

LATEST Ring : Track SPORTING Field : Diamond NEWS

BASKET SCHEDULE ALLOWS 56 GAMES

Each Team Will Play Twice Around Circuit, Finishing March 9.

The basketball season in Portland will open December 7, when the first official game of the Columbia Basketball League...

The league as completed includes eight teams, two from the Y. M. C. A., the Cubs and the Spartans...

The league will comprise two sections, the schedule for the lighter division not having been made out yet.

The season will open at the Y. M. C. A. with a game between the Spartans and the Oregonians...

Which Interest in One Game.

The two meetings between the Spartans and Multnomah around whom the rivalry between the Y. M. C. A. and Multnomah club will be centered...

The schedule is as follows:

- December 7—Oregonians vs. Spartans, at Y. M. C. A.; Cubs vs. Hawthorne, at C. B. C. Club. December 8—C. Y. M. C. vs. M. A. A. C. at M. A. A. C. December 9—Jewish Young Men vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A. December 10—Cubs vs. M. A. A. C. at M. A. A. C. December 11—Spartans vs. Hawthorne, at Y. M. C. A. December 12—Oregonians vs. Jewish Young Men, at Jewish Young Men's club. December 13—Spartans vs. C. Y. M. C. at C. Y. M. C. December 14—Behnke-Walker vs. Cubs, at Y. M. C. A. December 15—Hawthorne vs. Jewish Young Men, at Jewish Young Men's club. December 16—Oregonians vs. M. A. A. C. at M. A. A. C. December 17—C. Y. M. C. vs. Cubs, at Y. M. C. A. December 18—M. A. A. C. vs. Jewish Young Men, at M. A. A. C. December 19—Spartans vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A.; Oregonians vs. Hawthorne, at Jewish Young Men's club. December 20—Behnke-Walker vs. M. A. A. C. at M. A. A. C. December 21—Cubs vs. Spartans, at Y. M. C. A. December 22—Oregonians vs. Cubs, at Jewish Young Men's club. December 23—Spartans vs. Hawthorne vs. C. Y. M. C., at C. Y. M. C. December 24—Cubs vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A. December 25—M. A. A. C. vs. Cubs, at Y. M. C. A.; Spartans vs. Hawthorne, at Christian Brother's hall; Oregonians vs. Jewish Young Men, at Jewish Young Men's club. February 1—Spartans vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A. February 2—Cubs vs. Oregonians, at Y. M. C. A. February 3—Hawthorne vs. Jewish Young Men, at Christian Brother's hall. February 4—M. A. A. C. vs. C. Y. M. C. at C. Y. M. C. February 5—M. A. A. C. vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A. February 6—Hawthorne vs. C. Y. M. C. at C. Y. M. C. February 7—Jewish Young Men vs. Cubs, at Y. M. C. A.; Spartans vs. Oregonians, at Jewish Young Men's club. February 8—C. Y. M. C. vs. Oregonians, at C. Y. M. C.; M. A. A. C. vs. Jewish Young Men, at Jewish Young Men's club. February 9—Spartans vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A. February 10—Cubs vs. Hawthorne, at Y. M. C. A. February 11—Jewish Young Men vs. Spartans, at Jewish Young Men's club. March 1—Behnke-Walker vs. Oregonians, at Y. M. C. A. March 2—Hawthorne vs. M. A. A. C. at Christian Brother's hall. March 3—Cubs vs. C. Y. M. C. at C. Y. M. C. March 4—C. Y. M. C. vs. Jewish Young Men, at Jewish Young Men's club. March 5—Cubs vs. Behnke-Walker, at Y. M. C. A.; Hawthorne vs. Oregonians, at Christian Brother's hall. March 6—M. A. A. C. vs. Spartans, at M. A. A. C. At the Interlake Yachting Association meeting to be held in Detroit December 3, the yachtmen will outline a plan to boom the small boat races for next season. They favor a class B boat which is not unlike the 21-foot restricted class, but which can be built for less money.

FAMOUS FIGURE IN PRIZE RING HISTORY

Jim Mace, link between old and new schools of boxing, who died today.

CHIMMIE'S COLUMN

Zowie! Biff! Bang! Bing! That is the way it sounded last evening over the boxing tournament of the Catholic Young Men's club.

There was boxing, tumbling, tackling, missing and ever so many other nice things on the program.

Spec Harkness wanted to challenge the winner of the 115-pound boxing match, but cooler heads prevailed and Spec was induced to tackle an "El Ropo" and be good.

This chap Loratti, who gave Franta a sleep producer in the third round, has all the earmarks of being a champion if he takes good care of himself. Can he hit—yoi! yoi! yoi! and then some. I should say he can.

