

BAKER WILL HAVE COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Citizens Adopt New Charter by Vote of 393 to 213—Name of Municipality Changed to Baker.

Baker City, Or., Oct. 4.—A commission form of government will take effect in this city December 6, according to the new charter adopted at a special election yesterday by a vote of 393 to 213. Provisions were made that the mayor shall draw a salary of $2500 a year, with a bond of $25,000; two commissioners, with salaries of $2000 a year each, with bonds of $15,000. They to hire all employees and are directly responsible to the people for affairs in their departments.

CANDIDATE ADMITS HE GAVE BRIBES

But They Were to His Wife to Allow Him to Go to Meetings—He Lost.

Bribes paid to his wife so she would allow him to attend political meetings form part of the expense account of Robert S. Farrell, one of the defeated assembly candidates for the legislature. In his account filed with the county clerk under the corrupt practices act he enters the following:

"One box candy, bribing his wife while attending school meeting, $1. These tickets to wife while attending Army meeting, $1.50. One chewing gum and two ice cream sodas to wife for privilege of attending meetings, 25 cents."

Farrell's total expenses were $67.11, chiefly spent for advertising. J. E. Wetherbee, another assembly candidate for the legislature, spent $25 and contributed $25 to the campaign fund. W. I. Cottel, who was elected on the anti-assembly ticket, paid out $39, and it cost Edwin G. Amme $18.50 to win on the same ticket.

A HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE

To be really valuable must show good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether it is the chronic cough of elderly people or whether it is with children or grown persons, Foley's Honey and Tar is always safe, sure and effective. It cures coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and all affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Earl Fair, Waukesha, Wis., writes us recently: "For some years past I have been a great friend of your Foley's Honey and Tar cough remedy, and our family uses it for all coughs and colds. I had a most stubborn cough which gave me much distress and inconvenience and failed to respond to ordinary treatments. I finally resorted to the old reliable Foley's Honey and Tar and less than two 50 cent bottles effected a complete cure. I consider it the greatest and best Cough Remedy ever made and recommend it to all."

BAKERS HOLD FAST SESSION

Meeting at Los Angeles Promises to Be Most Notable in Association's History.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 4.—The American Bakers' association, whose membership embraces practically the entire financial fraternity of the United States, began its thirty-sixth annual convention in Los Angeles today. In point of attendance and in the prominence of the speakers and the importance of the subjects scheduled for discussion the meeting promises to be the most notable in the history of the association.

Men of finance from every section of the country and representing every branch of the banking business, from the village repository to the billion dollar banks, trust companies and savings institutions of New York, Chicago, Boston and other great centers, filled the Auditorium theatre when the convention was formally called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by President Lewis E. Pierson of New York. An invocation by Rev. Robert J. Burdette was followed by cordial greetings from Governor Gillett, Mayor Alexander and W. H. Holliday, president of the Los Angeles Clearing House association. The response to the address of welcome was made by George H. Russell of Detroit.

When the exchange of greetings was concluded the convention listened to the annual address of President Pierson, who touched upon numerous questions of interest and importance to the financial world. The president's address was followed by the annual reports of the several officers and standing committees, including those of Secretary Fred E. Francis of New York, Treasurer P. C. Kaufman of Tacoma and William L. Livingston of Detroit, chairman of the executive council. At the afternoon session the discussion of practical banking questions was begun. Tomorrow the general sessions will hold their annual meetings, concluding every Thursday, and on Friday the association proper will resume and conclude its sessions.

Mayor Alexander's Address.

George Alexander, mayor of Los Angeles, said in part:

"I extend to you all a most cordial welcome to Los Angeles. We want you to see our city, to observe our business institutions, to study our growth and prosperity and the opportunities for investment here. With a population of 100,000 in 1900, we have grown to over 300,000 in 1910. We want to convince you that our business men are active, substantial and prosperous; that you can find no better place to live, to work or to invest your surplus than in Los Angeles."

"Banks are quasi public institutions. They are the trustees to whom is confided the community's cash. If the banks are prosperous, the banks will prosper; if the community is going down hill the banks must go with it. For this reason bankers should be, and generally are, leaders in all great public enterprises.

