

ALL INVESTIGATE RECTOR'S RECORD

Bishop Scadding Inquires into Reports About Minister Coming West.

The reports from Philadelphia, Pa., that Rev. Charles W. Robinson, who has accepted a call to St. Paul's Episcopal church of Oregon City, was forced to resign the rectorship of the Episcopal church of Evangelists of Philadelphia...

"I am loath to believe the reports," declared Bishop Scadding this morning. "As the Rev. Mr. Robinson had been described to me by those who should know as a genial, able and upright minister...

It is possible that the young woman mentioned in the dispatches may have become excited and involuntarily exaggerated matters. It is also possible that the reports were exaggerated.

Whatever there may be to the matter, we will go to the bottom of it. We do not wish to have Rev. Mr. Robinson accept the rectorship of St. Paul's without thorough harmony between him and the parish.

Bishop Scadding declared that he would have an early meeting with the members of the vestry of the Oregon City church to discuss the matter.

A dispatch from Philadelphia says: "After being forced to resign from the rectorship of the Episcopal church of the Evangelists, Rev. Charles W. Robinson, brother of the bishop of Nevada, announced that he had accepted a call tendered him by St. Paul's Episcopal church of Oregon City, Oregon. He is to leave here next Tuesday for Portland."

The charges, which forced the resignation of Dr. Robinson from his local charge, were brought by Miss Elizabeth Skinner, a member of his parish. The young woman about one month ago declared that Dr. Robinson had asked her to marry him, but during the last few months his love had cooled considerably and she understood he was paying attention to another young woman.

Resignation Requested. "According to Miss Skinner, the rector had been attentive to her for the last nine years. After Miss Skinner made public her charges, Bishop McKay Smith of the Pennsylvania diocese, was asked to investigate with the result that Dr. Robinson's resignation was requested."

Dr. Robinson refused to discuss the charges, but declared that when he was ordained he gave his word to follow the instructions of his direct superior, the bishop. Under these circumstances he had no right to refuse to resign when Bishop Smith made the request, he said.

Both Dr. Robinson and Miss Skinner have warm followers among the members of the local parish and they have taken sides in the controversy. Many persons advised Dr. Robinson against tendering his resignation, declaring that notwithstanding his ordination oath, the resignation was equivalent to an acknowledgment of guilt.

Dr. Robinson is president of St. Martin's college of Philadelphia, a home and school for destitute boys. He had established a reputation as a particularly able worker among men and boys.

S. P. TRAIN WRECKED; BUT ONE MAN HURT

(Quoted From Local Wire.) San Luis Obispo, Cal., Dec. 12.—Southern Pacific train No. 1, which left Los Angeles at 8:15 o'clock last evening, is off the track eight miles north of Gaviota, and all traffic on the coast line will be held up at least until noon today.

The wreck, which occurred shortly before midnight, was due to spreading rails. Engineer Chapin brought the train to a sudden stop and undoubtedly saved many lives. With the exception of Conductor Lewis, no one was injured. Lewis was bruised and badly shaken up, but not seriously injured. He was taken to Santa Barbara.

Several Pullmans were left leaning at crazy angles against the walls of the cut in which the accident occurred. The Palo Alto high school rugby team, which lost the interscholastic championship to the Los Angeles high school Saturday, were returning on the wrecked train. During the morning the players donned their uniforms and entertained the passengers with an impromptu game.

LOOKS LIKE OPENING OF BOOM FOR HARMON (Published From Local Wire.) Washington, Dec. 12.—What Washington looks upon as the opening of the Harmon boom for the presidency, developed today when Representative Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, invited several to a luncheon with Harmon as the guest of honor. The luncheon was served in the Metropolitan club. Politics was the one subject discussed and Harmon, past and present, got thorough treatment. It was rumored that the representative was a candidate for the vice presidential nomination before the Denver convention.

HEARING ON OREGON SLOUGH DEC. 19

(Washington Bureau of the Journal.) Washington, Dec. 12.—The Oregon senators will have a hearing December 19 before the army engineers to urge favorable action on the Oregon Slough improvement, against which the engineers reported.

Senator Bourne has introduced a resolution to make the Siuslaw funds expended by local interests valid as a part of the agreement with the federal government for joint expenditure for improvement. The Siuslaw people contracted with Robert Wakefield for their share of the work. The language of the bill passed at the last session is interpreted by the war department as preventing the application of the local expenditures on the joint agreement.

WAS BRIGHAM YOUNG'S SEVENTEENTH WIFE

Salt Lake, Dec. 12.—Amelia Folsom Young, widow of the famous Mormon prophet and leader, Brigham Young, died at her home here yesterday. She was 72 years of age. Her death was caused by paralysis, with which she had suffered for three years.

