

INTEREST IN FAIR GROWS AS FIRST DAY APPROACHES

Gates Swing Open Monday for Tremendous Crowds That Will Surely Go to See Many Entertaining Features.

At a meeting held last evening in the Commercial club between the directors of the Portland Fair & Livestock exposition, and representatives from the Live Wire organization of the Commercial club, the Portland Hunt club, Riverside Driving club, Portland Automobile club and other local organizations, it was decided to have a grand parade Friday evening of this week, as an advertisement of the fair, which opens next Monday.

In deference to the Labor Day parade, which is to be held Monday, it was decided not to hold any parade Monday morning, as had been planned, and the union labor organizations were asked if they would not hold their parade Monday morning. Instead of the afternoon, so that the big parade would not interfere with the largest possible attendance of the Livestock exposition and fair.

Parade Friday Evening.
For the Friday evening parade a large number of unique features are to be put on by the Live Wire and other organizations. The complete ceremony of burying the "monstrous" and the "knocker" is to be carried out, during which the last relic of the pessimist type that ever inhabited the city of Portland is expected to be given fair internment for all time to come. Members of the Automobile club, Hunt club and Riverside Driving club will have large delegations in the parade. Business men are being called upon to lend a hand to the work, which is intended to give the fair a tremendous pre-natal advertisement.

Features of the parade are to be worked out by H. C. Campbell, who was last night elected grand marshal, and special committees of the various organizations that will participate. On behalf of the Live Wires, a special committee will organize the society, getting one committee to work on each stunt that is to be featured.

Officials to Open Fair.
Monday morning at 10 o'clock, at the hour when the street parade had been planned, the officials of the Fair & Livestock exposition will receive Acting Governor E. W. Simon and other city officials, and such other officials as will participate in the opening ceremonies, and proceed from some point in the city through the streets of the busy section out to the fair grounds, where the opening ceremonies are to take place.

The biggest racing event on the best card that has ever been arranged on the Pacific coast will be held on the opening day of the fair, Monday afternoon. This will be for the $10,000 purse in the 2:12 trotting class. The whole program on Monday will be one of the best of the week.

Transportation facilities to and from the fair will be adequate to handle the immense crowds which are expected to attend. In the past, the transportation problem has been somewhat of a bugbear to the success of the big shows at the Country club grounds, but arrangements have been made to eliminate entirely all possibility of congested conditions after the performances next week.

Key Double Tracks.
Double tracks have been laid along the Sandy road, and President Josephine of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company has promised that all the necessary cars will be supplied.

In addition to satisfactory transportation facilities on the electric lines arrangements are being made for the automobile service to the fair grounds at a fare of 50 cents. E. Henry Wempe, of the Portland Automobile club is responsible for securing the special automobile rate, and is making arrangements to have the auto service satisfactory to patrons. The route for the autos will be out Grand avenue and Broadway street, and thence along the Sandy road. As Broadway street has been recently paved and the Sandy road is in perfect condition there will be a perfectly smooth road all the way out to the Country club.

There are approximately 150 rent machines in the city, which will be used for the fair service, and it is estimated they will be able to carry at least 3000 people to the fair daily.

Important as Rose Festival.
Business men it is believed can do about as much this way as in any other to advertise the fair and bring out the crowds. Prominent boosters of the city believe the livestock show is a more substantial affair than the annual Rose Festival and deserves as much support.

Monday will be children's day, and all children under 12 years of age will be admitted to the grounds free. All Portland parents are asked to see to it that their children have an opportunity to attend the exposition, as it will afford an

THE WAY OUT.

What to Do When Food Don't Agree.

When food don't agree sensible folks make a change. Where all others fail Grape-Nuts, being partially predigested and nearly all nourishment, succeeds usually from the first trial.

A lady in Washington says: "My baby 18 months old had never seen a well day in her life. She had suffered from indigestion from the time of her birth, and it seemed impossible to find any food to agree with her. She could keep almost nothing on her stomach and she was in such a constipated condition she suffered a great deal."

