

FIRST SUIT OF KIND IN STATE

Labor Leader Alleges Employers Practiced Fraud in Changing Ballot Title.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Aug. 3.—H. J. Parkinson, attorney at law and editor of the Portland Labor Press, late yesterday afternoon, on behalf of the Federated Trades Council of Portland, filed a suit in the circuit court for this county, alleging that the officers and directors of the Employers' association of Portland are guilty of a fraud against the electorate by prevailing upon Attorney General Crawford to change the ballot title of the employers' indemnity commission act so as to deceive the voters. Mr. Parkinson alleges also that the change was made one day too late as provided by law, and asks in his petition to have the court substitute another ballot title for the one tampered with by the attorney general in violation of the laws of this state.

The ballot title, as originally prepared by the attorney general was as follows: "A bill for an act creating a board of commissioners of nine men to examine the subject of employers' indemnity for injuries sustained in the course of their employment and to prepare a measure to be presented to the legislature governing same and to report to the governor on or before the first day of February, 1911, and to appropriate $1000 for the purpose of the act."

The petition filed by the Federated Trades council, through Mr. Parkinson, alleges that there was a violation of the laws of 19 session laws of 1907, when on the eleventh day after this title was filed a substitute was provided by Attorney General Crawford at the suggestion of the officers and directors of the Employers' association. The substitute follows: "An act to secure indemnity for all injuries sustained by employees in the course of their employment, except injuries intentionally self-inflicted, by creating a commission of nine men to prepare a measure covering the said subject to be enacted by the legislature and to report such measure to the governor not later than February 1, 1911."

The petition recites that the new title is deceiving in that it represents to the voters in the first clause that it is an act to secure indemnity to employees, when it is in reality only an act to create a commission. And since the new title was filed one day after the period provided by statute for changing the ballot titles, it is alleged the change is fraudulent and the old ballot title should remain substantially as first proposed. The Labor council also desires that the fact that the act appropriates $1000 of the state's money, should be left in the title.

The defendants named in the petition are W. R. Williams, president of the employers' association; M. C. Banfield and Alexander Kunz. The attorney general is not attacked in the complaint. The suit is a hybrid and is the first of its nature ever filed in an Oregon court.

NO LEGEND ON BALLOT FOR JUSTICE SLATER

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Aug. 3.—Associate Justice Woodson T. Slater of the Oregon supreme bench yesterday filed his declaration of intention to be a candidate to succeed himself for the four year term created by the last legislature. In contrast to the declaration of George H. Burnett and Wallace McCamant, filed yesterday, Mr. Slater will have no legend printed on the primary ballot, holding that a candidate for so exalted a position as justice of the supreme bench is presumed to have high ideals and a consciousness of the importance of the position without spreading it ostentatiously on the ballot.

Wells W. Wood of Canyon City also yesterday filed his declaration of intention to be a candidate for circuit judge in the ninth judicial district, which includes Grant, Harney and Malheur counties. He wants printed on his ballot, "Direct Primary and Anti-Saloon Candidate."

Denver is already laying plans to secure the Democratic national convention in 1912.

A Satisfying Food

Appetite is Nature's signal for fuel and repairs.

Healthy appetite calls for the simple food elements that supply the natural requirements.

Healthy appetite is satisfied when the proper kind and amount of food is taken into the body at stated intervals. But the wiles of the modern chef and caterer have created in most of us a false and often unnatural appetite which leads into all the different degrees of indigestion, dyspepsia, etc.—food insanity.

Grape-Nuts

is a satisfying food—it is composed of the natural elements to satisfy the natural appetite and restore order in the digestive machinery which may have been thrown out of gear by improper though often "fashionable" foods.

The crisp, firm, "nutty" granules of Grape-Nuts make honest mastication necessary. Its wholesome flavor makes it appetizing, and the albumens, carbohydrates and Potassium Phosphate from the whole wheat and barley makes it a satisfying food—both to the sense of taste and to the body needs.

Ten days' trial will convince any one that

CANDIDATES IN MARION BACKWARD

Few Assembly Men Take Chances and Others Not Particularly Anxious.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Aug. 3.—Candidates for county offices in Marion are filing their declarations slowly. There are three candidates for the office of county recorder, but other offices are going a begging. Only one candidate has filed his declaration of intention to run for the lower house of the legislature, and only one Democrat has asserted his intention to be a candidate for any office in this county. He is John Francis Theodore Bonifacio Brenano of St. Paul, who will be a candidate for the state senate. He filed yesterday.

A. C. Libby of Liberty, straight out from the shoulder Statement No. 1 man, is the only one so far in this county who has filed his declaration of intention to be a candidate for the house of representatives. Mr. Libby was in the house during the last session, and made an admirable record. He is master of the grange in his district.

