

WIFE IS GIVEN TO MRS. JEFFREY, WIFE OF LAWYER

Charges Affinity Drew Husband From Her and Sister Also Tells of Other Woman; Alimony Awarded.

When her husband grew cold in his manner toward her and failed to call her up when she was sick, Mrs. D. Jeffrey testified in the circuit court today, she understood the reason, as they had lived together happily for years. Later she found the explanation in the attractions of another woman, she said.

John A. Jeffrey, the defendant in the case, is a well known attorney, who has conducted the defense in a number of important murder cases, notably those of Martin and Resdale and most recently the Lambert case. In the Rose-Jeffrey case part of his fee was a share of the property of the late Mrs. Rose, who died of cancer. This fee was sold to make a settlement with his wife. He paid her $750 cash, gave her a note for $250 and will pay her alimony of $25 per month.

Mrs. E. Payne told of Jeffrey being seen at theatres, restaurants and upon pleasure trips with another woman, whose name was not mentioned. She also told of Jeffrey's habit of writing his wife to procure a divorce and suggesting that she employ G. E. Lenon, his partner, to file the suit.

Jeffrey originally began the suit at Oregon City several months ago. Later he demanded the complaint and began suit in his own county. Then Mrs. Jeffrey filed a cross complaint through John P. Logan, and upon this the divorce was entered. Desertion was the nominal cause of complaint on each side. Jeffrey obtained a writ with his wife on November 1, 1908, and his wife alleged he left her one month later. They were married in Salem in 1888.

How a husband on the warpath hired a man to throw his wife's folding bed into a gulch, their house was told by Mrs. Ida Hoffman, who obtained a divorce from Frank Hoffman. On another occasion her wrath and chain were likewise cast into the gulch. She forced him to admit it, she said, and he said he did not know who he did it.

She was Choked. One day last May, said Mrs. Hoffman, her husband choked her so she swallowed with the greatest difficulty afterwards. He threw her to the floor, grasped her throat and was brandishing a knife over her when some neighbors happened to see the scene. He said then he believed he had locked the door. The Hoffmans were married in August, 1909. Mrs. Hoffman will resume her former name, Mrs. Ida Hasbun.

A. A. Hessemer, said Miranda Hessemer has made his life miserable by calling him a "perky fool" and a "snob." These things hurt, he explained, because about four years ago he was inmate of the insane asylum, suffering from nervous breakdown. After spending 23 months in the asylum, he was discharged as cured, but when he came back his wife advised him to return. She assaulted him repeatedly, he testified, and tried to hit him with sticks of wood. Unable to stand such treatment longer, he fled, and took with him the owner of valuable property. Hessemer's addition, Overton park and Myrtle park.

"Joy Riders" Are Involved. Oscar Rogoway took his night automobile ride and came home after daylight the next morning the worse for wear. Mrs. Ray Rogoway testified. She said she frequently became hysterical because of his absence and the names he called her when he finally appeared. Time after time she took refuge at the home of her mother, and much of the time has supported herself and children. At short time ago Rogoway pleaded guilty to passing a forged check and was sentenced to the penitentiary.

Four other divorces were granted by Judge Gantenbein. The latter was in the case of Harry A. Newman against Bessie Newman, which was expected to be contested but the defendant failed to appear. Newman therefore took the decree by default on the charge of cruelty. He said his wife constantly nagged and found fault with them while living in the east. She seldom spoke pleasantly, he said, and two years ago he sold his property in Omaha, gave her the proceeds, amounting to $1,500, and came to Oregon. She followed him to Astoria, he testified, and annoyed him there.

Mary Gertrude Wylie obtained a decree from Richard Edward Wylie and an order for $75 per month alimony. When at home, she said, he shut himself in his room away from her and the children, and he told her he loved her.

EAGER TO WORK.

Health Regained by Right Food.

The average healthy man or woman is usually eager to be busy at some useful task or employment.

But let dyspepsia or indigestion get hold of one, and all endeavor becomes a burden.

"A year ago, after recovering from an operation," writes E. Michigan lady, "my stomach and nerves began to give me much trouble.

"At times my appetite was voracious, but when indulged, indigestion followed. Other times I had no appetite whatever. The food I took did not nourish me and I grew weaker than ever.

"I lost interest in everything and wanted to be alone. I had always had good nerves, but now the merest trifle would upset me and bring on a violent headache. Walking across the room was an effort and prescribed exercise was out of the question.

