

NEW POLICE CHIEF OF SAN FRANCISCO JAILS SULLIVAN

Notorious Pickpocket Who Worked With Portland Gang Goes to Jail; Clean Sweep Is Promised.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—Joe (Kid) Sullivan, king of the pickpockets, was arrested last night by Detective P. G. ...

New Chief's Order. The order of the chief of police turned over to Wall was sweeping in character, calling upon him and his men to clear the town of all bunco men and pickpockets.

Sullivan apparently has been immune from arrest for a long time, he did not take the precaution of going over to Alameda or some other secluded spot until the agitation for tightening the lid had passed over.

For a long time Sullivan has made his headquarters at a saloon on Eddy street, almost opposite the hall of justice, and it was while he was walking up Eddy street from Powell and Market towards the hall that Detective Gibson tapped him on the shoulder and took him over to the bastille on Anna lane.

Sullivan bears the reputation of being one of the cleverest light-fingered men in the country. In recent years, however, he has gained notoriety by his leadership of lesser lights among the pickpockets.

During the regime of the chief of police Dignan there were many stories printed of his power in the department. He was often seen around police headquarters at Bush and Fillmore, and his open association on the streets and in public places like the hall of justice.

Dignan has been dierated and is likely to lose his job as sergeant.

SUPREME COURT ENJOINS DELIVERY OF BRIDGE BONDS

(Continued From Page One.) attorney and mayor are inclined to believe that Justice Moore in granting it exercised a jurisdiction which it was not known he had.

The city will make a vigorous fight against confirming the order. City Attorney Grant said today he would go at once to Salem to move before the supreme court that the restraining order be nullified on the ground that it had been irregularly obtained.

Point for Obstructionists. The order issued by Justice Eakin seems to give the obstructionists a point in their fight against the city's building of the Broadway bridge. The city has so far been completely successful in repulsing every attack of the contestants.

Kiernan, a real estate dealer with property interests in the vicinity of the new railroad bridge, had Ralph R. Duniway, an attorney well known as an obstructionist, file suit contesting the liability of the Broadway bridge bonds.

Apparently swayed by these and other representations, buyers who would have taken up these bonds failed to do so the first two times they were offered.

Eastern Bidders Buy. The bids when opened were from three eastern buyers, one of which represented by Ladd & Tilton, offered $8.98 and secured the issue.

Kiernan and Duniway have promised that they will fight the suit through to the supreme court of the United States if necessary.

California handles canned goods at 50 cents per 100 pounds. The transcontinental railroad rates double this amount, or $1 per 100 pounds. The reason for the fight of the transcontinental railroad systems against the independent line through their own systems of water lines is thereby made apparent.

WANT HUSBANDS TO WEAR RINGS TO INDICATE STATUS

Denver W. C. T. U. Believes the Stronger Sex Should Let the World Know State of Affairs Matrimonial.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Denver, Colo., Oct. 8.—The members of the W. C. T. U. of this city have started a crusade to compel a married man to wear a wedding ring as does his wife, and many of the prominent men and women of Denver have expressed themselves in speeches and through the newspapers on the subject.

There Was a Reason. "You know the wearing of wedding rings by married women has gone through a process of evolution. It originated in the ancient harsh days in Rome when the man was the sole head of the household and his wife and children were his slaves and chattels.

Do I think married men should wear wedding rings? repeated Rabbi William S. Friedman. "This looks rather as if I do," he said, holding up his left hand with a smile, exhibiting a neat golden band on the third finger, after the most approved fashion. "You see, I wear one myself. I am just as glad and proud to be the husband of Mrs. Friedman as she could possibly be to occupy the position of my wife. I cannot understand why a married man should hesitate to let the world know that he belongs in its most honorable class."

AUCTIONEER SAYS HE PAID "GRAFT" TO GET LICENSE

(Continued From Page One.) money and I wanted to conduct an auction and applied for a license. Cranwell came to me and introduced himself and said not to worry about my license as he felt sure he would get one and that I would receive one at the same time.

Couldn't Get License. "We don't want any insinuations here," Councilman Driscoll said to me. "I was turned down, but Cranwell got his license. He pushed me and I decided to go to Cranwell at his Sixth street place and learn what I could about the matter. I asked him how it was that I who had been doing business in Portland for ten years could not get a license while he was able to obtain one three months after he arrived in the city.

Offer Write to Constable. "The whole story has not been told. I know of men who have paid $50 and $60 for watches worth about $10 and then deliberately made drunk so that they could be placed on a train and sent out of town before they could realize they were duped and go to the authorities."

Constable Wagner declares that the attorney who said he came from Missouri, visited him at his office, drew him into the hallway and offered him $100. "I told him $1000 wouldn't keep me off the trail of Mazourosky," said Wagner.

That the council license committee, stirred to an investigation by the revelations made concerning the fake auctions, may take some action is indicated in a letter sent to Chief of Police Cox by Councilman Ellis, a member of the committee.

Chief Cox has placed the letter on the bulletin board to be read to all members of the form. Patrolman Humphries will be one of the witnesses against Cranwell. Two months ago he arrested a man in the auction place who was convicted of being a "snapper," and sent to the rockpile for 30 days.

GOLD SETTLED IN KIDNEY PILLS

Mr. Wm. Fisher, 818 Pearl St., Plymouth, Ind., tells of the relief he found in Foley's Kidney Pills. "For several years I was troubled with my kidneys and every time I caught a cold the trouble would get worse. I had used much so-called kidney medicine but failed to get relief. About three months ago I tried Foley's Kidney Pills and they promptly and effectively removed all trouble and I have not suffered any since. Before I took Foley's Kidney Pills I was subject to backache and pains in the region of the kidneys and endured much annoyance from irregularities and suffered a scalding sensation. All this has disappeared since I have taken Foley's Kidney Pills, which I shall always recommend."