Pearl Casey, Eddie Daves, Jack Grant, Max Michel and Colly Druhot sat on one end of the bleachers and they became so excited at the way this chap Rabb tried "to" to fight that they all started to run for the ring to help him out—but the seats fell down. Casey landed on his "think tank." Davey spalled a brand new Stetson. Jack Grant was smoking at Grant Maxea and knew what happened to the weed. Max Michel started to make out a will giving everything to enarthy except the old broom, and Colly Druhot—he and I will meet in a finish contest on February 29. Articles have not been signed yet but as soon as Colly agrees to make 125 pounds with his hair parted on the left side I'm ready for him. That is huh.

EVERS WON'T COACH NAVY BASEBALL TEAM

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Johnny Evers, who announced some time ago that he had signed a contract with the Annapolis Naval Academy to coach the baseball team next season, came out today with the announcement that the navy business was off.

Evers explained his switch by saying that Manager Chance of the Chicago Cubs had requested him not to coach the sailors, and had wired him to join the Cubs in spring practice when the training season opened.

"UNCLE TOM" M'CAREY WILL FIGHT AMATEURS

Los Angeles, Nov. 30.—The fight game will have another trial in this city when Promoter Tom McCarey reopens his Nauti Junction pavilion, December 3. The bouts will be conducted under the new city ordinance which prohibits professional bouts, and limits the value of purses for amateur matches to $25.

WOULD BACK SOLDIER AGAINST F. HOLLAND

Astoria, Nov. 30.—There is no boxing circles here much discussion as to the relative merits of Fritz Holland of Spokane and Otto Berg of Fort Stevens and while there are a number who are satisfied that the Washington boxer proved his superiority over his opponent here last Thursday night, when they contemplated matters over ten rounds, the backers of the soldier are desirous of a return match over a longer distance and are willing to bet anything up to $750 that the soldier can easily beat Holland.

Those who know the boxing game and who saw the contest here are strong in the belief that Holland did not extend himself. They say he proved beyond a shadow of doubt that he always had the measure of his opponent and although he looked bad in the sixth and seventh rounds, they are sure he was stalling.

PRINCETON AND PENN MAY MEET ON GRIDIRON

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 30.—An annual game between Princeton and Pennsylvania university football teams will be played here, if plans now on foot are carried out. The two teams clashed on the gridiron last in 1904, when the Quakers won, 12 to 0.

CLEVER MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM

Young gridiron men who had a good record this year. Those in the picture are, from left to right—First row: Coleman, coach; Jasper, R. E.; Studer, L. H.; Van Loo, R. T.; Jones, R. G.; Canard, L. G.; Wunderlich, L. E.; Sander, manager. Second row: Nibler, R. H.; Melchior (captain); F.; Costelloe, C.; Schneck, Q.; Ross Coleman, L. G.; Weeks, G.; Furney, L. E.; Fick, T.

JIM MACE, GREAT PUGILIST, DEAD

Famous Old Ring Gladiator Passes Away in London at Ripe Old Age.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Nov. 30.—Jim Mace, the greatest exponent of the manly art that England has produced, one time world's heavyweight champion and the last link between the old and the new schools of boxing, died here today.

Although he had earned fortunes in the ring, the "grand old man of pugilism" died in abject poverty, his sole means of support for some months having been the old age pension allowed him by the government, which he applied for last year after the last penny of the several thousand pounds realized at a benefit, had vanished.

Mace, who was born on April 5, 1831, took up boxing at an early age, and soon made his mark. Big and strong, he depended rather upon his science to pull him through his battles, his style of fighting working a revolution in the methods in vogue when he began to make a name.

One year later Mace defended his title against Tom King, whom he also defeated. In 1852, King turned the tables, but the conqueror refused to give the conquered a return match and Mace again claimed the belt. Unable to secure a match, Mace gave up the championship, allowing Wormald and Marsden to fight for the title.

Wormald also being compelled to pay Mace $120 for refusing to defend it. In 1856 Mace and Joe Goss fought for the title, but the battle went to a draw. Mace again passed up the title, and Wormald once more claimed it. As on the previous occasion, he refused to recognize challengers, and Mace again stepped into the breach, fighting E. Baldwin for the trophy. That contest also resulted in a draw, and the belt was still in abeyance.

In 1859 Mike McCoolie and Tom Allen fought for the championship of the world on an island in the Mississippi river near St. Louis. Allen won after one of the bloodiest battles in history. One year later Mace came to America and took the title away from Allen.

The champion fought his last important fight in 1872, Joe Coburn being his opponent. The fight was for the largest side bet on record up to that time, each man having posted $500, but the result was a draw. The Coburn fight practically marked Mace's retirement from the ring, but up to a few years ago he was closely identified with the sport. Even after his seventeenth birthday, the old fellow appeared in exhibition bouts and as time had been kind to him, he showed much of his old time science and stamina.

Mace lived a most regular life, never having touched whiskey or tobacco. He prided himself on his careful living, to which he attributed his longevity.

PAL MOORE TO FIGHT ABE ATTELL TONIGHT

New York, Nov. 30.—Although the battle does not carry with it the title of featherweight champion, tonight's mixup between Abe Attell, champion, and Pal Moore, is the most talked of event that has been staged in New York since the days of the old Porter law. The lads meet at 123 pounds.

