

POULTRY SHOW
IS HIGHLY PRAISEDJudges and Visitors Believe Birds Exhibited Are of Good Class.

"The finest collection of Orpington chickens I have ever seen has been put on exhibition at this show," declared H. H. Collier, who is one of the judges at the annual poultry show and pet stock exhibit now on at Lilly's seed store, 590 front street. "Some of the highest scores that I have given are on birds here. One White Orpington this morning scored 95 out of a possible 100, and that is very high."

Of the 1000 birds on exhibition the greater majority is of the American class, including White Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks.

Good crowds have been in attendance thus far, and considerable interest is being shown by poultry people and others. A. C. Schellhouse of Vancouver, Wash., the superintendent, said this morning that the collection of birds was far superior to any he had ever had charge of as far as the quality of the stock is concerned.

As the heaviest and finest birds are being judged first, very slow progress is being made with the scoring, and at this time it is impossible for the judges to even speculate as to possible winners.

Very little pet stock is on exhibition, what little there is, consisting of fancy chickens, bantams and pigeons. All the exhibits are in good condition, there having been no losses as yet, in spite of the fact that as nearly every poultry show many of the fine fowls are lost through careless treatment while en route or while in the display rooms.

seven would start an open fight on the most desecrated of grounds and that if a warfare of delay in confirming the appointments did not prove sufficient to hold up the justices, an open fight on the floor of the senate might be started, which would at least put both the appointments and the administration in an embarrassing position.

It was stated that the Democrats in the senate were willing to join this movement and appointments might be held up indefinitely.

As a result of the conferences yesterday, it is understood, the justices will not be named until next week. Taft intends to confer with the senate judiciary committee before sending the names to the senate.

Progressives Ready for Any Test.

The supreme court question is considered only an incident in the fight that may be expected before the session is over. It is taken as an indication that the insurgents intend to maintain their belligerent attitude and that they are ready to break with the regulars when questions of any importance come up. Politicians who have been watching Taft's efforts to heal the breach between the two wings of his own party say that the present outlook is not encouraging and that it seems likely that the administration plan to rush considerable legislation through at the present session, before the Democrats get control of the lower house, is doomed to failure.

Charles McDougal, 395 Cable street, told the judge that his wife promised to get a license for their dog, but she had neglected to do so. He was fined $10.

E. Cucu, Delaware and Pippin streets, took pity on a poor dog that came to his home, and he gave it shelter. He said the dog was hungry and he fed it. After such treatment the dog refused to leave his home. He was fined $10.

Mrs. W. G. Stiles, 511 Yamhill street, was notified four times to get a license. She admitted owning the dog, and was fined $10.

Charles Oberst, 320 San Rafael street, does not want the dog that hangs around his home. He admitted feeding it, and a fine of $10 was imposed.

Mrs. T. M. McAdam, 493 Clay street, did not appear in the municipal court and forfeited $10 bail. Charles T. Anderson was another who did not appear and forfeited $10 bail. John Dominia also forfeited $10.

PERSONAL

State Printer Willis S. Dunlavy, accompanied by Mrs. Dunlavy, left last night for a trip through southern California. The first stopping place will be Los Angeles, where several days will be spent visiting friends in the city. Before returning Mr. and Mrs. Dunlavy will visit various southern California points. Mr. Dunlavy desires to rest up and recuperate for a short time before facing the long grind through which his office must go during the legislative session, and for some time afterwards. F. I. Mitchell, real estate dealer of Anabel, returned last night with his wife from a vacation trip of three weeks at Monrovia and other points near Los Angeles.

SUPREME COURT HANDS
DOWN THREE OPINIONS

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Dec. 6.—Under a decision handed down by the supreme court this morning, written by Associate Justice Eakin, an injunction applied for in the circuit court for Walla Walla county before Judge J. W. Knowles by the city of Joseph against the Joseph Water company shall again be granted by the court, which had dissolved it upon demurrer. The Joseph Water company had a franchise for 15 years to furnish the citizens of Joseph with water. Recently the franchise expired, but the water company continued to extend its system. The city, desiring to construct a system of its own, applied for an injunction against the extensions being made by the water company, which was granted temporarily but was dissolved again shortly afterward. The supreme court holds that the city of Joseph may build a water plant at any time it so desires without damage to the $10,000 investment of the Joseph Water company and the water company is to be restrained from further extending its system if the city so petitions. The opinion of Justice Eakin holds that a city has inherent power to provide its citizens with pure water.

The case of Frances M. Snyder, executrix of the estate of Victor E. Snyder vs. John Harrington, partner in the firm of Snyder & Co., appealed from the circuit court for Jackson county, H. K. Hanna, judge, is reversed in opinion written by Associate Justice Thomas A. McBride.

The case of N. C. Longfellow, plaintiff, vs. John W. Huffman and Arnold R. Huffman, defendants, doing business under the firm name and style of Huffman & Son, defendants, appealed from the circuit court for Walla Walla county, J. W. Knowles, judge, is affirmed in an opinion written by Associate Justice Slater. The case has been to the supreme court in one form or another three times.

