OREGON PLANS BIG TIME FOR SCHOOLS

Interscholastic Track Athletes Will Be Given Touch of Real Varsity Life.

(Special Feature in The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Dec. 20.—It is now an assured fact that the University of Oregon will have an interscholastic track meet this year.

The entire meet will be held on Friday of junior week end, the preliminaries being started promptly at 9 o'clock in the morning and the finals at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Invitations will be extended to every school of importance on the Pacific coast and small schools with one or two athletes will be especially encouraged.

The customary gold, silver and bronze medals will be given to those who place in the meet. In addition to these numerous special trophies will be awarded.

In addition to the entertainments mentioned above, the visiting prep will have an opportunity of seeing Oregon's distinctive junior week end festival.

HERE'S ONE WAY TO GET YOUR NAME IN PRINT

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 20.—James J. Corbett admits that he is still out on a still hunt for a "hope of the white race" that is really a "hope."

"Everywhere I go I am continually facing this all too impressive fact that there are no really good heavyweights except Jack Johnson," said Corbett today.

Corbett's visit here is said to have been prompted by a desire to box a few rounds with Carl Morris, Oklahoma's "hope."

O. A. C. BASKETBALL WILL START FEB. 16

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Dec. 20.—That the basketball schedule of the Oregon Agricultural college will contain games with every college represented in the Pacific Northwest conference except the University of Oregon, was the announcement made by Graduate Manager Cox yesterday afternoon.

In explanation of its withdrawal from the conference basketball schedule this season, the O. A. C. management has stated that its action was taken purely on account of the financial undesirability of the conference schedule which provides for trips which frequently involve large monetary losses.

HARVARD WISHES JONES FOR COACH

Big College Asks Portland Man to Teach Baseball; Diamond Yarns.

Flaider Jones, former leader of the world's champion Chicago White Sox of 1906, has been offered the position of professional coach for the Harvard university baseball team next spring.

There is more of a desire on the part of college teams to procure well known professionals to coach their teams. Yale for several years has had Billy Lush teaching baseball.

"In my bush league days," says Larry McLean, the old Portland catcher, "I spent a brief season with a club whose manager meant well, but was handicapped by lack of the coin."

"This manager had his own method of paying off the men. Whenever there was any money at hand, he would take up an alphabetical list of the boys and start down the line, paying as far as the money lasted."

What Cleveland Says. Roger Peckinpah, the young shortstop on Cleveland's list, is said to go to the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, according to the scribbles up in Naptown.

Girls as Socialists. From the New York World. When Mrs. Jessica Garretson Finch addressed the Socialist party mass meeting in Carnegie hall recently and declared that the right principles of socialism should be taught in every public school it caused a thrill of surprise to some who knew just who Mrs. Finch was.

Among the patrons and references are Joseph H. Choate, Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin, Miss Dorothy Whitney, Miss Marie Winthrop, Mrs. W. H. Moore, George H. Warren, Miss Katherine Tweed and a plentiful supply of wealthy and prominent people throughout the United States.

COMING OF BRITON STIRS AMERICANS

Conley and Coulton Ready to Take on Digger Stanley With Padded Mitts.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Merely the announcement of the coming of Digger Stanley, greatest little fighter England has turned out in many years, we are told, has stimulated the American bantamweight fighters to a remarkable degree.

Already the bantams a busy brigade at all times, are showing a feverish haste to brush themselves up and put their best foot forward in order that they may be among those slated for an early chance at repelling the invader.

The presence of these youngsters creates no end of interest in this part of the country in the invasion of Digger, as a matter of elimination it may be stated that already the Coulton boy and the Conley lad are slated for a ripping contest of 20 rounds somewhere in the near future.
