LOCAL EGGS DOWN TO 34 CENTS ON PRODUCE STREET

Sales at Lower Price Than This Believed to Be Merely Outside Goods Placed in Oregon Cases.

Cost of Living.

Following prices ruled on Front street today, and on this day a year and two years ago:

	1911	1910	1909
Eggs	34c	32½c	40c
Butter	37c	39c	37c
Cheese	16c	18½c	16c
Chickens	18c	17c	13c
Hens	20c	18c	18½c

A further concession has been made in the price of eggs along Front street today. While dealers are quoting out as high as 35c a dozen, no sales were made above 34c this morning, and this is considered the extreme figure.

While it is stated that sales have been made under this, the trade generally is of the opinion that California eggs were substituted for the local product after being placed in Oregon cases. These supplies cost about 31c to land here, and by selling at 32c a profit is realized, although it is not what the dealers expected.

It is now stated that these same speculators bought up rather liberal supplies of eggs from California during the cold snap here, with the expectation of boosting the local price to a height where consumption would be stopped, and the southern goods sold at a slight reduction from the forced price of local goods. This is an old trick—in fact is even staler than some of the storage eggs being sold as fresh goods in some quarters.

Price of eggs along the coast today:

Portland 34c
San Francisco 30½c
Seattle 35c

As can be seen by the above range of prices it is quite easy to substitute the California product for the local ranch supplies and secure a profit even at a lower price than generally quoted by the trade.

The outlook is for still lower values for local ranch. Eastern storage are dull at 28c for best.

SMELTS STRIKE THE COWLITZ

First Run of the Season Appears; Some Are in Market Today.

The first run of smelts in the Cowlitz has appeared and some of the fish entered the Portland trade. Sales are being made at 15c a pound. Halibut remains high at 12½c a pound for fresh stock but this is really low when the northern price is given.

CALIFORNIA BUTTER OUT

Higher Price in South Cleans Up Trade—None on Front Street.

Owing to the higher prices quoted at San Francisco, California butter has practically disappeared from the local wholesale trade. Supplies were quoted in the Bay City this morning at 33½c a pound or a fraction more than sales were formerly made here.

LARD MARKET WEAKER

Feeling Is Not So Good But Packers Believe It Merely Temporary.

A weaker feeling is shown in the market for lard but local packers say they are not making any price change because they feel that the situation will strengthen again without delay. Other provision prices are unchanged.

There is a quiet tone in the wheat market at this time but exporting conditions are good and buyers are still offering former values.

Hay market is extremely quite with no change in prices.

Oats trade is steady to firm with values unchanged.

Flour trade remains very quite and except for an occasional sale to the Japanese there is an entire absence of foreign transactions.

CHICAGO WHEAT SLUMPS

Sharp Break Occurs During Late Trade—Mills Agitating Closing.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—In wheat it was a quiet trade during most of the morning and it was not until the last hour that the selling pressure became pronounced and the break took place. Steadiness in the market at the opening was largely the result of Liverpool cables and that market appeared to be influenced by light Argentine shipments to the United Kingdom ports and a firm Friday closing market at Buenos Ayres. Domestic news seemed to lean a little to the side of sellers as northwest receipts were 325 cars against 293 last year.

Northwest messages were agitating the matter of certain mills closing down tonight. The information on this point was not definite. The trade seemed to lack the active support of the big holders noted on previous days. In explanation of the sharp break, brokers described the selling much the same as that during the last hour yesterday, quite general liquidation by scattered holders, some stop less selling when May was forced under the dollar level and in addition, pit observers, though they depicted considerable wheat coming on the market from the recent leaders on the buying side some of the selling was through northwest houses which left the principals somewhat in doubt.

Corn—Futures held remarkably well considering the late break in wheat The cable was a little easier owing to estimated large supplies of American corn this week and next week.

Nothing occurred to give any action in oats. This market is acting with corn rather than with wheat.