"I had seen Grape-Nuts advertised, but did not believe what I read at the time. At last when it seemed as if I was literally starving, I began to eat Grape-Nuts.

"I had not been able to work for a year, but now after two months on Grape-Nuts I am eager to be at work again. My stomach gives me no trouble now, my nerves are as steady as ever, and interest in life and ambition have come back with the return of health."

"There's a Reason."

GOOD ROADS MEN ADJOURN AFTER HOT SKIRMISHES

State Aid Roads Defeated and Resolution Adopted Providing for State Road Commission.

"STAR CHAMBER" COURT SESSIONS ANGER SULLIVAN

Assistant City Attorney Denounces System After Woman and Chinaman Are Tried With Whispers.

Why were these people arrested? Why are charges placed against them? What is the reason for all this whispering and secret talk between their attorneys, the court, and the officers making the arrest? Why is such an effort being made to get them free if there is nothing to fear? These questions were asked in the municipal court this morning by Assistant City Attorney Sullivan and he could have asked several more similar questions, but he said: "What's the use?"

It was in the case of the city of Portland against a woman arrested for consorting with Chinese, and a Chinaman, who acknowledged living with her. The case came before Municipal Judge Tazewell this morning. The woman and the Chinaman pleaded guilty to charges of being vagrants, and each was fined $25.

Previous to the hearing of the case, two attorneys spoke to Judge Tazewell, but the topic of the conversation is known only by the judge and the attorneys. Apparently their appeals had been granted, as the woman and the Chinaman walked from the court room, laughing and talking.

Boy Sent to Stockpile. In contrast to the disposition of this case, an ignorant Bulgarian boy about 22 years old was sentenced yesterday to 30 days on the rock pile before he had time to think. He is working there today, and does not know the reason. The charge against him was soliciting for immoral women. He had been employed a bath house three days, and told two policemen, who came in the bath house, where "they would find the girls."

Detectives Price and Carpenter arrested the woman and the Chinaman who were in court today. She admitted to them consorting with Chinese. When the case was called this morning, the two defendants, their attorneys, Charles Petrain and Daniel Tarpley, and Detective Carpenter usurped all the room around Judge Tazewell. City Attorney Sullivan asked what case was on. He had been crowded to the rear.

"What's going on here?" he inquired. "This is no way to try this case. I ask that the detective take the stand and testify as in all other cases. What's the cause of all this low talk? What's the back of this that we can't hear it? I want to hear the facts in this case. All right, things look more than a little suspicious. Here are two people arrested, and we are trying to find out what was the cause. Speak a little louder, Mr. Carpenter. Take the stand and be sworn.

"Your honor, it is time we try this case in some kind of order. I am getting tired and disgusted with the way such cases are shoved through. It's just like an old mill. Everything indicates in this case that the city of Portland has no rights whatever. It is all the defendant's attorneys and the detective. I can't hear what is being said there. They have pleaded guilty, and I want to hear what these arresting officers have to say. Let them be sworn and testify under oath."

Detectives Not Sworn. Detective Carpenter was telling Judge Tazewell all about it in under tones. He had not been sworn. Attorney Petrain also told Judge Tazewell how it happened, and how innocent his client has been while consorting with Chinese.

"I'll go on the stand and tell what I know," said Detective Price to Attorney Sullivan.

"I'm no fool," replied Sullivan. "I can see what's going on here."

"If this municipal court isn't a joke, there never was one. Everyone crawls up and sits on the judge's bar, and talks. Everybody talks but no one says anything. Here are cases that should have something to say. There is about as much order here, as there is at a bull fight. Some of these attorneys walk right over you, if you don't get out of their way. Some of these north end people would just as soon knock you down in this court room, as in the north end."

When Attorney Sullivan had delivered this remark, some of those hanging over the judge moved away and gave room. Others were so interested in the case that they paid no attention to the case that they were in. The woman and the Chinaman, each a fine of $25, and ordered them to get out of the city. Detective Price took the woman before the judge the second time, and had her instructed to get out immediately.

Evidence in the possession of the detectives and admissions of the woman and the Chinaman, show that they are such people as the chief of police has been asking his men to arrest. The evidence and admissions they make brand them as being lowest in the social scale of undesirables. The woman claims to be a vaudeville performer, but admitted consorting entirely with Chinese.

