

CALIFORNIA

VIA THE ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS

The above sketch describes in outline that famous highway, the "Road of a Thousand Wonders," and a few scenes along the way. But books with many pages are necessary to tell all that one desires to know about that interesting journey and the country through which it passes. They have been published by the Southern Pacific, and are free for the asking.

California is a semi-tropical country and always very attractive. But it is especially so during the Winter months to residents of other states, not only because of the charm of outdoor life, but because there is so much to see that interests, instructs and delights.

The Southern Pacific sells round-trip tickets from Portland to Los Angeles and return for $55.00 which allow stopovers at pleasure and six months for return.

Arrange for accommodations on "Shasta Limited." It will be one of the memorable pleasures of the trip. Consult the City Ticket Agent at Third and Washington streets, or address
