Suit Over Railroad Lumber.—Suit for $1285 for timber used in the construction of bridges and culverts on the new Tillamook road has been begun in the circuit court by the Portland Timber company against the Pacific Railway & Navigation Co. It is alleged the defendant agreed to pay $2 per 1000 feet and to notify the plaintiff when the lumber was wanted, so it could be marked and estimated. The complaint says no notice was given and the plaintiff lands in Washington and Tillamook counties were invaded at pleasure, 642,514 feet being taken. R. F. Hosking has sued the Davenport-Thompson company for $1689 for goods sold and delivered and for $319 more on a claim assigned by the Pearson-Page company.

Sold Liquor on Sunday.—Fred Jessup, proprietor of a poolroom at 13 North Sixth street, dispensed liquor from a small closet in the rear of the poolroom yesterday and was caught in the act by Patrolmen Wellborn and Larfield. They confiscated some of the liquor and arrested him on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He failed to appear before Municipal Judge Bennett this morning and his bail was forfeited. Ross Gilbert, a barber, was arrested by the same officers at Sixteenth and Thurman streets while he was acting as a lookout for a saloon, and charged with grand larceny. He has assisted one of the police detectives to catch an offender not long ago, and in view of this service he was discharged this morning.

New Express Rates.—It is believed that it will be possible to make effective the new Wells-Fargo & Co. rates in Oregon by October 1. At a conference held Saturday between General Traffic Manager J. D. Ludlow and the state railroad commission it was agreed to have the Southern Pacific territory in this state. They do not apply to eastern Oregon, as the express business over the O. R. & N. is handled by the American Express Co.

Warrant for Wife-Beater.—Deputy Sheriff Constable has gone to Stevenson, Wash., to bring K. F. Ludington to Portland. Ludington having been indicted a few days ago for wife-beating and a bench warrant issued for his arrest. His wife, Grace Ludington, sued for divorce on the ground of cruelty a few days ago, alleging he beat her many times. She said she was so afraid of him on the night of August 13 that she took her two children with her and spent a large part of the night until dawn on the porch of a deserted house in the vicinity.

Says He Was Deserted.—Atlas C. Hilliard is suing Gertrude V. Hilliard in the circuit court for a divorce, alleging she deserted him one year ago without good cause. They were married in Rainier, Or., in May, 1905.

Grillrooms to Be Cleaned Up.—Stringent orders regarding the regulation of grillrooms were issued this morning by Chief of Police Cox. "You will instruct the officers of your command," reads the order to the captain, "to give strict attention to the women of the vagrant class who make a practice of loitering around grills and cafes for the purpose of inducing men to buy them drinks or take them jollifying to the roadhouse. Proprietors of grills and cafes should be cautioned against allowing this class of women to frequent or remain about their places of business under penalty of arrest."

Bowman Pardons Pio-Thai.—A pardon granted by Acting Governor Bowman arrived at the county jail today for John Foley, who was serving a term of six months for stealing meat tickets and pie from a hotel, and restaurants. The jury placed the value of the meat tickets at $15, the case being tried before Judge Gatens and M. O. Wilkins representing the defendant. Foley has served about four months of his term.

Argument Over Belmont Extension.—Arguments on the temporary injunction granted the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, restraining the city of Portland from opening and widening Belmont street, began this afternoon before Federal Judge E. S. Bean. A decision probably will not be rendered for several days. The temporary injunction was granted Saturday.

MISSING HOOD RIVER MAN HAS GONE EAST

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Hood River, Or., Aug. 23.—F. J. Banham, who mysteriously disappeared from Hood River August 13, and who is supposed to have had considerable money on his person, was a member of the Catholic church here and his disappearance has caused the church to take the matter up, as it is supposed he was foully dealt with.
Documents found in his house here indicate that he had considerable money in local banks. While the police have been unable to locate him at Portland, word has been received that the missing man has been seen on board a train entering Chicago. A search through the Portland ticket offices show that a man answering his description purchased a ticket on August 19 of C. W. Stager, city ticket agent of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company for the east and for which he paid $60. The parents of the missing man reside at St. Joseph's Grange Roads, Beccles, England.

Must Respect Right to Sleep.
From the Washington Times.
"Now, many blessings light upon the man who first invented sleep," said honest Sancho Panza, and the Pittsburg courts have held that the patent rights to the invention may not be infringed with impunity.
The milkman has long been regarded as synonymous with the lark as the herald of the early morning, but he isn't satisfied to twitter like the lark. To the contrary, quite the reverse, as Sam Weller would say, he seems to delight in rattling his wagon over the cobblestones and otherwise disturbing the slumbers of those who are taking their last sweet 40 winks which come between daylight and coffee.
Leo Harman of the Smoky City was apparently one of the milk distributors who thought they had a right to make as much noise as they pleased during these weary hours. He rested under the delusion that as a milkman he was a law unto himself and his rights there were none to dispute.
But there was one irate citizen disturbed in his slumbers by the rumble of the milk cart who decided to call him to account. Harman was fined $10, and when the case was appealed the judgment of the court below was sustained.
This is calculated to jolt the whole fraternity of milkmen, hucksters and other early birds. It is a lesson in regard to the sanctity of sleep.