TWO MEXICANS HANG FOR ATROCIOUS CRIME

Florence, Ark., Dec. 2.—Rafael Barala and Casper Sanchez, Mexicans, were hanged today from the gallows erected in the rear of the territorial prison for the murder of an aged Mexican wood-chopper at Pflugstadt six months ago. The body of the old man, who was never identified, was literally hacked to pieces for a few dollars, he was carried. The men were sentenced eight days after their arrest.

GOOD ROADS MEN ADJOURN AFTER HOT SKIRMISHES

State Aid Roads Defeated and Resolution Adopted Providing for State Road Commission.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Dec. 1.—Choosing R. H. Thompson of Seattle as president and Wenatchee as the next meeting place, the sessions of the convention of the Washington Good Roads association closed here late yesterday afternoon, after what was probably the most bitter and most pugnacious meeting of the association that was ever held. From first to last, it was a fight on state aid roads, but at times it graded off into a discussion of King county roads, or the commissioners, or the Walla Walla roads, or H. L. Bowley, or Mayor Seidel of Milwaukee, or almost anything.

Bellicose Statements.

It was a convention where every man thought he was an orator and took no trouble to conceal that fact. Personalities were numerous, charges of theft and dishonesty freely made, the air was blue from morning until night with acrimonious remarks and bellicose statements, yet for all that the convention was a success in the history of the association.

State aid roads were defeated. The vote on that was taken yesterday morning at 11:15 o'clock, after the debate was closed by Samuel Hill. With tears in his eyes and with voice choking with emotion, Mr. Hill pleaded with the convention for the retention of the state aid road law, which meant the adoption of the majority report. His remarks were cut short by a call for the previous question, and although the convention seemed willing to grant him more time, he would not take it.

The debate, as in two preceding days, was bitter, bellicose and excessively breezy. Everyone wanted to talk and when Mr. Hill's time for talking came he had to yield time after time to delegates who thought their utterances were of momentous weight. President Penrose of Whitman college then secured the floor, and offered a motion tabling both minority and majority reports. Although this motion was undebatable, there was considerable debate over whether Mr. Penrose was in order. Mr. Hartman, president, finally held that the previous question was on Judge Ronald's substitute resolution, and as that had been withdrawn, the convention was open again.

The vote to table the reports was taken, and fearing a misdeal, both sides insisted upon the ayes and noes. This was had, and by 104 to 83, the motion was lost.

The minority was then taken up, and after some parliamentary skirmishing, was put to the vote. It was again decided that the ayes and noes should be taken. Question of the heavy minority vote of Walla Walla county was time and again referred to, and most bitterly by the majority followers.

The ayes and noes showed a count of 103 to 84. And state aid had been lost. Mr. Reynolds then secured the floor and offered the resolution which President Penrose would have put up, had his motion to table the reports been carried. This resolution provides for the appointment of a good roads commission, as follows:

Resolved, That the legislature be asked to appoint a joint legislative commission on good roads to grant hearings at various points in the state, to collect evidence, and finally to draft a bill embodying the most practical methods for securing good roads, to be submitted to the legislature following.

This was passed by an easy majority, just before 1 o'clock, and adjournment was taken for the morning, to consider the resolutions and nominations in the afternoon. It was the most strenuous of most strenuous sessions, and it was with a feeling of relief that even those who least passed through the doors. There was no dispute over the selection of the officers of the Washington Good Roads association, the list handed in by the nominating committee being adopted by a unanimous report, upon motion of M. J. Carrigan of Seattle. There was no question or debate, and the matter was disposed of with more expediency than anyone had thought the convention capable of. The following are the new officers:

President, R. H. Thompson of Seattle; first vice-president, J. J. Donovan of Bellingham; second vice-president, H. Reynolds of Walla Walla; third vice-president, H. H. McGowan of Tacoma; fourth vice-president, E. W. Cost of Colfax; fifth vice-president, M. G. Gillette of Wenatchee; treasurer, J. C. Scott.

The choosing of a secretary is left to President Thompson, who will announce his choice later.

