

MISS ORALEE LIST FINDS PORTLAND'S FOLK RESPONSIVE

Tells Her Experience Selling Journals on Main Streets; Newsboys Boost for Her; Women Are Friendly.

By Olive Adair. Miss List and I want to take off our hats to you Portland people. (Rasping noise as hats are withdrawn and two bonnets with considerable hair are removed.)

Really, you have no idea how nice and easy we have found it here in Portland. We hadn't left The Journal office before the two Miss Osborns, friends of ours, met us and bought papers—they were the first ones we had sold in Portland, and it started us off well. At Morrison street we branched off, Miss List going up toward Sixth while I kept on across Morrison.

Rightens the First Man. The first man I tackled was embarrassed. I think, by my asking him to buy a paper. He was a blushing, boyish looking chap, and though I didn't mean to, I'm afraid I frightened him. He ran into the cigar store on the corner—to get away from me, I suppose—but I went in, too. I didn't mean to follow him, but just to sell a paper to the men in the store. They all bought one, even the one I had embarrassed at first.

But do you know, it's funny thing, the men are all beautiful here that is nearly all. Most of them, when I ask them to buy a paper, blushed, gave me anything from 10 cents to a dollar and were away again without even looking up.

There was one boy, however, who wasn't a bit afraid of girls selling papers. He was with a crowd of five or six other boys who, when they saw me, dared him to help me sell. Did he? Well, you should have seen him. He was a nice boy too, and taking my paper pouch, walked a block and a half up Washington street helping me sell. He did a lot for a novice—I'm sure he'd never sold any before in his life—and I want to thank him especially.

Women Not at All Snappy. Then the Portland women are our loyal friends, too. I don't know how many stopped me and Miss List as well, asked us how we were doing and something about our trip, and ended up by buying papers. They seemed to take a great deal of interest in us because we are starting out to make our own way. They are the finest women we have met anywhere, and they certainly know how to dress and how to look well. Both of us spoke about it this evening—that we had never seen so many good looking women anywhere else on our travels.

One man stopped me and asked me how many papers I had left. I told him and he gave me a dollar and said: "Here, give me 50." And he got there, too—I stood and counted them out while he waited. He was all right and got his money's worth.

And among those who helped enter-

Tulsa Girls Find Selling Journals Easy in Portland

Miss Oralee List and Miss Olive Adair, at beginning of yesterday afternoon's work.

tain, as I used to say when I was society editor of the Tulsa, Okla., Bee, and wrote up my friends parties, were the newsboys. There must be something fine about Portland people that leads them to help everyone. There wasn't a newsboy who tried to beat us out on a sale or who interfered with us in any way. Some places the boys object to our selling papers, and I can't always blame them. But here they helped us. Several times when men passed us by and the boys saw it they called out to them to "Buy of the 'skolts.' And usually their appeals worked beautifully. We didn't find a kind man woman or boy on our first afternoon spent in selling papers in beautiful Portland.

Sunday we are going to rest and see some more of this place so that we can tell about it when we get home, and Monday we are going to start out again. We hope we'll see you then.

BAILEY HURRIEDLY CHANGES HIS MIND UPON RESIGNATION

(Continued from Page One.)

which Owen, Democrat, of Oklahoma, was fighting. Bailey telegraphed his resignation to Governor O. B. Colquitt of Texas. He was in the cloak room of the senate when the fact became known and half a dozen of his close friends surrounded him with pleas to recall his resignation. In company with Senator Bacon, Democrat of Georgia, he left his friends for a visit to the office of Vice President Sherman, where he met the vice president and Senators Root, Lodge, and Lorimer. They were in conference nearly two hours. Meanwhile, it was discovered that the action of his colleagues in voting for the radical constitution of Arizona had led him to show his resentment by giving up his seat. Bailey bitterly opposed the initiative and referendum in the Arizona constitution, but more particularly the recall of judges, which permits the removal of men from the bench by vote of the people.

He Is Disappointed. He voted against the Owen resolution for the approval of the New Mexico and Arizona constitutions jointly, and it was expected that the bulk of the Democrats would follow his leadership. Instead, all except Overman of North Carolina, and Tallafiero of Florida, voted for the resolution.

In his anger over the support by his colleagues of such an "undesirable if not dangerous measure," he sent the message to the governor. He was especially disappointed by the desertion of such senators as Bacon of Georgia, and Paynter of Kentucky.

Another event of the week that aroused Bailey's displeasure was the Lorimer filibuster of last Monday night. He declared on the floor that it was beneath the dignity of the senate. The desertion of his party today to what he regarded as a wild and radical doctrine capped the climax.

