HAPPY NEW YEAR! Another lap run in the great race with a fine straight-a-way course ahead for 1911 and good resolutions galore to help on the way. Of course if one must have New Year one must make resolutions, and keep them for a while, too, that is part of it; but it is a wise little society woman who said she never bothered with resolutions on New Year's because every minute was really a new beginning and she had plenty of time to make them all the year round, and a better chance to keep them when she remembered about the subjects.

Many changes have been wrought in the world of society the past year. Interesting new names have been added to the lists, numbers of prominent marriages have taken place and debutantes have made their bows. Just as many changes will take place the coming year and it would probably not be far wrong to predict an unusually brilliant season—at least the society editor hopes so.

Marked by simplicity in all its details, the wedding of Miss Kathleen Burns and Thomas Robertson was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at half past four in Trinity Episcopal church by Dr. A. A. Morrison. The church decorations remained as they had been for the Christmas services. The bride was unattended. She wore a stunning suit of sapphire blue with handsome collar of white fox fur and a black hat with white feathers. Her flowers were lilies of the valley. George Warren acted as groomsmen. Only connections of the two families and a very few of the most intimate friends were invited to the wedding or the reception which followed at the Burns home. The wedding is of unusual interest because of the prominent families brought in closer touch through it. Both Mr. and Mrs. Robertson come of pioneer stock and included in their family membership are the Corbetts, Fallings, Lewises, Wisons, Penders, Gilsans and Couches. Mrs. Robertson is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter John Burns. The other children are Miss Georgiana Burns, Miss Anita Burns, Mrs. Lee Hanson Hoffman (Miss Caroline Burns), Miss Louise Burns and Jack Burns. After finishing at Farmington, Mrs. Robertson spent considerable time in foreign travel. She is a great student and remarkably clever. Mr. Robertson made an interesting tour of the world a couple of years ago with George Warren. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robertson and a brother of Miss Nan Robertson, Miss Mary Robertson and Miss Robert Robertson. Mr. Robertson is secretary of the Multnomah mohair mills and in club circles is identified with the Waverly Golf club and the Portland Rowing club. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will return about the middle of this month from their wedding journey and will then have their own establishment.

MISS GLADYS D. MACK.

MISS MABEL WEDD.

Two delightful Christmas "egg-nog" parties were the courtesies extended by Mr. and Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux to a number of their friends on Christmas day Monday. The Christmas spirit prevailed in the decorations of the rooms, which were brilliant with holly, poinsettia and pine. Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd assisted the hostess. On Sunday, Mrs. Foulhoux was wearing a striking French house gown in violet shades of pale silk with a corsage bouquet of violets. Monday her gown was fashioned of white satin elaborated with trimmings of silver lace. Asked to enjoy the Foulhoux hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Erskin Wood (Miss Rebecca Baird Biddle), Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Bradley (Miss Margaret Walter), Captain and Mrs. William S. Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Owen (Miss Lettia Lane Shelby), Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Hoffman (Miss Caroline Burns), Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio G. Labbe (Miss Winnifred Loomis), Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Evelyn Wilson, Miss Jean Mackenzie, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Claire Houghton, Miss Mary Livingston, Miss Catlin, Miss Isabelle Gault, Kirk Smith, Gerald E. Beebe, Walter B. Beebe, William D. Wheelwright, Seton Taylor, Harry Montgomery, Hamilton Corbett, Frederick Foster, Henri Labbe and Leland Smith.

Miss Claire Houghton's tea Thursday for Miss Ise, Koehler was one of the prettiest of the many attractive teas on the calendar for the week. Christmas suggestions were carried out in the decorations of the living room and in the dining room the table was bright with red carnations and candles shaded in red. Presiding here were Mrs. David Taylor Honeyman and Mrs. Joseph Bradley (Miss Margaret Walter), who poured tea, and Mrs. Henry L. Corbett and Mrs. Lee Taylor Hoffman (Miss Caroline Burns), who poured chocolate. Mrs. Henry Failing (Miss Aveline Webster) served ices. Floating about the rooms were Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Jean Mackenzie, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Isabelle Gault, Miss Dorothy Effinger, Mrs. Marion F. Dolph, Miss Dorothy Wilson, Miss Nan Robertson, Mrs. Robert Howard, Jr., Mrs. Wilson Clarke and Miss Olga von Bestnon. Miss Houghton were an attractive gown in dewdrop effect over blue with touches of fur, and Miss Koehler was in elaborate white lingerie.

