

JOLLY GOOD TIME MAILED OUT FOR VISITING W. O. W.

Delegates to Tenth Biennial Session Will Find Warm Welcome in Portland; Meeting Opens July 25.

The head camp delegates of the Woodmen of the World will assemble in Portland July 25 for the tenth biennial session of the Pacific jurisdiction. The general entertainment committee, appointed by the several camps of the state have arranged for elaborate entertainment of the visiting delegates and head camp officers.

The delegates in session will represent a membership of 105,000 members in the nine Pacific coast states, and many important matters of legislation will come before the body. The order at the present time is in the best financial condition of any time in its history, having a surplus in its reserve and benefit fund of over $4,000,000.

The local membership is very much interested in making Portland the headquarters for this jurisdiction. The general committee in charge of the entertainment has arranged the following features for the week:

Monday, July 25—Automobile parade. This will form at 8:30 a. m. on North Park street, between Couch and Ankeny, where the automobiles will be decorated and proceed to headquarters at the Oregon hotel. After a short trip about the city they will proceed to Woodman Temple, at 128 Eleventh street, where the head camp session will convene at 10 a. m.

The following program has been arranged and will begin at 10 a. m. at the place mentioned:

Address of welcome by Hon. Joseph Elmon, mayor, on behalf of Portland, and by R. G. Morrow, on behalf of the Woodmen of the World. Response by Head Council, J. B. Cook.

At 7:30 p. m. a banquet will be tendered head camp officers and delegates at the Commercial club, Fifth and Oak streets.

Tuesday, July 26, 7:30 p. m.—Uniform rank parade on the principal streets to the Armory, where the prize drills will take place at 8 p. m. These drills are under the auspices of the uniform rank head camp committee. First prize $250, second prize $150, third prize $100. Head camp loving cup given by Head Council, J. B. Cook and loving cups for the local teams to compete, given by Neighbor William Reid.

Wednesday, June 27, 8 p. m.—Trolley ride about the city and to Council Crest, where band concert will be held for entertainment of visitors. All Woodmen and their wives are invited. The cars will leave Thirteenth and Washington streets promptly at 8 o'clock.

Thursday, July 28, 7:30 a. m.—Excursion to Hood River on the steamer Spedder, which will leave foot of Washington street at 7:30 a. m. sharp. Upon arrival at Hood River the following committee will have charge of the entertainment: H. W. Watt, B. F. Barrett, and W. E. Shaw. Professor J. A. Epping will have charge of the automobile excursion there. A banquet will be given to visitors upon arrival at Hood River, after which the officers will be taken through the beautiful Hood River valley in automobiles.

Friday, July 29, 7:30 p. m.—A banquet will be given at Multnomah camp, on East Sixth and East Alder, to the delegates and head camp officers. Multnomah camp will be host for the evening. An elaborate program has been arranged.

Saturday, July 30, 7:30 p. m.—Trolley ride to Oaks amusement park, where a program has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors.

Sunday, July 31, 10:30 a. m.—Services will be held at Taylor Street Methodist Episcopal church, Third and Taylor. Special music has been arranged by Neighbor Rev. Benjamin Young.

The ladies' entertainment committee is laboring faithfully to get things in readiness for the reception of the ladies who will attend the convention. The committee is composed of Miss Bertha Sumner, Mrs. Harry L. Day and Mrs. J. O. Woodworth.

Following is the program of entertainment outlined by the women's committee:

Monday, July 25—10:30 a. m.: Reception at the women's headquarters, Oregon hotel, corner 13th and Taylor.

Tuesday, July 26—8 p. m.: Trolley ride on observation car, 8 p. m.: Reception given by the Women of Woodcraft in Women of Woodcraft hall, Tenth and Taylor streets.

BUSIEST HEN IN TOWN LAYS BIGGEST EGGS AND CARES FOR CHICKS

The angler is always coming to the front with a "fish story," and the hunter with "hunter's yarns." Snake stories also come to the notice of many through the columns of the newspapers, but here is a real genuine, truthful story, founded on fact. It is neither a snake story, a fish story nor a hunter's yarn; it is a real truth hen story.

