Mr. S. P. Mackey, of the firm of Knapp & Mackey, who has rooms in the Board of Trade building, returned from Newport on Friday evening last, where he closed a deal for 640 acres of land, just a little north of Nye creek, with three and one-half miles of shore frontage. This land will be deeded to the Agate Beach Land company, of which Mr. Mackey has been elected president. S. G. Irvin of Newport, vice president, and P. A. Knapp, secretary and treasurer. The new company already has surveyors in the field laying out streets and platting about 150 acres into lots and tracts, that will be put on the market in the near future. There are two recent railroad surveys the entire length of the property and the company feels sure work will be started very soon on one or the other of them.

$5000 RAISED FOR RED CROSS SEALS

Amount Just Half of That Hoped for—Nation Gives Half Million.

At 6 o'clock last night booths for the sale of Red Cross seals in stores and business buildings were closed. The women who had been pushing the sales of Christmas seals all day left to give attention to their Christmas duties. The Red Cross seal campaign in Oregon was ended.

Helped from all over the United States show that this year the campaign in the battle against tuberculosis among the states succeeded in raising approximately $500,000 by the sales of their "little bolita's." This will support the national campaign during the year to come. It is a greater amount secured than in any previous year since the method of raising money by selling seals was adopted.

The campaign in Oregon, which waged with energy, did not meet with the response desired. Perhaps not more than $6000 was secured by the sales of seals. The women who have conducted the fight in behalf of the Visiting Nurse association had hoped to obtain $10,000 building fund for the year.

The amounts contributed by generous Portland people who realize the good done by means of the systematic campaign against consumption will go a long way toward supporting the work of the association during the year. Extensions of service among the poor that had been hoped for will not be realized, but those who have charge of the organization say that, nevertheless, lives will be saved and progress will be made.

Although booths for the sale of seals were closed last night it will be possible for those who wish to obtain the stamps during next week for use on New Year's greetings or gifts, to get them from the Red Cross office, 22 1/2 Third street, or by telephoning Miss Mabel Weider, Marshall 959.

CHILDREN ENJOY "FAIRLAND" DAYS

People's Institute Brings Happiness to Hundreds With Christmas Parties.

Possibly no one agent has made happy so many children and given so many of them their first glimpse of real Christmas cheer as has the People's Institute with its series of parties and its wonderful "Fairland."

Seven parties have been given, and the festivities began a week ago Friday, when the kindergarten of the institute had its tree laden with candles and gifts made by the children for their parents, who were invited to be present. The candy for this tree was furnished by the children of a private kindergarten, and these little people also came down as guests. The following day about 85 children of the Albina sewing school had their treat when there were refreshments dear to the childish heart, gifts for each, songs and a delightful Christmas story told by Mrs. Frank Ralley. The teachers, Miss Ada Dornbecker and Miss Hannah Connell, were in charge, assisted by Miss Dorothy Holbrook, Miss Ethel McKeercher, Miss Frances Gill, Miss Gladys Weider, Miss Inez Barrett and Miss Grace Dalrymple.

Kindergarten Entertained. Tuesday morning of last week the Albina kindergarten was given its tree, with candy and gifts supplied by friends. This was in charge of Miss Katherine Gilbert and Miss Bauman. Wednesday was set aside for the boys of the institute. Gamy story told by Mrs. Frank Ralley. The gifts were arranged in the form of a Christmas dumpling and had to be fished for. Assisting were Miss Clara Teal, Miss Mildred Rall, Mrs. George Reed and Mrs. Carl Knudson. Mrs. May Berner Schwab, accompanied by Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, sang. Thursday the children of Albina and the children of poor families with whom the institute comes in touch came to enjoy "Fairland." Refreshments were served and the Christmas Fairies delivered the gifts and danced about the tree.

The little housekeepers and the kitchen garden classes had their day Friday. They made the journey through "Fairland," enjoyed songs and recitations, wore merry refreshments and given boxes of candy. In charge were Miss Ethelwynne Harris, Miss Milla Weisinger, Miss Anita Burns, Miss Mildred Nichols, Mrs. Frank E. Kerr, Miss Cornelia Cook, Miss Frances Wilson, assisted by Mrs. George Reed, Mrs. Marion F. Dolph, Mrs. Chauncey Rose Winslow and Miss Louise Carey. Yesterday the sewing school was present, and the form of entertainment was similar to those of previous days. In charge were Miss Meta Buehner, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Violette Nichols, Miss Evelyn Wilson, Miss Isabella Gaud, Miss Grace Newhall, Miss Westworth, Miss Ruth Small, Miss Mabel Ransom and Mrs. John K. Kollock.

