along Front street, and values are being well maintained. Tor strictly fancy veals the price along the street is holding to 12% a pound with an occasional sale of good stuff around 18c. Receipts of veal are fair, but it is so hard to get good stuff into the city at this time that selected quality brings the premium quite easily. Thereasing warmith has caused a cur-taliment of dressed hog shipments to the Frant street trade, and values to-day are firm at 18c a pound for best quality. Owing to weather conditions only the smaller size porkers are want-ed at all in the produce rtade, and any-thing that is very heavy or big will not bring these values. Testerday's sharp advance in itys hog prices in the stockyards was an aid to Front street quotations today.

Local Trade Is Quiet,

As expected, local trade in the produce market was quiet today, although ship-ping business was good. The grocers' picnic is the contributing cause here.

Tomatoes Going Down.

Tomato prices are gradually dropping and today sales of two tier stock are being made down to 75c a box, while the best hothouse growth is selling at $1.75 per four basket crate.

Loganberries Sell Low. Loganberry demand is limited and with the closing of the retail groceries today, because of the picnic at Canby, duliness is especially pronounced.

Peppers in Big Supply.

Green peppers are in very heavy sup-ply along Front street and sales today are being made from 50c to 75c a hor. Movement to the outside is not suf-ficient to clean up supplies.

Too Much Corn Coming.

Green corn from The Dalles is in very heavy supply along the street and much of the stock is going to waste. This is due to the very plentiful sup-plies at home and the low prices in effect here.

California Buying Bluestem.

California buyers are after bluestem wheat and on this account local interests are now offering as high as 900 bushel for bluestem Portland delivery. While there was an advance of ic a bushel in the price of club wheat during the past 24 hours, the differential be-tween that variety and bluestem is wid-ening. the south continues to ask for that wheat. Late vesterday afternoon a cable was received from Liverpool offering an advance of ic a bushel for cargoes and this price was immediately tacked onto the local figure. The local market is therefore on an export basis, and unless values become too excited on this side, heavy shipments toward Europe are ex-pected at the start of the shipping sea-son.

shipmenis to this city have increased. Only for selected coops of hens is 136 available today and only a limited amount of stock can be moved at this figure just now. Most of the transac-tions in this line today were around ife and buyers were not in any hurry to take on surolies even at this figure. For springs the demand is extremely limited and the tone in this branch of the poultry market may be considered weak. One of the causes of this is the heavy shipments of small birds-birds that weigh from % to 1% pounds. Nothing under two pound stock is want-ed at the moment. There is a general absence of call for fryers. Twenty cents is today the extreme limit for springers, and the movement at this figure is not sufficient to keep the mar-ket cleaned of arrivals. While present prices on poultry are rather high, the drop has been severe, and many country shippers were caught by the force of the avalanche. With the ending of the heavy laying season, producers are shipping their surplus poultry to market.

has been expected. According to growers recently in the city, the potato crop is at a standstill; no growth having been shown recently owing to the general lack of moisture. Late planted potatoes are principally affected. Some were planted only a month sgo and since that time have had no moisture to start sprouting and growth. Early planted potatoes are not doing as well as might be expected. Rains are badly needed to mature these. Owing to the lack of moisture there remains a shortage of potato offerings by local growers. Outside stock is still needed and this is forcing the Port-land market far above any on the Coast. YIELDS COMING GOOD

Walla Walla, Wash., July 20.—All in-dications point to a generous harvest for the wheat raisers of the Walla Walla valley, and every report is of an en-couraging nature. Yield, quality and price seem all to the good, and farmers are rejoicing, where a few weeks ago there was predicted but half a crop, poor quality and low price. Three in-stances from the harvest tell the story. Oran Demaris, a Diste farmer, cut a small field of grain on his place that made 50 bushels, and this is but a common report. Harvey McDonald brought wheat to the city today that tested 61 pounds. D. B. Cannier of Pres-cott yesterday sold 1000 sacks of blue-stem for 85 cents, the best price given for some time.

Roseburg Peach Crop.

Roseburg, Or., July 20.—It is esti-mated that this year's output of peaches from this vicinity will amount to about 18 carloads. At a meeting of peach growers held in this city recently plans were dis-cussed for marketing their crops, and it now seems probable that most of these will go to Chicago and other east-ern points. Bhipments east will not be-gin for at least two weeks yet. Mean-while local shipments of the estiller varieties are being made to Periland and elsewhere. 1287 @81
