ANNA GRUSPAN IN COURT, IN TEARS

Tells How She Became Victim of Socialist Walling—Breach of Promise.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Feb. 21.—Weeping almost constantly, Anna Gruspan, testifying today in her $100,000 breach of promise suit against William English Walling, Socialist and author, said Walling had given her 100 francs to relinquish her claims upon him.

Miss Gruspan said that after she yielded to Walling's manifestations of love in Berlin in 1905 the author sent her to school to learn English. Walling, she said, went away and later asked her to go to Paris. She went there to the home of her mother and waited in vain for word from him.

"I didn't know where to find him," she testified. "I loved him so much that my heart was nearly broken. One day in July, 1906, after he had been silent for six months, I met him face to face with two women in the subway kiosk in the Place de L'Opera. He sent his companions away and hurried to me, grasping my hands. He wept and asked me if I were angry with him. I said that I loved him and that I was heartbroken. Then he told me he was married.

"He said he did not love his wife, but married her because of her wonderful socialistic ideas. He declared that he loved only me.

"Then he called a cab and we rode for over an hour. Many times during the ride he kissed me and wept constantly. As we neared my home I told him I couldn't bear to let him go. He said he loved me and would care for me. When the cab had almost reached my home I asked him not to go to the house, because of my mother and brothers. He told me he would write. I went home happy.

"When he wrote he offered me 200 francs. I tore up the letter. Then he sent me 100 francs. I had to take it, because I couldn't allow my family to support me.

"At last I collapsed. I pleaded with Walling to send me enough money to permit me to start up in business in some German city. I was disgraced in my own home and among my friends. He answered that he already had spent enough money on me and would help me no more."

Many times during her testimony, Miss Gruspan broke down and wept.

INDIAN, SAID TO BE 116 YEARS OLD, DIES

Castlerock, Wash., Feb. 21.—The oldest resident of this section, Henry Cheholts, an Indian, was discovered dead in his bed yesterday afternoon by an Indian woman who went there to pay a call. He was said to be 116 years old, and perhaps older, since he was unable to account for his early years very clearly. The remains will be brought to this city, where an inquest may be held, but this is hardly likely, since the probabilities are that he died from natural causes.

FOUR MEMORIALS FROM OREGON REACH CONGRESS

Washington, Feb. 21. — Memorials from the legislature of Oregon have been filed with congress against permitting the sale of unmarked penitentiary made goods, against the Canadian reciprocity agreement prior to a report by a traffic board; for veterans of Indian wars being put on the same footing as Civil war veterans; for travel pay for volunteer soldiers who remained in the service in the Philippines after the treaty of peace in 1898.

MME. LINA WILLING TO TAKE 40,000 AND QUIT

New York, Feb. 21.—It was learned today that while Mme. Cavalieri is willing to relinquish all claim to her husband's estate for $40,000 cash, no agreement to that effect has been signed as yet on account of the opposition of Chanler's divorced wife, who has an interest in his property. Mme. Cavalieri proposes to seek a divorce in France after the settlement.

Curing Catarrh

Accept Our Advice and Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function as nature intended it should. The result is complication upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Rexall Mucu-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistency for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is certainly the fairest offer that any one could make and should attest our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at the Owl Drug Co., Inc., corner Seventh and Washington streets.

TRYING TO BREAK SENATOR ELKIN'S WILL.

Mrs. Hallie D. Elkins, widow of the United States senator, Stephen B. Elkins, who has renounced the provision made for her in the senator's will and will claim dower rights in his $20,000,000 estate, and below, Miss Katherine Elkins, her daughter, who will benefit by her mother's claim. Mrs. Elkins is believed to have taken this action for the sake of her five children, so that they may ultimately receive more than the two children of the first Mrs. Elkins. Under the laws of West Virginia, the Elkins home state, the widow is entitled to one third. Under the senator's will the entire estate was left in trust for five years. At the expiration of that time it was to be divided equally among the seven children. Mrs. Elkins was given the Washington home, the summer home and $25,000 a year. By claiming her third she cuts the share of the two children by the first wife. Her five children will each receive one seventh of the remaining two thirds, but when Mrs. Elkins dies she can divide among them the $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 which her third will amount to.

WHAT THE HOUSE THINKS OF HOBSON

Shown in Killing His 3 Battleship Bill; Cannon and Tawney Also Rebuked.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—That the house takes little stock in Congressman Hobson's fears of war was shown today when his bill providing for three battleships was defeated, 161 to 9. Representative Padgett's amendment cutting down the number of battleships to be constructed from two to one was also defeated, 114 to 139, despite the fact that it was supported by Speaker Cannon and Representatives Tawney and Mann.