"Gym" is Transformed. The entire gymnasium had been transformed into a wonderful fairland. The room was a small forest of evergreens, and on the right of the entrance the first glimpse showed a room done in red with fireplace, stockings hung up and everything ready for Santa. The little girl was asleep in bed, but the other girls were awake waiting for him. The next scene was the roof of the house covered with snow, and Santa Claus, laden with presents, just going down the chimney. Beyond that was his sleigh and deer.

In the center of the room was a great Christmas tree and on the other side of the room was "Santa Land," where that jolly old soul makes his toys. His house was shown in miniature, all furnished with lights burning inside. It was standing on a beautiful snowy lawn, surrounded with many tiny trees with fairies everywhere. Here, too, was a wonderful grotto, the home of the fairy queen, showing that little lady on her throne surrounded by pages and subjects, and on the left of the entrance was a larger grotto where lived the five fairies, who danced and made the little guests happy with gifts.

The scheme of Fairland was beautifully conceived and carried out with wonderfully artistic effect. It is one of the most remarkable effects of the sort that has ever been arranged in the city, and it was well named "Fairland." It will remain at the institute for some portion of this week.

MAXIM HOTEL AND GRILL IS OPENED

Downtown District Receives Beautiful Addition in New Seventh Street Hostelry.

Portland received a new hotel this morning as her Christmas present, the Maxim, located on Seventh street, between Alder and Morrison, and operated by the Maxim Hotel & Grill company. The Maxim threw open its doors for the inspection of the public yesterday afternoon and hundreds of Portlanders filed into the neat grillroom on the ground floor for a closer inspection of the place, which is predicted to become one of the most popular family hotels and dining rooms of the downtown district.

The main dining room is finished in white and gold, cunning little mirrors being set into the pillars supporting the paneled ceiling and from which a thousand lights seem to be reflected. The ceiling is finished in small white squares, from each of which four chandelier lights are pendant. In the rear of the main room a raised platform will accommodate the orchestra, which will entertain the Maxim's guests at the Christmas dinner to be served today.

Around the walls convenient booths have been arranged for the use of dinner parties, or individuals who prefer the comfort of a high backed and padded bench to a chair in the center of the dining room. At the rear of the building a small dining room for the use of large private dinner parties has been prepared, and in which the decorators and artists have exhausted their ideas of neatness and beauty.

The hotel office is located to the left of the entrance to the grill. In the furnishings of upper rooms the same general effect of white and gold has been retained, making the Maxim one of the most pleasant small, family hotels in the city.

F. O. Blazier, who has had years of experience in the business of a caterer, will be the general manager of the business, while W. C. Messenger, recently from North Dakota, is president of the company. Mr. Blazier is well known in Portland. Before coming to this city he operated hotels at Lincoln, Neb., Sioux City, Iowa, and had charge of the well known American House at St. Louis, during the world's fair.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MICHAEL LILLIS HELD

The funeral of Michael Lillis, was conducted in the presence of a large gathering of friends at St. Lawrence church yesterday morning. Interment being at Mt. Calvary cemetery. Rev. Father J. C. Hughes sang a requiem high mass, soloes were rendered by Miss Dagmar Kelly and Miss May Brennan.

Mr. Lewis was a pioneer of Portland, having come to the city in 1878. Fellow pioneers banded the coffin with beautiful floral pieces. He is survived by a widow, one daughter and three sons.

TO ISSUE MORE BONDS FOR SCHOOL

This Must Be Done to Carry Out the Plans for the Lincoln High.

More bonds will have to be issued for the building of the proposed new Lincoln High school, or the plans of Architects Whitehouse & Foulhoux will have to be moderated to fit the $350,000 bond issue heretofore authorized by the people of the school district.

Bids for the new building were opened yesterday, and it was found that the lowest bid for the building complete, except plumbing and linoleum floor, was submitted by the Sound Construction company of Seattle, at $456,750. The lowest combination of bids for putting in the complete building was found to be $387,325. All bids have been referred to the building committee for tabulation and report.

The lowest bid for the building, exclusive of the heating, plastering, plumbing, glazing, painting and linoleum floors, was submitted by the Sogid Construction company at $387,011. Other bidders were Lewis A. Hicks of San Francisco, $349,000; Bingham & McClelland, $355,597; McInnes & Reed, $413,000, and Lamont & Walsh, $370,750.

J. F. Shea presented a bid of $14,332 for the plumbing, which was the lowest. Other proposals for this work were: Hassalo Engineering Co., $18,804; Jacobsen-De Temple Co., $16,500; Mulrhead & Burhard, $21,770; Williams & Beggis, $15,593. Other bids were:

Heating and ventilating—Hassalo Engineering Co., $47,543; J. F. Shea, $49,990; Kendall Heating Co., $49,534; Pacific Fire Extinguisher Co., $55,027; W. C. McPherson Co., $42,450.