"Public enterprises require capital. Sometimes the very future of a city may depend upon the success of such an enterprise as is the case with Los Angeles and her Owens river aqueduct. Without water our growth must stop. Financial crises sometimes arise in these great undertakings. Then it is that the banker has the opportunity to display his good citizenship."

"One of the tendencies of recent times has been to give to the possession of money a value in the affairs of men. Money we must have, without it the ordinary transactions of life cannot be carried on; business would practically cease to exist. A tightening of the money market retards development and brings disaster.

"Money, however, is only one of the implements of society, made necessary by the diversity of occupations. It is but a medium of exchange which enables us to obtain a share of that which is created by the genius and efforts of other men. Money is the means by which we carry forward great and laudable projects, not the end for which such projects are carried forward.

"Above all other things we should value character and good citizenship. Nothing is greater in life than to win and hold the esteem and confidence of one's fellow citizens. Such confidence, to be permanent, must be built upon character and good citizenship."

A rehearing was denied by the court this morning in the case of John Shaw, respondent, vs. F. N. Proffit and Joe Carter, appellants, from the circuit court for Union county, J. W. Knowles judge, in an opinion written by Associate Justice Eakin, Justice King dissenting.

Eighteen applicants appeared to take the October examinations for admission to the bar before the supreme court today. One of the applicants is a woman, Violet A. Clements. The others are Olaf Anderson, Gustav A. Buhrow, William W. Wynkoop, E. W. Graham, Frances H. Kemp, G. W. Gearhart, Charles H. Homer, Hugh McCredie Jr., W. A. Terrell, George E. Guthrie, Herman F. Loeding, Ward H. Coble, Floyd Bilyeu, Walter E. Critchlow, Lester D. Butler, J. O. Stemmer and E. Ligstedt.

CALIFORNIA SENATE WILL APPROPRIATE $10,000 AS REWARD

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 4.—The state senate today took up the resolution adopted by the assembly yesterday, extending condolence to General H. G. Oils of the Los Angeles Times and to the families of those killed and injured in the Los Angeles earthquake. A reward of $10,000 as a reward for the apprehension of any one proved guilty of the outrage.

REORGANIZED D. P. COMPANY IS TO GO AHEAD WITH WORK

Following Victory in Courts Creditors Pool Holdings and Concern Will Continue Contract of Reclaiming Land.

Reorganization of the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company, which holds state contracts to reclaim 214,000 acres of arid land in Crook county, was accomplished this morning. In pursuance of the order of the United States court made yesterday, and in accordance with the plan of reorganization, the first mortgage bond holders foreclosed, and practically 97 per cent of the company's creditors pooled their holdings and transferred them into the rejuvenated concern's treasury in exchange for second mortgage bonds. Provision was made for the conveying of a first mortgage to allow new capital to be used to extend the irrigation project.

By means of the plan put into effect today the irrigation company is taken out of the hands of the receiver and it will go ahead to fulfill its contracts with the state, which were jeopardized by litigation that for nearly a year has tangled up the affairs of the concern. Reorganization was effected by L. N. Farnham, J. G. White Jr., L. G. Addison, attorney for and member of the committee of first mortgage bondholders, that first brought suit to foreclose, and Jesse Stearns, counsel for the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company, and for the Oregon lienholders.

"Prospects for the straightening up of the affairs of the company are now excellent," said Mr. Stearns. "New capital has shown a disposition to take up the new first-mortgage bonds, and we believe we can enlist sufficient money—about $2,000,000—to complete the project."

In March 1910, the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company, which planned the most extensive irrigating project in Oregon and one of the largest private irrigating projects in the country, went into the hands of a receiver, Charles M. Redfield, who was also appointed special commissioner to conduct the sale of the property. The receiver was appointed upon application of Frank R. Shinn and Louis G. Addison, representing the holders of first-mortgage bonds in the company. In July a plan of reorganization was settled upon, the litigating interests entered into a compromise and an amendment was filed so as to make reorganization possible.

The plan of reorganization contemplated foreclosure and sale of all property, thereby allowing it to revert to original organizers and creditors on an equal basis. At the first meeting of bondholders and lienholders it was arranged that they should surrender all claims without priority and turn the assets of the company into a common fund to be used for the completion of the project with the aid of enlisted money. These bondholders and lienholders represented about 97 per cent of the debt against the company. Banks that had made loans and held bonds agreed to accept this proposition as the basis. At the first meeting of claims against the concern. This plan of reorganization left all assets available, and a final agreement was reached at a meeting held in New York last July.

