THIRTEEN CLOUTS GIVE SIX SCORES

Beavers Play Horse With Redoubtable Slivers Henley in Opener.

Thirteen healthy, sterilized, pasteurized and sealed swats were made by our Beaver brethren from the offerings of the chandler's creation in the form of "Cackles" Henley, that Mons. Kiddo Mohler, Marchand de Chapeaux put on display in the center of the show window. Off those invigorated swats, which included a homer, four two-baggers and eight singles, the homeaters made six runs. In the meantime Little Gene Krapp was holding the sartorial wonders to two little bingles and a virtual gift run.

It was a great day for the Beaver sluggers, who fattened up their batting averages. Buddy Ryan batted something like .624 last week, with one single in over 20 times up, but yesterday he made back a lot of it by gleaming four safes in five times up. Fisher clouted two safeties in three times up, and Casey gathered in two in four trips to the oblong. By the way, Casey is doing some of the greatest pinch hitting of his venerable career.

Keenest Kind of Revenge. Krapp took the keenest kind of revenge on Henley. Those who have a tendency to remember things will recall that on the last trip north Henley and Krapp had a battle on the opening day and the closing day of the series. Henley won both games by three to two scores. So it was honey smothered revenge. Krapp was so good that from the third inning on not a Seal waddled to first base except Melchior, who walked in the fourth. Lewis hit in the first and Henley's twobagger that bounced back off the boards were the only bingles the southerners gleaned.

Fisher's two bagger to right after Casey had fled to Madden, followed by Sheehan's foul out to Vilt and Specs tipping single to left scored Gus, although Ort singled right afterward. Krapp ended the inning by fanning. Ryan started off in the next with a twobagger down the first base line. Buddy tried to catch him napping at second and a bad throw put Buddy on third. Olson fanned and Rapps was retired, but Casey hit in the pinch, and his single brought home. Fisher sent Casey to second with his second hit, Sheehan fled to left and retired the side.

In the fifth Ryan led off with a home run over the right field fence. Then Olson two banded to the left field bleachers, took third on Rapps' sacrifice and was out attempting a double steal with Casey, who had walked. Fisher's out to Mohler retired the side.

Sheehan started the sixth with a two bagger to the identical spot of Olson's. Specs sacrificed and he scored on Ort's sacrifice, the play being made at the plate. This aroused Berry and he kicked so strenuously that he was thrown out of the game. While the jabs fest went on its height, Ort stole second. Krapp then sacrificed Ort to third and he scored on Ryan's third hit. Olson also hit and the pair pulled off a double steal. Rapps made the third out. Casey made the sixth run on a single. Fisher's sacrifice, Sheehan's out and a wild pitch.

Frisco's run was made on Henley's double and two outs.

The Beavers did pretty much as they

CY YOUNG WATCHES MANY STARS PASS

Veteran Sees Them All Go by From Clarkson to Jack Chesbro.

Much has been written of late about Denton T. Young, the most remarkable pitcher that ever threw a ball across the plate. Columns, in fact, might be written about the wonderful achievements of this man that ever won 500 big league games, the only man who was ever able to stick in the big league for twenty-one years as a pitcher, and pitch good ball during that period.

Twenty-one years. That's a long time to serve in any one line—particularly as a big league pitcher. Twenty-one years. Think of the star pitchers that Cy Young has seen come and go. When Cy broke into fast company as a member of the Cleveland National leaguers in 1890 he had as contemporaries such famous heroes of the diamond as Tim Keefe, John Clarkson, now deceased; "Smiling Misery" Welch, "Old Hoss" Radbourne, Jim Galvin, Buffington, Ned Crane, later a suicide; Ad Gumbert, later sheriff of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania; Dwyer, more recently a manager and umpire and now a scout for Detroit; John K. Tener, the next governor of the Washington, D.C. O'Day, umpiring in the National league; and Amos Rusie, the speediest pitcher who ever lived.