The executive committee was also chosen as follows: Judge C. H. Harford of Seattle, chairman; John P. Hartman of Seattle, Frank Terrace of Orilla, S. A. Perkins of Tacoma, W. H. Cowles of Spokane, C. B. Kegley of Palouse, Miles C. Moore of Walla Walla, E. W. Purdy of Bellingham, J. A. Falconer of Everett, F. J. Wilmer of Rosalia, Jay P. Graves of Spokane, Lorgar Peterson of Tacoma, Ford W. Lewis of Olympia, W. W. Robertson of North Yakima, G. C. Lancaster of Seattle, E. L. Tamm of Wilbur, H. L. Bowley of Olympia, E. E. Beard of Vancouver.

The choice of the meeting place followed a debate that was good-natured, the only one of its kind in the entire convention, and one which showed the mighty reactions that had set in after the strenuous sessions preceding. Even Mr. Carrigan tried to agree with the opposition, and when Mr. Hartman and Judge Ronald chose opposite sides, tossed up a coin to see with which one of the men when he should appear. He had determined to agree with someone, he said, and now that he was willing they had taken opposite sides.

Wenatchee carried the next convention by a large majority over Tacoma, the only other contender for the honor.

BRIDGE WILL NOT OPEN FOR A WEEK

A mistake in the calculation of the proper weight of the counterweights on the lift of the Madison street bridge will delay the opening of the span to the public, Thomas M. Darrow, superintendent of construction, said this morning. It would take six or seven days to cut out the counterweights and replace them to the proper size by working both night and day shifts.

GOOD ROADS MEN ADJOURN AFTER HOT SKIRMISHES

State Aid Roads Defeated and Resolution Adopted Providing for State Road Commission.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Dec. 1.—Choosing R. H. Thompson of Seattle as president and Wenatchee as the next meeting place, the sessions of the convention of the Washington Good Roads association closed here late yesterday afternoon, after what was probably the most bitter and most pugnacious meeting of the association that was ever held. From first to last, it was a fight on state aid roads, but at times it graded off into a discussion of King county roads, or the commissioners, or the Walla Walla roads, or H. L. Bowley, or Mayor Seidel of Milwaukee, or almost anything.

Bellicose Statements.

It was a convention where every man thought he was an orator and took no trouble to conceal that fact. Personalities were numerous, charges of theft and dishonesty freely made, the air was blue from morning until night with acrimonious remarks and bellicose statements, yet for all that the convention was a success in the history of the association.

State aid roads were defeated. The vote on that was taken yesterday morning at 11:15 o'clock, after the debate was closed by Samuel Hill. With tears in his eyes and with voice choking with emotion, Mr. Hill pleaded with the convention for the retention of the state aid road law, which meant the adoption of the majority report. His remarks were cut short by a call for the previous question, and although the convention seemed willing to grant him more time, he would not take it.

The debate, as in two preceding days, was bitter, bellicose and excessively breezy. Everyone wanted to talk and when Mr. Hill's time for talking came he had to yield time after time to delegates who thought their utterances were of momentous weight. President Penrose of Whitman college then secured the floor, and offered a motion tabling both minority and majority reports. Although this motion was undebatable, there was considerable debate over whether Mr. Penrose was in order. Mr. Hartman, president, finally held that the previous question was on Judge Ronald's substitute resolution, and as that had been withdrawn, the convention was open again.

The vote to table the reports was taken, and fearing a misdeal, both sides insisted upon the ayes and noes. This was had, and by 104 to 83, the motion was lost.

The minority was then taken up, and after some parliamentary skirmishing, was put to the vote. It was again decided that the ayes and noes should be taken. Question of the heavy minority vote of Walla Walla county was time and again referred to, and most bitterly by the majority followers.

The ayes and noes showed a count of 103 to 84. And state aid had been lost. Mr. Reynolds then secured the floor and offered the resolution which President Penrose would have put up, had his motion to table the reports been carried. This resolution provides for the appointment of a good roads commission, as follows:

Resolved, That the legislature be asked to appoint a joint legislative commission on good roads to grant hearings at various points in the state, to collect evidence, and finally to draft a bill embodying the most practical methods for securing good roads, to be submitted to the legislature following.

