EMBASSY BUILDING BILL PASSES SENATE

Washington, Feb. 11.—The senate this afternoon passed the bill for the purchase of the site for the new embassy building in Washington.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Greater South Portland Bridge committee, held in the city hall last night, it was voted to initiate an extensive publicity movement in the interests of the proposed charter amendment for the construction of a high bridge across the Willamette river from Woodward street, on the east side, to Meade street, on the west side.

Secretary Jones reported that he has ordered photographs of up river scenery and the residence and business districts of South Portland to be used in pamphlet descriptive of the territory on both sides of the river to be served by the new bridge.

At its next meeting the bridge committee will order an organization button made and thousands of these will be worn by advocates of the viaduct.

The Commercial club has unofficially promised to assist in the movement to obtain a favorable vote on the bridge bond amendment to come up at the July election.

DESIRES PUBLICITY FOR MEADE BRIDGE

Greater South Portland Committee Seeks $2000 Fund for Its Campaign.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Greater South Portland Bridge committee, held in the city hall last night, it was voted to initiate an extensive publicity movement in the interests of the proposed charter amendment for the construction of a high bridge across the Willamette river from Woodward street, on the east side, to Meade street, on the west side.

Secretary Jones reported that he has ordered photographs of up river scenery and the residence and business districts of South Portland to be used in pamphlet descriptive of the territory on both sides of the river to be served by the new bridge.

ALLEGED LAMPING STANDS IN SHOES OF O. HAMILTON

Investigators Find Washington National Guard's Funds in Bad Company Is the Charge Made.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Feb. 11.—That former Adjutant General George B. Lamping misappropriated between $12,000 and $20,000; that he kept no adequate records of his transactions; that he is involved in a $3500 shoe deal that has not yet been explained; that the officers on waiting orders have not been paid, and that the deficiency in the guard will be between $40,000 and $50,000 by April 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, is the result of the investigation by the Landon legislative investigating committee today.

The figures are not taken by the legislators to mean anything other than General Lamping mismanaged the affairs of the guard. It is known that he collected $17,500 for what is called the "retained pay" fund, which was spent in traveling expenses, hotel bills and for other purposes relating to the guard.

GOETHALS MOVES CANAL DATE TO SEPTEMBER, 1913

Lowers Cost to $360,000,000 Including All Appurtenances—Urges Diligence in Preparatory Legislation.

(By the International News Service.) Washington, Feb. 11.—Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal said today the canal would be completed by September 1, 1913, at a cost of $360,000,000.

This is two years ahead of all earlier estimates for completion of the canal and fully $50,000,000 less than many engineers have figured as the total cost.

President Taft has made similar recommendations and bills for this purpose have been presented by Senator Flint and Chairman Mann of the house committee, each of which gives the president authority to fix, or to designate someone else to fix, toll rates within a maximum and minimum charge.

Plans are on foot to turn the hall of the house of representative over to Colonel Goethals Monday night that he may give an illustrated lantern slide lecture on the canal, the progress of the work, the condition of the workmen the character of the work and descriptive scenery in and about the canal.

The cost of the canal, the machine shops at Balboa, the Pacific terminal, the coaling stations at Colon, the Atlantic and Pacific terminals and other supply stations are all included in Colonel Goethals' estimate of $360,000,000 for the entire cost of the great waterway. He also believes it will be possible to build a drydock within the estimated limit of cost of the canal.
