

1911 Automobile Show

January 21st to 28th

Novel Feature First Time Introduced Here

To enable the public to have the opportunity of viewing the latest types of motor car construction as embodied in the 1911 models of the leading manufacturers, the Automobile Dealers' Association of Oregon has arranged the first Automobile Show under its auspices, to be held in Portland during the week of January 23 to 28, 1911. This show will take the form of Opening Week, which is a new and novel departure from previous exhibitions on the Pacific coast, but has proved very popular and successful in eastern cities. The distinct advantage of each dealer having ample space to properly display his entire line is a very important one, both to the dealer and visitor, who will thus have the opportunity of closest possible inspection, while the impression gained by a visitor in a call at a dealer's establishment is more lasting than a visit to an exhibition space, which can of necessity have little or no individuality.
