

CEREMONIES AT INAUGURATION WITHOUT POMP

Governor West and Senator Bowerman Make Excellent Addresses; Similarity of Recommendations.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—Oregon's inauguration ceremonies are probably as simple as any state in the union. There was a total absence of pomp and but little formality when Oswald West was inducted as governor yesterday afternoon. The only social observance of the occasion was a reception given last evening at the Illihee club.
Practically all in the crowded assembly chamber agreed that excellent addresses were delivered by both Jay Bowerman, as retiring acting governor, and West as the new executive. Prolonged applause followed the conclusion of each. Many similarities in the recommendations made by both in their addresses were marked by the audience and commented upon frequently afterward.
Bowerman required about 40 minutes to read his address and Governor West spoke for an hour and 40 minutes after the oath of office had been administered by Chief Justice Robert Ekkin.
Many of the relatives of Governor West were present at the ceremonies, being seated at the left of the speaker's rostrum. Those who attended were Miss Lena Hutton of Salem, sister-in-law; L. E. West, a brother of Tacoma, and the latter's wife and daughter, Miss Rose West; John W. West, a brother of Seattle; Roy and Ralph West, two nephews of the governor who are attending dental college in Portland, and Albert E. West, a brother of Falls City, and the latter's son, Harold West. Mrs. E. Putnam and Miss Putnam of Medford, close friends of the family, were also present.

Following the reading of the governor's inaugural address the joint assembly was immediately dissolved.

BILL WOULD PROVIDE FOR MORE HATCHERIES

Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—A bill which would empower the state game and fish warden to expend the surplus of $55,000 in the funds of his department for two trout and game fish hatcheries was introduced yesterday by Representative Chaiten. It provides that one hatchery shall be east and other west of the Cascades, the sites to be selected by the warden.
Another bill from the same representative prohibits fishing for salmon except with hook or line in the Willamette and tributaries north of Oregon City at all times not in season. The seasons are named as from March 15 to April 15 and from June 15 to November 1. During this period only five salmon a day may be taken from the waters by one person. Dams or other artificial obstructions are prohibited unless there shall be a passageway for the fish over the top.

WANTS UNION LABEL ON STATE'S PRINTING

Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—Representative Ralph Clyde of Multnomah wants the union label on all documents turned out from the office of state printer. He expressed this desire in a resolution introduced into the house yesterday afternoon. Only union help is now employed in the plant, but Clyde wishes it to be manifest on the documents.
There were two resolutions to have the state furnish each representative with five daily newspapers of his own choice. In the morning a resolution was presented to have each member provided with 250 two-cent postage stamps and 100 one-cent newspaper wrappers. All went to the resolutions committee.

WATERFRONT TO BE IMPROVED

Abbott of Multnomah Presents Bill to Regulate Sailor Boarding Houses.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—The Portland Chamber of Commerce bill regulating and licensing sailor boarding houses and shipping masters and designed to improve conditions in Portland now regarded as evil, was presented in the house yesterday by Abbott of Multnomah.
Provision is made for a commission from whom all sailor boarding-house owners must obtain a license and who must pay $250 a year for the privilege. Shipping masters would be required to pay $50 a year and no license could be issued to either owners or masters for a period of more than one year at a time.
Broad powers are given to the commission to regulate the operation of the boarding houses and shipping masters' offices, including the privilege of prescribing the charges. They are also given power to revoke licenses and begin prosecutions. The bill applies to the Willamette and Columbia rivers.

Ships Much Chittim Bark.

Toledo, Or., Jan. 11.—A T. Peterson of this place has just loaded and shipped two carloads of chittim bark, the destination of the cars being Detroit, Mich. Mr. Peterson will load three more cars just as rapidly as possible. This is the largest shipment of chittim that has been made from this country in a number of years. Mr. Peterson still has about 14 cars of bark on hand, being one of the largest holdings in this section. The bark is from two to five years old.