R. S. Howard Jr.'s Suit.

Hoping to defeat the plans of the reorganization committee, the receiver and A. M. Drake, who alleged he held $1500 first mortgage bonds, intervened, pleading that the decree of foreclosure be set aside and the original bill of complaint be retained. Judge R. S. Bean yesterday ruled against the intervenors, vacated their stay of execution, and following out the ruling of the original decree, the reorganization committee foreclosed and took over the old company by exchanging first mortgage bonds and liens for second mortgage bonds.

Something more than $600,000 in second mortgage bonds are held by the second mortgage bondholders under the new arrangement. Sixty thousand acres of the project have been reclaimed and about 60,000 acres sold, the company holding as an asset, about $250,000 in settlers' notes on liens.

Under the present plan about $2,000,000 will be procured on a first mortgage bond issue, and the money, with what is already represented in assets, will be used to complete the project. By means of the reorganization the affairs of the company have been taken out of the courts completely.

Mr. Stearns has invited all bondholders and lienholders who did not participate in the reorganization, to take second mortgage bonds for claims against the old company.

PROMINENT MAN KILLS HIMSELF

George Abbot, Well Known Wool Buyer of Pendleton, Takes Poison.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., Oct. 4.—George Abbot, one of the best known woolbuyers in the northwest, who has made Pendleton his headquarters during a great part of the last several years, committed suicide in his room at the Hotel Pendleton sometime Sunday night. His body was found yesterday afternoon by Clerk Moller, who started an investigation upon the failure of Abbot to appear. A small box by the side of the bed told that the dead man had chosen the poison route. The box was not labeled and the contents had all been taken so that the nature of the poison was not learned. A postmortem examination was not deemed necessary.

Letters addressed to his wife and each of his two daughters were found stamped and sealed, with one for W. A. Brown, proprietor of the hotel was also found. The latter gave instructions as to where his accounts should be sent for collection and requested no greater newspaper notoriety than possible be given the case.

Abbot's married life had not been altogether satisfactory as he had not lived with his wife for several years. She, with one of the daughters, resides in Portland, Maine, while the other daughter is in England. Abbot had always been considered, in this city, as a man of means but his death reveals the opposite. It is believed financial reverse was the cause of the suicide. Governor Folsom held inquest and a verdict was returned to the effect that death was due to poison, self administered.

HAS MINING STOCK; CAN'T FIND MINE

R. T. Brennan, World's Greatest Clairvoyant, Induces Man to Invest.

William Tesor has discovered that clairvoyance and mining schemes do not mix well. In a complaint filed in the circuit court he declares he was deceived by Robert T. Brennan, also known as "Niblo," Brennan pretending to be the "world's greatest" as a clairvoyant and persuading him to invest his money in worthless mining stock.

Tesor says Brennan, he bought $2000 worth of mining stock, which he discovered by mediumistic means in Covoltz county, Wash. He says he was told the mine was a wonder, as two tunnels had been driven, samples showing $150 to the ton secured, one averaging $70 had been taken out, a ledge 30 feet wide in sight had been traced 1500 feet, and surveys run for a branch railroad.

Confiding in Brennan's powers as a medium and master of psychic phenomena, says Tesor, he bought 20 shares of stock at 25 cents on the dollar, the promoters being willing to let him in on the ground floor. He says he had paid $140 on account when he learned he had been defrauded. He wants his contract rescinded and his money refunded.

The defendants in the suit besides Brennan are Dana A. Tutts, George J. Furekhardt and the Tottle River Mining & Milling Co., the individuals named being directors and officers of the company.

Colfax Gazette Changes Hands.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Colfax, Wash., Oct. 4.—On October 1 the Colfax Gazette, owned and edited by Ivan Chase, passed into the hands of Bramwell Bros. The first issue under the new management comes out this week, and from now on the job printing plant, also owned by Bramwell Bros., will be consolidated with the newspaper. Mr. Chase went to work in the Gazette office as a boy in 1876 and has worked there intermittently since, obtaining part ownership and later ownership and editorship. He is selling out now for the third time, this time to go onto a ranch.

