

MORAL: NEVER INTRODUCE YOUR BEST FRIEND TO YOUR BEST GIRL---By "Bud" Fisher

MULTNOMAH IS WINNER BY FLUKY TOUCHDOWN

Playing like a lot of butter fingered school boys from start to finish, Oregon was defeated by Multnomah yesterday, 6 to 0, in what might be characterized as the poorest exhibition of football seen on a Thanksgiving day in Portland since the game was introduced.

Demoralized Varsity. Multnomah owes her victory to the great work of the backfield. Clarke, Wolf, Schmitt and Rhinehart. Clarke and Wolf, two of the greatest punters the west has ever turned out, simply demoralized the varsity secondary defense.

After that the varsity seemed to fall to pieces and tumbling was contagious. About the middle of the quarter Wolf intercepted a forward pass and tore off 20 yards before Taylor brought him to earth.

The ball was brought out to the 25 yard line, where Oregon put it in play. Taylor here began one of the prettiest runs of the afternoon. Wiedlund, Groat and Michael opened a path in the left side of the line and Taylor, twisting, squirming and dodging ran 30 yards before he was downed by Rhinehart.

For a greater part of the second quarter the ball was in Oregon's territory, once being rushed to the 10 yard line. Oregon went into the third quarter after a certain lecture by Coach Warner. It was largely a punting duel, with Wolf and Clarke putting it over Main, Taylor and Chandler. Oregon began gaining with the forward pass and alternating this with straight football worked the ball to Multnomah's four yard line.

Missed "Wag" Latourette. Oregon missed the services of "Wag" Latourette, the great little pivotal general. Chandler played a wacky game but his forward passing was weak and inaccurate. Latourette is the only Warner pupil who has the mastery of this intricate department of the new game, and his passing was sadly misused.

Multnomah kicked off to Oregon and Main made a pretty return off the ball for 20 yards before being downed. Oregon made an assault on the line and gained a slight yard, following which Taylor made some 20 yards in a play off tackle. With the ball on their own 50 yard line and things looking rosy, Oregon deployed for a forward pass.

Carlson broke through the line and was bearing down on Walker, who took Kellogg's long pass from center. He started to shift to the right with the other backs. There was nobody in position to receive the throw and Walker seemed to lose his head. Instead of trying to dodge Carlson he attempted a wild heave forward just as he was struck. The ball went wide and Ludlam, tearing in, struck it with his fist. The spheroid rolled in front of Ludlam, and after dribbling it for 10 yards he finally picked it up and, closely pursued by Michael, sped across the line. Schmitt failed to kick the goal and the score was 6 to 0.

Tumbling Contagious. After that the varsity seemed to fall to pieces and tumbling was contagious. About the middle of the quarter Wolf intercepted a forward pass and tore off 20 yards before Taylor brought him to earth.

The ball was brought out to the 25 yard line, where Oregon put it in play. Taylor here began one of the prettiest runs of the afternoon. Wiedlund, Groat and Michael opened a path in the left side of the line and Taylor, twisting, squirming and dodging ran 30 yards before he was downed by Rhinehart.

For a greater part of the second quarter the ball was in Oregon's territory, once being rushed to the 10 yard line. Oregon went into the third quarter after a certain lecture by Coach Warner. It was largely a punting duel, with Wolf and Clarke putting it over Main, Taylor and Chandler. Oregon began gaining with the forward pass and alternating this with straight football worked the ball to Multnomah's four yard line.

Missed "Wag" Latourette. Oregon missed the services of "Wag" Latourette, the great little pivotal general. Chandler played a wacky game but his forward passing was weak and inaccurate. Latourette is the only Warner pupil who has the mastery of this intricate department of the new game, and his passing was sadly misused.

Multnomah kicked off to Oregon and Main made a pretty return off the ball for 20 yards before being downed. Oregon made an assault on the line and gained a slight yard, following which Taylor made some 20 yards in a play off tackle. With the ball on their own 50 yard line and things looking rosy, Oregon deployed for a forward pass.

Carlson broke through the line and was bearing down on Walker, who took Kellogg's long pass from center. He started to shift to the right with the other backs. There was nobody in position to receive the throw and Walker seemed to lose his head. Instead of trying to dodge Carlson he attempted a wild heave forward just as he was struck. The ball went wide and Ludlam, tearing in, struck it with his fist. The spheroid rolled in front of Ludlam, and after dribbling it for 10 yards he finally picked it up and, closely pursued by Michael, sped across the line. Schmitt failed to kick the goal and the score was 6 to 0.