TILLMAN SAYS BAILEY NOBLEST OF SENATORS AND FOES ARE ENVIOUS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, March 4.—Regret on all sides was expressed this afternoon on the action of Senator Bailey in resigning from the senate. Senator Tillman of South Carolina declared that in signing his resignation, Bailey had played into the hands of his enemies.

Bailey, he said, was the noblest man in the senate and his resignation was due to a moment of passion. He declared that a certain coterie of Democrats were envious of Bailey's ability and had plotted to assume leadership. Bailey declines to comment on his resignation.

BAILEY EXPLAINS HIS RESIGNATION, ALSO HIS SUDDEN CHANGE

(By the International News Service.)

Washington, March 4.—The following correspondence has been given out: "Austin, Tex., March 4.—Joseph W. Bailey, Washington. Your telegram is just this moment received. I decline to accept your resignation as a senator from Texas and respectfully ask you to withdraw it. Please wire me fully.—O. B. COLQUITT, Governor of Texas." In response to the telegram from Governor Colquitt Mr. Bailey replied as follows:

"You know how unalterably I am opposed to those populist heresies known as the initiative, referendum and recall, and I would not be willing to remain in the senate or in any branch of the public service if a majority of the party friends, associated with me, were willing to give their approval to them. I construed the vote of the Democratic senators in the senate this morning on the resolution approving the constitution of Arizona as a demand that I should, to these vagaries and under that impression I promptly tendered my resignation.

"The ablest and most conspicuous of the Democrats who voted that way have given me their assurance that they did not intend their votes to be construed and have made through Senator Bacon a statement in the open senate expressly declaring that they utterly disapprove of them. Under the circumstances, and at their earnest request, as well as at your own request, supplemented by many messages from my friends in Texas and some from other states, I have concluded to withdraw my resignation. I am willing to work to the limit of my strength so long as I can serve the public and at the same time obey what I understand to be the commanding of Democratic principles, but no office could tempt me for a moment to compromise with a policy which I am certain would in the end destroy the government established by our fathers. J. W. BAILEY."

The following telegram was also sent to Governor Colquitt:

"We, Democratic senators, speaking for ourselves and for other Democratic senators, regard the proposed resignation of Senator Bailey as a national calamity and we urge upon the people of Texas to demand that he withdraw the same and so to continue active in the senate, in which he is the undisputed and most conspicuous leader. A. O. Bacon, Murphy J. Foster, Lee S. Overman, James B. Tallafiero, T. H. Paynter, J. Bankhead, Leroy Percy, Joseph F. Johnston, Robert L. Taylor, Clarence W. Watson, Duncan U. Fletcher."

DEMOCRATS SECRETLY GLAD OVER FOOLISH ACTION OF BAILEY

(By the International News Service.)

Washington, March 4.—Only five Democratic senators voted with Republicans in support of permanent tariff board bill today. They were Chamberlain, Newlands, Owen, Clark of Arkansas and Thornton.

On the vote to admit New Mexico, Arizona, only three Democrats voted "no," while 12 Republicans voted "yes." They were Beveridge, Borah, Bourne, Bristolow, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Cummins, Dixon, Groun, Jones and La Follette. Issue in this vote was the Oregon popular government laws which have been adopted in the Arizona constitution. The Democratic votes on this question together with the votes on Lorimer and the Borah resolution for the popular election of senators, were the cause of the rage of Senator Bailey, of Texas, the Standard Oil senator, who announced that he would resign from the senate, and that he would not serve with Democrats who voted for the recall of judges.

These votes were demonstrations that Bailey's ambition to be Democratic leader was thwarted and they were accepted as a complete demonstration that the blighting influence of Bailey on the Democratic party in congress was at an end. Democrats tonight were secretly rejoicing at the downfall of Bailey, though a conference of Democrats was held to dissuade Bailey from persisting in resignation, but merely for form's sake. Lodge, Root, Lorimer, and Vice-President Sherman, gathered in Sherman's room to induce Bailey to recind his action.

Arizona will almost surely be admitted at the special session without omitting one line of the Oregon laws which were written into the constitution. Owen's filibuster today, therefore, was a victory and paves the way for vindication of the Oregon laws.

The general opinion is that Bailey knows he will be defeated at the next election, Texas now having the direct primary, and used the Arizona vote as an excuse to avoid such a disaster.

TARIFF REVISION IS FIRST ON PROGRAM OF EXTRA SESSION

(Continued from Page One.)

Wood Schedule First. The ways and means committee has already practically completed the scheme for revising the wool schedule and it is generally believed that it will be the first point of attack. There will be a series of bills, revising separate schedules, and among the first to be passed will be bills placing the necessities of life on the free list.

The Democrats will be more than busy from now on until the extra session meets, for, in addition to the tariff work, they must organize the house. An impromptu conference last night decided that within a week or two a caucus of the members of the next house will be called to endorse officially the work of the ways and means committee, as a committee on committees. As committees have been practically completed and the ways and means committee wants to get them established, so that it may devote its whole time to the tariff.