"It was then that I tried Grape-Nuts for her, steeping it thoroughly and straining it, putting a small portion in each feeding and it worked like a charm. She began to improve immediately and gained half a pound the first week."

"Baby got her indigestion from me, for my digestive organs have always been weak. I rely on Grape-Nuts for most of my food for there are times when I can eat nothing else. I am steadily improving and know Grape-Nuts will make me entirely well in time."

"I never have that tired feeling any more. I eat Grape-Nuts and I feel its effects in improved mental strength very forcibly."

"There's a Reason." Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PROPOSE CHANGES IN CITY CHARTER

Councilmen Pass on 4 Amendments to Go on November Ballot.

Four amendments to the charter were authorized by the city council yesterday afternoon to be placed on the November ballot for submission to the voters. They affect the water, public docks, method of determining the salaries of the city attorney and the city engineer. The water amendment gives the water department power to control itself. Authority to issue bonds and install water mains wherever needed is asked by the board. If this amendment goes through that department can hire men and put through extensions and the same will be paid by the bond issue.

Under the present system the property owner benefited pays for the mains. Many people objected to paying for their mains, while the rest of the city was given free mains. Provision is made in the proposed amendment to refund all money paid for mains within the past two years.

The amendments in reference to the city attorney and city engineer propose to give the council power to determine their salaries. The salaries now are fixed at $2400 by the charter. There has been a feeling that this should be increased, as the city is taking on such big and heavy problems, and therefore wants the best man in each profession. Provision was also made for the special city election November 8, which will be held at the same time as the state election.

unusual opportunity to teach them the value of blooded stock. The poultry show will be one of the most attractive features of the fair to many. Handsome premiums for poultry displays have been offered, and it is expected the exhibit will be the best ever seen in Portland. The Junior Poultry association, organized for the purpose of encouraging people, and particularly children, to raise blooded poultry in their back yards, will take a prominent part in the poultry exhibit.

To Test Infected Cow.
All interested in the subject of tuberculosis among cattle will be given an opportunity to see a practical test on Friday, September 2. An infected cow as well as another animal, fat and in perfect condition, will be killed and their relative conditions discussed. State Veterinarian W. H. Lytle will be in charge of the demonstration, and will deliver an exhaustive lecture on tuberculosis. Tiresome waiting between the racing events will be eliminated by the staging of vaudeville and athletic numbers. It is announced there will not be an idle moment during the program. Among the entertainment features will be the performance of the great circus and the four Steiner acrobats.

College Maid, the guileless pacer, who goes around the track by herself in record time and bows to the audience, will be one of the main attractions of the week.

Entries of Fine Stock.
Among the livestock entries reported yesterday were the following:
G. A. Draper, of Elbert, Wash., 14 head of Red Polled cattle.
F. H. Porter, Haley, Or., 16 head Red Polled cattle.

Walter J. Domes, McCoy, Or., 17 head of Jerseys, 12 head Hampshire swine. Mr. Domes has a national reputation for winning prizes with his blooded stock. He has the record of winning more prizes with his Jerseys than any other breeder of the country, and his advent here is a triumph for the city.

Ed Schoel, of Albany, Or., 9 head of Hampshire Down sheep, and 18 head of Chester White swine.

William Hastings, of Boyd, Or., Clydesdale horses, and a lot of I. O. C. swine and Jersey cattle.

SALMON FISHERMEN MAKE GOOD CATCHES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Aug. 29.—Among the fishermen who made big catches of salmon this season just ended were gillnetters A. Nissen, who fished for the Eureka cannery, his catch amounting to 18½ tons, which brought him in $2400. J. Nissen, a brother of the former, fished for the same firm, caught 15 tons, which gave him $2000 for his season's work. Peter Dicklich, another gillnetter, who fished for the Altona Packing company, caught enough fish to net him $2001.65.

PRIEST FEARS RANCHER; EMPLOYS BODYGUARD

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Aug. 30.—Deputy Sheriff Mark Freeman today began his new duties as bodyguard of the Rev. Louis Miller, rector of the Catholic church. The officer is detailed for the work at the request of the priest, who fears that William Cochrane, a rancher living near the church in Orilla, will carry out alleged threats to kill him. Cochrane claims that the church has taken unlawful possession of a strip of land belonging to him.

