

WORLD'S SEAPORTS WILL BE COMBED FOR DOCKS IDEAS

Public Docks Commission, by Lot, Elects F. W. Mulkey President; Is on Lookout for Great Engineer.

Chosen by Lot President of Public Docks Committee.

The world will be searched for an engineer competent to guide the public docks commission in preparing a plan for the improvement of Portland harbor. The great seaports of the world will be called upon for plans of dock building, methods of administration and systems of improvement. With the employment of an engineer and with data from all ports ready for reference, the public docks commission, according to a decision reached at the meeting held yesterday, will proceed to issue blocks of public docks building bonds, and will take other steps leading to the redemption of Portland's waterfront.

F. W. Mulkey, by lot, was chosen president of the commission yesterday, to serve the long term of five years, C. B. Moores will serve four years, Ben Selling, three years; George Cornwall, two years, and Henry Ladd Corbett, one year. It was moved early in yesterday's meeting, by Mr. Mulkey that whoever drew the short term should be made president, and that thereafter each member should be president of the commission during his last year. This would have caused the man drawing the two year term to be president next year, the man drawing the three year term to be president the year after, and so forth. George Cornwall then moved an amendment, accepted by Mr. Mulkey, directing that the commissioner drawing the long term be made president. When the lots were drawn the long term fell to Mr. Mulkey himself.

Henry Ladd Corbett and F. W. Mulkey, who were not in town to attend the first meeting of the commission, qualified yesterday as members. An invitation extended by the Chamber of Commerce to use its quarters at Fifth and Oak streets as a meeting place was accepted, and E. C. Giltner, secretary of the chamber, was chosen temporary secretary of the commission at the nominal salary of $20 a month.

There was little reference in the meeting yesterday to the broad power of the public docks commission, which permits it not only to issue bonds up to $2,500,000 for docks and dock sites, but to have control over the entire waterfront, including private as well as public property. By the exercise of this power the commission is expected to replace the ramshackle wooden structures of the waterfront by concrete, fireproof, modern docks, and bring about a uniformity of construction that will cause the advertisement of Portland as a great seaport around the world.

It was decided by the commission yesterday that all lands for dock sites shall be acquired by condemnation and not by the fruitless negotiation, trades and so forth that have been disappointing the people in the efforts to get rights of way for the Broadway bridge from local railroad interests.

The next regular meeting of the commission will be held on the first Thursday of next month in the Chamber of Commerce. Regular meetings will hereafter be held on the first Thursday of each month.

CHINA WILL RAISE LOANS FOR EXPANSION

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Victoria, B. C., Jan. 6.—Following close, one upon the other, the steamships Awa Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Empress of Japan, reached Victoria last night. The Empress brought a cargo of silk worth over $2,000,000.

Advices were brought by the Empress that China is shortly to arrange a new loan of $40,000,000 for the extension of the army and navy. The Hoochi of Tokio says China intends also to raise a loan in America for the opening up of Mongolia.

Military and naval officials have been ordered to get off their queues in view of the enactment of the anti-queue law, by a majority of 103 to 18 in the Chinese house.

LINCOLN CO. TO HAVE OUTSIDE COMMUNICATION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Toledo, Or., Jan. 6.—The citizens of the northern part of Lincoln county have just organized a telephone company which will be known as the Siletts Bay Mutual Telephone company. T. M. McClintock of Taft was elected president and W. M. Deed of Kerville secretary. This part of the county has never had direct communication with the outside world, the nearest telephone line being a distance of 15 miles. They will build from Taft to Newport, a distance of 20 miles; they will build a branch line up Schooner creek for seven miles, and another up Siletts river for 12 miles, and if they can get the necessary subscribers they will build up the latter river to the Siletts agency, a distance of 31 miles, and connect with one of the commercial lines which end there.

POLICE OF LONDON SEEK ANARCHISTS

Supported by Troops They Continue Search of Slums; Justify Recent Battle.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 London, Jan. 6.—A repetition of Tuesday's fight between anarchists and police, which resulted in a dozen casualties, was predicted for today as the result of police activity toward suspected "reds." Squads of police, backed up by members of the Scots Guards, were detailed to search the slums for suspects in the same manner that led to Tuesday's fight.

The inquest into the death of the victims of Tuesday's battle was begun today. Its feature was the introduction of a lengthy statement by the police heads to justify the use of so enormous a force against "three reds." The statement was intended to counteract the ridicule directed, at the London police force by continental and British papers, it is believed.

BUTTEVILLE BRIDGE HAS MANY BACKERS

No opposition has developed in Clackamas county to the building of a bridge across the Willamette river at Butteville, according to Will E. Purdy, president of the Tri-County Push club, which is backing the movement. Mr. Purdy says he has everywhere met with favorable expressions. From County Judge Beattie, Mr. Purdy received a letter in which the jurist expressed himself as "heartily in favor" of the bridge project. Grant B. Dimlek writes that in his belief all the heavy taxpayers of the county would favor building the structure. He offered any assistance he might give and said he failed to see any obstacles in the way of the plan. Sheriff E. T. Mass of Clackamas county, in a letter to Mr. Purdy

DRINKS, ABUSES WIFE, IS SENT TO ROCKPILE

Gus Burness, arrested last night for being drunk, was sentenced to 30 days on the rockpile on the testimony of his wife that he had abused her shamefully, and had compelled her to leave her home at 2 o'clock in the morning and seek refuge with a neighbor. "I have had to crawl out on the balcony and let my little nine-year-old girl down on the ladder, several times, fearing to take her downstairs," the wife said to Judge Taswell. "I don't want him around while he uses the vile language at his command; it is not fit for the little girl to hear." Judge Taswell threatened a more severe sentence if Burness were brought to court again.

TARIFF ASSOCIATION FOR LONGWORTH BILL

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Washington, Jan. 6.—The National Tariff Commission association, through President Cobb, has promised to support the bill introduced by Representative Longworth of Ohio yesterday, providing for a commission.

"A few minor points are not entirely in accord with our views, but generally the measure is a splendid one," said Cobb. "The provision regarding the subpoenaing of witnesses and compelling them to bring books and papers is an excellent settlement of a much discussed question."

Only Two Saloons for Echo.
 Echo, Or., Jan. 6.—At a regular meeting of the city council, Wednesday evening an ordinance was passed regulating the licensing of saloons and selling of liquor. According to the ordinance only two saloons will be allowed at present, which must be conducted in a one-room building, no games of chance will be allowed and the saloon must be closed between the hours of 10 o'clock p. m. and 5 o'clock a. m. and also on Sundays. Several other very strict regulations are prescribed in the ordinance.

McBride Likes Rogue River.
 (Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Medford, Or., Jan. 6.—Henry McBride, ex-governor of the state of Washington, who has been in Medford for several days looking over his recently acquired interests in the Rogue River valley, is so pleased with the prospects of the orchards that he has commenced the planting of 15,000 young pear trees. Interested with him in his property here are H. B. Tronson, "the apple king of America," Russell H. Hanauer and Herbert Conner, a capitalist and orchardist of LaConner, Wash.
