

Thousands of Dollars

are offered for loan. If you wish to place a mortgage on the many financial offers made by reliable firms in today's money to loan columns.

The weather—Fair and cooler to night and Sunday; northerly winds.

Oregon Journal

COAST TEMPERATURES
5 A. M. Today.
Boise	48
Seattle	46
Spokane	48
Marshallfield	50
San Francisco	58
Portland	48

VOL. IX. NO. 265.

PORTLAND, OREGON, SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 7, 1911.—TWO SECTIONS—20 PAGES. PRICE TWO CENTS.

ON TRAINS AND NEWS STANDS, FIVE CENTS

CARNEGIE TRUST COMPANY CLOSED; CONDITION SHAKY

Bank Commissioner in Charge, Reports Institution in Such Shape as to Render It Unsafe to Do Business.

BANK OFFICIALS REPORT QUIET RUN, PAST WEEK

Company Organized by Chas. O. Dickinson, Who Died by Mysterious Poisoning.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Jan. 7.—The Carnegie Trust company was closed today by State Bank Commissioner Cheney.

The company was chartered in 1907 and had a paid up capital of a million dollars. Its surplus was $500,000 and its undivided profits aggregated $73,000. Its gross deposits amounted to $8,500,000.

J. T. Powell, former president of the Fourth National bank of Nashville, is president of the Carnegie Trust company. J. B. Richmond, recently retired from the presidency of the institution.

The officials of the bank issued a statement saying a quiet run had been in progress for a week and ready available resources had been used up. It was said the state banking department had been asked to interfere to protect the depositors.

Bank in Unsafe Condition.

Commissioner O. H. Cheney took charge of the property on the ground that its condition was such that it was unsafe to continue business.

"The superintendent of banks has taken charge of the property and business," he said.

(Continued on Page Two.)

Dancer Snubs King

Gaby Des Lys, who scorns deposed ruler of Portugal.

GABY DES LYS IN VIEW OF AUDIENCE INSULTS MANUEL

So Ends Shameful Romance of a King Who Lost His Kingdom for a Dancer; Last Scene in London Theatre.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, Jan. 7.—Gaby Des Lys has deserted Dom Manuel, former king of Portugal. Penniless and no longer a monarch, the Parisian music hall dancer scorned her former lover before the spectators in a crowded London music hall.

Mlle. Gaby recently came to London on the pretext of consulting a throat specialist. Dom Manuel also has been staying in London. As in the days in Paris, when he first met Gaby, he has visited the London music halls. On one trip he was accompanied by Marquis de Soveral. In one of the theatres Mlle. Gaby herself was a spectator.

Dom Manuel saw Gaby. Abruptly leaving the marquis, he rushed to the stall in which she was sitting and, his face beaming, began to talk to her ardently and earnestly.

Gaby did not take her eyes from the stage. She would not listen to Manuel. While he was still talking, she rose, adjusted her wraps and left the box. Manuel made as if to follow her.

She spoke briefly to Manuel and signed to him not to follow. It is understood that she told him that she did not care to associate with him further.

It was Dom Manuel's infatuation for Mlle. Gaby, many persons believe, that was the primary cause of his overthrow. He met the actress in Paris and became one of her most ardent admirers. Many functions in which the young king and the dancer figured were held in the French capital.

Manuel took Gaby to Lisbon, where at his royal command she danced at a benefit he arranged. His subjects were infuriated by her presence.

After the fall of the Portuguese monarch, Gaby, because of her affair with the king, became prominent and was a much sought star in music hall circles.

AMERICAN $ IN NEW LIBEL SUITS

Duke of Marlborough and William Waldorf Astor Think Themselves Ridiculed.

London, Jan. 7.—To the several libel suits that have already grown out of the recent English elections, it is reported that two others, involving the duke of Marlborough and William Waldorf Astor, may be added.

A paragraph by Spencer Leight Hughes, a Liberal member of parliament, in Reynolds' paper, is reported which it is predicted will find its way into the courts. Referring to the efforts the Tories made to create sentiment against the Liberals by the cry of "American dollars," he said:

"This was tried in my constituency but a deplorable lack of humor was revealed when those who denounced American dollars brought down the duke of Marlborough, of all men, to help them. Nor was this the only lack of humor, for the party which reviled American dollars has returned to the house of commons Mr. Waldorf Astor, an estimable multi-millionaire of New York."

Both the duke, who married Consuelo Vanderbilt, and Astor are said to feel that this article held them up to public ridicule.

FRANK R. GOODING MADE PRESIDENT OF WOOL GROWERS

New Head of National Body is Brother of Retiring President and Ex-Governor of Idaho.

OMAHA ALMOST SURE OF NEXT CONVENTION

Oregon Executive Committee Member Is Dobbin of Willowa.

Frank R. Gooding of Gooding, Idaho, ex-governor of that state, was unanimously elected president of the National Wool Growers' association at this morning's session in the Armory, Dr. J. M. Wilson of Wyoming, whose name had been prominently mentioned in that connection, made the motion to elect by acclamation, no other candidate having been placed in nomination.