MAN AT WALLA WALLA ABDUCTED AND ROBBED

(United Press Leased Wire.) Walla, Wash., Aug. 30.—Ivan Neimi complained to the police today that two men kidnapped him on the grounds at Fort Walla Walla last night and bundled him into a closed cab, ordering the driver to whip up. The men then attacked Neimi and got $20 in cash, which he had on his person. After robbing him the strangers opened the door and threw him out of the racing vehicle. One suspect has been arrested.

NEW CITY HALL BEFORE SEATTLE CITY COUNCIL

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Aug. 30.—The city council at a special meeting tonight will act on an ordinance submitting to the voters of the city a bond issue of $1,900,000 for a new city hall. The proposed building is to stand on the site of the present city hall.

BOURNE TALKS ON DIRECT PRIMARY PLAN AT SEATTLE

Given Rousing Reception by Direct Legislation League and Explains Oregon's Method of Choosing Senators.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Aug. 30.—Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., of Oregon was given a rousing reception by the Direct Legislation league of Washington last night. Senator Bourne was introduced to the league members by Charles R. Case, president of the State Federation of Labor. Frequently during his speech the senator was interrupted by members anxious to know the workings of the Oregon direct primary law and when the election of Senator Chamberlain was explained and the loyalty of the statement No. 1 men dwelt upon the speaker was loudly applauded. The meeting was held in the assembly hall of the Commercial club.

Senator Bourne in part said: "The great problem before the people of the United States is to make their government representative in fact, as well as in form. The solution is simple. Place responsibility for legislation and selection of public servants upon the people and make the public servants accountable directly to the party and general electorate."

"Oregon, through its initiative and referendum, direct primary, corrupt practices act and recall, has evolved, enacted and demonstrated the best known system of popular government. The people in that state are responsible for legislation and for selection of their public servants, with resultant general contentment, the complete destruction of all anachronistic tendencies and absolute accountability of public servants to the people instead of to a political boss who is always the agent of the largest campaign contributors."

CROOKEDNESS ELIMINATED.

"The referendum destroys the opportunity for legislative blackmailing or the purchase of special privileges. In government, business, social and private life, the personal equation must always be reckoned with. Self-interest, or selfishness, dominates the individual. As individuals differ so do their selfish interests differ. Hence, where the individuals act collectively, as they must under popular government, the gradual attrition between the individual self interests wears them away and results, under community action, in the absolute elimination of individual selfishness and substitution thereof of the general welfare."

"The charge made by corporation, journalistic and legal Hessians that popular government is breaking down in Oregon is absolutely false. Oregon has enjoyed the initiative and referendum for eight years and there has been no effort to secure its repeal. Experience has demonstrated that the people can and will vote intelligently upon measures submitted to them."

No Special Sessions Needed.

"Legislatures have several times made mistakes so serious that it was necessary to call special sessions to correct their errors, but it has never been necessary to call a special session to correct errors of the people."

"Oregon's Australian ballot law assures the honesty of elections and the registration law guards the integrity of the privilege of American citizenship—participation in government."

"The direct primary is the only practicable method of fully securing to the people their right to choose their public servants. The Statement No. 1 provision of the Oregon law establishes direct election of United States senators."

All Get Equal Opportunity.

"The corrupt practices act affords all candidates equal opportunity and protects the honest candidate against the misuse of money in political campaigns. Under the operation of this law popular verdicts will be based upon ideas, not money; arguments, not abuse; principles, not boss or machine dictation."

"The recall is a precautionary measure the existence of which will generally prevent necessity for its use."

"Adoption of the initiative and referendum should be made the chief issue in every state for by means of this the people may secure such other reforms as they desire. Candidates for nomination or election to the legislature should be compelled to declare unequivocally their attitude upon this question."

"Every legislative candidate, regardless of party, who fails to pledge himself to the people of the state to work and vote for the submission of this amendment, should be overwhelmingly defeated."