Miss Alice Forbes was the honored guest at a "90" afternoon given Thursday by Miss Mary Dunn. Three tables were played, with Mrs. James Alexander Ellis as the successful contestant. Miss Elizabeth Stewart assisted the hostess. Mrs. Ellis is entertaining on Tuesday for Miss Forbes and yesterday Miss Frances King and Miss Queenie King entertained in her honor with a luncheon at the Portland followed by a matinee party at the Orpheum when their guests were Mrs. Berwick Bruce Wood (Miss Alice Howes), Miss Jeanette Thomas, Miss Mary Dunn, Mrs. James Alexander Ellis and Mrs. W. C. Silvertooth, of Antelope, Or.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Irvine, 742 Broadway, announce the marriage of their daughter, Edna, to Thomas S. McGrath on Christmas day at 4:30 o'clock. The wedding was solemnized in the New England congregational church, Delaware place, Chicago, by Rev. Percival Marston, a university friend of Mr. McGrath. For the present Mr. and Mrs. McGrath will make their home in Chicago, where they are domiciled at the Blackstone until they go into their own apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin observed the passing of the old year and the coming of the new with a bridge evening followed by supper. Their guest list included Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Skene, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Major and Mrs. Jay J. Morrow, Commander and Mrs. J. M. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Warren Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot, Major and Mrs. James Canby, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson Forbes and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Meers.

Mrs. Frederick N. Pendleton asked friends in Friday for an informal afternoon at bridge to meet Miss Young, Miss Mary Young and Miss Susie Young, of Danlison, Conn. Three tables of bridge were enjoyed and three or four guests dropped in later for tea. The living room was bright with the first daffodils of the season and in the dining room poinsettia were used. Mrs. William H. Skene poured. Favours were awarded at each table to Miss May Young, Mrs. B. C. Ball and Miss Susie Young. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Pendleton's hospitality were the Misses Young, Mrs. John Eben Young, Mrs. B. C. Ball, Mrs. John Eben Young, Mrs. C. J. Reed, Mrs. Morton H. Insley, Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mrs. William H. Skene, Mrs. E. C. Meers, Miss Ella Stephens, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell and Mrs. James S. Sennott. Yesterday Mrs. C. J. Reed telephoned a few friends to enjoy the afternoon in compliment to the Misses Young.

Mrs. N. E. Ayer and Mrs. Florence G. Minott entertained with a dancing party Tuesday night for Miss Margaret Ayer and Joseph Minott at New Swedish hall on Irving. Christmas decorations were used about the hall and on the tables. Miss Lucile Hall assisted. The guests included the members of Miss Hall's Friday night dancing class with additional guests, making about 100 who enjoyed the evening with the young hosts.

Miss Lucile Hall was hostess at a pretty and interesting tea Thursday when her honor guests were Mrs. John Percival Allen of Keokuk, Iowa, the guest of the Frederick P. Moreys; Mrs. Clyde Hixon Reade of Tacoma, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frederick White, and Mrs. Walter H. Mathewson, who is leaving soon for Misson, B. C. Presiding in the dining room were Mrs. Frank Branch Riley, Mrs. Otis B. Wright, Mrs. C. Edward Grelle and Mrs. Richard Holder. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Frederick P. Morey and Mrs. Lloyd Wentworth.

Miss Hazel Dolph returned from the east Christmas evening. Miss Dolph has been away from Portland for seven months and her return is indeed welcome. With her mother, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Miss Dolph spent five months abroad. In interesting travel, and since her return has remained in New York for a couple of months.

Mrs. J. C. Robinson entertained very informally Friday, when she invited a few intimate friends of Mrs. Walter H. Mathewson and Mrs. John P. Ames to play bridge. It was a farewell to Mrs. Mathewson, who leaves soon for Misson, B. C., and a greeting to Mrs. Ames, a sister of Everett H. Ames, who at one time made her home in Portland. Mrs. Ames, who arrived Thursday from California, where she has been visiting relatives, leaves tomorrow for her home in Cleveland. She is accompanied by Miss Elsie Ames, of California, who will spend the winter with her in the east.