Mars Challenges Latham to Hunt.

(United Press Special Wire.)
Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—"Bud" Mars also wants to go hunting in an airplane. Upon hearing that Hubert Latham, in San Francisco, had declared that he would hunt the big game of the west in his biplane, Mars was impressed with the possibilities of the plan. He at once consulted with R. B. Young, manager for the Curtiss interests, and then announced his challenge to the Frenchman for a competitive hunt. The details of the contest he left to Latham. Mars, who has arrived in Los Angeles, will spend the greater part of the winter on the Pacific coast.

HERE IS CHANCE TO ADOPT BRIGHT BOY

Ruben Blanchard.

A bright, healthy boy eight years old can be adopted by any one giving assurance to his father that he will have a good home and an education.

A widower, low in health and troubled by the fear that he may not recover, Frank Blanchard of 301 1/2 Hawthorne avenue, declares that he believes it best to give up his boy, Ruben, if he is assured that he will be properly cared for.

"My wife died four years ago and then I became ill," he said today. "I was forced to give up my position with the Standard Oil company, where I had been for six years and my funds ran low. If anything happens to me I want to know before then that my boy is going to be given his chance in life. I don't want to leave him behind to face the world alone. I would like to have him adopted by some responsible person who wishes to do a charitable act, but I would want to be shown that he would have the treatment and care that he deserves. I love my boy as much as any father could, but I believe that in taking this step I am acting for his own good."

Tribute to Colonel Mosby.
New Haven, Conn., Dec. 6.—Colonel John S. Mosby, the famous confederate scout and cavalry leader, received an enthusiastic welcome upon his arrival in New Haven today to attend a public reception arranged in his honor. The occasion is the seventy-seventh birthday anniversary of Colonel Mosby, who was born in Virginia, December 6, 1833.

SWEET IS OPPOSED AS DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN

The Democratic state central committee will hold a meeting Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock in the parlor of the imperial hotel, for organization and the election of officers.

It is apparent that there will be a hot contest over the election of state chairman. Alor Sweet, the present chairman, is a candidate for reelection. Robert A. Miller is also a candidate for election.

Friends of Chairman Sweet contend that he will be elected, saying that he now has close to 15 votes promised to him. It will require 18 to elect. What strength Miller has is unknown. Sweet has held the office for a number of years, and those who are opposed to him contend that it is time for a change in the chairmanship. Sweet's friends argue that he conducted the last campaign in a successful manner and that he is entitled to reelection. It is believed that there will be a warm time when the committee holds its meeting Saturday night.

Mechanical Engineers in Session.

New York, Dec. 6.—Distinguished engineering experts from many points in the United States and Canada have assembled in the metropolis for the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, which opens this evening with the annual address of President George Westinghouse. The sessions will continue two days, during which time there will be papers and discussions dealing with a wide range of technical questions of interest to the engineering profession.

Children and Christmas

If you want to please the "little ones," give bright and snappy Picture and Story Books.

To the average Christmas giver looking for something for boys and girls of tender years, our Second Floor Juvenile Book Department will be an intensely interesting place to spend a few minutes and a visit to same will settle the disturbing questions as to what shall be given.

In this department you will find hundreds and hundreds of books suitable for children of all ages, and at prices as little as 5 cents and as much as you may care to spend. We are the oldest book dealers in the northwest and carry more juvenile books in stock than all other stores in Portland combined. Therefore, come and see our displays, even if you do not intend to buy.

For the convenience of our customers we have our Juvenile Book Department on the SECOND FLOOR, which is connected both by an electric elevator and new iron stairs. Service and convenience are two essentials to comfortable Christmas shopping and we endeavor to serve our customers in the most convenient manner.

We cordially invite you to come and look around. You'll be surprised and pleased.

Over 5 Million Pairs

The Annual Production of
The "Queen Quality" Factories

An article can be sold once without regard to its merit, by a nicely worded advertisement, but to create an ever increasing demand and make possible "repeat" sales, the article must possess quality.

Twelve years ago the production of the "Queen Quality" factory was only a few thousand pairs yearly. Last year the combined production of the "Queen Quality" factories aggregated 5,500,000 pairs—a gain that could not have been produced by any amount of publicity, did not "Queen Quality" Shoes possess undoubted merit.

The "Queen Quality" Shoe is the best woman's shoe ever manufactured to sell at $3.50. Were this not the fact, the "Queen Quality" factory, if, indeed, still in existence, would be plodding with its few thousand pairs a year production instead of the millions they now produce.

It is such shoes as these that have given Baker's the title of the "Big Value Shoe Stores" and make of Baker's the largest retail shoe concern on the Pacific coast.

This model comes in patent and gunmetal; cloth and kid tops, high heel and arch; short vamp, round toe with perforated wing tip.