Tumbling Contagious. After that the varsity seemed to fall to pieces and tumbling was contagious. About the middle of the quarter Wolf intercepted a forward pass and tore off 20 yards before Taylor brought him to earth.

The ball was brought out to the 25 yard line, where Oregon put it in play. Taylor here began one of the prettiest runs of the afternoon. Wiedlund, Groat and Michael opened a path in the left side of the line and Taylor, twisting, squirming and dodging ran 30 yards before he was downed by Rhinehart.

For a greater part of the second quarter the ball was in Oregon's territory, once being rushed to the 10 yard line. Oregon went into the third quarter after a certain lecture by Coach Warner. It was largely a punting duel, with Wolf and Clarke putting it over Main, Taylor and Chandler. Oregon began gaining with the forward pass and alternating this with straight football worked the ball to Multnomah's four yard line.

Missed "Wag" Latourette. Oregon missed the services of "Wag" Latourette, the great little pivotal general. Chandler played a wacky game but his forward passing was weak and inaccurate. Latourette is the only Warner pupil who has the mastery of this intricate department of the new game, and his passing was sadly misused.

Multnomah kicked off to Oregon and Main made a pretty return off the ball for 20 yards before being downed. Oregon made an assault on the line and gained a slight yard, following which Taylor made some 20 yards in a play off tackle. With the ball on their own 50 yard line and things looking rosy, Oregon deployed for a forward pass.

Carlson broke through the line and was bearing down on Walker, who took Kellogg's long pass from center. He started to shift to the right with the other backs. There was nobody in position to receive the throw and Walker seemed to lose his head. Instead of trying to dodge Carlson he attempted a wild heave forward just as he was struck. The ball went wide and Ludlam, tearing in, struck it with his fist. The spheroid rolled in front of Ludlam, and after dribbling it for 10 yards he finally picked it up and, closely pursued by Michael, sped across the line. Schmitt failed to kick the goal and the score was 6 to 0.

Picture showing Oregon linemen protecting their punter from the onslaught of the Multnomah forwards.

WHITMAN LOSES AGGRESSIVE GAME

Pullman Farmers Put One Over on Missionaries at Walla Walla.

Whitman lost an aggressive game to Pullman Farmers at Walla Walla. The game was a close one, with Whitman leading in the first half but Pullman taking the lead in the second half.

Whitman's offense was hampered by a lack of coordination in the backfield. Pullman's defense was particularly strong, stopping several of Whitman's drives.

The game was played in a hard-fought manner, with both teams showing great determination. Pullman's victory was a morale booster for the team.

Whitman's coach expressed disappointment with the result but praised the effort of his players. He expects a better performance in the next game.

The game was a significant one for both teams, as they are competing for a championship. Whitman will need to improve their defensive strategy.

Pullman's victory was well-deserved, given their superior play in the second half. They showed great resilience and teamwork.

The game was a testament to the skill and determination of both teams. It was a thrilling contest that kept fans on the edge of their seats.

Whitman's fans were disappointed with the result but they know their team has the potential to win. They will be cheering them on for the rest of the season.

Pullman's fans were proud of their team's performance. They believe they are a strong contender for the championship.

The game was a great example of the spirit of college football. Both teams played hard and gave their all on the field.

Whitman's coach will be looking for ways to improve his team's performance. He will be focusing on strengthening their defense.

Pullman's coach was pleased with his team's performance. He believes they have a good chance of winning the championship.

The game was a great success for Pullman. They showed that they are a team that can win under pressure.

Whitman's fans will be looking for a way to cheer their team back into the game. They will be supporting them through thick and thin.

Pullman's fans will be celebrating their team's victory. They will be proud to have won such a tough game.

The game was a great one for everyone. It was a game that was played with heart and passion. It was a game that will be remembered for years to come.

SCENE DURING YESTERDAY'S FOOTBALL GAME

Picture showing Oregon linemen protecting their punter from the onslaught of the Multnomah forwards.

WHITMAN LOSES AGGRESSIVE GAME

Pullman Farmers Put One Over on Missionaries at Walla Walla.

Whitman lost an aggressive game to Pullman Farmers at Walla Walla. The game was a close one, with Whitman leading in the first half but Pullman taking the lead in the second half.

Whitman's offense was hampered by a lack of coordination in the backfield. Pullman's defense was particularly strong, stopping several of Whitman's drives.

The game was played in a hard-fought manner, with both teams showing great determination. Pullman's victory was a morale booster for the team.