Mrs. Daniel Andrew Shindler and her mother, Mrs. J. H. Page, are observing New Year's day tomorrow and are receiving their friends after 4 o'clock.

Miss Marguerite Hume entertained informally at bridge Wednesday for her guest, Miss Frances Mills, and Miss Elizabeth Roberts, the house guest of Miss Lucile Parker. Card honors were captured by Miss Hazelton Williams. Those who enjoyed the game were Miss Muriel Williams, Miss Shanna Cunningham, Miss Gladys Koefler, Miss Angela Kinney, Miss Ise Koehler, Miss Barbara Crocker, Mrs. Wilson Clark, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Ada Burke, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Helen Harmon and Miss Lucile Parker. Dropping in later in the afternoon for tea were Miss Dorothy Holbrook, Miss Leslie Webber, Miss Milla Westinger, Mrs. Frank G. Owen (Miss Lettia Lane Shelby), Miss Louise Carey and Miss Jean Mackenzie.

Mrs. James Canby will entertain at bridge Friday.

Hamilton Corbett, who is home from Harvard for the holidays, was host at an informal dinner party Thursday evening at the handsome Corbett home on Fifth street. The table decorations were suggestive of the season and places were marked for seven.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood were hosts at an informal Christmas dinner when their guests were Mr. and Mrs. John G. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Hanley, of Burns, Or., William D. Wheelwright and James McJ. Wood.

Guests in the city, whose visit promises to be the incentive for a round of entertaining, are the sisters of John Eben Young, Miss Young, Miss May Young and Miss Susie Young, of Danlison, Conn. The Misses Young arrived in time for the holiday festivities and the past week a number of smart affairs have been given in their honor. They will remain at least a couple of months.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot will be hosts at a reception on Friday, January 6, at the rectory, 140 East Twelfth street. No invitations and the hours are from 4 to 6 and 8 to 10.

Mrs. Herbert Holman was the guest at an attractive bridge luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. W. J. Van Schuyver and Miss Helen Van Schuyver. The luncheon-table was centered with a huge brown basket filled with narcissus and daffodils. Over the cloth were strewn violets and several vases of the same fragrant flowers further adorned the table, over which was the mellow glow from numbers of candles with their yellow shades. Circling the table were 14 guests. Mrs. George Shalk fell the prize at bridge. The affair was a pretty farewell to Mrs. Holman who leaves on the 15th of January for her European trip.

An interesting Christmas party was the family reunion of General and Mrs. Thomas M. Anderson at the home of the daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gault on Everett street. Captain Thomas M. Anderson, Jr., who is stationed in Manila, was the only member of the family absent. Captain Gault entertained with their two children, from Seattle were down and Mrs. J. W. Cairns of Manila, completed the party. Mrs. Cairns will spend the remainder of the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Gault.

The largest and smartest number of Portland people who have ever attended the dances at the Barracks, went over last night for the mask New Year's dance. Among the many interesting parties was the one Miss Lillian O'Brien took over in the O'Brien's private car. Her guests were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Matson, Miss Mabel Hart, Miss Angela Kinney, Miss Milla Westinger, Hawthorne Dent, Chester G. Murphy, Seton Taylor and Frank Stewart.

Miss Louise Woolsey, who is spending the winter in Tacoma with Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Alexander, had as her guest last week Miss Isabelle Gault. Miss Gault went up especially for the assembly dance Wednesday evening. In Miss Gault's honor Mrs. Alexander and Miss Woolsey entertained Wednesday evening at dinner when covers were laid for eight.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Kerr were hosts at a Christmas dinner Monday in their Portland Heights home on Chapman street. In the center of the table was a miniature Christmas tree and Santa Claus in his sleigh laden with favors for the 16 guests.

Interest in a large circle centered about the annual New Year's dance given by the Concordia club at the attractive club house. A cotillion opened the dancing for the evening. Supper was served at 12. An interesting feature of the evening was the formal presentation to society of Miss Ruth Siebel, the attractive daughter of Senator and Mrs. Sigmund Siebel.

