

WOLF BOAT ON PACIFIC COAST

Local Racing Enthusiasts Desire to See Oregon Hull in New Racer.

Many of Portland's keenest motor boat enthusiasts who have followed the racing game for several years are anxious to see George S. Shepherd and associates build their projected speed boat, for which a company has been organized with a capital stock of $10,000 here in Oregon.

Those who have watched the efforts of Pacific coast motor boat builders maintain that Portland can produce just as fast boats as any manufacturer in the United States. They point to the fact that the Wolf II, the fastest motor boat on the coast, was built in Portland by J. E. Wolff and three times has successfully defended the title won at the A-Y-P exposition at Seattle.

The Wolf II has never failed to finish in a race, and this something that cannot be said of eastern boats. In support of their contention that Oregon should not be overlooked the local racing fans point to the failure of the Pacer as a racing boat. The Pacer was built on the Atlantic seaboard at a cost of upward of $5000, but has not developed the speed of the local champion. In fact she has been a disappointment all around.

The engine was considered all right, but the hull was found to be slow. A new hull was built in Portland, but before it was given a proper tryout was discarded and the old one used again. The races at Astoria proved that it had no speed.

But the owners of the Pacer and the Seattle Spirit concluded to join hands. The Spirit has a fast hull, but no engine. The Pacer engine was placed in it and in a race proved that conditions had not been bettered much. In the meantime the Portland built boat has been carrying off all the prizes. The local boats have been built at a far less cost than the eastern importation, and have given much more satisfaction.

Of course it is to be expected that an eastern engine will be used in the Shepherd craft, as the easterners have a shade on the coast manufacturers when it comes to engines. But the hull, at least, is a different matter, and the builders out here are just as capable as those in the east.

A portion of the craft is constructed in Oregon it is believed that it will better serve the purpose of an advertising medium.

IRVINGTON FINALS PLAYED OFF TODAY

The Irvington tennis club's tournament will conclude this afternoon with the finals postponed on account of rain Saturday.

The club presented E. H. V. Andrews with a handsome leather traveling toilet case in appreciation of his work in the tennis committee, at the social dance Saturday night. J. S. Bennett received the largest vote as the most popular referee during the tournament.

If it is found impossible to finish the finals in the women's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles today they will be continued during the week.

"A FRIEND" SENDS $1 FOR FIRE SUFFERERS

One thousand pounds of grass seed to be used in forest fire sufferers in replanting the meadows will be shipped today to Vancouver by the People's Institute. The gift was made by the seed companies of Portland through the agency of Mr. Bowman of the Portland Seed company, and will be of tremendous aid to the settlers whose property was destroyed by the forest fires in getting another start.

But $1 was raised today to the cash donations being raised by the Chamber of Commerce. It was marked "From a friend." The Chamber of Commerce has asked for $5000 and has received a little more than $1500.

C. J. Buck, assistant forecaster of the United States forestry department, has returned to Portland from southern Oregon, where he had charge of the desperate battle against forest fires. The fires, said Mr. Buck, did tremendous damage. Some of the green timber was completely destroyed. This is unusual.

OLD SORES DUE TO DISEASED BLOOD

Every symptom of an old sore suggests diseased blood. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that local applications have no permanent effect toward healing the ulcer, shows that deep down in the system there is a morbid cause for the sore. But more convincing proof that bad blood is the cause for these places is furnished by the fact that even removing the sore or ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; they always return. Nature will heal any sore if the blood is pure and healthy, but until the circulation is cleansed of all impure matter and supplied with nourishing and plasmic qualities the infected condition of flesh is OBLIGED to remain. S. S. S. heals Old Sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes into the blood, removes the impurities and morbid matters, adds nourishing qualities to this vital fluid, and brings about the very conditions that are necessary before any sore can heal. S. S. S. is a perfect blood purifier, acting directly on the circulation through the stomach and digestive members. Its use makes rich, red, healthy blood, which nourishes all flesh tissues instead of infecting them with the virulent matter which keeps old sores open. OREGON PRUNES RUN INTO MONEY

Crop Smaller This Season, Hence Price Going Skyward.

If anybody tells you "you're full of prunes," don't be insulted. He probably means to convey to you the impression that he thinks you're rich. Prunes have just at present reached the highest price the fruit has touched in the past decade, according to secretary H. M. Williamson, of the state board of horticulture. "From early advice I have come to our office," said Secretary Williamson this morning, "I have learned that the crop is from 33 1/3 to 50 per cent short of the usual output, but this deficiency will be more than made up for by the advance prices now prevailing. The average value of the prune crop in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and this year Oregon growers and packers will receive about $1,500,000 for their product.

"Producers are in the midst of the annual drying operations. The prunes this year are not as large as in other years, but the quality is excellent. Most of the fruit is shipped to the east and to European points.

"The acreage this year is about the same as it has been, there having been no material increase owing to the fact that many orchard tracts have been abandoned for the reason that the soil was found to be unsuitable for profitable prune raising.

"But the future outlook for the industry is good. The fruit men have learned what kind of land to select for their orchards and they are planting in the red foothill land of the Willamette and even other valleys where the elevation is from 500 to 1000 feet above sea level.

"Willamette valley growers ship the greater part of their product to New York and other points east of the Rocky mountains. The fruit is first dried, put in eastern Oregon the growers export the prunes in their natural state."

CASCADE FOREST IS THREATENED BY FIRE

The local forestry office this morning received a telegram from Eugene saying that a bad fire had been reported in the Cascade national forest from the vicinity of Kittling Springs. The rangers nearest the point where the flames have broken out have been hurried there.