This was passed by an easy majority, just before 1 o'clock, and adjournment was taken for the morning, to consider the resolutions and nominations in the afternoon. It was the most strenuous of most strenuous sessions, and it was with a feeling of relief that even those who least passed through the doors. There was no dispute over the selection of the officers of the Washington Good Roads association, the list handed in by the nominating committee being adopted by a unanimous report, upon motion of M. J. Carrigan of Seattle. There was no question or debate, and the matter was disposed of with more expediency than anyone had thought the convention capable of. The following are the new officers:

President, R. H. Thompson of Seattle; first vice-president, J. J. Donovan of Bellingham; second vice-president, H. Reynolds of Walla Walla; third vice-president, H. H. McGowan of Tacoma; fourth vice-president, E. W. Cost of Colfax; fifth vice-president, M. G. Gillette of Wenatchee; treasurer, J. C. Scott.

The choosing of a secretary is left to President Thompson, who will announce his choice later.

The executive committee was also chosen as follows: Judge C. H. Harford of Seattle, chairman; John P. Hartman of Seattle, Frank Terrace of Orilla, S. A. Perkins of Tacoma, W. H. Cowles of Spokane, C. B. Kegley of Palouse, Miles C. Moore of Walla Walla, E. W. Purdy of Bellingham, J. A. Falconer of Everett, F. J. Wilmer of Rosalia, Jay P. Graves of Spokane, Lorgar Peterson of Tacoma, Ford W. Lewis of Olympia, W. W. Robertson of North Yakima, G. C. Lancaster of Seattle, E. L. Tamm of Wilbur, H. L. Bowley of Olympia, E. E. Beard of Vancouver.

The choice of the meeting place followed a debate that was good-natured, the only one of its kind in the entire convention, and one which showed the mighty reactions that had set in after the strenuous sessions preceding. Even Mr. Carrigan tried to agree with the opposition, and when Mr. Hartman and Judge Ronald chose opposite sides, tossed up a coin to see with which one of the men when he should appear. He had determined to agree with someone, he said, and now that he was willing they had taken opposite sides.

Wenatchee carried the next convention by a large majority over Tacoma, the only other contender for the honor.

BRIDGE WILL NOT OPEN FOR A WEEK

A mistake in the calculation of the proper weight of the counterweights on the lift of the Madison street bridge will delay the opening of the span to the public, Thomas M. Darrow, superintendent of construction, said this morning. It would take six or seven days to cut out the counterweights and replace them to the proper size by working both night and day shifts.

GOOD ROADS MEN ADJOURN AFTER HOT SKIRMISHES

State Aid Roads Defeated and Resolution Adopted Providing for State Road Commission.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Dec. 1.—Choosing R. H. Thompson of Seattle as president and Wenatchee as the next meeting place, the sessions of the convention of the Washington Good Roads association closed here late yesterday afternoon, after what was probably the most bitter and most pugnacious meeting of the association that was ever held. From first to last, it was a fight on state aid roads, but at times it graded off into a discussion of King county roads, or the commissioners, or the Walla Walla roads, or H. L. Bowley, or Mayor Seidel of Milwaukee, or almost anything.

Bellicose Statements.

It was a convention where every man thought he was an orator and took no trouble to conceal that fact. Personalities were numerous, charges of theft and dishonesty freely made, the air was blue from morning until night with acrimonious remarks and bellicose statements, yet for all that the convention was a success in the history of the association.

State aid roads were defeated. The vote on that was taken yesterday morning at 11:15 o'clock, after the debate was closed by Samuel Hill. With tears in his eyes and with voice choking with emotion, Mr. Hill pleaded with the convention for the retention of the state aid road law, which meant the adoption of the majority report. His remarks were cut short by a call for the previous question, and although the convention seemed willing to grant him more time, he would not take it.

The debate, as in two preceding days, was bitter, bellicose and excessively breezy. Everyone wanted to talk and when Mr. Hill's time for talking came he had to yield time after time to delegates who thought their utterances were of momentous weight. President Penrose of Whitman college then secured the floor, and offered a motion tabling both minority and majority reports. Although this motion was undebatable, there was considerable debate over whether Mr. Penrose was in order. Mr. Hartman, president, finally held that the previous question was on Judge Ronald's substitute resolution, and as that had been withdrawn, the convention was open again.

The vote to table the reports was taken, and fearing a misdeal, both sides insisted upon the ayes and noes. This was had, and by 104 to 83, the motion was lost.

The minority was then taken up, and after some parliamentary skirmishing, was put to the vote. It was again decided that the ayes and noes should be taken. Question of the heavy minority vote of Walla Walla county was time and again referred to, and most bitterly by the majority followers.