Tariff Board Dead Issue. On the question of giving President Taft's tariff board bill a new chance, the Democrats are doubtful. As a majority of the old house Democrats joined the Fitzgerald filibuster against it today, it is generally believed that the issue is a dead one for the next congress. The Democrats do not relish any executive interference with their right to revise the tariff.

The Democrats succeeded today in cutting down the appropriation for the present tariff board in the sundry civil bill to $25,000 and limiting its use to the next fiscal year. This defeated President Taft's attempt to give the present board $400,000 to run it for two years for the present Democratic house.

EXTRA SESSION IS EXPECTED TO LAST THROUGHOUT SUMMER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, March 4.—Following is the text of President Taft's proclamation of today calling an extra session of congress for April 4.

"Whereas, a special message on January 26 was transmitted to the senate and house, stating that by agreement with the state department the Canadian government had agreed to a reciprocal tariff with this nation; and

"Whereas, a bill carrying into effect the said agreement passed the house but did not reach a vote in the senate, and

"Whereas, the agreement stipulates not only that the president of the United States will communicate to congress the conclusion reached and will recommend the adoption of such legislation as may be necessary on the part of the United States to give effect to the proposed arrangement, but also that the governments of the two countries will use their utmost efforts to bring such changes by concurrent legislation at Washington and Ottawa; therefore,

"I, William H. Taft, by virtue of the power in me vested by the constitution of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that this extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both houses of congress at Washington on the fourth day of April, 1911, at 12 noon, to the end that they may consider and determine whether congress shall, by the necessary legislation, make the agreement operative.

"All persons entitled to act as members of the Sixty-second congress are required to take notice of this proclamation. (Signed) WILLIAM H. TAFT, President."

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS WILL AID PRESIDENT, DECLARES W. J. BRYAN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, March 4.—Here are things W. J. Bryan told the United Press tonight must be done by the Democrats at the next session of congress, in order to ensure further Democratic successes: Pass the Canadian reciprocity agreement. Revise the tariff schedule by schedule with the object of lowering the cost of living.

Promote legislation looking toward the recall and the initiative and referendum. Submit the question of direct election of senators to the state legislatures.

Restore popular confidence in representative government. "I do not believe," said Bryan, "that these measures will result in direct government. The people are satisfied to trust their public servants, but they want to retain control of them."

"The extra session of congress will be a most peculiar one. A Democratic house will be called upon to enact into law Republican platform pledges which a Republican president demanded in vain of his own party when it was in power."

Bryan declined to discuss Senator Bailey's resignation and his subsequent withdrawal of the resignation because of "political ethics," although it is known Bryan and Bailey were never congenial political bedfellows.

Bryan was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the reception and dinner of the Southern club of Chicago in the Egyptian room of the Auditorium hotel tonight.

His address was semi-humorous. He lauded the south and her men and women.

Toronto, Ont., March 4.—"Time will bring strength," is the comment of the Globe editorially on the fact that the Canadian reciprocity had to go over to the extra session.

"Failure of the senate to vote on the bill," continues the paper, left Mr. Taft no alternative but the extra session. Many of the men coming in favor of the agreement, so it will probably be passed by the end of April.

"The working out of the agreement will be its best justification."

Don't You Need A Set of Teeth?

I PROMISE YOU that I can extract your teeth absolutely without pain, and to prove to you that I will make good what I say, I will make no charges if I fall short on this promise—and you can be the judge.

I PROMISE YOU (in case you need it) a set of teeth that will appear natural—neither long nor short, neither will your mouth appear full, nor will your cheeks be shrunken. I will first set up your teeth in WAX, and then, with the aid of a mirror, you and I together will use our judgment—shorten a tooth here, lengthen one there; trim wax here, add wax there; and then, when you and I are both satisfied as to the length and position of your teeth, their color, their size, the natural appearance of your lips, the fullness of your cheeks over them—then I will duplicate the wax in rubber, celluloid or gold, as you desire.

Graduate New Orleans College of Dentistry (Tulane University), Class of 1906.