COMMITTEE HEADS ARE TO BE NAMED BY NEXT MONDAY

Legislature Can Accomplish Little Until Committees Are Selected; Nottingham May Have Killed Chances.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—Until committees are appointed in each house the legislature can accomplish little in the consideration of bills, and this morning it was agreed that adjournment shall be taken today until next Monday, when President Selling and Speaker Rusk will be ready with their committee announcements.
Gossip concerning committee places in the senate is somewhat vague, but there is believed to be little doubt that D. J. Malarky of Multnomah will receive the chief prize in the chairmanship of the judiciary committee.

Nottingham Case Interests.

There is considerable interest in the case of Senator Nottingham, who was chairman of ways and means at the last session. He was the one member of the Multnomah delegation who failed to give hearty and emphatic support to Selling in the organization fight. He ultimately voted for the winner, but was listed as doubtful to the last day. It is believed that if Selling consults the other senators from Multnomah as to committee make-up, he will not be urged to reappoint Nottingham. Selling, however, is disposed to organize his committees from the standpoint of efficiency and if he is convinced that Nottingham's experience in dealing with appropriations and his

WOUNDS HEALED AT BIG BANQUET

Illihee Club Entertains Legislators and Members Get Together.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—A great many wounds caused by the respective fights for the presidency of the senate and speakership of the house were healed last night at a reception by the Illihee club. It was attended by Governor West and the majority of the members of the legislature. Many of the members who had drifted apart got together in a corner during the evening and buried the tomahawk.
Speeches were made by T. B. Kay, state treasurer and president of the club, Judge Hollis of Washington county and Senator Joseph of Portland.

Three Stand High.

Other senators known to stand high in the esteem of the president and who may be expected to receive some of the best places are Sinnott of Wasco, Joseph of Multnomah and Dimick of Clackamas.
Picked out of 30 members of the senate are lawyers and it is planned to increase the membership of the judiciary and revision of law committees from five to seven members each to give places to the lawyer members on the two committees which deal with legal questions.

BROWNHILL HAS BANKING BILL

Would Have Banks Bid for County Funds; Flat Salary for Printer.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—Representative Brownhill of Yamhill has a bill to regulate the banking of funds of the various counties, which he says, will yield a saving of $10,000 a year if passed. He proposes that the county treasurer of each county be compelled to advertise for bids from banks that wish to be the county depository and that those offering the highest rate of interest be selected. To guard against the depositing of funds in institutions of questionable stability, he would require the bank offering the higher rate of interest to provide a surety bond to the treasurer. The Yamhill independent says he knows that his bill will be fought by many of the county treasurers, but that he proposes to make a hard struggle to have it passed.
The same representative will offer a bill to place the state printer on a flat salary of $5000 a year, superseding the present fee system. He declares such action would result in a saving of $30,000 annually to the state.

Sell La Grande Bonds.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
La Grande, Or., Jan. 11.—La Grande negotiated a sale of $10,000 in bonds this week at a special meeting of the council. The amount is required to clean up the under estimates of the $40,000 sewer project. This sale was made to E. H. Rollins & Sons of Denver and the cash will be used to complete the sewer project now about finished and which gives the city an up-to-date sewer system both in business and residence districts.

WOULD HAVE POLLS OPEN ENTIRE DAY

Dimick Introduces Bill to Amend Primary Law; Plan to Change Ballot.

Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—Senator Dimick of Clackamas believes the polls should be kept open all day when primary elections are held and he introduced a bill amending the primary law in that respect yesterday. The amendment follows the recommendation made by Jay Bowerman in his message as acting governor, but this is only a coincidence as Mr. Dimick's bill was presented before the message was read.
Senator Sinnott also stumbled upon a recommendation of Bowerman by introducing a bill providing for rotation of names on the primary ballot. Instead of printing the names alphabetically, from A to Z, on every ballot, it is proposed to reverse and begin with Z on every ballot, so those whose names begin with letters far down the alphabet will head as many ballots as those at the other end of the alphabet. There is strong sentiment in the senate in favor of some plan of rotation.