Secretary of the Barior Richard A. Ballinger and Mrs. Ballinger are playing an important part in the social life of the capital this season and they are planning to be hosts at a number of important events. Possibly the most interesting is the dinner which they will give Friday, February 3, in compliment to Miss Helen Taylor. New Year's day they will give a big reception at Stoneleigh Court when they will be assisted by Mrs. William E. Humphrey and Mrs. Thomas Burke. On Thursday, January 26, they will entertain at dinner in compliment to the diplomatic corps and prominent government officials.

Lucile Parker gave an informal at home Tuesday for their guest, Miss Elizabeth Roberts. Miss Roberts is leaving for her home in Wantock, Wis., tomorrow, but she is expected to return and spend the Easter holidays with the Misses Parker.

Miss Frances Mills, the guest of Miss Marguerite Hume, was the inspiration for two informal bridge parties last week, one given on Thursday by Mrs. Norman Pease and the other on Friday by Miss Ada Burke. Two tables were played both afternoons and at both affairs Miss Hume won the prize at cards.

The Misses Mildred and Lillian Morgan, who are spending their vacation in Chicago as the guests of Miss Dorothy Bour, a National Park seminary friend, are the recipients of much social attention. Last Friday week they were complimented by their hostesses with a bridge afternoon when eight tables were played and Richmond, Miss Bour and a number of young women formed a house party at the home of Miss Florence Lindsay, in Manchester, Iowa. Tuesday, Miss Helen Howell gave a luncheon for the National Park seminary crowd and shortly after Miss Elizabeth Kreis will have a house party of the same set, and a luncheon given by Miss Ruth Carroll was an event of Wednesday. Robert Deleware had a dinner for eight Friday preceding a cotillion at the Woodlawn club and still another dinner in honor of the Misses Morgan given by Miss Ruth Carroll and Miss Dorothy Bour at the South Shore country club last night.

Miss Myrtle Schaefer entertained with a seven table bridge party Friday evening at her home in Washington. The house was attractively decorated with red carnations, holly and greens. The guests for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Norman Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. George McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Latourrette, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sargent, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Matson, Dr. and Mrs. George Peters, Miss Leslie Leadbetter, Miss Irene Higgins, Miss Helen Wentworth, Miss Marie Howell, Miss Vivian Holmes, Miss Persis Sargent, Miss Harriet Jacobson, Albert Wakeman, James Alexander, George Sallor, Merrill Moores, Gordon Moores, John Latourrette, Leo Hahn, Craig McMicken and Mr. Harrison.

Mrs. Carl Knudsen is entertaining at bridge on Tuesday for Mrs. W. C. Knighton who leaves soon after for the south.

The top picture reproduced on today's society page is of Miss Gladys Mack, a talented and charming young pianist, who has spent considerable time abroad perfecting her art. At Mrs. Paul A. Trullinger's dancing party Thursday Miss Mack played two wonderfully brilliant selections. The lower picture is of Miss Mabel Wedd, who is entertaining tomorrow with an elaborate reception in honor of Miss Nellie Flake, from Texas.

Miss Elizabeth Dunbar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Dunbar, entertained on Tuesday for Miss Angela Kinney. Tuesday in honor of her third birthday. The little guests were Miss Cynthia Scott, Miss Margie Harmon, Miss Jane Holbrook, Miss Elizabeth Potter and Miss Maureen O'Connor.

Mrs. H. B. Adams was hostess at a small tea Wednesday complimenting Miss Bertha Masters, who is home from Stanford for the holidays. Decorations were in accord with the season and the tea table was graced with red and white carnations combined with Oregon grape. Assisting the hostess were Miss Eva Graves, Miss Jessie Purley, Miss Norma Graves, Miss Hazel Binkley, Miss Helen McFall, Miss Louise Manning and Miss Catlin of Salem. During the afternoon Miss Clara Howell sang a beautiful group of songs and the Misses Graves rendered a number of charming piano solos.

Mrs. G. G. Wold and the Misses Wold will observe New Year's as usual and receive their friends today at their home, 789 1/2 East Yamhill. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roscoe Boyer (Miss Gaeta Ivorda Wold) and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Irving Wold of Washington, D. C.

