Endget Carries $3,114,000-The school committee of the civic council has been called to meet this afternoon. A plan of action to be followed by the council at the taxpayers' meeting in Lincoln high school tomorrow evening will be out-lined, it is announced. The school board's budget of 32,114,000, the increase of salaries paid to teachers, the build-ing of additional school and play ground facilities are all to be features of the meeting tomorrow evening. The pro-posed 10 per cent increase for teachers is to be hotly contested, according to reports that have been brought to the school board and to officers of the civic council. The reports brought to the board state that the civic council disapproves the increases; the statement made to officers of the civic council is that taxpayers who disapprove higher salaries for teachers have organized opposition.

To Build New Church-Rev. H. C. Shaffer, superintendent of the United Brethren church for the district of Oregon, returned yesterday from Scattle where he reported the organization of a new church. A lot has been pur-chased at a cost of $15,000 and a building is to be crected worth from $40,000 to $45,000. Rev. Mr. Shaffer reports that during the past year the United Brethren church in the district of Oregon, including western Oregon and Washington and a part of eastern Ore-the near future. The school numbered but 70 pupils in 1905, after 23 years of existence, but gines that time a new building has been erected, and at pres-ont the registration is 190, an increase of nearly 200 per cent in two years.

A bounteous turkey and Christ-mas dinner was served Sunday which was enjoyed by 44 children, several of the former charges of the home having returned to be present. Last night a thristmas tree, loaded with presents, was enjoyed, followed by a literary pro-to who attended the exercises.

Gets Cold Feet-Proprietor Turnbull of the Grand Avenue Drug company feels he made a mistake when he hired feels he made a mistake when he hired John Carlson for a watchman. Sergeant Joe Keller reported that he saw a man with a gun in the back room of the store about midnight last night turning the lights off and on. The officer watched the door for four hours, at-tempting to open the door, but finally being unable to do so, he sent for Turn-bull. The proprietor stated that he had hired the man as a watchman, and when Carlson was called to explain why he did not open the door he stated that he was afraid.

Petitions in Bankruptoy-Petitions in bankruptoy have been filed in the United States court by J. E. Moltzner of Portland and W. A. Finnell of Pendleton. Mrs. Moltaner is a milliner, and says she owes $389 on accounts. She says she has but $50 worth of clothes, and Pandleton, says he owes $1571, and has only the furnishing of his home, worth $250 and clothing worth $75. He says he has young children to support, and asks that he be allowed to keep his furniture and tools.

Will Recover-John Webb, the aged insane inmate of the Gillespie sanitar-ium at Montavilla, who jumped from the third story window of the sanitar-ium yesterday and broke both legs, has a fair chance to recover, according to the surgeon's report. Webb was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where he is being treated. It was at first feared that he had sentained internal intiries year, and our capacity can easily be in-that he had sustained internal injuries which would probably be fatal.

Charles H. Boynton, secretary of the Elma, Wash, Commercial club, secre-tary of the Elma Canning company and publisher of the Elma Chronicle, is in Portland today on husiness. Mr. Boynton says the fruit cannery

Mr. Boynton says the fruit cannery that was started at Elma last year with the purpose of inducing five and ten acre farming, is a fine success. "Every-body predicted several hundred dollars would be lost in getting started," said Mr. Boynton. "Instead, we ran nearly even the first year, and indications are that the cannerv will grow to a big proposition. Elma, in the Chehalis val-iey, is in the midst of a country espe-cially well adapted to the growing of berrice, beans and all kinds of vege-tables, as well as pears, plums and "I have in my office raspberries picked just before I left, and in Novem-ber we had strawberries. It is a great dairy district, because the cattle graze all the year round. It is a very common thing for us to raise 125 bushels of oats to the acre.

"Cleared valley land is worth from no other property. Finnell, who lives in $100 to $200 an acre, but hill land, Pandleton, says he owes $1571, and has logged off, may be had for $15 an acre, and this hill is the finest seen anywhere for befry raising. "We will have a much greater output the coming summer, and the people are now convinced that the cannery is a success, and that there is a big demand for the product. We could have sold 10 the greater is a sold and sold 10 times the quantity produced last

SEATS FOR CONCERT

ON SALE TOMORROW

Tomorrow morning the sale of scats pens for the Tetrazzini concert at the Heilig theatre Friday night, December 30, under the direction of Lois Steers-Wynn Coman. The great singer comes to Portland fresh from the most extra-ordinary ovation that has ever been accorded a singer. Among the musical clientele of this city the most intense curiosity has seen expressed to hear and see the wonderful singer that can draw an audience of 70,000 people to an open air concert, as Tetrazzini did last Sat-urday night in San Francisco. After receiving the highest prices ever given a grand opera singer, and still drawing thousands each of the three nights she sang in San Francisco, many thousands more being turned away, she had the grace to sing on the streets of San Francisco for the benefit of all the people who could not afford the high prices customarily given her. Such an act of beneficence and enchanting courtesy has made her a hundredfold more the idol of the populace. No other prima donna in the world probably would risk the danger of catching cold in the night air. It is an act that will be remembered to the last hour of their
