T. R. FEARS LODGE MAY LOSE TOGA; FLIES TO RESCUE

Some Danger From Republican Rival, but Much More From Democratic Party, Which May Carry Bay State.

Boston, Oct. 21.—Former President Roosevelt arrived in Boston today to deliver a campaign speech in behalf of his friend Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, whose term in the United States senate will come to an end next March and who is a candidate for reelection. Colonel Roosevelt, it is understood, is going to tell the Massachusetts voters how Senator Lodge stood by him in the trying times when he was striving to secure progressive legislation from a reluctant senate and how they could not hope to have an abler representative in the upper branch of the national legislature.

The fact that it has been deemed advisable to have the former president speak in his behalf is taken as an indication that Senator Lodge, for the first time in 17 years, feels that his hold on his senate seat is not past the breaking. The fact that the senator abandoned his annual vacation trip to Europe this summer and has been busy with his campaign since the middle of July is regarded as further evidence that he realizes the gravity of the situation.

Danger From Democratic Party.

Massachusetts has always been proud of Senator Lodge, whose career in many respects has been distinguished and worthy of the best traditions of the state. But the Republican leaders admit that if the senatorship were to be decided at this time by a direct vote of the people Mr. Lodge would likely be defeated. No one believes that Representative Butler Ames, who is the only announced candidate for the Lodge toga, has much of a chance to break into the senate. There is believed to be a chance, however, that Mr. Ames may have following enough in the legislature to prevent the caucus selection of Mr. Lodge. The greatest danger, however, to the senator, lies in the chance which admittedly exists that the Democrats may control the next legislature on joint ballot.

While the Republicans of Massachusetts have controlled the legislature for many years by a safe margin, there are many districts in the state in each of which the party majority at the last election for members of the legislature was less than 300 votes. The Democratic hope for supremacy is based on expected changes in those districts where the Republicans have control by very narrow margins. An overturn in one-half of the districts where the Republican majority always has been small would give the legislature to the Democrats and with it the power to name a senator to succeed Mr. Lodge.

The tariff is in part the cause of Republican troubles in Massachusetts, as it is in other states. It is to be assumed that Massachusetts is a protective tariff state and that the disaffection is directed against the method rather than the principle. Many Republicans are restive and there is a feeling in places that there have been few signs of progress to prove that the makers of the national platform were sincere in their promises.

The Republican leaders hope that the speech of Colonel Roosevelt will hold the insurgent Republicans in line and also assist in reclaiming the independent and mugwump vote and drawing it back into the Republican fold by an appeal to partisan sprit.

ROOSEVELT ALSO TO GO TO NEW HAMPSHIRE

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 21.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is expected in New Hampshire tomorrow to speak in behalf of Robert R. Bass, the Republican candidate for governor. Mr. Bass was nominated by the progressive wing of the Republican party and Colonel Roosevelt is keenly interested in his success.

The candidates for state office are hopeful that the visit of the former president will have the effect of healing the breach in the Republican ranks and thereby insure the success of the party at the polls next month. The split between the progressives and standpat elements of the Republican party, is probably more pronounced in New Hampshire than in any other section of New England. It began four years ago, when, after a heated campaign, Winston Churchill, the novelist, and a leader of the progressive faction, was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination by Charles M. Floyd, the machine candidate. Mr. Floyd failed of election by the people, and was made governor by the legislature. Two years ago the progressives were again defeated and their success this year has but tended to widen the breach between the two elements.

Because of the difference of opinion between the rival Republican factions the Democrats are much encouraged, and with a united party back of their candidate the leaders hope that they will be able to place New Hampshire in the Democratic column this year.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS TRY NEW SCHEME TO FIGHT BRIDGE

under which the Broadway bridge was authorized by the people are in violation of the state constitution and beyond the power of the people to adopt. He also alleges that the initiative and referendum are destructive of the sovereignty of the state, are in violation of the constitution of the United States, and, consequently, are void, and, consequently, any acts performed under them are also void. Or in other words, that the people had no right to authorize the building of the Broadway bridge by direct vote, and consequently the city has no right nor power to sell the $2,000,000 of bonds authorized by popular vote for the bridge's construction.

This morning's act of the obstructionists gives a sensational cast to their game. That, in the event of their defeat before the supreme court, they would find new cause for suing against the bridge's construction has been forecasted for some time.

Deputy City Attorney Benbow said recently that he would expect the obstructionists to begin a new suit as fast as a former was defeated, because of the fact that the courts are helpless to refuse to give hearing to any complaints no matter how worthless. It was also promised that the filing of any new suits by the obstructionists would be countered by a campaign to legally show the bad faith in which the suits were being brought by the obstructionists, so that an injunction could be obtained to prevent their doing further mischief to popular welfare.

It is expected that hearing of the appeal upon its merits before the supreme court at Salem will be concluded today or tomorrow. In behalf of the city, City Attorney Grant, Deputy Benbow, Judge Pipes, C. W. Fulton, Judge M. G. Munly and H. H. Riddell have been appearing. The points of argument have been the great need for the bridge, and the selfish nature of the opposition to it. A verdict favorable to the city is anticipated.