The first Christmas tree ever enjoyed in Portland by the Royal Arcanum was on Monday in the lodge room of the Multnomah council. Vice Regent A. L. Tetu was an ideal Santa Claus and made all merry and happy in the distribution of the presents. Every one received some remembrance but most of them were of a nature to cause fun and laughter. After a musical program, together with recitations, Judge Earl C. Bronough, past president of Multnomah council, gave a pleasing and exceedingly interesting address on "Christmas Cheer." The evening's entertainment closed with an hour of dancing. The next dancing party will be given by the Arcanum will be at Christensen's hall on Thursday, January 5, 1911. The following members of Multnomah council will do the honors in the way of reception and floor committees: Harry P. Palmer, J. D. Leonard, H. J. Boyd, J. E. Bronough, H. K. Arnold, Dr. Charles F. Chamberlain, A. E. Clark, H. W. Fries, Oliver K. Jeffrey, S. G. Lathrop, A. M. Ellsworth, Dr. R. J. Marsh, Walter B. Warren, A. F. Swenson and William Whitfield.

The Chi Omega girls are enjoying a round of affairs in their set. Friday they enjoyed luncheon with recitations, Judge Earl C. Mrs. Paul A. Trullinger was hostess at a charming informal dancing party Thursday at the Oregon Yacht club. Poinsettia and Japanese lanterns decorated the clubhouse and the evening was a cotillion and not the least interesting feature of the afternoon was the character and interpretative dancing of Miss Jean Wold. Another delight was the playing of Miss Ruth D. Mack and the singing of Miss Cora Wold. Mrs. Trullinger was assisted in presiding by Miss Clara Wold and presiding at the favor table was Mrs. Robert Roscoe Boyer (Miss Gaeta Ivorda Wold).

The graduates of the Allen Preparatory school enjoyed a very delightful evening on Monday at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Allen. Students from western colleges, home for the holidays, had many pleasant experiences to relate and messages were received from former students in eastern institutions. The party given by the senior class of the Allen Preparatory school in Irvington hall on Wednesday was a very pretty affair. Many graduates of the school now in eastern and western colleges were present.

A San Francisco wedding of interest is that of Miss Clara B. Sutherland of Rochester, N. Y., and George J. Major of Portland, celebrated at the Palace hotel Tuesday. The service was read by Rev. George W. White of the First M. E. church of Oakland. Mr. Major is manager of the Fairbanks-Morse company of Portland, and after a honeymoon trip in the south Mr. and Mrs. Major will return to make their home here.

Monday, January 2, is the date of the marriage of Miss Jane Susan Hamilton, daughter of the Rev. William H. Hamilton, formerly of Chicago, but now of Grants Pass, Or., to Stanford Norman Osgood, son of Mrs. John Osgood of Chicago, at noon in Calvary church. A reception will follow at the residence of Dr. James C. Gill, 3445 West Monroe street.

The men's choir who sang at the midnight communion service at Trinity Episcopal church, Christmas eve, were entertained at the parish house from 10 to half past eleven by the women of the Altar guild. Among the women who were assisting were Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. Robert Wilson Forbes and Miss Dorothy Morrison.

W. H. S. Alumni entertained with a fancy dress dance Wednesday night in the E. B. Hall, Thirty-seventh and Hawthorne, for the members of the alumni who are home from college on their vacations. About 50 guests were present. The patronesses were Frau Bekker, Miss Cora Wold, Miss Hannah Schloth and Miss Caroline Bateson.

The P. J. Mann home for old ladies will be formally turned over to the trustees tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Any friends who are interested are invited to be present, although there will be a formal opening at a later date.

The telegraphic dispatch from Los Angeles announcing the marriage of Miss Rebecca Howard of Los Angeles and William C. Hay of Portland on Monday, was incorrect. The day chosen for the wedding is Tuesday, January 24.

Mrs. Lloyd Wickham entertained Friday with three tables of bridge, when card honors went to Mrs. Ray Matson. Cut flowers and ferns decorated the rooms.

Mrs. and Mrs. L. Gumbert of 666 Kearney will receive Sunday afternoon in honor of the engagement of their daughter Hilda to Ensign R. R. Smith, U. S. N.
