At Seventh Convention Attendance Expected to Surpass the 4000 of 1909; States Rights Disclaimer.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The seventh convention of the national rivers and harbors congress, which will be held in this city December 7, 8 and 9, will bring to the national capital the largest gathering of waterway enthusiasts ever ansembled in this country. President Taft, who will deliver the opening address, said in the course of a speech at Chicago that transportation was the question of the hour and that the only solution of the problem was recourse to the waterways of the United States.

Probably next in importance to the address of the president will be the speech of Judson Harmon of Ohio, who has for years been a close student of the question of improved waterways and at the vary meeting held in Cincinnati seven years ago when it was determined to reorganize the national rivers and harbors congress, Governor Harmon completely refuted the idea that the different states through which fiterstate waterways run should be called upon for a pre rata sum for their improvement, insisting that the infisdiction belonged entirely to the federal government, whose duty it was to improve such streams for the benefit of all the states through which they flow.

Other Emiment Specialists.

In addition to these distinguished citizens, others quite as well known in their several vocations will deliver addresses, including Clifton Sefton, chairman of conservation of the Canadian government: the Mexican ambassador, General W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers; Governor Horace White of New York; Representative Champ Clark of Missouri; Coionel William L. Sibert, member of the Panama canal commission, who will speak on "The Panama Canal as a Connection Link Between Our Canasts"; Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City, the chief promoter of the Missouri river steamboat line; F. W. Crandall, national charman of the railroad committee of the Travelers' Protective Association of America; Robert J. MacFarland of Brooklyn, who is one of the leadingspirits in the New York waterways association, and Mrs. Hoyle Tomkies of Louisland, president of the Wo

Chief of Engineers on Program. The appearance of the chief of engineers on the platform of the national rivers and harbors congress marks a precedent, as none of the preceding chiefs of engineers has ever addressed this great body of waterway advocates. Their particular objection to appearing was that, as they were intimately as-sociated with the recommendations for the improvement of the rivers, harbors and canals of the country and their reference to the same might be regarded as official in character, therefore greater importance might attach to their utterances than would otherwise be the case. General Bixby, however, who probably has a knowledge of the waterways of continental United States as wide as that of any officer of the corps, has accepted the invitation of President Joseph E. Ramsdell of the congress to address the convention, after consultation with the secretary of war.

Large Attendance Expected.

Earge Attendance Expected.

Four thousand delegates attended the convention held in this city last year. According to Secretary J. F. Ellison of Cincinnati, who has opened his head-quarters at the New Willard, this number will be greatly augmented at the forthcoming convention, his correspondence indicating increased interest in the

Condove, Alaska, Nov. 25.—Brany miners and settlers living in remote sections of the Bering river valley perished in the floods yesterday. Houses were swept away and there is no trace of their late occupants.

The disaster followed the escape of vast volume of water from a glacial ske in the Boring mountains.

Great loobergs came erashing down the lower slopes and were dimped into the Bering river. The river has risen more than 10 feet and the danger is

This is the second peculiar glacial outbreak in this part of Alaska in the last two years. Great damage was done two years ago when a similar lake broke from Miles glacier, in the Copper river valley, sweeping away several miles of newly laid track of the Copper River railroad.

ESTACADA SOFT-DRINK

Estacada, Or., Nov. 25.—A raid was made by Sheriff Beaty and his deputies made by Sheriff Besty and his deputies from Oregon City on the soft drink establishments at this place yesterday. The following persons were arrested and taken to Oregon City, where charges against them had been made before Justice of the Peace Sampson by H. P. White and C. E. Reynolds. It is said that keeping a saloon open on Sunday and gambling were the charges.

Those arrested were J. P. Altizer, J. M. Foster, C. L. Ferry and Floe Henderson. Altizer and Foster each have soft drink establishments. Ferry has a confectionery place and Floe has a confectionery place and Flo Henderson has a rooming house. The raid occasioned considerable excitemen

They all gave ball for a later appearance, Foster and Altizer each $700 Ferry $200, and Flos Henderson $50.