Known to Present Fans. Durkin, the next few years he saw the passing of these stars had many well known even to the fan of this day—"Long now" Healy, Hutchinson, Casey, Wood, Ben Sandberg, Tom Weaver, Al Maul, Darby O'Brien, "Jersey" Blakeley, Getzlein, Jim Whitney, Shreve, Ed Seabury, now a fire captain in Cleveland; Bobby Carruthers, Dave Routz, Elton Chamberlain, "Monkey" Foreman, whose son is now a member of the Washington club; "Lady" Baldwin, "Red" Ehret, "Silver" King, "Big Jack" Stivetts, Lovett, Adonis Terry, Tony Mullane, Gus Weyhing, Leon Vlau, "Dumpling" McMahon, Mat Kilroy and "Wild Bill" Widner.

Later on he witnessed the coming and going to Jougett Meekin, Kid Nichols, who won more than 200 big league games; Clarke Griffith, Nig Cunny, Breltenstet, still pitching in the Southern league; Esper, Lester German, Stratton, Danny Daub, Pink Hawley, Jack Menefee, Willie McGill and Phil Knoff. Then came Bill Hofer, Roaring Bill Kennedy, Win Mercer, Rhines, Jay Hughes, Bert Briggs, Dad Clarke, Red Donohue, Fisher, Chick Frazer, Hughey McJames, Al Orth, Doc Ford, Joe Corbett, Jimmy Hawley, Jack Dunn, Phil Hill, Klobedans, Lewis, Jack Powell, still a big leaguer; Jesse Tannehill, Jack Taylor, Noodles Hahn, Billy Carick, Eddie Dohoney, Bill Dinnon, Jack Chesbro, Pete Dowling, Virgil Gilvin, Harry Howell, Lewis, Wiley Platt, Bill Phillips, Phil Lever, Willis, Willie Sudhoff and a host of others who are scarcely memories.

He has seen the passing of so many famous pitchers that the question presents itself, "How many of the star pitchers of the day will drop down into the minors before Cy gets through?" Just figure the number of balls that the great pitcher has had to throw to the plate during his 21 years on the diamond. He has pitched 802 games, not counting exhibition and training trip contests. A fair average is 124 balls to a game, a total of 100,250 during his championship contests. For a few years of his big league career the pitcher's box was only 50 feet from the plate, being placed where it is now later on. Further computation shows that Cy has thrown the ball a total of 1000 miles. If his efforts in warming up prior to games were also considered, these figures would be almost doubled. Yet his right arm shows but few signs of tiring.

Senators Trim Villagers. Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 24.—The Senators won the first game of the series from the Vernon team by the score of 4 to 2. The Sacramento nine made eight hits. Coy and Carlisle collided while chasing Perry's fly in the eighth inning and the former turned a somersault and landed on his back. He was carried from the field unconscious. Score: R. H. E. Sacramento 4 8 0. Vernon 2 8 1. Batteries—Lindstrom and Spiesman; Schafer and Brown. Umpire—Finney.

Vancouver Pounds Tacoma. Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 24.—The Vancouver nine pounded the Tacoma club here yesterday and beat them by the score of 9 to 2. Six errors made by the Tigers helped the Canucks in scoring. Kane relieved McCammet in the fifth inning. Score: R. H. E. Tacoma 2 4 3. Vancouver 9 11 3. Batteries—McCammet, Kane and Blankenship; Erickson and Sugen.

CHIMMIE'S COLUMN

The Beavers defeated the Seals in the first battle of the series. The Beavers gave Cack Henley a lovely trouncing. Oh my yes, it was some trouncing for the Sacramento bricklayer. He would have looked better with the trowel yesterday than he did with that pill. Held it long enough to secure a putout, but McGreevy wouldn't allow it.

Every man on the Beaver team secured a hit off Henley but Rapps and Krapp. Too bad, but those things can't be helped. Seaton and Stewart will be the opposing pitchers this afternoon, which is kid's day. Fix the youngster up and give him a dime for carfare and a dime for a cornucopia and he will be satisfied. M. C.—Player is out unless the error be discovered and the proper batsman replace him before he becomes a base runner. Thank you.

Jimmy Lewis made two great catches in the first inning that made the hair of the fans stand straight up. O! O! O! They looked like hits in any league, believe myself. Melchior thought he had Krapp clutched for a walk in the second, after Gene had thrown three balls, but the Seal outfielder had another guess coming, as Gene threw three over that cut the plate in half and Mel leaped against the last one to Specs. Just as easy. Oscar Vilt fouled off about 13 balls and then went out over the Beaver short line. Olson to Rapps. Henley started to blame this youngster for a few that went by him but if Cack had fallen down he could not have touched them. Have a little sense, Henley.