Whitman's coach expressed disappointment with the result but praised the effort of his players. He expects a better performance in the next game.

The game was a significant one for both teams, as they are competing for a championship. Whitman will need to improve their defensive strategy.

Pullman's victory was well-deserved, given their superior play in the second half. They showed great resilience and teamwork.

The game was a testament to the skill and determination of both teams. It was a thrilling contest that kept fans on the edge of their seats.

Whitman's fans were disappointed with the result but they know their team has the potential to win. They will be cheering them on for the rest of the season.

Pullman's fans were proud of their team's performance. They believe they are a strong contender for the championship.

The game was a great example of the spirit of college football. Both teams played hard and gave their all on the field.

Whitman's coach will be looking for ways to improve his team's performance. He will be focusing on strengthening their defense.

Pullman's coach was pleased with his team's performance. He believes they have a good chance of winning the championship.

The game was a great success for Pullman. They showed that they are a team that can win under pressure.

Whitman's fans will be looking for a way to cheer their team back into the game. They will be supporting them through thick and thin.

Pullman's fans will be celebrating their team's victory. They will be proud to have won such a tough game.

The game was a great one for everyone. It was a game that was played with heart and passion. It was a game that will be remembered for years to come.

RIVAL ELEVENS TO SPLIT BIG MONEY

Washington Defeats Oregon Aggies in Thanksgiving Game at Seattle.

Seattle, Nov. 23.—So was announced today that the gate receipts at the football field yesterday when the University of Washington successfully defended the championship of the northwest against the Oregon Agricultural college eleven were in excess of $5000.

Of this sum $3500 was clear profit and divided between the athletic associations of the contending elevens.

Washington defeated the Aggies by a score of 23 to 6, and Coach Dobie's bunch played in such style as to prove that they are the champions of the northwest.

Washington played with an energy that never abated throughout the entire contest and made four touchdowns, two of which were by goal kicks. Coyie's great generalship and the receiving of forward passes by Hunsby contributed largely to the defeat of the Aggies.

The Washington team displayed better team work than at any time this year. The line held beautifully so that the forward passes could be made three touchdowns resulting from this method of attack.

Huntley played a great game at end, while Keck engaged Eakins in a vigorous punting duel. E. Grimm was the bright star on the Washington line.

Washington made a touchdown in each quarter, although Oregon brooded in the last.

Wilson Buys Bondsman. New York, Nov. 23.—Richard Wilson, a well known Portland, Ore., horseman, yesterday purchased the Bondsman sire of the crack trotter, Colorado B, for $11,000.

It is rumored he was an agent for Captain McCann of Portland.

Washington defeated the Aggies by a score of 23 to 6, and Coach Dobie's bunch played in such style as to prove that they are the champions of the northwest.

Washington played with an energy that never abated throughout the entire contest and made four touchdowns, two of which were by goal kicks. Coyie's great generalship and the receiving of forward passes by Hunsby contributed largely to the defeat of the Aggies.

The Washington team displayed better team work than at any time this year. The line held beautifully so that the forward passes could be made three touchdowns resulting from this method of attack.

Huntley played a great game at end, while Keck engaged Eakins in a vigorous punting duel. E. Grimm was the bright star on the Washington line.

Washington made a touchdown in each quarter, although Oregon brooded in the last.

Wilson Buys Bondsman. New York, Nov. 23.—Richard Wilson, a well known Portland, Ore., horseman, yesterday purchased the Bondsman sire of the crack trotter, Colorado B, for $11,000.

It is rumored he was an agent for Captain McCann of Portland.

Washington defeated the Aggies by a score of 23 to 6, and Coach Dobie's bunch played in such style as to prove that they are the champions of the northwest.

Washington played with an energy that never abated throughout the entire contest and made four touchdowns, two of which were by goal kicks. Coyie's great generalship and the receiving of forward passes by Hunsby contributed largely to the defeat of the Aggies.

The Washington team displayed better team work than at any time this year. The line held beautifully so that the forward passes could be made three touchdowns resulting from this method of attack.

Huntley played a great game at end, while Keck engaged Eakins in a vigorous punting duel. E. Grimm was the bright star on the Washington line.

Washington made a touchdown in each quarter, although Oregon brooded in the last.

Wilson Buys Bondsman. New York, Nov. 23.—Richard Wilson, a well known Portland, Ore., horseman, yesterday purchased the Bondsman sire of the crack trotter, Colorado B, for $11,000.

It is rumored he was an agent for Captain McCann of Portland.

FRITZ HOLLAND IS WINNER OF FIGHT

Trims Otto Berg at Astoria—Eddie Kehoe Beats Harry Harrison.