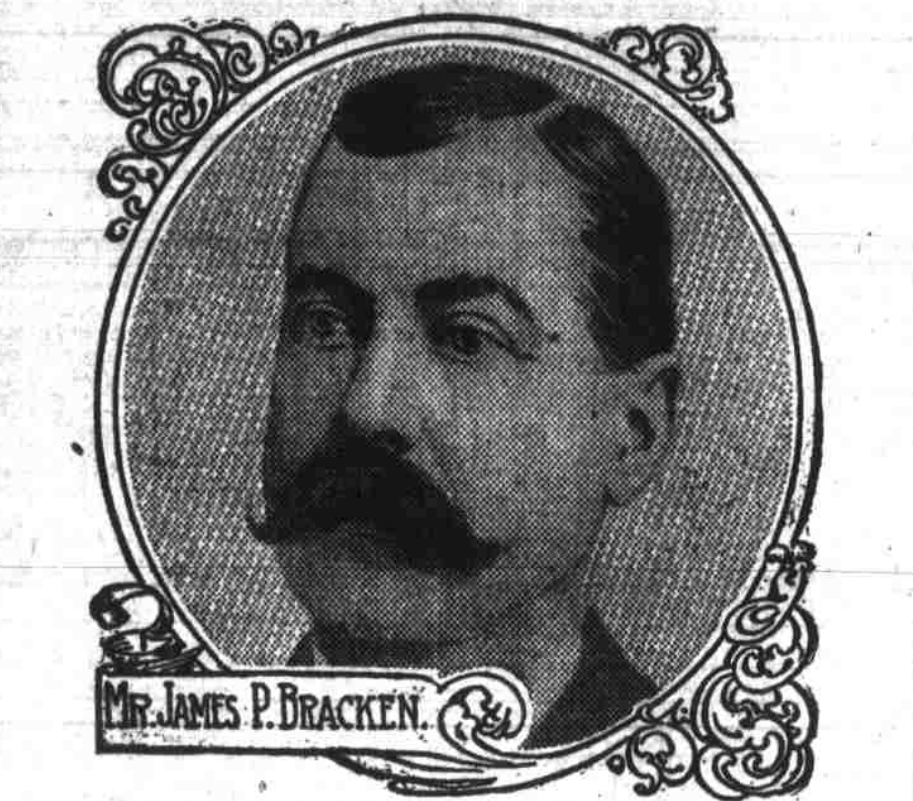

I FURTHER PROMISE that your teeth will fit, for I will set them until they do, and as for their durability, I will guarantee them for life.

ALSO—BRIDGE WORK, GOLD CROWNS, PORCELAIN CROWNS, GOLD INLAYS, GOLD AND AMALGAM FILLINGS—everything guaranteed. If I can't guarantee it, I don't do it. Reasonable prices.

DR. ELOF T. HEDLUND DENTIST

FOURTH FLOOR WASHINGTON BLDG. S. E. COR. FOURTH 27 1/2 WASHINGTON ST.

SUFFERED NEARLY TWELVE YEARS "PERUNA MY RELIEF."

Nasal Catarrh and Indigestion. Mr. James P. Dracken, 610 Tenth ave., New York city, N. Y., has occupied the office of water inspector of New York city for the past fifteen years. He carries on an extensive plumbing business at 610 Tenth ave. He is post deputy of Grand Knights of Regina Cella council Knights of Columbus, N. Y. He writes as follows: "For nearly a dozen years catarrh has bothered me in one form or another. I was troubled with nasal catarrh that had affected my stomach, which troubled me most in the morning. My appetite was poor, and I did not seem to relish my food. Indigestion bothered me at times, also, I was advised to take Peruna, and I took it as prescribed for a month when my cure was almost complete. Today there is not a trace of catarrh in my system, and I can say without hesitation that Peruna cured me."

Catarrh of Head and Stomach. Mr. Frank Richter, 309 East Second st., Winona, Minn., writes: "As a remedy for catarrh I take pleasure in recommending Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. "I know what it is to be afflicted with this awful disease and consider it my duty to say a word in behalf of the remedy which gave me such relief. Peruna cured me, and I know it will cure anyone else who suffers from this disease. "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the curative effects of this medicine. Peruna is a well tested and frequently used remedy, and for catarrh of the stomach it is unsurpassed. "My catarrh was principally located in my head and stomach. I tried many remedies without success. I tried several doctors, but they were unable to cure me. I read of Peruna in the papers and five bottles cured me."

System in Bad Condition. Mr. Michael Rooney, 26 Fifth st., Waterville, N. Y., writes: "If I had known of Peruna years ago I should have been saved much suffering. Under carelessness and exposure in my younger years my system got into a very bad condition before I was aware of it. "My doctor thought that I had catarrh of the bladder and duly prescribed for me, but nothing did me any good. "My friends advised me to try Peruna, for which I am very thankful, as it has cured me in two months, and I am in perfect health."

Advertisement for Henry Jennings & Sons furniture. It features several illustrations of furniture: a rocking chair, a bed, a sofa, and another rocking chair. The text promotes a 'Special for This Week' on 'Stickley Mission Rockers' for $4.25. It also advertises a 'Sale of Stickley Mission Rockers' for $6.75. The company is located at the corner of Second and Morrison Sts. in Portland, Oregon.