The ayes and noes showed a count of 103 to 84. And state aid had been lost. Mr. Reynolds then secured the floor and offered the resolution which President Penrose would have put up, had his motion to table the reports been carried. This resolution provides for the appointment of a good roads commission, as follows:

Resolved, That the legislature be asked to appoint a joint legislative commission on good roads to grant hearings at various points in the state, to collect evidence, and finally to draft a bill embodying the most practical methods for securing good roads, to be submitted to the legislature following.

This was passed by an easy majority, just before 1 o'clock, and adjournment was taken for the morning, to consider the resolutions and nominations in the afternoon. It was the most strenuous of most strenuous sessions, and it was with a feeling of relief that even those who least passed through the doors. There was no dispute over the selection of the officers of the Washington Good Roads association, the list handed in by the nominating committee being adopted by a unanimous report, upon motion of M. J. Carrigan of Seattle. There was no question or debate, and the matter was disposed of with more expediency than anyone had thought the convention capable of. The following are the new officers:

President, R. H. Thompson of Seattle; first vice-president, J. J. Donovan of Bellingham; second vice-president, H. Reynolds of Walla Walla; third vice-president, H. H. McGowan of Tacoma; fourth vice-president, E. W. Cost of Colfax; fifth vice-president, M. G. Gillette of Wenatchee; treasurer, J. C. Scott.

The choosing of a secretary is left to President Thompson, who will announce his choice later.

The executive committee was also chosen as follows: Judge C. H. Harford of Seattle, chairman; John P. Hartman of Seattle, Frank Terrace of Orilla, S. A. Perkins of Tacoma, W. H. Cowles of Spokane, C. B. Kegley of Palouse, Miles C. Moore of Walla Walla, E. W. Purdy of Bellingham, J. A. Falconer of Everett, F. J. Wilmer of Rosalia, Jay P. Graves of Spokane, Lorgar Peterson of Tacoma, Ford W. Lewis of Olympia, W. W. Robertson of North Yakima, G. C. Lancaster of Seattle, E. L. Tamm of Wilbur, H. L. Bowley of Olympia, E. E. Beard of Vancouver.

The choice of the meeting place followed a debate that was good-natured, the only one of its kind in the entire convention, and one which showed the mighty reactions that had set in after the strenuous sessions preceding. Even Mr. Carrigan tried to agree with the opposition, and when Mr. Hartman and Judge Ronald chose opposite sides, tossed up a coin to see with which one of the men when he should appear. He had determined to agree with someone, he said, and now that he was willing they had taken opposite sides.

Wenatchee carried the next convention by a large majority over Tacoma, the only other contender for the honor.

BRIDGE WILL NOT OPEN FOR A WEEK

A mistake in the calculation of the proper weight of the counterweights on the lift of the Madison street bridge will delay the opening of the span to the public, Thomas M. Darrow, superintendent of construction, said this morning. It would take six or seven days to cut out the counterweights and replace them to the proper size by working both night and day shifts.

JOHN R. McLEAN WANTS TO WEAR TOGA FROM OHIO

For Nine Years Resident in Washington, D. C., and Not Voting in Ohio, Yet Claims Citizenship in That State.

(United Press Special Wire.) Washington, Dec. 2.—John R. McLean, owner of the Cincinnati Enquirer and of the Washington Post, who for nine years has lived in Washington, not voting in Ohio, is expected to formally announce his candidacy for the United States senatorship in Ohio to succeed Senator Charles Dick, whose term will expire next March.

McLean has long had an eye on the senatorship, and for the past few months it is said he has considered the question of entering the race. It is said by his close friends here that he has finally determined that he will make the race, and his formal announcement of the fact, it is expected, will be made in his Cincinnati newspaper.

Although he has lived in Washington for a number of years and has not voted in Cincinnati, he has retained his legal residence in Ohio, he maintains, and is qualified to become a senator. His Washington residence he regards in the same light as that of other persons who live here, yet who retain legal domicile in other parts of the country, and are never questioned when they "go home to vote."

In this country three times as many persons, for each 1000 employed, are killed and injured in the course of their

For Breakfast Try "Sunkist" Oranges

Luscious Tree-Ripened Fruit

It is not sufficient to know that oranges are the most healthful of all fruits. It is quite as important to know the kind of oranges that are most healthful and most palatable. The very finest California oranges are now packed under the label "Sunkist." Please serve "Sunkist" oranges at breakfast tomorrow and learn the superiority of tree-ripened, seedless, fiberless oranges over the commonplace kind. Don't fail to save the wrappers.

