Case Under Advisement; Attorney Grills Dairy Commissioner Bailey.

Judge Cleland has taken under advisement the application for an order to enjoin enforcement of the pure milk ordinance. The arguments were completed yesterday. The plaintiff is the Albina Creamery company.

The chief reliance of Shively & Vesicle, attorneys for the plaintiff, was an affidavit furnished by J. W. Bailey, dairy and food commissioner. Bailey stated that he had appointed city inspectors as deputies of his office under pressure and against his best judgment.

Deputy City Attorney Tomlinson made Bailey's act the chief feature of his rebuttal argument. He asked that Judge Cleland take the commissioner's assertions provisionally. He declared Bailey ignorant, incompetent and uneducated.

Tomlinson declared his belief that the lives of the babies in Portland were of more value than consumptive cows.

MANNING ISSUES STATEMENT OF HIS POLITICAL BELIEF

Democratic Candidate for Congress to Begin Active Campaign Monday for Election; Comprehensive Platform.

Mr. Manning has announced the platform upon which he will seek the endorsement of the voters. He declares for insurgency and supports the progressive legislation of Oregon all along the line. His statement of principles is as follows:

"I believe in the Oregon system, the initiative and referendum, direct primary law, including Statement No. 1, the recall, and all laws tending to keep the government as near the people as possible.

"I favor an open Columbia river from its mouth to the Canadian line; a tariff sufficient to defray the expenses of the government economically administered, the total abolition of all tariff on trust-made goods, and particularly on those which are sold abroad cheaper than at home.

"I favor the La Follette plan of physical valuation of railroads and other public service corporations, an amendment to the act to regulate commerce forbidding the acquisition of control by railroads, directly or indirectly, of competing water lines; the enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce commission so as to protect fully the interests of the public while doing no injustice to the carriers.

"I favor conservation of natural resources defined as developing, using, protecting and perpetuating them mainly for the benefit of the people, and not mainly for the profit of the few. I believe the test of sincerity in these principles lies in actual constructive efforts to get things done, and that there is equal opportunity for this by people