Mrs. Young played an important part in the early history of Utah, and it was for her that Brigham Young built what is known as Amelia's Palace, one of the show places of Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Young was born in Buffalo, N. Y., August 23, 1838. Her father was William H. Folsom, who had joined the Mormon faith. He later moved to Nauvoo, Ill., where he was prominent in the affairs of the church. Later he moved his family to Utah, reaching Salt Lake when his daughter was 22 years of age. Amelia Folsom Young was Brigham Young's seventeenth wife, and is said to have been his favorite. Thirty-five years ago Brigham Young was the husband of 19 or 20 wives. Now all but two are dead.

Her first meeting with the church leader was when, as a child, she had seen him in her father's home in Illinois. Nearly 25 years later she met him again. They were married January 24, 1863, and a short time thereafter the construction of the palace was begun. Following the death of her husband in 1877 she sold the palace and later traveled in Europe. She is described as having been a most beautiful woman and one of the most brilliant in the early history of the state.

LOGGER MEETS DEATH IN TURBULENT STREAM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Sheridan, Or., Dec. 12.—Matt Erickson, an employe of the Sheridan Lumber company's logging camp near here, met death Saturday by drowning in Mill creek. The loggers were returning to work from the noon meal, one party going to the reservoir dam to turn on the water for sluicing down the logs, and the others to the woods a short distance below the dam. The water had been turned on and was coming down the creek with a rush as the second party was crossing the stream on logs and boulders. The men saw the flood coming and hastened to escape it, except Erickson, who either did not realize its force or was paralyzed from fright. The water struck him in such a manner as to spin him around like a top and then covered him completely. The men looked for him to rise, but nothing was again seen of him until his body was found four miles down the stream. His head and body were bruised by logs and boulders and no clothing was left on him but his boots.

He was about 30 years of age and came here from a Portland employment agency and was completing his first day's work for the company. He had no luggage and left nothing to show from where he came or clue as to friends or relatives. The body was cared for at the Myers undertaking parlors and will be buried at Polk county's expense, in which a county the drowning occurred.

Wanted for Virginia Murder. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chehalis, Wash., Dec. 12.—William McCallihan, aged about 30, is in the Lewis county jail, awaiting arrival of Clintonville, Va., authorities. McCallihan is wanted for killing a man named Harrison during a fight, shooting the latter with a revolver. For some time past McCallihan has been employed by Dr. William Botzer at Mayfield, in eastern Lewis county. Yesterday, accompanied by his wife, McCallihan came to Chehalis to attend a convention of Rebekah members. Sheriff Urquhart and Deputy Foster arrested him on the street today.

SAVE THIS Best Known Recipe for Kidney and Bladder Troubles. Go to any good drugist and get the following: Half ounce fluid extract Buchu; half ounce Muxar compound; six ounces of good pure gin; shake well each time and use in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time.

ADVERTISING THE GREAT KLAMATH COUNTRY

P. C. LAVEY & CO.'S LECTURERS, WITH PICTURE MACHINES TO ADVERTISE KLAMATH COUNTRY. Seated, from left to right: F. C. Lavey, A. P. Casey. Standing, left to right: J. E. Wherry, Thurman R. Hyde, C. H. Lavey, A. D. Reid.

To the Public

The firm of P. C. Lavey & Co. will within a few days start these machines and lecturers on a tour of the middle western and eastern states for the purpose of showing the people of those states that part of Oregon known as "The Klamath Country," and the Butte Valleys of California and the towns of Klamath Falls and Worden, Oregon, and Mount Hebron and Dorris, California. Our idea is to bring at least a trainload of homeseekers to this country when the tourist season again opens. We will have in all six machines and lecturers (three of the machines being shown here).

We firmly believe that the Klamath country is the great corner of this wonderful state, and we propose telling the people why, also how to get there. We have consistently worked for that part of Oregon for the last year and we have brought many families into the state.

While we will give our special attention to Klamath and her wonderful opportunities, we will talk about the whole state and its wonderful possibilities, and thus do our part to build up this great empire.

We have not and will not ask financial aid in this work from any commercial club or individual. P. C. Lavey & Co. will bear all the expense, and if we are the cause of helping other real estate firms to gain business we will be happy, because there is room in this great state for all of us.

If you have any particular photograph you would like to have us show, we will be glad to show same everywhere we go. You may label it yourself.

What we want in this state is smaller farms and more people on those farms.

We believe this to be a great work, and we are glad we are in the harness. This firm is progressive and aggressive and has just finished a wonderful year's business. The future looks bright and promises a greater year's business next year than this has been. Let's all cheer up and work together for a greater Oregon and do this without holding our hands out for contributions.

If you have any new ideas as to how this campaign should be carried on that you think will help us, we ask you to write us today. Mr. Lavey, president of this company, will lecture twice daily at Omaha, Neb., during the January Land Show.

—get ready to go Tomorrow. CHAPTER V. The maps for Wednesday's sale of lots at Morningside are ready! Thank goodness for that! They've been swamping us with inquiries and we are now ready to answer all questions. "How did you come to get such a gem of a piece?" asked an enthusiastic little Englishman yesterday. "Can I buy a row of lots before the sale starts?" inquired a wise old contractor. "How big are they?" "Can a man buy more than one?" That's the way they're firing the queries over the counter!