Glazing—Central Door & Lumber Co., $7397; W. P. Fuller & Co., $5544. Painting and decorating—McClintock & Grocock, $7500; Sheehy Bros., $3790; Williamson & Bied, $7980.

Linoleum—J. Gevurtz & Sons, $5073; J. G. Mack & Co., $10,263; Meier & Frank, $5472; Olds, Wortman & King, $3163. The bid of Meier & Frank was rejected because it was not accompanied by a certified check.

EMPLOYES OF EILERS HAVE HOLIDAY PARTY

According to a long established custom, all of the employes of Eilers music house, including the delivery men, factory employes, porters, traveling salesmen and bookkeepers, were gathered together in the Eilers recital hall last night when Christmas was celebrated in typical German fashion. A large tree had been provided and the doors were closed from 6 until 8 o'clock for the purpose of enabling every one to be present. A large Christmas tree had been provided, which was decorated in approved fashion and loaded with suitable gifts, not only for the management to each employe, but also from employe to each other.

The festivities were attended by a number of managers and men from out of town points and numerous telegrams were received, including one from A. H. Eilers, treasurer of the firm, who about a month ago left for southern California for the benefit of his health, and whose telegram, announcing much improvement and his return by January 10, was received with evident pleasure.

A light luncheon was served and the occasion was particularly interesting by a special little musical program that had been prepared for the occasion. Appropriate selections were rendered, including several numbers on the pipe organ and vocal selections by the "collection department quartet," a special Christmas song having been composed by the musical members of the establishment.

POLICE KEEP EYE ON SALOONS; ENFORCE LAW

Orders were given yesterday afternoon to all patrolmen to order all saloons closed promptly at midnight and to see that all cafes served no drinks after the hour of 12.

In addition to that Captain Bailey instructed the officers to take heed of the fact that it was Christmas eve and if they found a few "over tanked" men on the streets to let them pass if they were not annoying other people. Hence, there are a number of men who are today enjoying Christmas from the outside of the "Cox hotel" instead of being registered there.

However, a number of these celebrators could not contain themselves to the extent of minding their own business and they had a ride in the wagon. But the Christmas feeling prevails at the police headquarters and many of the men arrested last night were released early this morning.

NEW SWISS HALL DEDICATED WITH MUSICAL PROGRAM

Building on Third Street Result of Many Months of Work on Part of Swiss Residents.

Dedication of the Swiss hall, Third street near Jefferson, took place December 23, under auspicious circumstances. An excellent program, consisting of orchestra music and singing by the Tyrolian quartet, the Helvetia singing club, the Arion male chorus and the mixed chorus Portland Turn Verein, and a number of addresses were rendered and then followed dancing.

The speakers for the evening were Adolf Rieder, Gus C. Moser, Charles Urfer and Consul Charles Bircher. H. S. Hafner read a poem written for the occasion by Van B. Gloor. For the closing number the united choruses sang Von Kreutzer's "Das ist der Tag des Herrn."

The souvenir program printed for the occasion gives a historical review of the building from the time the Swiss residents in Portland held their first meeting with that purpose in view. That was on April 12, 1908, under the auspices of the Portland "Grutli Verein," when Herman Schaffner was elected temporary president and Albin C. Bigger secretary. At that meeting it was decided to organize and incorporate and sell stock at $25 a share. June 30, the same year, the first stockholders' meeting was held and July 5 the articles of incorporation were filed. A large tree had been provided and the doors were closed from 6 until 8 o'clock for the purpose of enabling every one to be present. A large Christmas tree had been provided, which was decorated in approved fashion and loaded with suitable gifts, not only for the management to each employe, but also from employe to each other.

The contract for the construction of the building, a two story brick and stone, was let to Emil Krattiger, who, for that reason, resigned from the board of directors, and his place was filled by the election of Henry Pfister. The contract was let April 25, this year, for

A Merry Christmas

To Our Thousands of Customers and Many Thanks

To the friends who, by good words and constant "boonings" have been the means of making this our ninth year in business, the greatest of all.

When, on September 1, 1901, we opened our little jewelry store to a generous public, we were long on enthusiasm, but short on experience. By careful manipulation, however, we were able to make a fairly good showing in the one window we called our own and we soon learned that a large stock of honest and painstaking effort made up for what we lacked in assortment. Our trade grew accordingly each week, each month, each year—a growth in nine years from the smallest to the largest Jewelry Store in Portland.

To those who have so kindly sent their friends to us we are more than grateful. These new customers will always receive the best treatment in our power. If we fail to please them it will be because we don't know how—not because we haven't tried.
