SUIT TIES ANOTHER KNOT IN TANGLE INVOLVING ESTATE

Son of Dead Woman, Who Left Much Valuable Property, Wants Present Administrator Ousted.

Seeking to revoke letters on the estate of his mother, Mrs. Frances Richardson, issued last month to Arnold S. Graham, William H. Woodward has filed a petition in the county court asking that he be named as administrator. This gives another turn to a much mixed estate, one phase of which is a suit by Clarence Price, a mulatto, for $1242 alleged to have been loaned to her shortly before her death, as a result of which $2500 worth of jewelry is under attachment.

H. B. Nicholas, attorney for Graham, the administrator, is fighting the application of Woodward on two grounds. He asserts the son was too late in making application, as the statute requires application within 30 days from the date of death, and he further objects that Woodward is not a fit person to take charge of the estate.

Wealthiest Colored Woman.

In support of this latter assertion he declares Woodward has been hobnobbing with Price and urging the allowance of Price's claim against the estate of his mother. Nicholas argues it would be disastrous to the interests of the estate to appoint Woodward as administrator and would jeopardize the rights of another son of the deceased, James Smith, an 11-year-old boy, who lives in Boise, Idaho.

Mrs. Richardson, a mulatto, resided in Boise until May 16, when she came to Portland in company with Price, under whose influence she is alleged to have been because of her failing mind. She is reputed to have been at one time the wealthiest colored woman in the northwest, paying $35,000 in cash for a home in Boise and $5000 more to furnish it. She was best known in Boise as Agnes Bush, and papers in possession of the administrator indicate she was married six times to husbands named Williams, Tichnor, Woodward, Smith, Bush and Richardson. From the last husband, Richardson, she was divorced.

Property Worth $12,000.

Property in Boise belonging to the estate is said to be worth at least $12,000. The Idaho estate is being administered there, and all the Multnomah county court has to deal with is the jewelry she brought with her. This is said to be worth $2500 and is in charge of the manager of the Crystal Springs sanitarium, where she died. It is held subject to order of the court because of Clarence Price's suit for money which he alleges he loaned to her since last November.

Price brought his suit against her on June 2, and the papers were served at the deathbed. She passed away on June 4. Later it developed that Frank Weise had been appointed her guardian in the Idaho courts on May 27, on the ground she was incompetent to manage her own affairs.

Woodward in his petition says he was out of Portland when his mother died or he would have asserted his rights before. That he was a son was not known to Nicholas at the time Graham was appointed, it being then supposed the 11-year-old boy in Boise was the only heir. Judge Cleeton will have to decide whether Graham should be ousted in favor of Woodward and the circuit court later will determine whether Price has a legal claim on the diamonds.

An additional argument to be used against the advisability of appointing Woodward is that in employing an attorney he selected John Manning, who is also attorney for Price in the suit against the administrator. This is alleged to indicate too great a friendship for Price, whose claim the son is said to favor.

EARNHARTS ARE ORDERED OFF ISLAND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., July 21.—Another chapter has been written in the famous Beavert or Little Switzler case. Judge Bean of the federal court has just decreed that the Earnharts are in contempt of court for disobeying the injunction issued from the United States court. The defendants are ordered to purge themselves of the contempt charge by vacating the island at once and remaining off until the matter of ownership is definitely decided in the court. Failing to obey this order, they will be arrested and fined or placed in jail.

The fight for possession of the Columbia river island has been in progress for nearly two years, and from present indications several times the value of the small tract of land involved will be expended in deciding the issue. John B. Switzler, the pioneer Umatilla resident, is the man from whom Frank and Fred Earnhart are trying to wrest possession of the island.

REGISTER EARLY AND AVOID COMING RUSH

With 36 days of registration past, there are 13,750 names on the registration rolls of Multnomah county, or 2201 more than for the corresponding day two years ago, when the figures stood at 11,549. The voters are coming in slowly, an average of 384 per day being maintained since the books were opened.