History of Fight.

The fight of the Kiernan-Duniway obstructionists against the Broadway bridge has been remarkable in many ways. The building of the bridge was authorized by popular vote in June, 1909. The obstructionists made no protest at the time. About a year later Frank Kiernan, by Ralph R. Duniway, filed a complaint alleging that the election had not been regularly held; that the initiative was unconstitutional, and everything else they could think of as reasons why the city should not be allowed to sell the Broadway bridge bonds.

The city demurred to the first bill of complaint. The demurrer was sustained by the circuit court. Duniway then filed an amended bill of complaint. Because the other judges were busy Judge Burnett came specially to hear the arguments. He ruled against the obstructionists and in favor of the city. The obstructionists appealed the case to the state supreme court.

Meanwhile the city set about advertising the first $250,000 issue of the Broadway bridge bonds for sale. Kiernan and Duniway advertised that the bonds had been contested and had better not be bought. It required three efforts, combined with campaigns for sale by popular subscription, to find a buyer, Ladd & Tilton bank and the National Shawmut bank of Boston. Duniway then went quietly before the supreme court and asked that a temporary order restraining the delivery of the bonds to the buyers until the appeal had been passed upon, be granted. The order was granted, but when argued yesterday was dissolved. The supreme court ordered at the same time that the case be heard at once on its merits. Dunlway, though demurring, was forced to consent.

ALL TESTIMONY IN DR. CRIPPEN CASE NOW BEFORE JURY

ited hotels with her. I was never away from home nights.

"After I told people I believed my wife was dead I went to Dieppe and stayed at a hotel five days. I firmly believed my wife went to Chicago to join Bruce Miller. He often sent presents and wrote loving letters, some of which were signed, 'Love and kisses to Brown Eyes—Bruce.'"

Crippen strenuously denied having given his wife poison, saying he bought hyocin to give his patients for nervousness.

He confirmed Tobin's story regarding his voyage on the steamer Montrose, on which he and Miss Leneve went to Canada. He added:

"I decided I had nothing to fear, and did not try to escape. I forgot to destroy the so-called 'suicide notes.'"

Crippen admitted that his wife had a scar on her body similar to that discovered on the body in the basement of the Crippen home. He denied, however, that he could identify the remains found in his house.

RICH GOLD STRIKE IS MADE IN LINN COUNTY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Oct. 21.—A gold discovery that would occasion the wildest kind of a mining stampede had it been made in Alaska or some region equally as remote, was reported today by George Oakley, who has been prospecting in the upper Santiam country this summer. Mr. Oakley exhibited a nugget the size of a small pigeon's egg which contains at least $20 of the yellow metal. This he says was taken from a single piece of quartz chipped from a ledge.

Mr. Oakley's find was made in Linn county, about 18 miles southeast of Gates. At one place the ledge comes to the surface, and he has uncovered it for quite a distance at a depth of three to six feet. Oakley is a practical miner and thinks he has a bonanza.

CHARLESTON HAS NOT DONE SO VERY WELL

Washington, Oct. 21. — Population figures were made public last night for the following cities:

Charleston, S. C., 58,833, an increase of 3026, or 5.4 over 55,807 in 1900.

Columbia, S. C., 26,319, an increase of 5211, or 24.7 per cent over 21,108 in 1900.

The figures for Spokane, Seattle and Boise, it is announced, will be given out within a week. It is stated at the census bureau that there has been padding in these cities, but that it has not amounted to much and that the errors have been eliminated by checking.

An electrical apparatus whereby a sound wave is sent to the bottom of relatively shallow waters and, upon being deflected back, is received by another instrument, has been invented for sounding.

WHAT IS ITCH DIRT?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for dandruff, and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt, and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day, and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Then you'll be bald—bald to stay—for not even the wonderful rejuvenating power of Parisian Sage can grow hair after the hair bulb or root is dead. Parisian Sage cures dandruff. Woodward-Clarke & Co., the druggist, sells it, recommends it, and guarantees it; only 50 cents a large bottle and your money back if it fails to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching of the scalp. If you do not live near Woodard-Clarke & Co., who sell the Parisian Sage, the American makers, the Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., will send you a bottle for 50 cents, all charges prepaid. There is no hair restorer so good—accept no substitute. The girl with Auburn hair is on every bottle.

DR. A. A. MORRISON CORRECTS MISTAKE

Declares He Did Not Say Bible Not the Word of God in Recent Speech.

According to the Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity, whose reported statement to the effect that he did not consider the Bible to be the word of God, created a sensation here as well as in the meeting of the house of deputies of the Episcopal church at Cincinnati, there was a general misunderstanding of his remarks.