Assistant District Forecaster C. J. Buck returned Saturday from Medford, at which city he made his headquarters while directing the operations of the fire fighting forces in the Rogue River valley. He reports that the fires have been quenched completely and that there is no more danger from that locality.

He attributes the success of the fire fighters to the trained work of the First Infantry under command of Major Martin. The soldiers, according to Mr. Buck, deserve the entire credit for the saving of 13,000,000 feet of valuable timber.

ROGUE PROJECT WILL RECLAIM 55,000 ACRES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Sept. 12.—State Engineer John M. Lewis today approved the application of Fred M. Cummings for a water right to irrigate 55,000 acres of land in the Rogue River valley in the vicinity of Medford. Mr. Cummings acted as trustee for the Rogue River water project, which proposes to build a private irrigation system to reclaim a large tract. The filing fee for water rights approved was $614. It is the plan to take water from storage reservoirs. Four-mile lake and Fish lake will be treated as reservoirs for storing water to irrigate the 55,000-acre tract. Work on the project is to proceed immediately.

SALESMAN WANTS HIS FORFEIT RETURNED

Declaring that he has been unable to sell Parry automobiles because of inferior quality and many defects, Henry Funk, doing business as the Henry Funk Auto company, has begun suit against the Parry Auto company of Indianapolis, Ind., to secure the return of $2500 paid on an order of good faith when he took up the agency for the Parry machines last February.

Funk was appointed agent for Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and paid $25 on each of 100 cars, which he was to purchase. He says the contract was later modified so he was only required to use his best efforts to sell the machines. This he did, he says, with no result, as the machines were not saleable. The company has refused to return his deposit.

ANTI-ASSEMBLY RALLIES PLANNED FOR EAST PORTLAND

Anti-Assembly Live Wires will speak tonight at Baker's hall, Seventeenth and Albion streets, on matters of great moment to voters of Portland. Among them will be John F. Logan, George W. Joseph, candidate for state senator, and Seneca Fouts, candidate for the legislature. Be- fore the meeting, various speeches will be rendered by Mrs. F. H. Hennessey and Mrs. Fred Olson.

Tomorrow night Dan J. Marley will speak in the Hawthorne Park tabernacle. Mr. Marley has a number of interesting things up his sleeve ready to spring at the time, and it is understood that he is going to go into the various subjects without reserve. It is predicted that the meeting, in the heart of East Portland, will be one of the most interesting of the entire campaign.

This evening Judge Henry E. McGinn will speak to the multitude in front of Imperial hotel on Seventh street near Washington. The noted speaker will speak into the hand wagon at 8 o'clock, and the "fireworks" will be on for more than an hour.

SUE TO COLLECT POLICY OF $2000

W. O. W. Declines to Pay Money Until Death of Geo. Gordon Proved.

By the filing of a suit in the circuit court today Attorney Raphael Citron will endeavor to collect an insurance policy of $2000 on the life of George Gordon, once head chef at the Pacer and hotel, who disappeared mysteriously on the morning of December 7, 1902, and has never since been heard from.

After thorough investigation of the case at the time Gordon's friends were convinced he met with foul play. The body was never found, however, not the slightest trace of the missing man was revealed. He had lived happily with his wife and child and about two weeks before he disappeared quit his employment at the Pacer to start a restaurant. He arose early on the morning of December 7, 1902, and started for the restaurant about 5:30 o'clock. After he told his wife good-bye and stepped out into the darkness he disappeared as completely as though swallowed by the earth.

Gordon left $1000 on deposit with the Security Savings & Trust company and an insurance policy in the name of the World, being a member of Portland Camp No. 107, Henry E. McGinn as attorney for Mrs. Mary Gordon and guardian ad litem for her daughter, Mary Katherine Gordon, a girl now seven years of age, secured the $1000 from the bank last December at the expiration of seven years from the date Gordon disappeared, this being the time in which the law declares a man legally dead if he has not been heard from.

Mrs. Gordon and her daughter now live in Seattle. The head camp of the W. O. W. has declined to pay the policy without better proof of the death of Gordon or upon formal order of the court. Five hundred dollars of the policy is payable to Mrs. Gordon and $1500 to the girl.

While definite arrangements for the funeral have not been made, it will probably be held from the Cathedral Thursday morning.

HER BROTHER IS A DOCTOR

And Doctors know that a chronic case of kidney disease with dropsy has been a death sentence. We take the following interesting memo from a letter from Miss Laura Snow, No. 1815 Columbia ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

"Several years ago Mrs. S. H. Castle was our next door neighbor on Columbia avenue. She began talking to me about her brother, who is a doctor, and continued it there, purchasing from the Baker Drug company. She has had excellent results and has quite convinced her brother that the Compound will do what is claimed for it. Both she and her brother are active members of the Presbyterian church and are well known in their community."

It is a poor day that does not bring to us one or more notices of new discoveries from chronic kidney disease, heretofore incurable, that is carrying off nearly ninety thousand people a year in this country alone. There are many people less than five minutes in hospital at home in this city dying under the futile Digitalis, Basham's Mixture, Nitro Glycerine, etc., while others are recovering here, there and everywhere under Fulton's Renal Compound.

It is wonderful that relatives will be content to have their loved ones held to a treatment under which death is known to be certain, when others are making recoveries by changing to a treatment that is showing an encouraging percentage of recoveries. "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn."

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.