SHOWERS CLEAR UP ATMOSPHERE NICELY

Monday's heavy showers cleared the atmosphere over the Columbia river, and it is again possible to view the landscapes from a passing steamer. For nearly a week the smoke from the forest fires on both sides of the river has been so dense that it was barely possible for navigators to know their position. Reports from the upper river this morning are to the effect that the smoke has disappeared and that the limit of vision now depends altogether on the eyesight.

CHILDREN IN TUNNEL OVERCOME BY GAS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Hollister, Cal., Aug. 30.—The bodies of three daughters of John Williams of Hollister were found yesterday in a tunnel of the New Idra quicksilver mine here. They had been overcome by gas. The children were 15, 12 and 5 years of age, respectively. It is thought they entered the mouth of the mine at 3 o'clock Sunday night and ventured too far into the tunnel.

ROSTAND'S SON TO WED A PRINCESS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Paris, Aug. 30.—The engagement of Maurice Rostand, son of the poet and playwright, Edmond Rostand, and Princess Gabrielle de Rohan, member of one of the most exclusive French families, is announced. After his marriage young Rostand, who is just past 20, will be related to half the royalty of France.

COUNCIL DIRECTS BLOW AT LABOR

Passes Ordinance Stopping Union Men From Picketing or Carrying Banners.

Another boycott banner ordinance was passed yesterday afternoon by the city council. This is the one introduced by Councilman Lombard. It received a vote of 8 to 5. The measure provides that carrying "unfair" banners, attempting to induce men not to enter a certain place and picketing of strikers is unlawful.

Those voting for the measure were Councilmen Annand, Cellars, Driscoll, Ellis, Lombard, Menefee, Wallace and Watkins. Those voting against it were Councilmen Baker, Belding, Cannan, Dunning and Rushlight. The report soon spread to labor circles that a new boycott banner ordinance was up, and a representative came in the council chambers soon after the affair was over. He announced that the referendum would be placed upon it. The ordinance does not become effective until September 23, by which time the labor man declared, a petition with the required number of signers would require it being placed on the ballot for the people to decide.

Councilman Ellis voted yes on the question, and explained his vote by saying that he would have opposed the ordinance if the labor people would have put the referendum only on the boycott feature of the recent ordinance which is being held up by the referendum petition. Councilman Driscoll called the new measure from the police committee and asked that it be placed on its final passage.

The recent banner ordinance forbade the carrying of any banner, either labor or advertising, on the streets. Many business men were as bitter against it as were the union people.

Farm Residence Destroyed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Forest Grove, Or., Aug. 30.—The farm residence of Thomas Bellinger, living two miles southwest of this city, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Quick work on the part of the inmates saved the piano and several pieces of household furniture. The loss is estimated at $1500, with no insurance. Mr. Bellinger has an extensive bank of fireclay on his ranch, and backed by Portland capitalists, is engaged in getting out the clay for commercial purposes, a grinding plant being now in operation to reduce the substance to a powder.

Death of D. H. Curl.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Lebanon, Or., Aug. 30.—D. H. Curl died at his home in the southern part of Lebanon Sunday evening, after an illness of several months, of dropsy, at the age of 51 years, 1 month and 14 days. Mr. Curl was born near Scio, this county, July 14, 1859, and was married to Miss Fannie Funk in Scio, November, 1878. In 1881, with his family, he moved to eastern Oregon, where he lived until 1901, when he moved back to Linn county and has lived here

Knocker; Dodge Hermiston.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hermiston, Or., Aug. 30.—The people of Hermiston do not stand for knockers. Last week an agent for school supplies visited the town and sold some of his goods to the school board. He remained in town several hours after the sale and was made, and was heard to tell some of the newcomers that this land was Kill Big Deer.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Forest Grove, Or., Aug. 30.—H. W. Scott, of Scio, in the valley, brought in two of the largest deer of the season, the bucks weighing respectively 151 and 155 pounds dressed. Deer are quite plentiful in Washington county and nearly every hunter from this city who has gone out has returned with venison.