TROOPS FIGHTING FIRE THREATENING BULL RUN SUPPLY

the mountains near Missoula. The party was reported destroyed. When Mr. Bronson got into Spokane he met Riley at the hotel.
"I'm supposed to be dead," said Riley, "but you can see for yourself that I'm not."
The fire fighters who were forced out of Avery because there was not enough food to go around are being paid off, said Mr. Bronson. Many of them were sent into Spokane. These men were forced out of the city by negro troopers. They made a complaint that it was done to prevent paying them their wages for fighting the forest fires. As they now receive their checks, their complaints become less.

Situation Improved.
"The general situation is greatly improved," said District Forester Chapman this morning. "Assistant District Forester Flory, who has been on the Wallowa national forest, reports this morning that the situation there is very much improved and that in all probability all the fires will be under control within a short time if the climatic conditions continue as they have been for the past few days. There was a slight fall of rain yesterday in the Wallowa country, which has aided materially in checking the fires. The Snake river fires, which have been some of the worst, are now out."
"The Chessinus fire is under control, while the Sparta, Medical Springs and Halfway fires, while not absolutely under control, are in better shape than they have been since they started. Altogether the situation looks extremely hopeful for preventing any further damage in the Wallowa country."

Assistant District Forester Buck, who is in charge of the fire situation on the Crater national forest, reports that the situation there is very much improved as a result of the slight rain which they had there yesterday. There are very favorable reports from the Ashland, Clover Creek, Dead Indian, South Fork, Cat Hill, Celestine and Dudley fires.

Four Families Dead.
"The two men who were arrested on the Crater for setting out fires were turned loose on account of insufficient evidence. On Trail creek the buildings of two settlers have been burned and the ranger is investigating the case to see if the families have escaped. It was impossible to reach them before yesterday on account of the fires. On the South Fork of the Rogue river, the fires have been extremely destructive, and have been, for the most part, on private land. Two companies of troops are in the vicinity, endeavoring to check the blaze. Up to the present time approximately 200 miles of fire line or trenches have been established.
"A later wire from Mr. Buck states that the settlers on Trail Creek are reported safe, and the general situation is still improving."

Associate District Forester Ceel, who has just returned from the Squawmie forest, reports that the fire on Green river has burned over about four sections, largely on the old logging works of the Moran Lumber company. Considerable timber owned by this company was damaged. The timber killed on the national forest lands in this vicinity was mostly of an inferior quality.

Actual Loss Slight.
"Steps will be taken to have this timber logged immediately. It is expected that the actual loss aside from the employment of about 100 men to fight the fire will be slight.
"On the Rainier national forest about 10 sections have been burned over, some of which was excellent timber. Seventy-five men are now working on this fire, which is partly under control, and with the weather conditions now prevailing, it will be well in hand in the next day or two. Steps will be taken to seal as much of the material as possible before deterioration."

District Forester Chapman took exception to the statement made by Thomas McCusker in The Sunday Journal that the carelessness of forest rangers were responsible for the fires on Zig Zag mountain near Sandy.
"I am confident that any such rumor is absolutely without foundation," said Mr. Chapman, "but the matter will be looked into. The rangers who performed their work in a way which needs no comment from me."

"In view of their untiring efforts, I feel that it is particularly unfortunate that any of them should be charged with starting the fires which for the past two months they have been working night and day to suppress. I hardly feel that a statement in this matter is necessary, since no well informed person would for a moment credit our rangers with starting fires."
Adjutant General Finer will go to the scene of forest fires near Sandy where Companies E, H, and C are now stationed. He has a desire to see for himself just what the situation is.
"I have never gotten any report from Company G of the Fourth Infantry that went out from Albany to fight fire near Sawyer's Mill," said General Finer this morning.
"I do not anticipate that any harm has befallen the guardsmen. I suppose they have been too busy fighting fires to take time for making reports."

Portland will leave the hotly today to go into the real estate business. He will begin tomorrow with P. C. Lavey & Co. Mr. Wherry has been with the Hotel Portland company for some time, and is popular and well regarded by the travelers of the coast.

Judge Henry E. McGinn will deliver a political address at Sellwood tomorrow night in Strahlman's hall at 8 o'clock.

Judge Cleland having been nominated by the assembly. Judge McGinn, in his addresses, pays particular attention to the assembly movement, telling who is back of it and what its objects are. His address is a most interesting one, full of interesting facts well told. It is expected that the meeting tomorrow night will be an enthusiastic and well attended gathering of voters of the Sellwood district.