When Dr. Morrison heard of the commotion the publication of his address had aroused he made the following statement to the deputies:

"In justice to this convention and myself permit me to correct a serious and painful misunderstanding. In the course of a three minute address, when the matter of the preamble was under discussion, I was reported by the public press as having made the declaration that the Bible is not the word of God, and that the Scriptures are full of inaccuracies. As is well known to the members of this house, I made no such statements. My use of the term "inaccuracy" had reference to the historical data concerning the foundation of the church.

"If I had had more time to amplify my remarks there could not have been a misunderstanding. I wish to affirm my belief in the sixth article of religion in our prayer book concerning holy Scripture, do further believe the declaration in article 8 of the constitution, understanding by the use of the word of God a sacred and reverend title for the holy Scripture, containing all things necessary for salvation."

Only 40 Hear Bowerman.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Junction City, Or., Oct. 21.—Congressman Hawley, Jay Bowerman and Judge Bean were here yesterday and addressed a mixed audience of about 40 voters on the issues of the day from a Republican standpoint. The principal efforts of the candidates, Bean and Bowerman, were directed toward a tirade against Senator Bourne, and charged that West, the Democratic candidate for governor, was the tool of the senator.

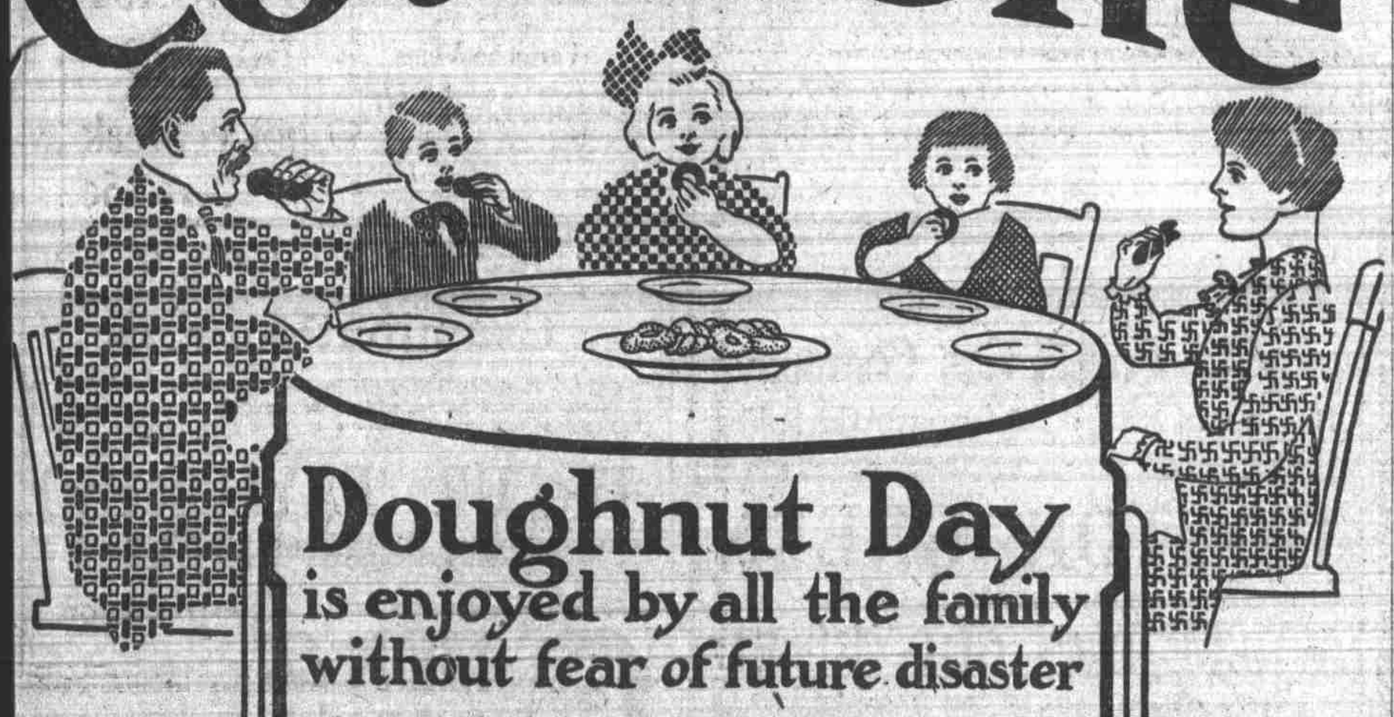
Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

Cottolene



Doughnut Day is enjoyed by all the family without fear of future disaster

There are two kinds of doughnuts—

There's the lard-laden doughnut that is heavy, soggy and lies like lead in the stomach—that's the old-fashioned kind. Steer clear of it; it's the lard that makes it indigestible, not the cook.

Then there's the crisp, flaky, richly browned doughnut, that almost melts in your mouth, yet without the suspicion of greasiness. This kind is made with Cottolene, a vegetable product that makes food that even a child can digest with ease.

You never knew real doughnut goodness until you try the kind made with Cottolene.

Cottolene is much purer and more wholesome than lard.

Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed

Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk

Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.