To register anything like a full vote of the county the figures will have to climb up rapidly. A grand rush is foreshadowed for the last few weeks, and those who value their time should go to the courthouse while the lines are slim. In the narrow quarters provided for registration it will be impossible to crowd many extra deputies, and those who wait until the rush commences may have to wait in line for some time, as it requires about four minutes to register a voter.

As the figures now stand the Republicans have 10,662, the Democrats 1870, and all others 1186. On the same day two years ago the Republicans had 8878, the Democrats 2059 and miscellaneous 612.

WHITE SALMON FRUIT IS EARLY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

White Salmon, Wash., July 21.—With shipments of peaches and apples on July 8, and tomatoes on July 11, White Salmon may justly claim to be one of the earliest fruit districts in the northwest.

On Saturday M. C. Martin brought apples in that lacked a quarter of an inch of measuring a foot in circumference. Clingstone peaches, which have become so well known for their flavor and size, have already been bought up by the commission men and are ripening fast.

Pears are heavy yielders, but it is the apples over which the people are enthusiastic. This year's yield of apples is expected to stamp White Salmon as the Hood River of Washington.

CLERGY TO COOPERATE WITH FOREST SERVICE

The ministers of all denominations in the northwest are cooperating with the forest service, the western conservation association and various other associations working for conservation and the prevention of forest fires, by endeavoring to arouse public sentiment in favor of making all possible effort to check the enormous destruction of valuable timber every year by fire.

C. S. Chapman, district forester, recently sent circular letters to all the clergymen both in the city and country giving a few facts in regard to conservation and protection of timber from fires. He has received many replies from ministers throughout the state. It is believed much good will be accomplished.

CANADIAN MINISTER ON LONG JOURNEY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Dawson, Y. T., July 21.—Frank Oliver, Canadian minister of the interior, has reached Dawson on his 8000 mile tour of the wilds of northern Canada. Starting from Ottawa, he went to Edmonton, thence down the McKenzie river 2500 miles to Fort MacPherson on the Arctic ocean. He made a portage from Fort MacPherson, walking 90 miles over the tundra to the headwaters of the Porcupine river, whence he went by canoe 700 miles to Fort Yukon, where the Porcupine flows into the Yukon river. There he took a packet for Dawson.

PRODUCERS MUST EMPLOY SALESMEN

Fruit Inspector Says Growers Have Enough to Do to Produce Good Crops.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., July 21.—That the fruit industry in Oregon has reached such a point that the grower no longer has the time or ability to market his output and that a separate agency, apart from the producer, with a specialized business capacity must attend alone to the selling and distribution, is the opinion of County Fruit Inspector Armstrong.

"All of the growers' endeavors must be concentrated along lines that will tend to elevate the quality of his fruit. He must keep himself up in the study of horticulture and apply every moment with the one object in view, better fruit. He cannot do these things," says Mr. Armstrong, "and also be successful in marketing his fruit, selling and distributing, for that is another branch of the fruit industry that requires special knowledge the same as the growing of the fruit. It is merely the same story of higher specialization and cooperation, that has already been applied by big business for the past few decades."

Mr. Armstrong believes that the fruit men should engage competent business management to attend to their marketing alone. The fruit union is a step in the direction pointed out by Marion county's fruit inspector but it does not go far enough in his opinion. The business manager should have full control, the growers to have nothing to do with his division of the labor. His compensation should be fixed so that no profit would be realized off the growers.

That the dairymen will also eventually have to organize unions for selling and distributing their produce is also the opinion of Mr. Armstrong and he says that it will not be long before the people through their government will demand that all milk be certified by some organization through which it must pass before reaching the consumer. He sees no reason that the same methods recommended for marketing fruit cannot be used to advantage in marketing milk. The methods that have made Hood River famous for its apples and Wenatchee famous for its fruit could be used to make dairying districts of the state famous for their milk.