There has been unusual selling pressure in all hog products for some days past. This pressure of product is due largely to the belief in a larger supply of hogs later rather than to present conditions as the movement of hogs to market at this time falls considerably short of a year ago, much of the time.

OLD HOPS FIND A GOOD DEMAND

Growers Holding Out for 13@15c Pound; Redried Stock Sells High.

Old hops are finding a more extensive demand owing to the short offerings of 1910s and the higher prices being asked by holders thereof.

Klaber, Wolf and Netter purchased 20 bales from M. G. Smith at Aurora. The hops were of the 1909 crop. The price paid was not made public but as growers generally are asking from 13 to 15 cents a pound, it is believed that at least the former figure was paid.

There are many inquires here for old hops but dealers say they are hard to buy under the prices quoted. The sale of the Rose hops at auction yesterday created much interest among the trade owing to the extreme values obtained. These hops were purchased on a contract by Isaac Pincus & Sons of Tacoma, from George Rose of Independence at 10c a pound. They were of the 1909 crop and were kept in the warehouse at Independence for a long time and the overflowed river covered them for a long period. Many brewers expressed the opinion that they were not worth anything because it would be impossible to get all the grit and dirt from the bales even after redrying them. Some of the bales are said to have weighed 600 pounds.

The sales included 72 bales to S. & E. Uhlmann of New York, at 5⅝c and 127 bales to the same firm at 5⅞c besides 123 bales to A. J. Ray & Son at 6c a pound.

At the recent special election in San Francisco charter amendments were carried, making $3 a day the minimum wage for laborers employed by the city or employed by any contractor on work for the city.

HALF CAR SILVERS REMAINS IN STATE

Canned Salmon Market About Cleaned Up; Bring Back London Supplies.

What is believed to be the last car of the 1910 pack of silverside canned salmon on the Columbia river has been made and less than a half car remains in the hands of packers. These are owned by Elmore & Co.

According to B. J. Stone manager of the estateof Samuel Elmore, who was in the city yesterday, this practically cleans up the 1910 pack and the lot is being held firm at $1.50 for pound flats.

What indicates the remarkable strength of the canned salmon market at this time is the bringing back from London of a lot of Alaska pinks to fill an order in New York. It is stated that these supplies were contracted but the packers found that he could not deliver unless he brought back the stock shipped abroad. This was insisted upon by the purchaser. The lot sold at $1.25 New York city, a remarkable price which means $1.18 net Portland. The market for pinks opened this year at 85c but soon advanced to 95c.

FINANCE LOOKING TO SALES OF BONDS

New York, Jan. 21.—Little significance was attached to the fluctuations during today's session. Special attention will probably be directed towards the New York city bond issue, bids for which will be accepted next Tuesday and, judging from the reports, the sale will be a decided success with foreigners participating on a large scale. Should such prove to be the case, it is not unlikely that corporate financing to an extent not witnessed for some time will be conducted.

Advancing tendencies have been general during the past week and although it is true that the demands for short interest contributed greatly to the buying power, still the opinion is expressed in good quarters that higher prices for special issues are likely to be witnessed before the upward movement culminates.

Developments in the trust and rail cases are receiving close attention with various theories as to the probable outcome in circulation, and although at this moment, the disposition seems to be towards the results as prospective rather than immediate factors.

BUCK CREEK BRIDGE DAMAGED BY FLOODS

The county commissioners received word this morning that the bridge over Buck creek on the Gordon creek road is in such shape that it will not stand heavy traffic. The recent rains are the cause. One end is dropped to about four feet and is upon an insecure foundation. Carl Nielson, supervisor in that district, was instructed to repair it as soon as possible. Light vehicles can cross it.

Woman Dragged by Car; Unhurt.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Jan. 21.—Except for a few slight bruises, Mrs. Clara Carr, music teacher and artist's model, is little the worse today for having been dragged 500 feet on the fender of a street car. When the car stopped she got up, brushed the dirt from her clothes and walked away.

