

PORTLAND FIRM TAKES BIG PRIZE AT DAIRY EXHIBIT

Annual Convention of Oregon
Dairymen's Association Is Great Success; All Officers
Are Re-elected.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Dec. 8.—The annual convention of the Oregon Dairymen's association met in Eugene this forenoon for a two days' session. This followed the first annual session of the Oregon Butter and Cheese-makers' association, which met in the Commercial club rooms here yesterday. This convention was attended by between 50 and 75 delegates from various parts of the state, and the day's program was very interesting, a number of papers on important questions being read and discussed.

The dairymen began coming in yesterday, and by the time the last train from the north had arrived late in the evening the city seemed to be fairly swarming with them. The hotels are all pretty well filled up with delegates, and some are being entertained by friends or relatives at private homes.

The committees from the Commercial club and Merchants' Protective association that had been appointed to arrange details of entertaining the visitors during their stay in the city have overlooked nothing. It seems to make the convention a success as far as their efforts count. Trolley rides, automobile trips and a banquet are some of the entertainment for the delegates.

Interesting Program.
The program of the convention is full of interest, with papers on important topics pertaining to the dairying industry by prominent men of the state. An attraction is the slaughter of a tubercular cow on each day of the convention, and a postmortem examination of the carcass by Dr. W. H. Lyle, state veterinarian. This feature promises to draw the attention of every delegate at the convention.

The sessions of the convention are being held in a large vacant room in the Dunn-Wilkins block on West Eighth street. In a warehouse adjoining the room is located the butter and cheese exhibits for which the largest list of prizes ever offered anywhere in the United States, except at a national scoring, is offered. There are many exhibitors of creamery butter, a few of dairy butter, and not a great many of cheese.

Awarding of Prizes.
Today's sessions of the convention opened at 10 a. m. with an address of welcome by D. E. Yoran, president of the Eugene Commercial club. He was responded to by Professor F. L. Kent of Corvallis, and several papers followed. This afternoon a business session will be held, other papers read, reports of committees will be heard, etc. Tomorrow's sessions will be devoted to addresses and discussions and in the afternoon the trolley and automobile rides will take place. The convention will adjourn in time for the delegates to take the 4:45 p. m. train north.

All the old officers were re-elected, as follows: A. H. Lea, Portland, president; W. H. Kent of Albany, vice president; C. Merrill, Portland, secretary.

Wins Valuable Prizes.
Prizes were awarded as follows: First display of butter and cheese—First creamery butter, $250 solid silver cup, given by the Vermont Farm Machine company; $100 cup, given by Rural Spirit, Portland; $25 cup, Pacific Homestead, Salem; $25 cup, given by Diamond Crystal Salt company; $25 cup, De Leval Dairy Supply company, Seattle; won by Sena Williams of the Hazelwood company, Portland.
Second, creamery butter—Silver cup given by Oregon Agriculturalist, Portland; won by V. H. Kent, Albany.
Third, creamery butter—Ten dollars in cash; won by F. W. Blum, Monmouth.
Fourth, creamery butter—Three barrels Whitney salt; won by R. L. McCurnsey of Portland.
Fifth, creamery butter—Two barrels Whitney salt; won by W. E. Peterson, Eugene.
First prize, American cheese—Solid silver cup, given by Monroe & Crissel, Portland; won by Tillamook Creamery company, Tillamook.
Second, American cheese—Fifteen dollars in cash, given by J. W. Bailey; won by Ben Lindh, Acme.
Third, American cheese—Ten dollars in cash, given by J. W. Bailey; won by Cloverleaf creamery, Tillamook.
Best display cream separators—Sharples Separator company, West Chester, Pa.

ELLEN TERRY AT HEILIG TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night, at the Heilig theatre, Portland lovers of art, as well as amusement seekers, will have the rare pleasure of greeting the woman who stands today as the greatest exponent of Shakespeare the world has known—Ellen Terry.

Her day has been a long one, but its brilliancy has never waned and no actress can today draw the crowded houses in London that Ellen Terry can. This will be Miss Terry's ninth American visit, and Portlanders will recall the wonderful Henry Irving-Ellen Terry engagement of some years ago.

On tomorrow night Miss Terry will portray some of her favorite roles, telling about them as she sees them, and thus "acting" them—making them live as only Terry can.

Among the heroines she will portray will be Portia, Rosalind, Beatrice and Viola.

MADERO'S RIGHT HAND MAN IS IN TROUBLE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 8.—Charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, Juan Sanchez Azcona, a Mexican revolutionist, today declared that the charge was trumped up in order to procure his return to Mexico to face punishment for insurrection.

Azcona admitted that he had political aspirations and added that if Francisco Madero were successful he would be secretary of state in the revolutionary government. Azcona declares that agents of President Diaz are attempting to force his return to Mexico. He says the insurgents are daily gaining victories, and eventually will overthrow Diaz.

Azcona is seeking a congressional inquiry into his case and Representative Wilson of Pennsylvania is endeavoring to bring the matter before congress in the shape of a demand for a general investigation of the methods of the state department with reference to the treatment of Mexican refugees.
