URGES STRICTER

State Warden Would Prevent Slaughter of Deer, Elk and Ducks.

Laws which would more stringently regulate the killing of deer, elk and sucks are urged by R. O. Stevenson, is tate game and forestry warden, in his cannual report just transmitted to the covernor and covering the operations of his department up to December 1. Warden Stevenson declares the open season on deer should be closed on October 1: instead of November 1, and he would also make the owner, or persons having charge of any dogs found oursuing deer, guilty of a misdeheanor. He says this would put a stop to running deer with dogs and then making the plea that the dogs had got beyond centrol.

"There is a widespread feeling, in which I join," says Stavenson, "that the present penalty providing for the killing of an elk, the most splendid of our same animals, is not sufficiently severe, and I would recommend that the aw be so amended that the unlawful tilling of any elk be punished by imprisonment."

prisonment."

Beaver has multiplied so rapidly in some localities that their depredations, have caused injury and annoyance, says the report. The warden says he believes it advisable to remove the protection for one year.

"The present limit on killing of ducks is not to exceed 35 in any consecutive seven days," says the warden. "This is too high. It permits a veritable slaughter of these splendid game fowls, and I carnestly was the limit be reduced to 25 in seven consecutive days and that no persons be permitted to have in his possession more than the killing limit at one time. I recommend further that it be lawful to sell ducks in the open market at any time when it is lawful to kill."

The summary of arrests during the year shows that a total of 286 cases were prosecuted and fines totaling $10,-035 levied. There were only seven acquitain and five cases dismissed. Six hunters were sent to jail.

MEETS OPPOSITION

Hopes of Unanimous Acceptance Held by Its Framers Are Fading.

There will be strong opposition to the passage of the proposed liquor traffic ordinance at the special meeting of the city council next Wednesday, although its framers had hopd to obtain unanimous consent of the councilmen for their measure. their measure. "You can make certain that the ordionce will be opposed in its present form," said Councilman F. E. Watkins, a member of the liquor license committee of the council, to Mayor Simon this morning. "For my part I think the special committee, appointed to draft the ordinance Ormace a mistake when they inserted an amendment permitting the safe of liquor in restaurants without means. I will insist that the words, with means, be included in the amendment."

with mean, so included in the amendment."

Wholesale druggists will also make a fight against the new ordinance, as under its previsions the license fee for these dispensers of liquor are raised considerably.

The clubs of the city are opposed to the amendment imposing a license fee of $300 a year on firem. Many of the smaller clubs cannot afford to pay that price and some of the clubs depend largely on the buffet receipts to defray the general operating expenses.

RIVAL YAMHILL COUNTY TOWNS BURY HATCHET

The thriving towns of Willamina and Sheridan, which for years have been the most violent rivals in Yammill county, have decided to bury the hatchet and will henceforth work together in peace and harmony. Realising that the energy heretofore expended in knooking can be put to much better tise boosting, the change in attitude was decided upon last night at a meeting of the Sheridan Commercial club, to which the members of the Willamina club had been invited. The response to the invitation was practically unanimous for 22 of the 23 members of the Willamina club visited their rivals and received the warm hand of welcome. It was a virtual love feast, and by the time the speeches were over and the meeting adjourned everybody present had voluntarily given his promise to boost for the whole community. Willamina and Sheridan included, and put old Yambill to the front. It was decided to work with main and might to hring in small settlers and make them feel welcome and satisfied.

Among the speakers was C. C. Chapman, manager of the Portland Commercial club, who is now touring western Oregon in the interest of the various clubs that belong to the Oregon Development league.

Hillsboro Council Busy.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Hillsboro, Or., Dec. 16. — The new city council has gotten down to hustness and prospects are good for a busy year in civic improvements. The mayor, H. T. Bagiey, read a lengthy message and made many recommendations. The business part of the city will probably receive attention first, the charter hav-ing been amended to admit of paving at the expense of private property.

SAY GOOD ROADS

"The people of southern Oregon are axious for the passings of the proposed ood roads law," said Dr. E. Barton good roads law," said Dr. E. Barton Pickie of Medford, while in Portland today. "They are particularly defirous that the convict labor bills be adopted. They believe that convicts could be worked to splendid advantage on the Crater Lake road. So far as the stateaid bill is concerned we do not take so much interest in that. While it will benefit some of the other counties in the state very probably lackson county is planning to issue a million dollars in road hullding bonds. We will have to