COLORED MAN IS BURNED AT STAKE

Alleged Assaulter of Woman Is Taken From Jail by Mob; Jeers Meet Screams.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 4.—Rich Withers, a negro, was dragged from the jail at Andalusia, near here, today by a mob of 400 persons and burned to death at the stake. The negro was suspected of having assaulted Mrs. Hiram Stuckey of Andalusia.

Withers pleaded with his captors when taken from jail, begging them to spare his life. The negro was kicked and beaten as he was being dragged to the public square, where he was chained to a post. Papers, excelsior, kindling and logs were then heaped around him and the pile lighted. While the negro writhed his last the crowd jeered, hooted and cheered.

The mob gathered when it learned that Mrs. Stuckey had been seriously injured. They demanded the negro from his jailers, who refused to give up their prisoner. Later, however, the jailers surrendered the negro when they learned that relatives of the woman were preparing to head a mob to storm the jail.

WANTS $16,104 FOR LAND WASHED AWAY

J. F. Cartwright, a farmer of Linn county, wants the Southern Pacific to pay him $16,104 for having switched the Willamette river onto his land, thereby cutting it into two pieces and making a portion of it the right of way for the new channel. He filed suit in the United States court yesterday afternoon, having transferred the contention from the Linn county circuit court to the United States court here.

In his complaint Cartwright says he is the owner of about 400 acres of land in Linn county and that it is easily worth $300-an-acre. In 1905 the Southern Pacific built a bridge across the river close to his land, he says, and also constructed three wing dams, the purpose being to change the channel of the river so that it would run under a certain portion of the bridge.

The purpose of the company was successful, Cartwright says, so successful that the new channel ran through his land, cutting it in two, submerging part, washing more into the stream, covering other portions with driftwood and gravel and otherwise damaging the farm.

In his complaint Cartwright itemizes the damages and then strikes a total, which reaches the figure of $16,104. He also asks for costs of the action.

MACHINE GUN TO BE USED TO DUST MAN FROM HOME

Army of Deputy Sheriffs, Unable to Arrest Homesteader, Would Shatter Cabin With Cannon.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Winter, Wis., Oct. 4.—Armed deputies today surrounded the cabin of John Deitz and demanded his surrender. Unless he comes out the officers have determined to fire volley after volley at the cabin, regardless of the fact that the wife and three children of Deitz are within. The officers are planning to bring up a machine gun to shatter the little cabin. Deitz, the deputies say, is an outlaw.

The cabin is situated near Cameron Dam, and the determination of the authorities to storm it and capture Deitz followed his boast that he would go to Winter and kill every man who took part in an ambush which resulted in the fatal wounding of Myra Deitz, 23, and the wounding and capture of one of her brothers. Another brother escaped. Myra Deitz is dying today in the Ashland hospital.

Corporation Claims Home.

Deitz has had trouble with a lumber company. The company claimed the homestead on which Deitz lives. He refused to move and said he would resist any attempt to force him to vacate.

The lumber company sought the aid of the law and the deputies were sent to his cabin. One after another, deputies went to Deitz's cabin, talked to him and came away again. None of them had the courage to serve the warrant. Then it was decided to use strategy and an ambush was planned which resulted in the capture of one of Deitz's sons and the fatal wounding of his daughter. Deitz swore vengeance.

Would Shatter Cottage.

When it was learned that he had threatened to go to Winter and kill the men who had taken part in the wounding of his daughter, the authorities decided to act first. Deputies were sworn

WITH BROKEN ANKLE MAN CRAWLS MILE

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Oct. 4.—A man giving his name as Charles Blanchard, and who said he came from Springfield, was picked up by the police early yesterday morning near the courthouse, with a severely wrenched back, a broken ankle and soaked to the skin by the heavy rains of the night, who said he had fallen from a bridge on the Southern Pacific railroad and had crawled from the bridge nearly a mile to the city through the rain, with the same back and broken ankle. He was taken at once to the Salem hospital, where it is expected he will recover from his injuries and the exposure and exhaustion.

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 3 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which aids and a cough is broken.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in galsinol and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula. This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada, that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled.

Some of the best-known Portland druggists, such as Laue-Davis Drug Co. (distributors) and others, think so well of the above recipe that they guarantee it to give satisfaction or refund the purchase price.
