There is a controversy among potato interests as to the probable range of prices and the needs of the trade that esembles in many particulars the season of 1908-9.

On March 1, 1909, it was estimated by some interests that there remained 1, 200,000 bags of potatoes in California while others were positive that less than half of this amount could be gathered together in the southern commonwealth. This season it was stated by Sam Broaddus, the well known potato dealer, that there was a short time ago in round numbers some 800,000 sacks of river potatoes available for market. This is dealed at this time by other parties. For instance, J. H. Grande, formerly located here, he a buyer of potatoes for California account, bays there are a million hags today available, along the rivers.

J. H. Grande Says California Great Scarcity of Offerings Recent Weakness in Livestock Are Paying More Money to Club Is Quoted From 81 to 82c Followed by Cut in Values; Good Stuff Around 10 1-2c During the Day.

Dressed hogs are showing weakness along Front street and the price is safely a half cent a pound lower than formerly. This is due to the recent drop in prices in the livestock market.

Best dressed hogs are generally quoted around 10 %c along Front street, but heavy stuff generally sells from 1 to 1%c a pound lower than this.

Dressed veal market is in good condition and prices are holding risidly at the top whenever quality is presented. Receipts of veal are rather limited and therefore the trade is taking ear offerings upon arrival.

Dressed goats continue to come to the Front street trade and for these there is only a limited call. Real good quality is in fair demand but there is so little of this offered that it can scarcely be considered as a market factor.

New York Dec. 7.—With the exception of a fractional loss in Gould stocks today there was a general advance in the list. The closing was severely higher for specialties after a steady president's message today and therefore reversed its opinion of yesterday by buying back what it sold then.

-London, however, viewed the message from the other point and American securities were irregular and generally lower today.

This season it was stated by Sam Broaddus the well known potato design, that there was a short time ago in round numbers some $00,000 sacks of river potatoes available for market. This is denied at this time by other parties. For instance, J. H. Receipts were light in the livestock

Receipts were light in the livestock market this morning. Total showing was 53 hogs, 85 cattle. 4 calves and 126 sheep besides 490 goats and 21 horses. Notwithstanding the sharp savance packers have been forced to pay for their hog supplies in the east, they are not bidding above 28 here and two tots not bidding above $8 here and two lots were sold this morning at that figure. One let averaged 186 pounds and the other 228 pounds; very good sizes.

One cow that came in a load from Condon sold at $8.25 today, a rather high figure in view of other sales. This animal was of exceedingly good quality and weighed 1980 pounds; an unusual size too. Other sales of cows were made during the morning at $2 to $4.50.

The market for sheep and lambs is holding practically the same as during recent days, one lot of lambs averaging 78 pounds selling up to $6.75.

Bushel Track Delivery and Bluestem From 84 to 85c; Farmers Holding Back.

Today's Government Report. Wheat-Winter, condition, 82.5 per cent, compared with 85.5 per cent year ago.

Wheat-Winter, acreage, 34,-485,000, compared with 33,482,000 a year ago, an increase of 1,002,-Rye-Condition, 92.6 per cent. Rye-Acreage, 2,135,000 acres.

Wheat is being bid higher on antici-pation and leading dealers announce quotations from $1c to $2c for club, $2c to $3c for fortyfold, and $4c to $5c for luestem, all basis track delivery. There is a firmer tone noted at interior points due to this condition, but dealers here say the advance is not at all justified by the roreign outlook. However, most of them are forced to quote the higher figures.

Sales of wheat are again fair, but there is a tendency among producers to hold back until after the new year. Flour situation shows no change. The orient is still buying in small lots and the same is true as regards the sales to Central and South America.

London Reports Continuation of Former Good Tone—
Pears Show Weakness.

Apple market prices abroad are being maintained at last week's figures, according to latest information coming from the other side of the Atlantic W. Dennis & Sons report the London situation under date of November 19, as follows:

"Since last we wrote you the situation, has undergone no change so far, as lox fruit of all descriptions is concerped. You may take it therefore thist all box fruit, whether from California, Orsgon, Wenatchee or Yakima, is selling at the same prices and under the same conditions as appeared in our last week's circular.

The class been however, a distinct movement made with respect to barrel fruit and especially of red barrel fruit. There has been however, a distinct movement made with respect to barrel fruit and especially of red barrel fruit. There has been however, a distinct movement made with respect to barrel fruit and especially of red barrel fruit. There has been however, and that he is not a fit person to have change of a school. Be asked my brother was beaten unreasonably. He was not simply whipped, or we would be within the mark in saying that a rise of about 1s $6 to 2s per barrel has been established this week.

Pears are however, not doing so well. There are plenty en the market. The weather is cold and this is reducing consumption."

Principal Wiley was one of the Oregon volunteers who went to the Philippines. He was very popular in the ipplnes. He was very popular in the army.

Assistant Superintendent Grout, of the city schools, says that no complaints have ever been made to the board concerning Mr. Wiley's conduct and that he is known as an efficient teacher. He had charge of the Shaver school before he went to Montzvilla. The Shaver school is attended by some of the most unruly pupils in the city but Mr. Wiley handled the situation there with satisfaction to the school board, says Mr. Grout.
