The North Pacific storm has separated into two parts, one of which is central over extreme western Montana, and the other is central over South Dakota. The following maximum wind velocities not previously reported occurred Monday night: North Head, 76 miles south and Tootoo Island, 44 miles southeast. The winds have now subsided in this district and the temperatures have fallen decidedly. Owing to the action of the North Pacific storm, the cold wave in the Canadian north-west has been unable as yet to spread very rapidly into the United States, and the cold weather is confined mostly to Montana and North Dakota. Light rain tending to snow has occurred in western Oregon, western Washington and southern Idaho. Moderate heavy to heavy rains have fallen in California as far south as San Diego.

The conditions are favorable for rain or snow in this district tonight and Wednesday, with still lower temperatures east of the Cascade mountains.

Portland and vicinity—Rain or snow tonight and Wednesday; westerly winds. Oregon and Washington—Rain or snow, west snow east portion tonight and Wednesday; colder east portion; westerly winds.

Idaho—Snow tonight and Wednesday; colder.

Warns Against Paving "Cappers"—Efforts to check the efforts of a local paving company to secure contracts from residents on Villa avenue, Montavilla, were taken last evening by the Montavilla board of trade. Many persons owning property on this avenue reported that solicitors from a paving company had attempted to have them sign up for the pavement. The members of the board thought it advisable to caution all property owners not to sign until the matter can be investigated. C. H. Hill, E. W. Burden and J. Morgan were appointed to look into the assessment made on the 12-inch water main laid on Villa avenue, which it is thought is too high. The avenue will be opened from the city limits to Fairview. This will be done by the county court.

Socialist Speakers Freed—Judge Kavanaugh of the circuit court dismissed the cases of Harry Lloyd and Adolph Auerback, Socialist speakers, yesterday when the case came on trial from an appeal taken in the municipal court. The charge against them was blocking the street. The judge held that as long as there was room for a vehicle to pass through the street, or a person comfortably to walk down the sidewalk, the street was not being blocked.

Riverview Cemetery Report—The annual meeting of the Riverview Cemetery association was held yesterday afternoon in the office of William R. Mackenzie in the Worcester building. This was the eighth year the organization has been in existence. The report shows the association owns 320 acres of land, and that $13,734 has been expended on the cemetery. The water system recently installed cost $6884.

Admen's Annual Meeting—A special program of fun and frolic has been prepared by the Admen's club for its annual meeting Thursday evening. A banquet will also be given with Charles B. Merrick as toastmaster. A feature of the program will be shadowgraph work. The new officers will be installed.