Fisher made two fearful, yes, fearful, swipes at the ones that Henley dished up and the thin fellow was just figuring on Gus being a member of the strikeout squad when he leaned against the next one over for a two-bagger. They all make mistakes and Henley is no exception to the rule. In the third inning Henley thought that Krapp and the Beavers weren't treating the Seals just as they should on such a stately occurrence and slammed one that just missed going over the fence by a few feet. It hit the top of the lower fence and bounced back into the lot. Cack taking second on the wall. If he had fallen down he could have been half way home. The Seals should not have scored that one run. Casey let Mohler's easy grounder get away from him and Henley scored. It didn't make any difference as long as we won, but a shut-out would have been so much nicer.

Bundy Defeats Wright. (United Press Leased Wire.) Newport, R. I., Aug. 24.—Thomas C. Bundy, one of the Pacific coast doubles tennis champions, today defeated Beals C. Wright, ex-champion of the United States and International tournament performer. The sets were won consecutively—6-3, 6-2, 6-8 and 10-8. This leaves Bundy with but one other player between him and the national singles championship. This is William A. Larned, whom Bundy will now meet. Kansas City amateur shoot, first of kind, will occur September 6 to 8.

FANS LIKE NEWS OF ARTY KRUEGER

Will Help Beavers Win Pennant—Seals Pick Oregonian—Houck Out.

The announcement in The Journal yesterday that Arty Krueger, the former Oakland outfielder, who went up to the big league, and is now with Cleveland, would report to McCredie late this week or early next, was received with a great deal of enthusiasm by the fans who remembered how Arty used to slant the ball to all corners of the lot in the old days. Arty is no old one by any means. He is not more than 25 and his big league experience will stand him in good stead out here. With Columbus last season in the American association, he was sixth on the batting list and fifth on the fielding list.

Krueger will undoubtedly be a great help to the Beavers if he can keep up his American association clip. With one good hard hitting, outfielder, the Beavers will be enabled to add a good many points to their percentage before the season is over. Coleman Joins Seals. Has San Francisco picked up another fine Perinelli? Another southern Oregon boy was in a coast league uniform yesterday, a chap named Coleman of Medford, who is said to have a record of 21 victories out of 22 games in the south end of the state. He is about the size of Seaton and throws from the right side. Perinelli is now with Detroit. Byron Houck, the crack pitcher of the Intercollegiate league and who has been playing with some of the independent teams, has turned out for practice with the Beavers this morning. There are great possibilities in Houck and the big leaguers have started out to teach him how to pitch. Jess Garrett and Tommy Seaton pitched alongside of him in the morning practice and gave him many pointers, while Tommy Murray chipped in now and then. Manager McCredie is much impressed with his work. Arty likes his size six feet, and his weight 185 pounds. Mac says if he takes care of his arm, there is no reason why he shouldn't develop into a good slabster.

Portland is Playing Best Cricket Matches
Victoria, B. C., Aug. 24.—The results in yesterday's contests in the international cricket matches resulted as follows: Victoria 489, Seattle 118. Vancouver 126, Seattle 32. Vancouver 286, Nanaimo 53. Portland 143, Garrison 43. Portland seems to be playing the best cricket and is expected to carry off first prize.

Oakland Wins by Run.
San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 24.—The Oakland club beat the Los Angeles nine in the first game of the series by the score of 1 to 0. Moser was in fine form and was at no time in any danger. A walk, a hit, an error and an infield out allowed the Oaks to score the only run. Score: R. H. E. Oakland 1 5 0. Los Angeles 0 3 1. Batteries—Moser and Mitze; Nagie and Smith.

A Wise Decision.
Mr. O. H. Knecht, Shelbyville, Ill., did a wise thing when he decided to take Foley Kidney Pills. He writes: "Several years ago I hurt my back, and whenever I took cold it settled in my kidneys. They began to give me much trouble, my back ached severely and it hurt so when I stooped over that I could hardly straighten up. Almost two months ago I read of Foley Kidney Pills and decided to give them a trial. After a short time I was much improved, was able to go to work and now feel well and strong again. I gladly recommend Foley Kidney Pills."