The election of Mr. Gooding was agreed upon before the convention convened by the various factions that had other candidates in view, and the election of President Gooding, brother of retiring President F. W. Gooding, did not, therefore, come as a surprise. Frank J. Hagenbarth of the Idaho delegation placed ex-Governor Gooding's name before the convention and the nomination was seconded by George McKnight, president of the Oregon association.

Names of Committeemen.

George Austin of Salt Lake, Utah, was elected western vice president, and A. J. Knolin of Chicago, was re-elected eastern vice president. Members of the new executive committee were elected as follows:

Arizona—F. W. Perkins; H. E. Campbell, alternate.

California—C. A. Allen; C. E. Kimball, alternate.

Idaho—Frank R. Hagenbarth; Andrew Little, alternate.

Montana—J. C. Elliott; George K. Reeder, alternate.

Nevada—Thomas Nelson; no alternate.

New Mexico—H. F. Lee; no alternate.

Oregon—Jay H. Dobbin; Monte Gwinn, alternate.

Wyoming—William Daley; W. T. Rogg, alternate.

Washington—Frank M. Rothrock; H. S. Coffin, alternate.

Members from states not reporting were ordered continued unless the executive committee finds out any of them are no longer engaged in the sheep and wool industry, in which event the executive committee has the authority to elect a new member approved by the

(Continued on Page Two.)

PETER HOBKIRK DIES SUDDENLY

Former Legislator and Pioneer of West Coast Found Dead in Bed.

Death came unexpectedly but in painless form last night to Peter Hobkirk, a former member of the Oregon legislature and a resident of Portland for more than 35 years. When Mrs. Hobkirk went to call him this morning he was found dead in bed, having apparently come shortly after midnight and probably while he slept.

Mr. Hobkirk was 70 years old and was born in Scotland and came to this country when a young man. He lived in California for some time and then came to Oregon to engage in the building and contracting business. He was elected to the legislature in 1897, but never held any other political office.

He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a life member of the Multnomah club. He was also a member of the Elks.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Hobkirk leaves four children. They are Mrs. D. L. Covey, Mrs. N. F. Sullivan of Walla Walla, Wash.; Lillian E. and Fred P. Hobkirk of Portland.

The funeral services will be held from the late residence at 876 Corbett street at a time not yet fixed. Mr. Hobkirk had frequently expressed the wish that the Masons conduct the services, and the wish will be respected.

ARTIST SEED MEETS MORE WOOL GROWERS AT CONVENTION

C. S. CHAPMAN, DISTRICT FORESTER ORE. WASH. ALASKA SPOKE ON RANGE DEVELOPMENT TO IMPROVEMENT ON THE NATIONAL FOREST.

DR. JAMES WITHYCOMBE OF CORVALLIS SPOKE ON TARIFF PROTECTION.

JOHN T. SULLIVAN DIES AS RESULT OF A COWARD'S DEED

After Brave Fight for Life Spokane Police Captain Succumbs; Four Suspects Alleged Enemies, Arrested.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Spokane, Wash., Jan. 7.—"I want some more air." As he gasped out these words Police Captain John T. Sullivan, who was shot by an assassin Thursday night, died at Sacred Heart hospital at 2:25 this morning. In the presence of his brother Dennis, Dr. John H. O'Shea, a nurse and a sister, while his wife was on the way to the hospital.

Since the bullet passed through his back and right lung, Captain Sullivan had been in constant pain, but the end was peaceful. Physicians thought yesterday that he had a chance to live, as the bullet had not remained in his body and he possessed a very strong constitution, but last night hope was given up.

H. W. Conners, a Hillyard, Wash., Jeweler, was arrested early this morning in California, as a suspect in connection with the assassination. Conners was greatly excited. He objected vigorously to being searched.

Three other arrests have been made, including W. D. Stout, a prominent member of the Industrial Workers of the World. It is alleged he had made threats against Sullivan, but he denies all knowledge of the crime.

Rewards aggregating $12,000 have been offered for information leading to the arrest of the murderer. The city council at a special meeting, offered $7500. The police departments of all the cities of the northwest are actively engaged on the case, and big eastern detectives are on the way here to aid in the search.

In the wood shed of the Sullivan home an ax with fresh blood on it was found last night. Bertillon experts are examining the finger prints left on the front-covered fence near the window through which the fatal shot was fired.

DYING THIEF AND SLAYER REVEALS IDENTITY OF PAL

Charles Robinson, a Mulatto, Found at Sedro Woolley, Lying Wounded; Confesses He Shot Officers.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Bellingham, Wash., Jan. 7.—Charles Robinson, one of the two Acme robbers, has been captured and is dying in the hospital at Sedro Woolley. W. R. Stevens, victim of this man and of his pal, died last night at the same hospital from wounds.

These are today's developments of the shooting at Acme on Thursday. In which A. A. Galbraith, justice of the peace, and W. R. Stevens were shot while attempting to arrest Robinson and his pal.