AMME WILL ASK PEOPLE TO NOMINATE HIM

On the direct primary and Statement No 1 platform, Edwin G. Amme of 467 East Fifty-second street has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in the legislature. In a declaration filed in the office of the county clerk he says:

"I will faithfully apply myself as a public servant to the enactment of economical and sensible legislation. I further state to the people of Oregon, as well as to the people of my legislative district, that during my term of office I will always vote for that candidate for United States senator in congress who has received the highest number of the people's votes for that position at the general election next preceding the election of a senator in congress, without regard to my individual preference. Words to be printed after my name on the ballot, 'Statement No. 1 first, last and all the time, and clean legislation.'"

Upon arrival here the monitor will be stationed in Elliott bay to serve as a permanent home for the Washington naval militia.

BUILDINGS BURN AT NORTH YAKIMA

Clothing Company and Bank Homeless—Firefighters Have Narrow Escape.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

North Yakima, Wash., July 21.—The block occupied by the McArthur suit house and the building adjoining, owned by the First National bank, are in ruins following a $25,000 fire.

Ned Hopkins, a local baseball player and member of the volunteer fire department, fell through the roof of the burning building while playing a hose on the fire. Though badly burned and cut by flying glass, he made his way out of the fire.

Fireman Nelson, of the regular department, had a narrow escape from a similar fall, saving himself by catching at the brick wall. Hopkins fell through two floors. The fire was in the heart of the downtown district, but there was no wind.

WIDOW AND SISTER WAR FOR ESTATE

County Judge Cleeton will be called on to construe the will of Frank J. Dolezal within a short time in passing on the rival claims of Frances Wasserman of Chicago, sister of the deceased, on one hand, and Anna J. Dolezal, widow of the deceased and her four children by two former marriages. A petition asking for distribution of 80 acres of timber land valued at $4000 and $3784 in cash to Mrs. Wasserman was filed today by Henry E. McGinn and Raphael Citron.

Dolezal left the property in dispute to his son, Edward B. Dolezal, provided the son became of age. The boy died last year in Phoenix, Ariz., in his nineteenth year. The will provided that if he died before he was 21 the estate should go to Mrs. Wasserman. The widow was not mentioned in the will and she claims the personal property, at least, is hers.

RIVER CONFERENCE TO BE IMPORTANT AFFAIR

The scope of the special committee from chambers of commerce and commercial bodies of cities along the Columbia river will be enlarged so that when it meets with Sir William Laurier, premier of Canada, at Nelson, B. C., September 1 to discuss the question of opening the Columbia river from British Columbia to the sea all cities interested will be represented. Among the commercial bodies to be invited to send representatives to the conference will be those of Wenatchee, Kalama, Astoria and Hood River.

The members of the board of trustees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday afternoon in the chamber's rooms and, as the organization fathered the open river movement in the northwest decided to invite commercial bodies of other Columbia river cities to join in the conference.

Mr. Shearer married Miss Lizzie Fry of Hillside, and is survived by his widow and the following children: Fay, Perry, Ruth, Esther, Elma, Bertie and Arthur Shearer. Mr. Shearer was a prominent farmer of his section. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, with burial in the Hillside cemetery.

MORE RICH ORE AT BITTER CREEK

Prospector Brings Samples of Quartz That Sparkle With Gold.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Victoria, B. C., July 21.—The steamer Princess Royal brings word of an additional gold strike near Bitter creek. A few days ago a lone prospector who had been out for several weeks came to Stewart and left a good sized piece of quartz, very rich in gold. A piece of pure gold the size of the head of a small hat pin was picked out with the fingers and the precious metal can be seen with the naked eye.

The prospector had no wonderful story to tell. He did not say how extensive the ledge was nor the width of the vein. He said he put in only two shots and then returned to town with the samples. A number of Stewart people have gone to see it and will report in a few days. The strike is just north of the Bitter creek strike.
