

MESSAGERS WORK IN VIOLATION OF CHILD LABOR LAW

Probation Officer Teuscher Unearths Scheme by Which Lads Obtained Liquor by Means of Sack.

Violation of the child labor law in at least two instances was disclosed today by investigation of officers of the juvenile court following the story told by Paul Binkley, 13 years of age, who lives at 26 North Eighth street. Binkley is a messenger for the Hasty Messenger company, 123 1/2 Second street, and was sent to the juvenile court by a policeman for riding on the sidewalk.

Boy Took Liquor Away.

The boy also states he frequently went to the saloon of O'Malley & Newberger and got whiskey and beer to deliver to various parts of town. He remembered one delivery to a woman near Sixth and Morrison streets, and another of a temjinhon to 24 or 25 North Ninth street.

Binkley says the boys drink when Mr. Hayes, one of the proprietors, is away, and exonerates Hayes from knowledge of these acts. But he says Hayes never asked him his age. The juvenile court officers found that no register of the boys working for the messenger company is kept as required by law, with the addresses and ages of the boys. The boy lived in Umattilla county until two months ago and has been working as a messenger three or four weeks.

"BLACK CATS" TO MEW IN FRISCO

Discuss Plans for Annual Meeting at Hoo Hoo Banquet Last Night.

Portland's Hoo Hoo will go to San Francisco in numbers to attend the annual meeting of the order of the black cat in September, judging from the enthusiasm manifested at the Hoo Hoo banquet at the Portland Commercial club last night. A number of out of town members have also signified their intention of going.

Vice Gerent Snark G. A. Griswold, who was toastmaster at the banquet, stirred up a great deal of interest in the annual meeting when he opened the after dinner program and nearly every one present signified intention to join the crowd, which, according to the tentative plans, will leave here about September 4, by steamer. A Hoo Hoo club and a Hoo Hoo baseball team will accompany the northern Oregon contingent and both will be selected with such care that there will be no question of their wrestling the honors from the numerous competitors who will be brought from the east, south and north.

PARIS MOB LYNCHES APACHE IN STREET

Paris, Aug. 6.—A mob lynched an "Apache" last night, strapping him up to a lamppost after the man had killed a pedestrian while resisting arrest. A gendarme attempted to arrest the Apache in a street in the heart of the city. The outlaw fired on the officer and the ball killed a bystander. Instantly a mob collected and after hanging the Apache as quickly dispersed.

M'ARTHUR AMENDS LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATE WOULD ASSEMBLY SLOGAN

Vote for Republican Senator at Next Session.

C. N. McArthur, assembly choice for joint senator from Multnomah, Columbia and Clackamas counties, has amended the assembly slogan adopted by legislative candidates by adding the declaration, "I believe in the principles of the Republican party and will vote for a Republican for United States senator at the session of 1911, but will not vote for any man whose political or moral record is unclear."

McArthur also pledges himself to a sane, businesslike and economical administration and to represent his constituents honestly, faithfully and to the best of his ability. He adds the usual assembly token, "For direct primary, with an open assembly."

FIGHT ON SEATTLE'S RESTRICTED DISTRICT

Seattle, Aug. 6.—Seattle's restricted district will be closed tonight. Pending the hearing of an application for a petition for a permanent injunction, Judge Gilliam of the superior court today laid the most sweeping temporary restraining order ever handed down by a court in Seattle. Deputy sheriffs are busy this afternoon serving process upon the persons concerned. The order restrains the members of the city council, Mayor Gill and Chief Wapenstein from interfering. It restrains the property owners and lessees of property in the tenebrous from permitting their property to be used for disorderly purposes. It restrains the occupants themselves from continuing their traffic. The order is operative until Monday, when the hearing for a permanent injunction will be had. The reform forces are backing the fight on the district.

THESE FLEAS ARE NOT MISTREATED

Have Mighty Good Time Doing Acrobatic Stunts in Insect Circus.

Inhuman treatment of fleas was the complaint made yesterday to E. J. Wood, secretary of the Oregon Humane society. With Sergeant of Police Crute, the secretary visited a flea circus at an amusement resort to ascertain whether or not the little insects were being accorded all the treatment possible under the law.

The report of the two officers is that they were unkind to see that the fleas were inhumanly treated, and that the owner is giving them the best possible care. Sometimes a flea will come unruly, and the flea trainer will have to whip it, or punish the recalcitrant little insect by sending it to bed with a liner.

The complaint made to the humane society was from a woman who had been at the flea circus, and said she saw fine wires thrust through the bodies of the insects. She declared it was the most inhuman thing she has ever seen. "What was there, she reported, the trainer hitched a wire to a wagon by piercing the body of the flea with a fine instrument, and then running the wire through the opening. The wire was fastened to the wagon, which the flea was then forced to draw around for the amusement of the spectators and the financial benefit of the circus man."
