INSIDE BASEBALL AND SPEED WILL BE BEAVERS' AIM

Mac's Men Look as Though They Will Do Some Gathering Before the Season Ends; How They Appear.

By R. A. Cronin.

Santa Maria, March, 16.-Inside base ball and speed will be Portland's object in the pennant race this coming summer and the champions look as if they will live up to the letter in each case. Combine brains and speed with ability to hit tolerably and you have a club that is hard to beat. Baseball nowadays on the coast requires more quick thinking than formerly, and the team that is quick of mind and fleet of foot will gather 10 times where the old, slow-going slugging aggregation will McCredie's men look now as if they will do some gathering before the sea-son is over. They might not be able to hit with the San Francisco or Vernon club, but their ability in other lines look as if they are the favorites in the race. With two more weeks of this sort of weather, the club will be in grand shape to open the season. The out-fielders, with the exception of Krueger, who is still sporting embonpoint, are in the pink of condition. Ryan is down to weight and is far faster than last season, and Chadbourne is ready to face a pitcher in a real championship game right now.

Rapps Is Improving. Bill Rapps, minus the bad legs that handicapped him last summer, is showing up his early season form of last year, when he set the circuit on fire with his speed. Bill is hitting better this year, and ought to strike 10 points better than his .346 mark in 1910. He is covering a few feet more ground around the bag, and in the Regular-Yannigan games has startled the local fans by tearing out into short right field after fly balls.

Eddle Mensor is showing nicely at second base, and has begun to recover bit when he first jumped into practice. ball artist, a class in which McCredie If Eddie were 20 pounds heavier, he has much faith. would be a whirlwind, but he has a physique which may carry him through. Eddie is of about the size of Johnny Evers, the sensational Cub second sacker. He is as fast as a bullet, handles ground ball nicely, can cover an expanse of territory around the keystone sack and with more coaching will be a daugerous base runner. However, he lacks the experience necessary to hold down that job in the Coast league right from the jump with credit to himself, but he may surprise us all. He has the spirit and that is a big thing in his favor. If Neal Ball falls to show up looks as if Mensor will cinch the second base job over Rodgers:

Rodgers has been showing up better in his fielding of late, and McCredie may carry him for a couple of months. He has changed his position at bat a bit, and is hitting more timely than before. He is a deceiving fellow in many respects. In getting away from the plate none of the players here has anything on him, and between sacks he has a tantalizingly awkward way of running. He is showing more of the old 'pep" in practice games, which may nduce McCredie to hold him.

Peckinpangh Looking Pine.

Rodgers is not the ballplayer that Peckinpaugh is, the good looking bru-nette whom Cleveland has very generously turned ever to McCredie. Peckin paugh is just now beginning to feel his oats, and is showing fans as much speed as Olson had last year, in addition to an ability to field a ground ball that the Swede never possessed. Peckinpaugh has a good arm and a better batting eye than Ole, although it is doubtful if he will cover quite so much ground in the flamboyant manner of the graduate. Peckinpaugh is a sure shot at short, while it looks as if Mensor and Rodgers will fight it out at secwith the San Joseans having the

If all the infielders were as good as Tommy Sheehan, McCredie's worries would be things of the past. Tommy is a finished fielder, and right now could be up in the big brush if he were of a mind to go back. This year he will have an even break with the pitchers, and ought to bat around .250, which in the Coast league, corresponds to about .275 in any other class A cir-

Sheehan Making Becord.

Tommy is covering a lot of territory round that difficult angle, and despite s little evidence of too much fat, is overing as much ground as in his best days last season. He is in like a streak on bunts, his short pins and peculiar hop giving him a distinct advantage the average running bunter. It takes a fast man, starting from the left side of the plate, to get away from Sheehan. His arm is in great shape and he whips that ball across the diamond like a rifle bullet. When every-thing is said and done, Sheehan might well be judged the best third baseman in minor league baseball.

The catching department will be well taken care of this year with Murray, veteran, and Kuhn and Bradley, re cruits. Kuhn is the most promising backstop that has donned the mask in nany a day on the coast. He lacks experience, of course, but he shows little or no weakness in any other branch of the game. If Bradley shows as well as Kuhn and Murray, the Beavers will have one grand catching staff. McCredie informed the writer that he was almost inclined to carry three catchers all year, using one of them for utility if occasion demanded. Kuhn can fill almost any position with credit, while

Anxious about Pitchers.

Last year at one period both Fisher and Murray should have been on the bench, the former suffering from a hand that could barely direct a ball, and the latter showing a leg swollen so badly he could hardly get a stocking on. This year to avoid bruises on the ankies or shins, the big manager has procured a pair of shin guards which the backstops must wear, whether they like it or not. Kuhn has already been saved several painful whacks on the shins, white a ball that would have struck Murray on the knee and probably laid him out, bounced halfway back to the pitcher after striking the guard.

It is the pitchers that have McCredie on the anxious sent. If Keestner shows his old form he will have three reliable twirlers in the elongated Teuton, Steen Anaious About Pitchers.

his old form he will have three reliable twirlers in the elongated Teuton, Steen and Seaton.

Seaton is in the best condition of any of the twirlers here and is ready to take his turn right now. Tom has been smoking them through for a week and one is not stretching a point when it is opined that Seaton has a lot more speed than last year. Tom's curves are breaking with more suddenness and if he takes the best care of his arm if he takes the best care of his arm will be one of the sensations of the league. Two years of indifferent pitch-ing have hung heavily on Tom's record and he is anxious to show his follow-

Shows Good Hook Ball Steen, who was spiked by Ariett, suf-fered a painful bruise on the upper portion of his instep when he stopped a hot one from Ryan's bat Sunday, and it pained him so badly that he had to take to his bed. Steen has been going along in a quiet way, employing nothing but straight balls and letting the curves come gradually as the training season nears a close. Steen has been in the game long enough to know how to condition himself to best advantage and when the first gong rings, "Big Six" will be ripe to pitch the epening game. Archer is conditioning slowly, but the southpaw is showing a good hook ball and excellent control for a port-sider. He looks as if he will stick with the "Bugs" Russell, the Irish ship carpenter, who is trying out, is awfully green yet, but fooks promising. Grif-fith, Sanchez and Arlett are hardly ripe for Coast league company. When Fullerton gets his spitter working, he may find himself tied to a job as one of the regulars. Of the whole bunch of bush twirlers, this young school kid has revealed the greater knowledge of the finer points of the game, to-wit: What to do at the right time. He bats like a regular, taking good position and meeting the ball instead of taking a wild swing at it, as is proverbial with slabsters. He fields his position well and with coaching ought to prove a valuable man to McCredie.

Manager Mac has his eyes on Alexandria, La., where the Naps are training. and hopes to land Pitcher Deane and a his batting eye, which affected him a big fellow named Veysey, who is a fast

Ship Disease:—Undoubtedly you are sufficing from eczema. Splendid results are credited to the following formula when very carefully mixed with the true ingredients: Carbolic acid 20 drops, citrine olintment 1 oz., lanolin 1 oz. Have your druggist mix these three ingredients. Then buy a 2½ dram pack. age of rose-kayloin, a specially prepared and rarely used powdered product, which must be mixed into the olintment as follows: Warm the olintment slightly and then gradually and slowly stir in the rose-kayloin. When this is done carelessly, or the druggist substitutes something else, no cure can be assured. Cleanse the sore parts with castile soap and water and apply the mixture twice daily, and in a few weeks all traces of your trouble should be gone.