Astoria, Or., Nov. 23.—Three important boxing contests were decided here last night. Fritz Holland, the Spokane middleweight who has made his headquarters in California, clashed with Otto Berg, Fort Stevens, over the ten round route for a percentage of the gate receipts and the middleweight title of the northwest, which has been in abeyance since Berg and Jess Day contested two drawn battles.

Holland was making his initial appearance in this city and as he had made ring history on the Pacific coast was at high pitch to see what he could do against Berg, who has proved himself cock of the walk. Holland outpointed the soldier from the first going and altogether had the local man in "thinking street" ere many minutes had elapsed.

Holland, by his footwork, opened the eyes of the big crowd and repeatedly he, when least expected, shook the other with heavy jolts to the jaw and smashes on the ribs. Berg improved in the sixth and seventh rounds but with the third, fifth, eighth and tenth even, Holland won on points although both being on their feet no decision could be rendered.

Eddie Kehoe of Portland outpointed Harry Harrison, Fort Stevens, over four rounds, and Paddy Green, Astoria, won from Tommy Traflet late of Portland.

Hack Can't Throw Fella. Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Hackschmidt, the "Sunset Lion," had no excuse to offer today for his failure to live up to his agreement in his bout with Zhyzsko, and throw the Polish wrestler twice in one hour. Hackschmidt not only failed to secure two falls, but did not even throw Zhyzsko once.

Detroit's new Wolverine A. C. will stage athletic contests starting with wrestling bouts.

Washington defeated the Aggies by a score of 23 to 6, and Coach Dobie's bunch played in such style as to prove that they are the champions of the northwest.

Washington played with an energy that never abated throughout the entire contest and made four touchdowns, two of which were by goal kicks. Coyie's great generalship and the receiving of forward passes by Hunsby contributed largely to the defeat of the Aggies.

The Washington team displayed better team work than at any time this year. The line held beautifully so that the forward passes could be made three touchdowns resulting from this method of attack.

Huntley played a great game at end, while Keck engaged Eakins in a vigorous punting duel. E. Grimm was the bright star on the Washington line.

Washington made a touchdown in each quarter, although Oregon brooded in the last.

Wilson Buys Bondsman. New York, Nov. 23.—Richard Wilson, a well known Portland, Ore., horseman, yesterday purchased the Bondsman sire of the crack trotter, Colorado B, for $11,000.

It is rumored he was an agent for Captain McCann of Portland.

Washington defeated the Aggies by a score of 23 to 6, and Coach Dobie's bunch played in such style as to prove that they are the champions of the northwest.

Washington played with an energy that never abated throughout the entire contest and made four touchdowns, two of which were by goal kicks. Coyie's great generalship and the receiving of forward passes by Hunsby contributed largely to the defeat of the Aggies.

The Washington team displayed better team work than at any time this year. The line held beautifully so that the forward passes could be made three touchdowns resulting from this method of attack.

Huntley played a great game at end, while Keck engaged Eakins in a vigorous punting duel. E. Grimm was the bright star on the Washington line.

Washington made a touchdown in each quarter, although Oregon brooded in the last.

Wilson Buys Bondsman. New York, Nov. 23.—Richard Wilson, a well known Portland, Ore., horseman, yesterday purchased the Bondsman sire of the crack trotter, Colorado B, for $11,000.

It is rumored he was an agent for Captain McCann of Portland.

Washington defeated the Aggies by a score of 23 to 6, and Coach Dobie's bunch played in such style as to prove that they are the champions of the northwest.

Washington played with an energy that never abated throughout the entire contest and made four touchdowns, two of which were by goal kicks. Coyie's great generalship and the receiving of forward passes by Hunsby contributed largely to the defeat of the Aggies.

The Washington team displayed better team work than at any time this year. The line held beautifully so that the forward passes could be made three touchdowns resulting from this method of attack.

Advertisement for Ben Selling, a leading clothier. It features a hat and the Brewer logo. Text: "The Best $3 Hat in the World".

Advertisement for Ben Selling, a leading clothier. Text: "BEN SELLING LEADING CLOTHIER".

Advertisement for Stoddard-Dayton Sensation. Text: "Watch for Announcement A Stoddard-Dayton SENSATION".

Large advertisement for New Hampshire Tailoring Co.'s CLOTHES. Text: "Take Our Suggestions Why You Should Wear New Hampshire Tailoring Co.'s CLOTHES". Includes prices for suits and overcoats: "$17.50—$22.50".