Weather Conditions.

High pressure over the greater portion of the country this morning, and generally fair, cool weather. A cold front is expected to move northward from the Ohio river, and a moderate depression is over Alberta and Saskatchewan, and a lesser one over the southern states, where light rains have fallen in New Jersey and moderate rains in Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia and Maryland. Except in the extreme northwest and in the south central and southeast states, skies are usually clear, and frosty conditions obtain on the north Pacific shore. The weather is much colder in Texas and Oklahoma and northward to the St. Lawrence valley; also on the southern Oregon coast, while warmer weather obtains in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys and in North Carolina. Temperatures are considerably above normal in Montana, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Conditions are favorable for generally fair weather during the next 24 hours in this district, except that occasional rain is expected for extreme northwestern Washington. Light frost is indicated for tonight in interior western and sections of Washington and Oregon and heavy frost east of the Cascade mountains.

Forecast.

Portland and vicinity—Fair tonight and Tuesday, light frost tonight, North-easterly winds.
 Oregon—Fair tonight and Tuesday; light frost interior west and west coast portion tonight. Northerly winds.
 Washington—Fair tonight and Tuesday, except occasional rain extreme northwest portion tonight. Light frost interior west, heavy frost east portion tonight. East and southeast winds.
 Idaho—Fair tonight and Tuesday; heavy frost tonight.

Dr. Peacock to Leave Cathlamet.—Dr. F. A. Peacock, who was under a manslaughter charge at Cathlamet, Wash., promised the authorities there Saturday afternoon he would get out of Wahkiakum county and remain away at least a year. He was accused of causing the death of Madeline Long-staine, 17 years old, who died in an Astoria hospital during an operation. The supreme court reversed the conviction against the physician, and the second hearing was to have been held Saturday. Attorney John Logan of Portland was special prosecutor in the case. The girl died November 15, 1908. The case was remanded upon the sufficiency of the testimony in regard to the dying statement of the girl.

Clock of Coin Open Sesame.—Louis Trummer, who conducts a saloon at 225 Washington street, opened his door once too often when the clock of a coin was heard three times on the window pane on a Sunday evening and landed at police headquarters last night on a charge of keeping his saloon open on Sunday. Patrolman Rupert saw a boy get a bottle of beer from the place, and when he attempted to get in by knocking on the door was unable to get a response. A passer-by, however, told Rupert that three knocks would produce the desired result and it did. Trummer put up $25 bail, but did not appear this morning and the bail was forfeited.

Alleged Girl Robber Caught.—Grace White, alias Grace Wheat, was arrested by Detectives Carpenter and Price last night for the robbery of $120 from William Schaefer two weeks ago at Twentieth and Washington streets. The arrest was made at the girl's room at Thirteenth and Giffen streets. Bud White, alias Walter James, was also arrested on a vagrancy charge. The case will come up in the police court tonight. The woman is charged with larceny. The complainant says the woman lured him into a dark alley and relieved him of the money.

Messenger Boy Is Eaten Now.—A fine was given Mrs. Pearl Simpson, one of the former proprietors of the Eagle house in the north end, this morning, by Judge Morrow of the circuit court, for assaulting Joseph Van Coelen, a messenger boy. Mrs. Simpson was found guilty Friday by a jury of 12 men. She was charged with striking the lad with a billiard cue and urging a vicious bulldog upon him when he went to the Eagle house to collect upon a package.

Wants Divorce.—On the grounds of desertion, Ida La Grand started suit this morning in the circuit court from Michael La Grand. They were married at Vancouver, Wash., in 1908. She charges he failed to support her since March, 1909.

Woodmen of World Hold Oldtime House-Raising

Woodmen of the World at work on home for Neighbor A. F. Hedges.

The first "house raising" Portland has had for years was held yesterday when members of Webfoot camp, Woodmen of the World, built a three room cottage at East Twenty-fifth and Powell streets for Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hedges.

Mr. Hedges, who is a machinist in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, had been having a run of hard luck, being compelled to have several operations performed. His small savings were sapped by hospital and surgeons' bills. He is 24 years of age. So the Woodmen decided to help their neighbor. At 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning about a score of fellow neighbors appeared at the scene and commenced work. A. L. Barbur, city auditor, had previously sold the lot to Mr. Hedges on easy terms. By 5 o'clock in the afternoon the house was completed, lacking only doors and windows.

The workmen did not stop to go home for luncheon, improvising a table and setting a hurried meal. Manager Holton of a local coffee company, furnished the coffee, William Reddt the cakes, and Mrs. A. L. Barbur the sandwiches. The work was done under the direction of Jack Woodman and C. Milligan, carpenter, and L. A. Jones, laborer. The working force consisted of A. L. Barbur, William Reddt, George Hurd, F. W. German, G. Alcio, H. Cooley, Werner Antanaph, W. H. Savage, D. Y. Spiller, F. A. Day, G. W. Blanchard, R. St. Helens, R. D. Thomas, J. J. Gannon and J. Gila.

