Gives Mrs. Stella Atherton a Verdict for $485.36 Which She Lent Man.

Walling, a well known real estate man, as to money she says able lent him when he was "broke" about six years ago, a jury in the circuit court last night gave her a verdict for $485.86. This is the full amount she sued for, being $350 and interest. The case was tried in Judge Hamilton's department.

Much of the testimony which came out in a former trial in Judge Morrow's department was ruled out by Judge Hamilton, who would not allow Mrs. Atherton to tell much of the circumstances of her friendship with Walling, and would not allow Wailing's attorney to go into her history.

The claimant was denounced by Walling as an adventuress. He admitted knowing her in Pertiand in days when he was less prosperous, but denied that she lent him money to "eat on" and bought clething for him. She said Walling once gave her a note as ovidence of the debt, but when she gave it to him for renewal he kept it and gave none in return.

Mrs. Atherton said she met Walling in Missouri. Walling said she did not a letter of recommendation was placed in evidence in which he testified to her good qualities and said she worked for him is a restaurant in Kansas City. Walling admitted giving the recommendation, but said it was purely fiction. He wanted to help her out, he said. She also admitted that she never worked in a restaurant in Kansas City. In Judge Gatens' department of the circuit court a verdict was returned for $1157.75 and $150 attorney fees in the case of J. E. Martin against Frank A. Sweeney and Augustus Walker. This is the case in which hostilities between the attorneys were narrowly averted yesterday. Allen R. Joy, appearing for the defendants threatened to the defendants threatened t the attorneys were narrowly averted yesterday. Alien R Joy, appearing for the defendants, threatened to strike W. S.