Pacific northwest packers are drawing cattle from all portions of the west; latest arrivals in the Portland yards being from Colorado. The shipment consisted of seven loads and was purchased direct by a Puget sound packer and did not enter the local trade at all.

Practically all the arrivals in the stockyards recently have been from outside territory. There were 10 loads of hogs in this morning from Nebraska, but they were purchased at the eastern point by a local packer and merely passed through the yards.

Market for sheep is extremely weak and some stock has been carried over for some days owing to the lack of buyers.

Among the Shippers.

Cattle—J. M. Jones, Rexburg, Idaho, one load; A. L. Baker, Caldwell, Idaho, four loads; F. H. Cobb, Pendleton, Or., one load; W. J. Boomer, Cook, Col., seven loads.

Hogs—Henline & Ohlinger, Nebraska, 10 loads.

Sheep and Lambs—George Krause, Pilot Rock, one load sheep; J. L. Cox, Weiser, Idaho, one load; T. H. Thornton, American Falls, Idaho, one load; Sun Dial Ranch, Troutdale, Or., one load.

Today's run of livestock compares with this day in recent years as follows:

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep
1911	906	382	1056

Harry Davis, arrested yesterday on suspicion of being the party who by representing himself to be another person, secured a large amount of goods from various merchants in the city will be arraigned in police court Monday.

The detectives declare that they have positively identified the man as the one who last Saturday telephoned to the Pacific Coast Rubber company and by representing himself to be A. Grubman, secured $60 worth of rubber coats.

The same game had also been worked on the Honeyman Hardware company, the Prince Shoe company and Fleischner, Mayer company.

Fourteen veteran school teachers will be the first to receive pensions under the act passed at the last session of the New Brunswick legislature to provide for annual pensions equal to one half of the annual salaries for the last five years of service, with $400 as maximum pension

NO-TARIFF SPEAKERS USE SPIRITED WORDS

Foreseeing misery for the United States unless the tariff is repealed, H. D. Wagnon spoke for free trade at the debate of the Jackson club on "Free Trade vs. Tariff for Revenue Only," which was held last night in the convention hall of the Medical building. Speakers, in addition to Mr. Wagnon, were R. E. McKay and A. D. Cridge for free trade, and F. G. Whitten, Dr. A. G. Bettman and G. W. Allen for a tariff for revenue only.

Mr. Wagnon opened the debate. He said that economists over all the world called the American people fools for burdening themselves with a tariff. He said that the continuance of the republican form of government in the United States depended upon the repealing of the tariff.

Mr. McKay said the tariff took money out of the pocket of the poor man and gave it to the rich. He asked why and how it could be just for home manufacturers to sell their goods in foreign countries more cheaply than at home.

At one time the debate waxed exciting and speakers rose from the audience to declaim. Among them were J. Hennessy Murphy, J. B. Carr and C. L. Daggett.

G. W. Allen and Mr. Wagnon had an interesting tilt, when Mr. Allen, referring to Mr. Wagnon's proposal to impose a direct tax upon the states, said the constitution would not permit it. Mr. Wagnon produced the constitution.

Mr. Wagnon said the tariff was nothing more than "vicious and barbarous robbery."

WOMAN VICTIM OF SPURIOUS NOTE MAN

A nattily dressed and slippery-tongued individual is visiting in Portland, working off on unsuspecting persons, Merchant-Planters bank notes from Georgia.

One of these highly colored but worthless notes was passed last night on Mrs. A. Quartermass, who keeps a confectionary store at 52½ North Sixth street. The man waited until Mrs. Quartermass was alone. Then he entered the store, purchased a magazine and proffered the note in payment. The note bears the marks of being genuine. It deluded Mrs. Quartermass. Officer R. C. Nelson was notified and given a description of the man, but was unable to locate him.
