempt to dictate the Ohio platform.

LEFT'S GOLD ROLLS MAN DOWN STAIRS

Then Plucky Waitress Sinks Toe Into "Masher's" Side to Emphasize Indignation; Object of Wrath Escapes.

Evelyn Leroy, a waitress of athletic build with a heavy right arm punch, knocked a "masher" down three flights of stairs yesterday evening at the Glenwood hotel, Second and Salmon streets. When the man landed at the bottom of the stairway, the plucky young woman delivered several rights and lefts to the head and face, until the "masher" begged for mercy.

The man was finally given a well placed kick and sent into the street. He made a hasty retreat down Second street. Miss Leroy has been followed recently by the man, leaving her work at Moore's restaurant on Fifth street.

Last evening when she started for her room in the hotel, the man followed her from Fifth and Morrison streets. When the Glenwood was reached, he followed her to the top of the third flight of stairs, when the waitress demanded an explanation. She resented the remark he made, and she let go with her right arm, which toppled the man. This blow was followed by a heavy left. The man started for the stairway. Another right arm jab and the "masher" was tumbling head over heels. She followed. At the second landing, a couple other punches, and he tumbled down the second flight of stairs. There was another short flight to the street. A couple more blows sent the fellow to the bottom. Here he fell into the arms of a Japanese house boy. Then the waitress severely pummeled the man.

Miss Leroy finally gave him a kick and returned to her room, showing no signs of the encounter, except a pair of bruised knuckles. In telling of the affair, she said the man spoke to her insultingly on the first evening he followed her.

"If he would have been game enough to stand and fight I would have knocked him out," said the plucky girl today. "He was well dressed, wearing a brown suit of clothes. He was about shaven, about 25 years old, and weighs about 170 pounds. If I ever met him on the street again I'll give him another whipping."

FIVE PERSONS ARE UNACCOUNTED FOR SINCE BIG BLAZE

It is now believed that the Exposition building fire of last Wednesday night claimed at least five human lives. Jack Morgan, Exposition stable employe, was burned, and his charred remains discovered the following day and Fred R. Price, another stable employe, succumbed to burns he received in trying to escape from the roaring flames.

This morning session opened with a person found in a lot of charred hay where the feed loft of the Fashion stable had stood. Most of the bones, excepting the jaw bone, were nearly devoured by the flames. The jawbone indicated that it came from a man of large build. These bones were discovered by Howard Kinser, Al Mallert and Jack and Wallie Bartell, who are assisting in clearing the premises of debris.

In opening some of the baled hay that had fallen into a heap when the building collapsed, they found the bones. It is thought probable that evidence of other victims will be found in the hay as men without funds to pay for lodging were often permitted to sleep in the feed lot.

Sam Rogers and his wife, who operated a candy store in the northeastern corner of the Exposition building, it is feared were burned to death. It is said that they have not been seen since the fire. These bones were found in the rear of their store and it is thought possible that they failed to hear the alarm sounded when the big structure became a mass of fire. Search for their bones will be made as soon as possible.

COOPERATIVE ASS'N MEMBERS MEET

Members of the new cooperative association of Meier & Frank employes held their second meeting last night in the restaurant of the store. A short business session opened with a song, followed by a delightful musical program.

Membership of the organization now exceeds 500 and all reports of the secretary and treasurer show it to be in splendid condition. One meeting is held each month and the plan for the August meeting is a trip in special cars to the country over Sunday.

Several soloists with the Meier & Frank orchestra rendered the following program at the last night's meeting: Overture—"Merry Widow"; piano solo, Miss Mary Barrett; song, the Veterans' Quartet; violin solo, Miss Cornelia Barker; dialect reading, Dr. Ne Churchman; piano duet, Misses Catherine and Mary Barrett; singing Mrs. E. Sapp, Mrs. C. Beardon; vocal solo, Miss Elaine Forrest; violin solo, Miss Cornelia Barker; vocal solo, "You Are the Ideal of My Dream," Miss Esther Downey; grand finale, "America," by the association.

INTERESTING CONCERT AT MASONIC TEMPLE

At the Masonic Temple on Friday evening, the Salvation Army Rescues Home gave a very interesting concert. The assemblage numbered about 400.

