AT THE THEATRES

Alice Fleming Next Week. Not a little curiosity is aroused by the reappearance on the Baker stage of Alice Fleming, the former popular lead-ing woman, who so suddenly left the footlights a short time ago to marry a Portland business men. Miss Fleming will play one farewell week, opening next Sunday matinee in the leading role of "On Parole,"

"The Chinatown Trunk Mystery." "The Chinatown Trunk Mystery" comes to the Bungalow all next week, starting Sunday matines. Among the many oriental scenes, a reproduction of the New York police headquarters stands out in great relief. A vivid reproduc-tion of "the third degree" is sensational.

Road Show Next Week. Sullivan & Considine's road show No.

2 will come to the Grand next week, opening Monday afternoon. On the bill will be the Metropolitan minstrels, Stirling and Chapman, the Scotch singers; Howard and Truesdell in "A Corner in Hair," and other acts equally strong and

Show for Children. There is a great vaudeville show for children at the Grand. They will be delighted with the four Charleses in their wonderful spectacular transformation act. The program is filled with singers, dancers, comedians, acrobats, novelties and a tableid drams, "Types."

Illusionist at Pantages.

Canaris, the celebrated Freach illusionist, is appearing this week at Pantages in a series of his infmitable offerings. His feats are now and startling and caused a sensation throughout the east. Six other stellar acts are on the Next Week at Pantages. Toplined on the hill which opens a week's engagement at Pantages, commencing with Monday's matinee, will be Ray Thompson and his famous high school horse, Joe Bailey. The elever equine has been a big hit in vaudeville. following his appearance in the Buffulo

Tonight and Twice Tomorrow. The attraction at the Hellig theatre. Seventh and Taylor streets, tonight and temorrow night at 8:15 o'clock, with a epocial price matines tomorrow, will be the brilliant musical comedy success, "Honeymoon Trail." This merry offering is presented by Helly & Fitzgerald, who have given it a pretty chorus that ean both sing and dance. "Cherie" Next Week.

Attractions for next week at the Orpheum promise that the high stanbe maintained. Berhaps no greater feature that "Cherie" has ever been played in this city. The Victoria Four, and Porter J. White company are deserving of equal prominence with the headline act.

Pert Truths in Problem Play. Miss Lillian Burkhart and her little problem play, "What Every Woman Wants," are presenting truths at the

The state federation of labor organized in Wyoming in 1909, now has af-fillated with it 61 local unions, comprising in all 19 trades and crafts.
