

LA FOLLETTE AIDS CANDIDATE REED

Wisconsin Senator Says He Is Real Progressive; Should Be Sent to Congress.

Judging from letters received at the headquarters of C. J. Reed, insurgent Republican candidate for congress for the second congressional district, indications are that the insurgent movement will sweep Oregon. Mr. Reed, while he has not made a speaking campaign, has not been in spite of the claims of the candidate who claims every county in the district, he is not alarmed over the outcome next Saturday.

One of the important factors in the Reed campaign has been the aid given by Senator La Follette. Senator La Follette has endorsed the candidacy of Mr. Reed both in a personal telegram and in an editorial which appeared in La Follette's Weekly Magazine of September 11. Francis J. Henry, with Congressmen Ellis, in spite of his consistent record of "system service," Ellis is seeking renomination. Opposing him is Charles J. Reed of Portland. Mr. Reed is a genuine progressive. His honesty and his faithfulness to principle have been well known. He was Francis J. Henry's chief assistant in prosecuting land frauds in Oregon. He was appointed to this position by President Roosevelt over the bitter objection of Senator Fulton and Oregon's congressmen. He made good. If the voters of the second congressional district want to give themselves true and able representation in congress, they will nominate Reed. He will make good in the same way at Washington. And the rest of the country, as well as Oregon, need men in congress, now more than ever before, who will truly represent their fellow citizens. Give us Reed."

WASHINGTON COUNTY IS STRONG ANTI-ASSEMBLY

"Laurel, in Washington county, and the country surrounding it, is overwhelmingly anti-assembly and in favor of Statement No. 1," said E. Wennstrom, a farmer and sawmill man who has lived in the Chehalis mountain district for many years, and owns one of the large farms there. Mr. Wennstrom was in Portland yesterday on business and incidentally took a peep into the political situation. "We may be farmers," he continued in a vein of sarcasm, "but we are firmly opposed to the assembly idea, and stand unanimously for Statement No. 1. And we have our reasons, and would be able to give them, should anyone care to know. "We have a pretty fair knowledge of Washington county's political history, and the methods of the old assembly regime, and we are not going to return to the deplorable system if we can help it."

"STALKING HORSE"

(Continued From Page One.) enter the field, for the purpose of scattering anti-assembly votes. It is this charge, that the grand jury will be asked by Deputy District Attorney Fitzgibbon to investigate. In addition it is also charged that there are one or perhaps two other "stalking horse" candidates in the anti-assembly ranks. These charges will also be examined into by the grand jury.

PRESSED HARD

Coffee's Weight on Old Age.

When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

A superintendent of public schools in a southern state says: "My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker, and had been troubled with her heart for a number of years and complained of that weak all over feeling and sick stomach."

"Some time ago, I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and took dinner with one of the merchants in the place. I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavor of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum. I was so pleased with it that, after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry home with me, and had my wife prepare some for the next meal; the whole family liked it so well that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely."

"I had really been at times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to the coffee, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach; that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us."

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but in a more marked degree in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

NOT EASY TO PICK PRETTIEST BABIES

Judges at Food Show Do Some Thinking Before Awarding Prizes.

The judges had a strenuous time yesterday afternoon choosing the winners out of the 250 beautiful babies at the food show. After much discussion, the prizes were awarded to the following: First, for beauty, Thelma Robinson; second, for beauty, Herbert Crampton; third, for beauty, Lorene Hill. First, for weight, Leonard Leach; second, for weight, Elliott Levin; third, for weight, Anita Paulson.

The baby shows have been a pleasing feature of the Food Show. Manager Tremp has been requested to give another chance to the Chinese for their babies. This show will be held Saturday.

Last night's attendance was the largest of the season, showing the interest taken in the good program offered this week.

Miss Katherine Dinamore's singing has touched a popular chord. Miss Szym, in her excellent act, receives much applause. Lee Hop, the Chinese Caruso, has made a name for himself, saying he devoted to tag contests, are greatly enjoyed by the women.

Tonight is Christian Endeavor and Epworth League night. The program of last evening will be repeated. Thursday night will be Groceries, Manufactures and Dress night. Friday afternoon another baby show will be given.

TWENTY NEW CARS TO HELP EAST SIDE

Twenty of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company's new broad-gauge pay as you enter cars are en route to the factory in St. Louis and are expected to arrive soon. President B. S. Josselyn stated today that these cars will be placed in service on the Mount Scott line until the Waverly-Woodstock line has been made broad-gauge, when they will go on that line. Their places on the Mount Scott line will be taken by cars from the Oregon City line on which the company has decided to run two-car multiple motor trains.

This change will mean improved service on all the lines mentioned. The new cars are much larger than those now in use on the Waverly-Woodstock line and the Oregon City cars are larger than those now operated on the Mount Scott line. The multiple unit motor trains will make better time and have greater capacity than the cars now in the interurban service.

Six of these cars are nearly completed in the company's car shop in this city.

WOMAN PEEKS THROUGH HOLE AND GETS EVIDENCE

"That man looked as though he lived on rats, and mighty poor ones at that. I've always heard that some Chinamen eat rats. Many of them look skinny and starved." This was the way May Spencer, a private detective, described the appearance of C. J. Hoolbrook yesterday, in testifying in the divorce suit of William J. Huston in the circuit court.

Hoolbrook is mixed up in the marital troubles of the Huston family, being the star boarder in the home before it was broken up last May. The private detective said she boarded at the Huston home one week to get evidence, she added that she accomplished her purpose by peeping through an opening in the floor of her room.

The detective said she saw Mrs. Huston give one of the children a bath in front of Hoolbrook, and that Hoolbrook later took a bath in Mrs. Huston's presence. She also said Mrs. Huston went into Hoolbrook's room. When the detective gave the signal the officers broke into the room. Mrs. Huston fled from the room leaving her slippers, and declaring her dream had come true. This dream, testified the witness, was that Mrs. Huston had dreamed that something awful would happen. The detective further testified that Mrs. Huston had told her a fortune teller had related that some day she would marry another man and they would travel in Europe.

Huston is 47 years old and is a bridge builder. His wife is 38 years old, and Hoolbrook is 26 years old, Huston has charged his wife with statutory offenses covering the past four years. She replies to his charge by saying he has been extremely cruel.