Part I—"Polonaise" in E. Liszt, Mrs. Ella Cammell Jesse; "Air of Elizabeth," Wagner, Mrs. Elfrida Heller Weinstein; "The concerto—D." Minar, Welnawski, Waldemar Lind; reading, selected, Mrs. Sylvia W. McGuire; "Redoubt Love Song," Schneider, John Claire Monteth.

Part II—"The Cross Road," Stephens, Mrs. Lulu Dahl Miller; "Zigeunerweisen," Sarasate, Waldemar Lind; (a) "Serenade," Richard Strauss; (b) "At Parting," Rogers; (c) "Where Blossoms Grow," Sapp, Eoul, Mrs. Elfrida Heller Weinstein; reading, negro dialect, Mrs. Sylvia W. McGuire; (a) "A Gypsy Maiden," L. Parker; (b) "The Corporeal Litter," Seniors, John Claire Monteth.

Philadelphia, July 16.—After a morning during which it seemed likely that the threatened strike of the Pennsylvania railroad trainmen and conductors would be called before night the officers of the company unexpectedly became brighter this afternoon.

General Manager Myers of the Pennsylvania company invited President Garretson of the conductors, and Lee of the trainmen and the vice president of other organizations to a conference Monday. It is believed that a final discussion of the demands the men have made will take place at the conference.

HOPE ONCE MORE IN RAILWAY CASE

Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—Following conference between labor leaders and representatives of the trainmen and conductors employed on the eastern and western branches of the Pennsylvania railroad, prospects of an early adjustment of wage and hours disputes became brighter this afternoon.

The men are preparing new data for presentation to the company officials next Monday.

HURRY TO WORK IN WEST SIDE HIGH SCHOOL BOARD WILL CALL FOR BIDS AS SOON AS PLANS CAN BE FINISHED.

Work of building the West Side High school is to be hurried. This was decided yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the school board. Two reasons for this rush order are offered, of which one is to get plans started before the new building ordinance goes into effect January 1, 1931, and the other is to have the structure ready for occupancy by the opening of school next year.

In considering this work the board discussed at length the relative merits of an absolutely fire proof building and one of mill construction. The former will cost approximately $150,000 more than the latter, members of the board say. There are other men familiar with building who say this figure is too high.

Compare Styles of Building.
In order to settle the matter, the board directed the architect to draw plans for both styles of building, and bids will be asked for each.

The new high school building will be located at Park and Mill streets. A bond issue of $50,000 was voted last night by the people for the structure. This was the figure on a mill constructed building.

A mill constructed building is one where all the heavy material and inside framework are wooden. Timbers used in the mill are made of the same material as the building is one where the heavy material and framework is made of steel and reinforced with concrete. In the mill constructed style, the timbers are encased in fire proof brick.

Which Shall It Be?
A difference of opinion among builders exists over the merits of the two styles. The fire proof style has been adopted by the majority of cities for public buildings.

Mrs. R. L. Sifton, chairman of the local warrent call July 16.—The treasury department today presented a gold medal to George Freeth of Redlands, Cal., in recognition of his bravery in rescuing seven Japanese fishermen from death at Ocean Park, Cal., December 16, 1908.

DAIRY EXPERT VISIT PORTLAND

Professor Bernhard Boegsgild, member of the faculty of the Royal Danish Agricultural college, and one of the greatest dairy experts in the world, will arrive in Portland this evening for a stay of four or five days. He is retained by the Portland Commercial club.

Walter C. Dey, of the Washington Creamery company, head of the Commercial club committee appointed to arrange for the entertainment of the professor, will meet him at the hotel and take him to the committee to the train to meet Professor Boegsgild. He will be taken to the Imperial hotel and tomorrow he and his wife will be taken about the city in an automobile by members of the committee. In the afternoon a dinner will be given at the Commercial club for him.

At 8 o'clock Monday morning Professor Boegsgild will be taken to Salem in T. R. Townsend's automobile, driven by Leland Townsend. Phil Bates, editor of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the members of the Pacific Northwest, and others will accompany the professor. About 11 o'clock he will be taken over the model dairy farm at the asylum for the insane, and at noon will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Salem board of trade. At 1 o'clock he will address members of the Marion County Dairymen's association at Salem. During the latter part of the afternoon he will speak before the