

FARMERS' DAY AT GLADSTONE PARK ATTRACTS THROU

Most interesting feature will be address tonight by former Governor Folk of Missouri; classes grow.

Renewing its strength for the greatest effort of the season, Chautauqua this morning drew a large crowd and got ready to break the record of a record-breaking year.

From far and near the farmers began to pour into the grounds bright and early, augmenting the attendance at the various classes which all opened with as much spirit and animation as though it was the first, instead of the second to the last day of a strenuous season. No new work was taken up, but each instructor followed along the lines that had been laid out in the beginning, each working up to the logical conclusion.

Music, scientific and athletic are bending their own wonderfully well, and instead of the warm weather decreasing the attendance, these classes have been gradually growing. Professor J. Albert Emrich, Sunday school specialist, with Professor R. B. Steele, president of the Oregon Sunday School association, are conducting an interesting training class, and doing fine, systematic work. Their topic this morning was "How We Teach." Yesterday was "Whom We Teach."

Kindergarten Growth.
Friday, they will discuss "Graded Course." The first two were conducted by Professor Emrich, while Professor Steele will be in charge tomorrow.

The kindergarten has more pupils than it can conveniently take care of, and is a growing popular feature of Chautauqua. This day nursery, as it becomes better known, is also growing in favor. There is no busier hive on the grounds than the Y. W. C. A. headquarters. Between cooking school, leather workers, mission study and finding sleeping accommodations for double the number of people they have beds for, taxes the fine executive ability of even Miss Frances Gage, who seems capable of doing a dozen things all at once.

The feature of farmers' day in the conferences that were conducted from 9 to 12 a. m. today on livestock, horticulture, dairying and agriculture. Many were present who are high in authority on these subjects.

There is never a moment from early dawn till "taps" sound that some one is not making use of the large, airy W. C. T. U. tent, where they can discuss all sorts of social and economic questions, or take a quiet little "mooze" on one of the comfortable cots. The study of the Round Table hour is being put on a discussion of the pending prohibition amendment to the constitution. Each phase is taken up, thoroughly sifted and looked at from every point of view.

Walk to Talk.
Tonight it is confidently expected that one of the largest crowds that ever passed through the gates will be in attendance to hear Governor Joseph W. Folk. There is no doubt but Governor Folk will embrace the opportunity, and will tell the large audience some pretty plain truths, even if he has to tread upon the toes of some who walk close to the throne.

A bed, a bed, my kingdom for a bed! was the howling cry again last night, when there were at least ten people applying for every one available bed. It becomes so strenuous about nightfall that the management is almost tempted to cry "too much property." There is money saved for the person who equips a large dormitory tent next year, and conducts it properly, and already several have begun to plan for it.

Club day was a success from every point of view. There was an unusually large number of club women present; the program was one of the best the Forum has so far presented, and the many luncheon parties and social affairs were most enjoyable.

At 3:30 p. m. the executive board of the State Federation held its mid-summer meeting in the federation headquarters. While it was an execu-and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy, which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful toning to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is required.

The total expenditures for school purposes in Jackson county last year equaled $137,305.49.

At a meeting of the club women had received a general invitation to be present at the most delightful conference was held relative to the program for the next convention etc. The most important transaction was signing the contract to bring Ellen Terry to Portland next November, to appear in a Shakespearean recital.

Good Attractions.
Friday's Forum presents a number of unusually good attractions, as three interesting subjects will be taken up, viz: "A New Light on Tuberculosis," by Mrs. J. R. Pringle of Boston; "Radium," by Professor W. V. Greene, of the Washington High school, and "Recollections of a Trip to Europe," by W. O. Wark, of Beson.

Dr. H. V. Adams, who greatly pleased his audience at his first appearance, will lecture at 2 p. m. on "The House of Changing Dimensions." It is a unique subject and will be well worth hearing. Dr. Fox, who is one of the strong cards this year, will hold the boards tomorrow night in his much heralded lecture, "The Torchbearers of the Middle Ages." ## HARRIMAN ENGINEER STOPS IN PORTLAND

Railroad men are speculating today over the probable reason for the visit of John D. Isaacs of Chicago, Ill., consulting engineer of the Harriman lines to Portland yesterday and left this morning. He held a long conference with J. P. O'Brien, vice president and general manager of the Harriman lines in Oregon, yesterday but no information as to its real import could be obtained.

Railroad men generally believe Mr. Isaacs, while on a tour of inspection of the Harriman lines, got off in Portland to discuss with Mr. O'Brien the proposed electrification of the Fourth street line, and engineering questions arising in the building of the Deschutes and Tillamook lines.

Mr. Isaacs is one of the best known engineering experts in the world.

LITTLE GIRL WANTS HER MISSING FATHER

He is 6 foot 2 inches, black hair mixed with gray, blue eyes, dark mustache mixed with gray, 39 years. His name is O. L. Streeter. Grandma passed out March 21. Grandpa Streeter would like to hear from him. Please let me know if he is in Portland. He was a traveling man. His daughter, MAUD M. STREETER, 211 South Hogan Street, Spokane."

21ST EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS SEPT. 6

First to Be Held on American Continent—At Montreal for One Week.

(Special Bureau of The Journal.)

Montreal, July 21.—There are only a few weeks to the opening of the twenty-first Eucharistic congress and, in view of the great importance of the coming event not only to the city of Montreal but to the entire Roman Catholic world of America, preparations are made upon a scale befitting this great gathering which is destined to mark an epoch in the history of the church in America.

Since the first congress of this kind was held in Lille, France, in June, 1918, in answer to a call issued by Bishop Gaston de Segur, many Eucharistic congresses have been held, always in cities intimately connected with some of the most important phases and epochs in the history of the Roman Catholic church. In consecutive order, Lille, Avignon, Liege, Freiburg, Toulouse, Paris, Antwerp, Jerusalem, Rheims, Pary-le-Monial, Brussels, Lourdes, Angers, Namours, Angoulême, Rome, Tournai, Metz, London and Cologne were the meeting places of the past Eucharistic congresses. It will be seen from that list that heretofore but one of the 20 congresses was held outside of Europe, the one which met at Jerusalem. The coming congress, which will open in Montreal on September 6 and will continue till September 11, will have the distinction of being the second outside of Europe and the first on the American continent.

Montreal had a strong claim for the honor of being selected as the meeting place for the first Eucharistic congress in America. It is not only an important city in a general way, but closely connected with the establishment and growth of the Roman Catholic church in America. It is one of the largest and most important centers of the church on the continent and abounds in historical memorials from the time when Catholic missionaries first carried the blessings of religion to the red men of the Canadian forests.

The pope will be represented at the coming congress by Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, prefect of the Apostolic Signatura at Rome, and cardinal protector of the Sulpician order. The cardinal will arrive in Canada a week or so before the opening of the congress and will visit several Canadian cities incognito before coming to Montreal. He is expected to arrive here on the day before the opening of the congress and the most elaborate preparations are being made for his reception. He will

The solemn official reception of Cardinal Vannutelli by the congress will be held on the evening of the opening day of the congress, in St. James' cathedral. It is expected that three cardinals and more than 70 archbishops and bishops will attend the congress and many of them are scheduled to deliver addresses before the congress or at the daily sessions to be held in connection with the great gathering. The program for the six days of the congress includes many important civic receptions in honor of the representative of the pope, several pontifical masses and a number of special meetings. The solemn procession of the blessed sacrament will be held on the afternoon of the closing day, Sunday, September 11.