There is so much "meat" and nourishment in "Sunkist" oranges and so little waste that, in addition to their extra fine flavor and goodness, they are really the most economical oranges to buy.

"Sunkist" Lemons Juiciest

Lemons differ as much as oranges. Fiftly, thick-skinned lemons contain very little juice. You would never know how to buy them. Please ask for "Sunkist" Lemons and note how uniformly sound each one is, and what a small percentage is skin and fiber.

Get This Valuable Orange Spoon

Save 12 "Sunkist" orange (or lemon) wrappers and send them to us, with 2 cents to pay charges. We will send you a genuine Rogers Orange Spoon, of beautiful design and highest quality. Begin saving wrappers today. If you desire more than one, send 12 "Sunkist" wrappers and 12 cents for each additional spoon. In returning, please send one-cent stamps when the amount is less than 20 cents; 25 cents amounts above 20 cents. We prefer money orders, express order or bank draft. Don't send cash. We will be glad to send you complete list of valuable premiums. We honor both "Sunkist" and "Red Ball" wrappers for premiums.

California Fruit Growers' Exchange, 34 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

Housework is hard work without Gold Dust

GOLD DUST cuts housework in half. It does all the hard part of the work without your assistance.

GOLD DUST cleans everything cleanable in the home—clothes, dishes, pots, pans, floors, doors, woodwork, refrigerators, bath-rooms, sinks, pipes, etc. It will do better work—it will do more kinds of work than soap, or any other cleaner.

If you are trying to run your home without GOLD DUST, you are not doing your work in the shortest, easiest and most economical way.

Do not use Soap, Kerosene, Lard, Soda, Ammonia or Carbolic Acid with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleaning qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form. "Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work!"

For Breakfast Try "Sunkist" Oranges

Luscious Tree-Ripened Fruit

It is not sufficient to know that oranges are the most healthful of all fruits. It is quite as important to know the kind of oranges that are most healthful and most palatable. The very finest California oranges are now packed under the label "Sunkist." Please serve "Sunkist" oranges at breakfast tomorrow and learn the superiority of tree-ripened, seedless, fiberless oranges over the commonplace kind. Don't fail to save the wrappers.

There is so much "meat" and nourishment in "Sunkist" oranges and so little waste that, in addition to their extra fine flavor and goodness, they are really the most economical oranges to buy.

"Sunkist" Lemons Juiciest

Lemons differ as much as oranges. Fiftly, thick-skinned lemons contain very little juice. You would never know how to buy them. Please ask for "Sunkist" Lemons and note how uniformly sound each one is, and what a small percentage is skin and fiber.

Get This Valuable Orange Spoon

Save 12 "Sunkist" orange (or lemon) wrappers and send them to us, with 2 cents to pay charges. We will send you a genuine Rogers Orange Spoon, of beautiful design and highest quality. Begin saving wrappers today. If you desire more than one, send 12 "Sunkist" wrappers and 12 cents for each additional spoon. In returning, please send one-cent stamps when the amount is less than 20 cents; 25 cents amounts above 20 cents. We prefer money orders, express order or bank draft. Don't send cash. We will be glad to send you complete list of valuable premiums. We honor both "Sunkist" and "Red Ball" wrappers for premiums.

California Fruit Growers' Exchange, 34 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

READ! COME! SEE! YOU WILL SAVE MONEY Raincoats, Overcoats and Suits at business getting prices. We know that you will profit by seeing what we are offering THIS WEEK. WE MUST REDUCE OUR STOCK QUICKLY in order to give you more room to display the large stock of holiday goods which we have purchased. Therefore we offer for a short time YOUR CHOICE OF THREE HUNDRED Men's Suits $25 Raincoats... and Values at $20 Overcoats... $30 Comparison will prove to you that our regular prices on these garments are easily more moderate than is common elsewhere for the same class of merchandise. We will not insist on your buying, but we do insist that in justice to yourself you should come and see. Holiday Gifts for Every Man and Boy Can be secured here. Very soon our assortment and display of choice holiday furnishings for men and boys will be complete and will represent the most useful and sensible gifts to be suggested. LION CLOTHING CO. 166-170 Third St. Boy's Department Special Raincoats, Suits and Overcoats, values up to $7.50. Special at $4.85