The second robber, said by Robinson to be Ben Lowe, is still a plunger and the hunt has settled down to the process of combing Skagit county for him. Over 100 men are making the search. He was last seen at Sedro Woolley.

The victim of a mistake, L. K. Hyma, who claims to be a Seattle plumber, is lying in St. Joseph's hospital in this city, shot through the stomach. He was beating his way from Seattle on the Northern Pacific train last night and at Wicksburg was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Gabriel, who, with others, was watching the train to intercept Lowe. Gabriel told him to come off the train. Hyma coolly ignored the officer's command and was shot. He was not armed and is not believed to be the man wanted. His injuries are not believed to be dangerous.

Robinson, a mulatto, was found in a Sedro Woolley lodging house suffering from a bullet wound in his left side, and when placed under arrest by Marshal Hollman, admitted that he was one of the two men who had shot Galbraith and Stevens, and that his wound had been placed at the time the pistol fight took place at Acme Thursday afternoon.

Robinson was suffering from loss of blood and was immediately sent to the hospital, where he was operated upon in an effort to locate the bullet.

Before the operation he confessed that he had shot Stevens and Galbraith when trying to escape arrest after stealing a case of shoes at Acme.

Hollman says Robinson answers the description of a man who was mixed up in a shooting affair at Sultan on the Great Northern railroad and the shooting of the marshal at Snohomish recently.

REYNOLDS AND M'KINNEY RETIRE FROM CONTEST

Eaton and Thompson Benefit by Narrowing of Speaker-ship Fight; Eggleston May Line Up With Rusk.

RUSK AND EATON HAVE GOOD SUPPORT

Fight Likely to Be Carried On to Floor of the House as Caucus Idea Wanes.

Following closely on the announcement of Lloyd T. Reynolds of Marion, that he had retired from the race for the house speakership, came a similar announcement today from Henry McKinney of Baker. Reynolds retires in favor of Allan H. Eaton of Lane, while McKinney is working hard for W. Lair Thompson of Lake, known as the candidate of the regulars.

The struggle for the position has narrowed down to Jerry Rusk of Willowa and Eaton and Thompson, although there are still two or three candidates in the field with one to three votes. M. F. Eggleston of Jackson has not yet formed

(Continued on Page Two.)

TUPPER SUCCEEDS MAJOR KENNEDY IN CIVIL SERVICE

Present Secretary Says Salary Is Too Low to Warrant Neglect of Personal Business Any Longer.

Major James P. Kennedy.

Major James P. Kennedy, secretary of the city civil service commission, announced this morning that he had offered his resignation to Mayor Simon. Major Kennedy will remain in the office until February 1, in order to assist his successor to grasp the details of the position. W. A. Tupper will succeed Major Kennedy. Mr. Tupper was born in Hillsboro, but he had made Portland his residence most of the time for the past 25 years. He is at present employed as a teacher in the Armstrong Business college of Portland. A. P. Armstrong, who conducts the business college, is a member of the civil service commission.

"I am not dissatisfied with the administration, nor am I leaving on account of any personal difference, either between me and the mayor or between me and the members of the commission," said Major Kennedy, this morning. "My reason is that I cannot afford to stay at the present salary and neglect my insurance business."

"I had hoped when I took the position to be able to handle my own business and that of the city," he said. "I found my official duties so exacting that I had less and less time to give to my private affairs. I cannot afford to serve the public any longer, so I am resigning. I will leave the office the first of next month."

AGED WOMAN DIES OF SEVERE BURNS

While She Dozes by Open Fire Mrs. Atwater's Clothing Becomes Ignited.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—After suffering agonies, Mrs. Anna Naomi Atwater, 75 years of age, widow of Colonel H. G. Atwater, and prominent socially, died today at a hospital from burns received last night when, dozing before an open grate, her clothing caught fire.

Her screams attracted her son, Professor H. Gale Atwater, who lives next door. He rushed into the house and found his mother in the bathroom trying to extinguish the flames. Mrs. Atwater was alone in the house.

Colonel Atwater, who was the founder of the Clearwater colony, was killed five years ago in a stretcher accident.

ALFONSO DENIES BOMB HURT HIM

Reported That Attempt Made to Assassinate King of Spain and Others.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madrid, Jan. 7.—King Alfonso issued today an official denial of the report that an attempt to assassinate him was made yesterday. On board the yacht Gralada he arrived at Melilla and disembarked.

It was reported that Alfonso and two others were injured by a bomb hurled by an anarchist.

THE SUNDAY JOURNAL

In The Sunday Journal for Tomorrow

An engaging interview with Edward F. Croker, chief of the New York fire department, in which he tells the public how much of the nation's $225,000,000 annual fire loss could be averted.

An illustrated story of what a single Oregon county, Lake, with an area equal to Connecticut, Delaware and Rhode Island combined, has to offer the homeseeker.

Another series of breezy baseball stories of local interest in the sports pages for the mid-winter entertainment of the fans.

News Pictures Features