OLSON SAYS EXTRA JUSTICE IS WASTE

Work Done Without Serious Strain by Present Two, He Writes West.

In a long letter to Governor Oswald West, Fred L. Olson, justice of the peace for the Portland district, has advised the governor that the additional justice of the peace provided for in house bill No. 159, is unnecessary.

"I cannot be too emphatic in informing you that another justice of the peace is not needed," Judge Olson has written. He says that while the justice court handles a large number of cases, the work has been done without any serious strain or overwork by the two justices.

"I have been publicly charged with taking my office too seriously," the justice's letter reads.

"In these progressive times (and may God speed them) the period has long passed when men clothed with a little brief authority should occupy the bench as exalted ornaments with the idea that the less they do the more dignity. The time has come, though I must confess that it is long past due, when men who assume the serious duty of occupying our benches should do so with the full expectation of giving to the public a conscientious, consistent and full day's labor; to do otherwise would be to be dishonest."

In the letter Justice Olson asks the governor to give his approval to the "constable's" bill.

Security Lodge Meets.

Oregon City, Feb. 24.—Monday night the Knights and Ladies of Security held a big meeting in their hall. This lodge won the banner that is given over for keeping to the lodge securing the greatest number of new members for three succeeding months. The Unity council of Portland, who have held the banner for the past three months, sent a committee to the local lodge to deliver the banner. Following the presentation of the banner a banquet was served and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Edward W. Parker of the United States geological department is in Portland gathering statistics on coal production and importation. He says very little coal is mined in Oregon outside of the Coos bay district. Large quantities are imported, however, from Australia, British Columbia and the state of Washington.

FIND RELICS OF UNKNOWN RACE

Mexicans Unearth Bones and Pottery Perhaps Older Than Moundbuilders.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 21.—Additional evidences of the manners and customs of a prehistoric race have just been unearthed on the Tamsel river near Tampico, Mexico. These were brought to light by workmen who are engaged in laying out an oil pipe line and consist of pottery and human bones. Among the bones were several skulls. A careful examination of these revealed a great difference when compared with those of the present day. That the skulls belonged to a long forgotten race there can hardly be any doubt. The eminently receding forehead, even to its almost entire disappearance, which was characteristic of the race which once inhabited this continent, is much in evidence in the skulls found. The pottery found resembles in a marked degree much of the ancient pottery shown in the museum in the City of Mexico and which was found in some of the mounds by the mound builders. Among other articles were a number of pieces which looked more like children's playthings than anything else. When cleared of the mud these were found to be highly polished and of different shapes, most of them being disc-like and circular with a small hole in the center intended perhaps, for the purpose of hanging them on a string. These resembled the discoidal stones found in Illinois and other parts of the central west. The discovery of these bones and relics is taken as an evidence that this territory was populated at one time by other races of a much higher civilization than were found at the time of the conquest by Hernan Cortez.

Consumption Often Develops From Pneumonia

Consumption readily attacks those who have had Pneumonia. Many sufferers from tuberculosis give a history of having had pneumonia. The lungs thus weakened are more easily attacked by the germs that cause consumption.

For all those with "weak lungs," especially those who have had pneumonia, Eckman's Alterative is the appropriate remedy. Cures of consumption are accomplished by Eckman's Alterative. But take it in time. There is no wisdom in waiting until Tuberculosis is established. Health is never fully valued until sickness comes. A remarkable recovery follows.—4240 Powelton Ave., Phila., Pa.

Gentlemen: "I wish I had known of Eckman's Alterative two years ago. Since taking it I have gained twenty-eight pounds and I cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

(Signed) THOMAS REILLY.

Eckman's Alterative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. For sale by The Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

The house is disposed to deal tenderly with delegations from states whose representation would be decreased by an undue enlargement of the representative ratio. It has only once since the foundation of the government voted for a contraction of its membership.

Under the fifth census, in 1830, the number of representatives was 242, having been increased by 29 over the number allotted under the fourth census. In 1841, after the sixth enumeration, the size of the popular branch was reduced to 232 and many states suffered a serious loss in members. New York's quota was cut from 40 to 34, Pennsylvania's from 28 to 24, and Virginia's from 21 to 15.

The Size of the House.

From the New York Tribune.

The report from Washington that the membership of the house of representatives under the new apportionment must be fixed at 440, if no state is to lose a part of its present representation, indicates pretty clearly that the new apportionment law will sanction an enlargement of the popular branch of congress to at least 440 members.
