

SEA OTTER COMES BACK AFTER BEING
AWAY ONE YEARSea-Going Cruiser Launch,
Captain Voeth, Plowed British Columbia Water Without Single Serious Mishap.

After an absence of over a year, the sea-going cruiser launch, Sea Otter, owned by Roderick T. Macleay, returned last night, coming from Neah Bay, where she was storm bound for 14 days. Aboard the launch was Lloyd Johnson of Seattle, owner of the yawl rigged yacht Gwendolyn, winner of the second prize in a recent race from San Pedro to Honolulu. Mr. Macleay was not aboard the launch.

Captain R. E. Voeth, master of the craft, said this morning that during the little more than a year that she has been away, and during which time the Sea Otter cruised around the waters of British Columbia, there has not been five minutes' trouble with the launch or her machinery, which he considers a remarkable record in a motor craft. She was built last year by the Curtis company.

On the trip down from Neah Bay, the Sea Otter had some rough weather, but in spite of this she made the run in 15 hours, leaving the Puget sound port on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and arriving in Astoria Tuesday morning. While off Destruction Island she lost her tender by having a wave wash over her. While passing Tatoosh Island the Sea Otter stopped and picked up the two sons of the lighthouse keeper, who will go to school here this year.

MASUNDA COMING HERE

In spite of the persistent reports that the British steamer Masunda, 3198 tons net register, would go to Tacoma, to load wheat for the United Kingdom, a member of the firm of Kerr, Gifford & Co., here, who have her chartered, stated positively this morning that she would come here in about 10 days and would take on her cargo at this port. She is now en route from Honolulu, where she discharged coal from the Atlantic range, and she is six days out of the Hawaiian port today. The Masunda will carry about 250,000 bushels.

The only steamer for wheat carrying now in port is the British tramp Uganda, under charter to Balfour, Guthrie & Co. It is expected that she will finish her cargo of grain at the Oceanic dock today and that she will be ready to leave dawn tomorrow morning. She will carry about 220,000 bushels of wheat. The exporters say that the lack of a tug to get her away from the dock will be the only thing to hinder her from getting away as scheduled.

NEEDS NEW WATER TANKS

Authority is being asked by the light-house department for new water tanks for Umatilla Reef light vessel No. 57, which is now undergoing repairs at the Willamette Iron & Steel Works, but so far no bids have been called for on them. In the contract for the work to be done by the shipbuilders, it was stipulated that the tanks should be removed for cleaning and painting. When this was done it was found that they were so rusty in back that holes could be punched in them with ease and it was necessary that new ones should be put in their place. They have been in use for 14 years and are so placed that it is impossible to get at the back of them to give them the proper care while the vessel is on her station. It is said that she will be at the shipyards for all of a month.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

At the custom house yesterday afternoon, the steamer F. S. Loop, Captain Levinson cleared with $50,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco.

Laden with cement, asphalt and general merchandise, the steamer Casco, Captain Ahlin, will be due to arrive at Oak street dock this afternoon.

It was reported this morning that the schooner Irene, which has been lying at Astoria for several weeks, would get a charter for a cargo of lumber to California within a day or so. If the charter party is signed she will come to the Inman-Poulsen mills to load.

With the schooner Willie R. Hume, which is laden with $45,000 feet of lumber for Honolulu, in tow, the steamer Oklahama left down from Kalama at 10 o'clock last night. She is returning with the French bark Babin Cheyave, which will go to the steam dock until a berth is free at Columbia dock No. 1.

In ballast for this port, the steamer Bandon sailed at 8 o'clock last night. She will take out a cargo of lumber for Olson & Mahony. The Bandon has been plying between San Francisco and the Columbia river.

Having completed discharging her general cargo consigned to Parrott & Co., the French bark Babin Cheyave will shift from Columbia dock No. 1 to one of the grain docks at 2 o'clock this afternoon, where she will be lined for her wheat cargo to be dispatched by A. Berg. Her berth at Columbia will be taken by the French bark Hoche, which will discharge general freight consigned to Meyer, Wilson & Co.
