Curiosity

By a Red Cross Stamp Worker.
THE Red Cross booth workers in the various department stores have been much amused by shoppers who approach them, take up much time inquiring the merits of the stamps and then without purchasing, walk blithely away.

One woman, well dressed and apparently prosperous, consumed 15 minutes' time in asking questions. Not a penny did she spend but concluded with "Say, dear, will you tell me at which counter they sell face powder?"

Another woman usurped the time of the booth workers asking dozens of questions, then took her leave without purchasing, saying: "Goodbye. My! Ain't them pretty little stamps?"

Three Germans proved amusing purchasers at the Meier & Frank booth on Wednesday. They displayed great interest in the small Red Cross stickers but were obviously disappointed to discover they were not trading stamps. When the matron in charge expatiated on the good accomplished by the sale one of the trio exclaimed: "Burr, it's a good thing; I will buy four cents' worth."

Another shopper urged to purchase declared: "I don't want none myself, but I'll take one and send it to my daughter just for curiosity."

Spaghetti Timbales.
Roll one fourth box of spaghetti (3 cents' worth) in boiling salt water for 20 minutes. Drain and roll it around the greased sides of custard cups. Make a white sauce of one pint of milk, two tablespoons of butter and flour to thicken. Mix with the boiled meat from the spaghetti. Drain and roll it around the greased sides of custard cups. Codfish Souffle With Cheese.
Soak the prepared salt codfish for three hours, then boil for 20 minutes, drain and set away until cold. Measure the fish and to two cups of it allow a cupful of mashed potatoes. Mix well, heating in a cup of milk and the yolk of three eggs well whipped. Add a teaspoonful of melted butter, salt and white pepper to taste, and three tablespoonfuls of grated Parmesan cheese. Turn into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with bread crumbs over the top, and bake to a golden brown. Serve immediately.

Cinnamon Biscuit.
Make dough the same as for baking powder biscuit and roll it out on a board until it is but one fourth of an inch thick. Brush this over with milk and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon, as for coffee cake. Roll the dough as you would jelly roll, cut in half inch slices and set the little rounds in a greased pan and bake in hot oven. These are as good as raised rolls.

Cranberry Pie.
Allow four heaping tablespoons of sugar and two tablespoons of flour for pie. Mix thoroughly together and after lining pie pan with paste, sprinkle one tablespoon of the mixture evenly over the bottom. Put the berries in smoothly and sprinkle over them the rest of the sugar mixture. Cover with strips of paste, making a diamond top, and bake in a moderate oven.

DINNER.
Peppercot. Veal Cutlets. Brown Gravy, Parsley Garnish. Baked Sweet Potatoes. Escalloped Tomatoes. Chiffonade Salad. Fruit Cup. Coffee.

Mulligan Fillet of Beef.
This is 16 cent steak converted into a dish of delicious flavor and never recognizable as mere common meat. Cut one pound of round steak into four parts. Pound into each piece, with potato masher, as much flour as it will take. Arrange them in layer in pan, into which has been put a slice of onion and two tablespoonfuls of canned tomato. Cover with boiling water. Set on back of range and boil for 20 minutes or in the oven to simmer slowly for two hours or in a fireless cooker for six hours or until the rich, brown gravy forms. A covered pan or crock should be used for cooking this meat.

To Enforce the Curfew Law.
The Parent-Teacher association of Vernon school held its fifth meeting December 1. Miss Millard of the city library read an interesting and instructive paper on "The Responsibility of Parents Regarding Their Children's Reading."

Suitable books were suggested and all were urged to examine the exhibit of Christmas books at the Central and Albina libraries. The kindergarten under the auspices of the organization has an attendance of over 25 and many expressions of satisfaction have been received from the parents. As children are often found on the streets in the evening, without their parents it has been decided to make a special effort to have the curfew law enforced. Notices will be sent to the parents whose children are found on the streets, requesting them to help in this matter. More stringent measures will be resorted to if these notices from the association are not heeded.

UNIONISTS VICTIMS OF TOO MUCH BALFOUR

The indications are that the government coalition has increased its majority by at least one district over its representation in the last parliament. The present standing is: Conservatives 147, Liberals 106, Nationalists 24, Laborites 20.

William O'Brien and Maurice Healy were defeated today respectively by William Redmond and A. Roche, in County Cork. This is a net loss of one seat to the Nationalists in parliament.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Dec. 7.—Reports reached the sheriff's office today that a man named Parmenter, living on a ranch at Panther lake, near O'Brien, was shot in the leg and seriously injured late last night by his son-in-law, Harry Russ. Russ, it is said, took to the hills. Sheriff Hodge and deputies are scouring the country for him. The cause of the quarrel has not been learned. Deputy Sheriff Freeman received the word and hurried to the ranch to find Russ gone and Parmenter in a serious condition. Parmenter was hurried to a hospital in Kent.

For Hair and Scalp

To prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove dandruff, allay itching and irritation, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, are usually effective when other methods fail. In preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, in preventing minor eruptions from becoming chronic, and in the treatment of torturing, disfiguring humors, rashes, itchings and inflammations, from infancy to age, these pure, sweet and gentle emollients have no rivals.