Several years ago the Woodmen built a home in Milwaukie for a widow. The music. He agreed to run Saturday afternoons and not Sunday evenings, if permitted to proceed. He, of course, expected to run full time other days.

How to Begin a Painting.—The art department of the Portland Woman's club will meet tomorrow, March 14, at 3 o'clock, in Women of Woodcraft hall, Eleventh and Taylor. The subject will be "How to Begin a Painting." Mrs. Weister will bring sketches to illustrate.

WATER AT EUGENE NOW TESTS ABSOLUTELY PURE
 (Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Eugene, Or., March 13.—According to analyses of the water from the newly constructed filter plant at the city water works, Eugene water is now absolutely pure and no further fear of typhoid from this source may ever be entertained. Professor A. R. Sweetser, of the University of Oregon, has just completed tests of the water taken from the filters and finds only one bacteria, while from samples from the river nearby he finds 131. The filters are doing even better than the company claimed for them, and the people of the city are rejoicing thereat. Professor Sweetser says there are indications of the typhoid germ in the river water, but absolutely none in the water taken from the mains after it has passed through the filters.

To Work on Coquille Channel.
 (Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Marshfield, Or., March 13.—The new snag boat and submarine drill which has been built for the government at the Kruse & Banks shipyard in North Bend is now completed and will be towed by a tug to Bandon. It is to be used by the government engineers in the work of improving the channel of the Coquille river. Later on the government dredger Oregon, which is now working on Coos bay, will be taken to the Coquille river for the summer.

Would Hold Hands—Insane.
 Salem, Or., March 13.—Because he wanted to hold the hand of every woman he met, George Kodisch of St. Paul in this county has been examined for insanity by Dr. C. H. Robertson of this city and has been committed to the insane asylum by County Judge William Bushey. Kodisch had a pair of beautiful black eyes that one woman handed him when he attempted to take her hand.

Burglar Gets 15 Years.
 Dayton, Wash., March 13.—Thomas McKelvie of Starbuck was Saturday sentenced to one to fifteen years in the state penitentiary at Walla Walla. He was convicted here last week of robbing a room at Starbuck occupied by John Romaine, Lloyd Snow and George Bowman. He will be taken to Walla Walla today.

PARENTS VOTE AGAINST MOVING PICTURE SHOW

The moving picture bug-a-boo got on the nerves of the quiet-loving parents of Hawthorne and Sunnyside districts, who had become aroused by accounts of small boys imitating Indians or bold, bad highwaymen through the moving picture influence. Came then the startling rumor that right out among them, at Thirty-seventh street and Hawthorne avenue, one of the shows was to be instituted. Yesterday the parents held a mass meeting of protest, the first of its kind in Portland.

The meeting was held in Sunnyside Congregational church. The Methodist, Friends and United Presbyterian churches were represented. With them were the Fathers club, the W. C. T. U., the Congregational Sunday school and the Sunnyside Club. J. T. Wilson of the Fathers' club presided, and Sherman W. Walker was secretary.

"Ours are purely residence districts. Our chief enterprise is raising children. We must protect our chief enterprise," said Mr. Walker, the secretary. "I find the principal effect of moving picture shows is an enhanced desire to spend another nickel," said the chairman, "and sometimes the ways of getting that other nickel are questionable."

Mr. Brant, owner of the show, which has not yet commenced operations, came before the meeting to defend himself. He protested that he did not intend to cater to children so much as groups, and that, although they wouldn't admit it, parents were the best patrons, anyway. Mr. Brant further related that he had bought the enterprise from another man, had sunk $3000 in the deal, and didn't see any other way of getting his money back than to start

This Editorial From "Life"

"Why has the modern department store grown to such immense proportions without a word of protest from any one? The department store as it exists today is one of the most disintegrating influences we have. These stores deal in the cheapest kind of materials. Nothing that is excellent can find a place there, as it would cost too much. It could not be turned over rapidly enough. This has encouraged manufacturers to make only the most slipshod goods, barely good enough to pass muster in a casual inspection. Thus we have furniture that falls to pieces at the slightest provocation, and utensils in name only. Let any one try to find a first-class piece of hardware in a department store, if he doubts this.

THE GREATEST results in cases of weak digestion are obtained from SCOTT'S EMULSION because when ordinary foods do not digest, it provides the needed nourishment in highly concentrated form.