Mrs. A. M. Lee of 521 Fifth street, has one of the most industrious hens in the world. She is not a freak hen, but just a fine large healthy half breed Buff Orpington, which is laying the largest eggs in the country, and is laying more than any other hen. She is doing more than this, and that is where her industry comes in—she is laying eggs and caring for chicks at the same time.

Mrs. Lee's prize hen is laying eggs every day of the enormous size of 3 1/2 inches long and 5 1/2 inches through. She has the eggs to prove this assertion. Something over a month ago this wonderful hen came off with a brood of chicks. Since that time she has cared for the little ones, and has laid 30 eggs consecutively for 30 days. The hen has a wonderful system. She leaves her little brood and lays her daily eggs, and then returns to the chicks and scratches a living out of the ground for them.

The bird is over industrious. She is certainly working overtime.

GROWERS OF SWEET PEAS AWARDED PRIZES

Sixteen entries were judged yesterday in the sweet pea contest held in Rose City Park under the auspices of the Rose City Park Improvement league. The display was announced by the judges to be the finest that have ever been seen grown in the city.

The first prize for the best assorted sweet peas and the best single variety of sweet peas was won by Mrs. P. W. Henderson, 590 East Fifty-sixth street north, for the best single variety of sweet peas. The second prize went to Honorable T. T. Geer, 470 East Fifty-third street north, while Mrs. Dubrilis, 521 East Fifty-eighth street north, took the second prize for the best assorted sweet peas.

Honorable mention for the best assorted sweet peas was given Mrs. Edward Mack, Forty-seventh and Sixtieth streets; Mrs. Robert Withrow, Sixtieth and Sandy Road, and Mrs. E. T. Jeoffitt, 670 East Forty-ninth street north.

The prize collection grown by Mrs. P. W. Henderson is from seeds imported from England at a cost of 2 cents per seed. The vines are 15 feet high and the bed is 45 feet long. According to the judging committee, it is the most superb growth of sweet peas ever seen in Portland.

The judges of the contest yesterday were: Miss Ethel Wentworth, Miss Leslie Leadbetter and Miss Mable C. Goes. The remaining contests to be judged will be for the best family orchard, the best arranged and kept grounds as a whole and the best parking between walk and curb.

Mrs. M. J. Woodworth and Mrs. H. L. Day, members of the ladies' entertainment committee.

BEACH CHAUTAUQUA ATTRACTS CROWDS

Programs Are Pleasing and Ideal Weather Aids in Making Chautauqua Success.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Morrison, Or., July 16.—The Clatsop beach chautauqua, located at Columbia Beach, opened Thursday, July 14, with a strong program. Edwin Brush, the magician, delights his audience, and Mabel Ferris of Los Angeles makes a great impression. Wentworth F. Stewart of Detroit, Mich., delivered a great lecture on "Ideals and How to Reach Them." Stewart will give a lecture entitled "Under the Stars and Stripes," Sunday afternoon. The Portland X. M. C. A. will give a unique entertainment this evening by a number of athletes of that association.

Enthusiastic audiences greet every speaker. Ideal weather prevails.

Wednesday, July 25, Governor Folk day, great crowds are expected and representative citizens of Portland, Astoria and Seaside plan dinner at Columbia Beach. Following the lecture a special car from Portland will pick up the mayor and committee, in charge of Alex Sweek, at Astoria. Aviator Manning flies every day.

HETTY GREEN'S SON COMES TO GOTHAM

Prefers to Live in Texas, But Mother Wants Him on Wall Street.

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)
New York, July 16.—Edward R. Green, son of Hetty Green, arrived from Texas tonight. He is free to admit that he would rather live back in Texas with an automobile and an airship and an occasional fight in politics on the Republican side when excitement is low. However, Mr. Green did not consult himself when he came out of the southwest to be a power in Wall street. He is following the wish of his mother.

Mr. Green is at the Waldorf, where he will reside until he can find a residence that suits him. Mr. Green is in reality a colonel, for he is colonel of the Texas National Guard. For weeks he has been closing up his business affairs in Dallas and is now ready to plunge in.