Alonso Gesner of Salem has filed his declaration of intention to be a candidate for the state senate on the direct primary issue and Statement No. 1. His only opponent so far is John F. Theodore B. Brenano, Democrat. The county assembly nominated a full legislative ticket, but none has seen fit to file as yet.

A. Eugene Aufrance of Salem, A. E. Adkins of Scotts Mills and Allen H. Willis of Aurora have filed their declarations to be candidates for county recorder. Mr. Aufrance is opposed to the assembly, so is E. A. Adkins. Mr. Willis was recommended for the office by the assembly. J. G. Moore of Salem has filed his declaration of candidacy for state treasurer. Harry Minto of Salem has filed his candidacy for sheriff. Both are present incumbents serving a first term.

A. M. Clough of Salem has filed his declaration to succeed himself as coroner. D. Webster has filed a declaration of intention to succeed himself as justice of the peace for the Salem district. Max Gehlar of Salem has filed his declaration of intention of being a candidate for county clerk, and W. H. Goulet of Woodburn has filed for county commissioner. Mr. Moore, Mr. Minto, Mr. Clough, Mr. Gehlar, Mr. Webster and Mr. Goulet are all assembly recommendations. Each will have strong opposition except perhaps Sheriff Minto and Treasurer Moore, who are first term officeholders elected under the direct primary two years ago. The legislative ticket recommended by the assembly will have hard sledding in this county, and if the right man appears against it, it is believed it will be defeated from top to bottom.

KILL GROUSE OUT OF SEASON IN UMATILLA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., Aug. 3.—Local sportsmen are becoming very much enraged over the fact that young grouse are being ruthlessly slaughtered in all directions by unscrupulous hunters who are daily violating the game law with impunity. The open season does not begin until August 15, but it is declared on unquestionable authority that during the past few weeks hundreds, possibly thousands of young birds have been shot along the foothill regions. It is said that there was a veritable bombardment of guns in the vicinity of Meacham Sunday, while the slaughter along upper McKay and along Meacham creek, is said to have been even worse.

The birds are now at the "foolish" age and for that reason unscrupulous men with guns are able to annihilate whole flocks in a few minutes. They not only violate the law by shooting the birds out of season, but they pay no attention to the number limit, killing as long as there is a bird in sight.

IMMIGRATION MEN WILL BE SHIFTED

Complaints Against Chinese Immigration Officer at San Francisco Acted Upon.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The first shifts in the Chinese immigration bureau in San Francisco occurred today, following an order issued by the department of commerce and labor.

Inspectors Hope and Long were detached from the local office, Hope being ordered to El Paso, Texas, and Long to Detroit. It is predicted that other changes will follow soon.

The action of the department follows numerous complaints against the administration of Immigration Commissioner Hart North. Following representations by the Chinese minister at Washington, the department ordered North to submit a list of his subordinates. It is believed that nearly every man in the list is slated to be transferred.

FEAR BLACK MAGIC HAS KILLED MAN

Seeker of Eye of Image of Buddha May Have Met With Foul Play in America.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Aug. 3.—Seeking a blue pearl, valued at over $100,000, which was stolen from the eye of an image of Buddha in Hindustan during the Sepoy revolt, Captain MacAdams of Hereford, England, has mysteriously dropped out of sight. MacAdams came to New York some weeks ago with Reginald H. Schenck, representing the Bala Ruxet of Hyderabad. A clue to the whereabouts of the man was picked up last week MacAdams went to Boston to follow it up.

The last heard of the jewel hunter was July 25, when he wired from Boston to Schenck in New York, telling him he had traced the pearl to the Hotel Touraine, where he had again lost track of it, and had called in the Pinkertons to assist him. The New York police today sent descriptions of MacAdams broadcast over the country.

Schenck expresses fear that "the Black Magic of the Orient" is at the bottom of the affair. He claims that he and MacAdams have been shadowed across the Atlantic by a pair of swartzy Hindus.

MAZAMAS READY TO CLIMB PEAKS

Start at 5:30 Tomorrow Morning in Autos; Hoped to Go 50 Miles First Day.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Aug. 3.—The large party of Mazamas from Portland and other parts of the northwest who will make the ascent of the Three Sisters, which lie 100 miles directly east of Eugene, arrived in Eugene this afternoon and are quartered here for the night. They will arise for breakfast at 5:30 in the morning and start soon afterward on the first leg of their journey toward the mountains. Arrangements have been made by the Eugene Commercial club with several automobile owners to take the party 20 or 30 miles up the McKenzie, and from there the Mazamas will walk. It is hoped to reach McKenzie bridge, 50 miles from Eugene, the first evening. The commissary department has been instructed to prepare dinner for the party at that point, although it is predicted here that they will not get there till quite late.

The road is in good shape all the way to where the party will take the trail for the peak, and advance men who went up there last week have put the trail in traveling condition.