Scott's Emulsion is so easily digested that its strength is rapidly absorbed by the youngest babe or most delicate adult. SCOTT'S EMULSION is the food that strengthens the race. ALL DRUGGISTS

"The editor of 'Life' says: 'Nothing that is really first class can find a place there. It would cost too much.' This applies to the optical line as well as the hardware, furniture and utensils. If the people who attend these 'bargain sales' would demand a written guarantee that the articles purchased are exactly as represented, some of these concerns would pass into history with their less harmless brothers in the easy-money game—the gold-brick artists, the three-shell operators and the bogus mining stock brokers.

This is food for thought.

HOVENDOEN PIANO CO.
 To Close Out the Business.
 Owing to ill-health and his many other interests, Mr. Hovendoen, of the Hovendoen Piano Co., is offering pianos, player pianos, phonographs, organs, etc., at actual factory cost. See their advertisement in this issue.

TWENTY-ONE INSTRUMENTS WERE SOLD SATURDAY IN THE SALE

Today and Tonight We Should Exceed Even This Big Record—Everything Is Now Marked Down

WE WANT TAKERS BADLY FOR EVERY BABY AND PARLOR GRAND—ALSO TWO SUPERB WELTE MIGNONS.

Every instrument throughout the old place, comprising the world's best makes of pianos and loads of talking machines must be closed out at once, regardless of considerations of profit. The nation's foremost makes—Chickering's, Kimballs, Deckers, Lesters, baby grands and uprights, all makes of Player Pianos and music rolls for them also music cabinets, electric pianos, pipe organs, church organs, parlor organs—all must be sold.

STORE FIXTURES, STANDING AND ROLL-TOP DESKS, SAFES, RUGS, CARPETS AND DRAPERIES ARE INCLUDED

New pianos usually sold for $250 are now $162—payments $5.00 monthly buys them. New pianos, usually $350, are now $225 and $236—$8 monthly buys them. Highest grade $550 pianos, brand new, are now $357, $368, etc.—$10 or $12 monthly payments buys them. Tremendous sacrifices also in Player Pianos. All makes. Instruments usually priced $650 are now $435—payments $12 monthly buys them. $750 styles are now $522, and $900 styles are now $647, while the costliest $1000 and $1150 instruments go at corresponding reductions. Payments from $15 to $25 a month buys them.

Eilers Music House has been in the music business longer than any concern now in active business in Portland. During this time it has been the aim of Eilers Music House to furnish not only the very best instruments but the very best at the lowest possible prices.

second-hand or used. They are not even shown. They are the Nation's foremost and best styles. There are several hundred new pianos under this roof. There are dozens and dozens of baby and parlor grands. There are nearly a hundred Player Pianos. There are half a hundred of parlor and school organs. There are tens of thousands of music rolls for Player Pianos. There are hundreds of talking machines and thousands of records. There are also many electrical self-playing instruments, and included in this sacrifice are two magnificent Welte-Mignons, the most superb and positively the highest priced instrument in the modern Player Piano.

After being in altogether inadequate quarters for last four or five years the firm moves into new building at Seventh and Alder streets with entirely new stock.

There are some baby grands at half price, and the best piano usually to be obtained for $250 are now marked $162. Pay $5 monthly, if you like. Elegant $900 Player Pianos are $447, those usually selling for $650 are $425 cash or $12 a month.

But during this closing-out sale of every instrument now in our old quarters it is not a question of disposing of a portion of our stock on hand. We must sell everything within these four walls. Every instrument intended for sale has been provided; every instrument in the old establishment must go. These instruments must be disposed of at once.

Don't fall to look at our talking machines and the reduced prices we are making on records; we are actually selling three records for the usual price of one. Organs for a song. Everything must be sold.

WEY PRICES ARE OUT.
 To accomplish this necessitates the most merciless price-cutting. Never heretofore have first-class, highest-grade musical instruments been obtainable at prices so low as those marked upon our price tags at this time. No one who has investigated these pianos and these prices during the past week has gone away disappointed.

STORE OPEN DAY AND NIGHT NOW.
 For the convenience of those who cannot call during the day, our establishment will be open every evening during this sale. It will pay to call early in the forenoon. It will pay residents out of town to take a trip to Portland or to telephone some trustworthy friend to make arrangements for them to participate in this sale. We will gladly mail special list of prices and catalogues to out-of-town customers who cannot arrange to call. All orders entrusted to us by mail will receive the personal supervision of a member of the firm, and goods shipped shall be found exactly as represented or money will be cheerfully refunded.—Eilers Music House, now at 353 Washington street.

ORDERING SUPPLIES BY TELEPHONE

THE retail merchant's telephone serves not only as a salesman, but also as a purchasing agent. When a merchant finds that he is going to run out of a line of goods, he calls up the wholesaler or factory and not only orders a new stock, but comes to an agreement on the price and the time of delivery.

The unexpected needs of his customers can be met with the least possible delay. If the merchant cannot find what he wants in town, the Long Distance Service of the Bell System brings him into immediate communication with other cities and other markets.