"I shall spend most of my time hereafter in New York," said Mr. Green. "My mother expressed the desire that I come to New York and engage in business, so I have done so to please her."

Seven years ago Mrs. Green bought the Texas Midland railroad for her son and presented it to him. The road extends from Paris to Ennis and does a thriving business. Mr. Green, according to all reports, has cleaned up a big fortune in the Lone Star state.

UNCLE SAMUEL WANTS GOOD STENOGRAPHERS

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, July 16.—Uncle Sam is looking for a stenographer. In fact, typists are so hard to find that General Black, civil service commissioner, is losing sleep while trying to figure out a method more manipulative of securing manipulators of typewriters for government service.

Notwithstanding the fact that $900 per year is offered, there has been a gradual falling off in number of typists applying for positions as government stenographers.

Government department heads have been complaining for months over the lack of shorthand writers and stenographers.

Poles to Celebrate.
New York, July 16.—The Polish residents of New York and its vicinity have made great preparations for a celebration tomorrow of the five hundredth anniversary of the historic battle of Grunewald. This battle, which occurred July 15, 1410, resulted in total defeat of the Teutonic knights by the forces of Poland and Lithuania.

Tracewell's Good Record.
Washington, July 16.—Robert J. Tracewell today completed his thirteenth year as comptroller of the treasury. With one exception, he has broken all records for service in this office. The exception is in the case of Joseph Anderson of Tennessee, the first comptroller, who served continuously for 21 years.

VANDERBILT SAYS SOCIETY IS VERY IMPORTANT THING

Young Railroad Director Believes Planning Society Affairs Is Institution as Much as Finance.

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)
New York, July 16.—Young W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., who has just been elected a director of the New York Central lines, will be soon elected to the directorate of the Big Four and other lines. Mr. Vanderbilt does not exhibit the normal family interest of the Vanderbilts in railroad affairs. He would rather spend his time in Paris than in New York learning the details of running a great system of railroad lines.

However, his conversation betrays this attitude. After being elected assistant to President Brown of the New York Central lines, Mr. Vanderbilt was asked for an interview on the young man in the railroad world.

"In that respect I cannot speak as a living exhibit of the specimen you mentioned," said he. "I am following the work which my family followed before me, and expected me to take up. I believe that it might be a good thing if fathers would specify along special classes of endeavor; for instance, if the Vanderbilts had been shipbuilders or manufacturers, I should have followed that branch of industry instead of aspiring to become a railroad head."

"However, this is a matter of choice. It may be that the work of the father is congenial to the son. The young man of today will possibly do his best if he gets congenial work in an harmonious atmosphere."

"Society spoils men for this. The impression used to prevail that a society man was a 'diss' who spent his time idling. That is untrue. Some of the best citizens I have ever known are society men. They take an active part in planning society affairs and I know it does not spoil them for business."

"I do not advocate that society and business should go hand-in-hand, but I would like to defend the society man from the attacks which have been made upon him. Society, in my mind, is an institution fully as important as finance."

CENTRALIA RANCHER COMMITTS SUICIDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Centralia, Wash., July 16.—Frank Gordon, a well known rancher, living near here, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself through the head with a Winchester rifle. He was about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. He was very highly respected in the community, a man of sober habits, and had no trouble so far as anyone knows, except that his health had not been good. It is thought that worry over his health may have caused his mind to become deranged.

Every Piano Owner Should

Your Piano Kept in Tune One Year For $5.50

Here is a plan whereby you can save money and have your piano tuned and kept in perfect order by the most expert tuners (direct from our factory) a whole year for $5.50. Why run risks with inferior, unknown, and inexperienced tuners, when you can secure the best to be had for so little? More pianos are really spoiled by incompetent tuners than from any other cause. We not only tune our patrons' pianos, but adjust and regulate the action for which no additional charge is made. Pianos deteriorate when not tuned regularly. Every piano, whether used much or not, should be tuned at least three times a year. By making a yearly contract with us, you save $4.50, and are sure of the most expert work. Telephone, write or call.
