During the three days this city will be host to 125 or more delegates and enthusiastic Christian workers from all parts of the two states will be in attendance. The greater number of delegates arrived from the north last night and early this morning, but many came in on this afternoon's train, and the local committees are busy all day assigning delegates to places of entertainment while here. The homes of Eugene are thrown open to the delegates and there is no trouble to find suitable stopping places. Many of the delegates are making their headquarters at the hotels.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 2.—The Grand Trunk Pacific, owing to the competition of rival railroads, has issued orders that the final location of the line between Vancouver and Fort George is to be proceeded with forthwith and consinued through the coming winter.

From Lillooet, on the Fraser, the route is officially described as follows:

Up the west bank of the Praser, crossing Bridge river and continuing up the Fraser to Ward creek, where the river will be bridged to Big Bar. From the last mentioned point the line will ascend the east bank of the Fraser to the vicinity of Fort George, The survey gangs have received orders to work all winter.
