The game was one of the best ever witnessed on the local gridiron. It was not until the last quarter that Michigan was able to score its touchdown and goal. Michigan was a 5 to 4 favorite when the teams lined up for the kickoff. The turnstile showed that 30,000 persons had passed through the gates.

GREEN TELLS WHY HE WAS DEFEATED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 19.—Attorney E. M. Green, late non-partisan candidate for judicial judge, in speaking of his defeat this morning, said that he was a good loser and blamed his defeat to the arrangement of the ballot, where he had practically no vote, and it is for the benefit of those that the irrigation system must be perfected. When it is done there will be no more hard times and the cost of living will decrease materially.

YALE'S MEN HOLD HARVARD MEN TO NOTHING, NOTHING

Pelton sent the ball sailing over the interlocked linemen, but the kick was not true and missed the goal posts. COUNTY TO RAISE TOLL FOR BURNSIDE BRIDGE

The Portland Railway, Light & Power company has asked the county to pay the toll for a larger toll for the use of the Burnside bridge. County Judge Cleaton said today that he intends to have a count made of the number of cars crossing the bridge each day, and compare this number with a similar count on the Morrison bridge. The street railway pays the county $750 per month for use of the Burnside bridge, this contract being entered into years ago, when traffic was much less. The company pays the city a certain toll per car for use of the Morrison bridge, and Judge Cleaton thinks the Burnside bridge rate should be adjusted so require pay for its use upon the same basis. This, it is thought, will considerably increase the revenue to the county, probably by $250 per month.

His father requested him to pass from one barge to another, but it is alleged the barges were not kept lighted. The son shifted about with the current, and young Bradley made a misstep, falling into the river on November 9.

A report that the finance committee of the school board has ready for recommendation an increase of 10 per cent for the salaries of all school teachers, was denied today by School Director J. V. Beach. "The committee has this matter under consideration," said Mr. Beach. "We are no nearer a decision than we were six months ago. We have not approved the increase among ourselves and have made no arrangements for submitting it to the board. Any other report is false."

FRANCO-AMERICAN RIOTING CONTINUES

(United Press Leased Wire.) Paris, Nov. 19.—Street fighting between American and French sailors continued today and the finding of the bodies of a bluejacket and a woman at Kerlanou gave rise to wild rumors. Several policemen were wounded in trying to quell the disturbance and the situation is considered so serious that the authorities of Brest are considering sending the naval commanders to cancel leave of absence. La Presse, a French publication, appeared on the streets this afternoon with an elaborate account of the death of Seaman Fitzsimmons, from the battleship Louisiana. The paper stated that Fitzsimmons died in a hospital at Cherbourg after having been stabbed. This is regarded as disproving the stories of drowning, given out by the French authorities. The police are investigating the charge that Fitzsimmons was killed by French sailors.

Secretary Wilson Says Humid as Well as Arid States Must Come to It.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 19.—Hundreds of "back to the soil" boomers were present when the show opened here today. Fruit and other products of the soil from all parts of the country were on display. An exhibit of more than a million apples was the feature of the exhibition. Elaborate plans for the entertainment and instruction of visitors and delegates have been made. Special days have been assigned to various western states. Among other attractions will be the giving away by lot of farms in different localities.

Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson delivered the opening address, taking "Irrigation" as his theme. "The day will come," he said, "when irrigation will be applied, as a matter of national necessity, to growing crops in the humid regions. The thing has been done in Europe for hundreds of years, and we must come to it out here sooner or later. We must begin at the source of our rivers and construct reservoirs so that the supply will be steady and not entirely dependent upon the caprice of the season. Unless we do so our rivers will not aid us much in periods of drouth. Some of our states have a 36-inch rainfall annually. Others have practically none, and it is for the benefit of those that the irrigation system must be perfected. When it is done there will be no more hard times and the cost of living will decrease materially."

The villain of the play is a worker in a large printing establishment and is filled with anarchistic notions of the division of property and the abolition of the state. For a shake hands with his employer he is discharged. Liquor has developed his passion and filled him with a desire for revenge. He finds his former employer at home with his little daughter and the workman raises his revolver to shoot, but is unable to because of an unwillingness to kill the girl also. While undecided he is discovered and given another chance, which he gladly accepts. Several other good films are on the program.