LOS ANGELES TO HAVE WOMAN POLICE OFFICER

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 3.—Within the next few days Los Angeles will have a woman police officer. The city council at a meeting yesterday so decreed when it appropriated a monthly salary of $75 for such a purpose.

The "policewoman" will not wear uniform or star. She will wear ordinary street clothes while on duty. The appointment of a female police officer is another step in Los Angeles' morality crusade. The officer will be stationed in dance-halls and other places that are by many regarded as precarious to the welfare of young girls. She will not be on duty in the streets.

It is reported that Mrs. Alice Wells Stebbins will receive the appointment.

PHOTOGRAPHERS WILL GET "BACK TO NATURE"

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 3.—Back to nature is the slogan of the Photographers' association of the Pacific northwest, especially in their choice of a meeting place next session. Vashon island or some other similar place in Puget sound waters will be chosen.

All the members of the association have not arrived this morning, but those who are here listened to an address of welcome from Mayor Taylor, and appointed committees last night. The report of the auditing committee developed a balance of $225.

Lapeer, Mich., Aug. 3.—M. Leo Hagie, banker and former city official, is preparing today to begin a term of 13 to 14 years in the Jackson state penitentiary. The sentence was imposed following Hagie's plea of guilty to a forgery charge.

CYCLONIC FIGHT ON IN TENNESSEE

Campaign Has Been One of Bitterest in History of State—To End Tomorrow.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 3.—What has probably been the bitterest campaign in the history of Tennessee closed today. Democrats and Insurgent Democrats and Republicans have finished the preliminary skirmishing, and are awaiting with intense anxiety the result of the battle at the polls tomorrow, when the state judiciary and county elections are to be held. The campaign has been of a truly whirlwind character. Never before have there been so many speakers on the stump. Families have become divided over the issues involved in the contest and even dissensions in churches have been caused.

Judges of the state supreme court and the court of civil appeals are to be chosen at tomorrow's election. The incumbents of these benches are seeking reelection, being badly split. Some have aligned themselves with the administration forces, of which Governor Patterson is the controlling factor, while others are supported by the Insurgent Democracy of the state.

Three of the supreme court justices declined to enter into the Democratic primary, alleging that Governor Patterson and his administration were attempting to coerce the judiciary. Their partisans called a convention and these three were nominated, with two others. The remaining two justices entered into the primary and lined up with the administration party, thus securing renomination. Three opposition candidates were named to run against the three so-called bolting justices. The same state of affairs exists in the contest for the judgeships of the court of civil appeals. The Republicans declined to name a judiciary ticket and that party is now divided in its support.

Charles T. Cates, state attorney general, is nominally the campaign manager for the insurgent faction. He has directed, in his speeches throughout the state, bitter attacks against Governor Patterson and his administration. The pardoning of Duncan Cooper for the slaying of the late ex-United States Senator Edward W. Carmack has been made a leading issue in the campaign and Governor Patterson has been bitterly arraigned for his action in granting the pardon.

On the other hand, Governor Patterson has denounced Attorney General Cates, charging him with using his official position in the handling of private lawsuits before the supreme court. The attacks and counter attacks have been extremely bitter.

On the eve of the election both factions of the Democratic party are claiming certain victory. The negro registration throughout the state has broken all records and it is claimed by the Patterson faction that they will almost to a man vote the regular Democratic ticket. On the other hand, the Independent Democrats aver that the votes of the white Republicans will far overbalance the negro vote.

The prohibition question, which was the chief and practically the sole issue in the last Tennessee election, has received but scant attention in the present campaign. It is generally admitted that in Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and other large cities of the state, little or no attempt has been made to enforce the state-wide prohibition law, and the administration forces have openly declared that if they are victorious at the polls next November, when a governor and other state officers are to be elected, and are also successful in tomorrow's election, steps will be taken to have the law repealed at the next session of the legislature.

London, Aug. 3.—The premier of Newfoundland, Sir Edward P. Morris, who has been spending the summer in England, went to Bristol today on a mission of considerable interest to the American colony and the mother country as well. The chief purpose of his visit is to arrange for the acceptance of a tablet that is to be sent from Bristol to Newfoundland to commemorate the colonization of that part of the world by John Guy, a Bristol Merchant, in 1610. While in Bristol Sir Edward will also look into plans for the proposed revival of trade between that city and Newfoundland through the establishment of direct steam communication.

WHERE TO GET THE BEST

Robinson & Co.

WASHINGTON STREET, NEAR FIFTH

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen: The hardest thing a ball player has to contend with is thirst, because if you try to satisfy it with water, you either get loggy or lose your "Ginger" or it makes you sick, while alcoholic beverages are fatal to good ball. I drink because I find that a single glass quenches the thirst, refreshes me and relieves fatigue without any after "let down." Therefore a splendid beverage for keeping condition. I cheerfully recommend it to all athletes. Very truly yours, HUGH JENNINGS.
