PACKY DOES SOME TALL OLD TALKING

Says Wolgast Wont Take Any Chances With Lightweight Title.

New York, Sept. 21--Packy McFarland, the stockyard champion, went into training today at Westchester for his fight with Dick Hyland.

"I'll whip Wolgast within 15 rounds if he'll let me come in at 135 pounds," said Packy.

"Wolgast says he'll fight me if I make 133 three hours before the fight. He'd fight me if I saved off a leg, too, I guess.

"Wolgast may be a champion, but it's a poor champion who goes around fighting easy marks and making impossible terms with men who are dangerous."

Chicago, Sept. 21--"Champion Ad Wolgast will go after some of the easier marks around Chicago before he takes on any of the real lightweights," said Manager Tom Jones today.

PLAYERS SEE COIN SLIP FROM DIGITS

Portland Fans Will Not See Northwestern Champs in Game Here.

Although the Portland players and Manager Walter McCredie are anxious to play an exhibition game with Spokane next Monday afternoon...

Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed by the Portland players with the directors' attitude.

The directors figured that it would place Portland at a disadvantage in view of the Oakland series next week.

Manager McCredie says he is ready to go ahead with the game, but the president of the club, Judge W. W. McCredie, thinks that it would be better not to offer an affront to the directors.

V. GREGG'S GREAT TWIRLING GLEANS

Ryan and Olson Slam Pill on Nose and Beavers Register Once Again.

When a combination works like Van Gregg, Buddy Ryan and Ivor Olson did yesterday, it is well nigh unbeatable.

Happy Hogan trotted out his young southpaw, Raleigh, and the big league castoff was effective except in the two innings when the Beavers bunched hits.

Despite the lowering skies a good sized crowd was out to witness the inaugural game of the closing month of baseball for Portland fans.

Both of Portland's scores, strange to relate, were made in the same fashion.

Gregg and Murray were again of the great majesty in the eighth, when Ryan slammed out a pretty triple to the right center field fence.

In the ninth inning Rapps acted on the receiving end of three tosses from Casey, Olson and Gregg, and Ryan smiled in, while the peppery peripatetic went to second.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Ross' hit was a full-fledged Texas leaguer that dropped just back of Olson and a trifle too short for Ryan.

Ryan in the sixth and Rapps in the seventh had Raleigh doing an Apache when they shot the ball through the pitcher's box.

Olson turned some pretty classy fielding tricks. He fingered one from Brown's bat in the eighth that had whistlers.

Casey crushed into a serious situation in the seventh. Gregg had walked two when Casey hit between pitcher and first.

Both backstops had their work out for them. Brown got five assists and three putouts. He threw four men out at first on dumps in front of the plate.

Buddy Ryan had a little misfortune in the sixth. Buddy singled, was sacrificed to second by Olson, but stumbled when he overturned third on Krueger's grounder to Lindsay.

Johnson was taken fairly off his guard and after a wordy spat, the two agreed to meet today and shook hands on it.