Should Moore win from Attell, he announced today that he will issue a challenge to either Moran or Wolgast. Betting on the contest has been brisk with the price even.

Attell is conceded to be faster, but Moore will outweigh him at least six pounds.

This Date in Sport Annals. 1853—John Stout, the first man to breed a 2-year-old trotter with a record better than 2:30, died at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

1858—At Dayton, Ohio: Al Bantle defeated Roila Heikos in 100-lb live bird match for $500.

1897—At San Francisco: James J. Jeffries and Joe Choynski fought 20 rounds to a draw.

1900—At Milwaukee: Benny Yanger and "Kid" Herrick fought 6 rounds to a draw.

1905—At Chicago: University of Chicago defeated University of Michigan, 2 to 0, in contest for western football championship.

1907—Philadelphia: Naval Cadets defeated West Point at football, 6 to 0.

Journal Want Ads bring results.

BEAVER BIG LEAGUER

Neal Ball, starting pitcher, secured from Cleveland.

BIG LEAGUE S. S. COMES TO BEAVERS

Walter McCredie, this morning received a telegram from President Charles Somers, of the Cleveland club, stating that he had secured a waiver from President Hedges of St. Louis for Neal Ball, the hero of the only triple play ever made in the major leagues, and that Ball had consented to play with Portland next season.

Manager Mac expects to play Ball at second base. Ball bats something on the style of Artie Krueger. Up in the big leagues the pitchers outguess him, but in the minors he has it on the pitchers from the guessing standpoint. This is true in a measure of Peckinpaugh.

WASHINGTON PLAYS OFF TIE WITH L. H. S.

Washington high school and Lincoln high school will play for the championship of the interscholastic league on the Vaughn street grounds next Saturday afternoon, according to present arrangements. Lincoln yesterday won out in the athletic council meeting over the protest on the game won from Columbia, which tied up the league standing.

Both elevens are eager to settle the title. Bartler in the season Washington scored a victory over Lincoln, but the latter eleven came strong toward the end and succeeded in tying up the Columbia defeat.

The school council also endorsed soccer football after speeches by Colin V. Dymont of Multnomah club, and J. K. Mackie of Portland academy. Judge George J. Cameron has offered a championship cup.

TOMMY BURNS HAS NEW "CHAMP" FIND

Breaks Into Line With Jim Corbett and Other Great Discoverers.

Seattle, Nov. 30.—Tommy Burns, ex-heavyweight champion, is enthusiastic over what he thinks is a new heavyweight find.

In Jack Lester, 19-year-old coal miner, he thinks he has the man who will wrest the laurels from Jack Johnson's sabbat brow. Lester recently in a ten round go got the decision over husky Ed Hagan, a Seattle policeman.

"Lester is better than Bill Lang and a lot of them today," said Burns, who is training with him. "He has game and a punch. Of course I wouldn't let him go up against those big fellows yet, till he knows the ring game better, anyone than I'd pit a green bulldog against a seasoned fighter. He might win on his gameness, but he would take a lot of beating, and it might hurt his spirit."

Burns is going to take Lester to London with him in January and get Hugh McIntosh to put him against some of the English heavies. Tommy is confident his protege will find them easy. Lester weighs 183 and will tip the scales at 200 before 21. Burns says.

Journal Want Ads bring results.

OWEN MORAN GOES AFTER AD WOLGAST

British Conqueror of Nelson Says He Will Hound Champion to End.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Nov. 30.—Unweary lies the head that wears a crown. Although this may be an old saying, it must be a true one in the case of Ad Wolgast, present holder of the lightweight championship head decoration, if the Cadillac wonder is aware of the loud threats being issued against his right of possession by Owen Moran.

Accompanied by his manager, Charley Harvey, and Jeff Perry, his sparring partner, the little Briton is speeding eastward today to fill a number of theatrical engagements, and according to his announced intention he will issue a challenge to Wolgast from the footlights of every stage on which he performs.

"I will follow Wolgast around the world," declared Moran, "but I'll make him fight me in the end. If he is a champion, I'll make him show it. I beat him once, and I beat Nelson in a fourth the time it took Ad to do it, so I think I am entitled to a match. I will challenge him everywhere I go, and if he repeatedly refuses to meet me I will make him surrender the title by default."

Advertisements for $3 Hats and Brewer's Beer. Includes images of a hat and a beer bottle.

BEN SELLING LEADING CLOTHIER

Advertisement for Electro Painless Dentists. Includes an image of a dental chair and the text 'See "the Man Who Knows"'. Location: Washington St. and Fifth St.

Advertisement for Hunter Rye. Includes an image of a Hunter Rye bottle and text: 'HUNTER BALTIMORE RYE. NO WHISKEY AS GOOD AT A LOWER PRICE. NONE BETTER AT ANY PRICE. Guaranteed under the Pure Food Law.'