Weather Conditions.

The Alberta disturbance has drifted southeastward to the Red River valley, and has caused light precipitation in Manitoba. The northwestern part has disappeared from the map, but it caused light precipitation in Tennessee, Illinois, and on the North Atlantic coast. The pressure is high over the northwest, and the southeast and east, and with the exceptions of the sections from which precipitation has been reported, generally fair weather obtains throughout the country. The weather is colder in northern Texas, the greater portion of the lower Mississippi valley, the Ohio valley, and Lake region, and is generally warmer elsewhere, particularly in the upper Mississippi valley, the northern plains states, Colorado, and on the Atlantic slope. In the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Lake region, in north-central Texas, and in the north California coast, the weather is cooler than usual for this season of the year, although departures from normal temperatures are not marked; in the upper Mississippi, Missouri, and Red River valleys, the Plains and basin states, on the central Pacific coast, and in western Canada, temperatures are much above normal.

Conditions are favorable for continued fair and warm weather Sunday throughout this district, with generally northwesterly winds.

Forecasts.

Portland and vicinity—Sunday, fair. Northwest winds.

Oregon, Washington and Idaho—Sunday, fair. Northwest winds.

St. Patrick's Ball—The special St. Patrick's mask ball given by Mt. Hood circle, Women of Woodcraft, Tuesday evening of the past week, was a great success both socially and financially. The East Side Woodman hall had been appropriately decorated for the occasion. Over two hundred maskers were present, making a grotesque scene as they made merry beneath the soft green lights to the strains from Blumenthal's orchestra. Hostesses of the evening were Mesdames Minnie McGreggor, Mary E. Wheeler, E. McCulloch, Lou Ellen Cornell and Mattie Truhy. The next social event will be a military whist party on Tuesday evening, March 28.

The Beaverton Clay Mfg. Co. of Beaverton, Or., desires to sell about 150 shares of its capital stock. The plant is equipped with two complete sets of American Clay Machinery company mangle and chinery for manufacturing brick drain tile and fireproofing, and is the largest plant of the kind on the coast. One of the largest waste-heat dryers in the northwest is now nearing completion; also the latest improved down draft kilns. The stockholders of the company are all well known business men. The best of references can be given. Call at office, 301 McKay building, for further information.

Kenilworth Improvement Club—The Kenilworth improvement association will hold an important open meeting in the Kenilworth Presbyterian church, East Thirty-fourth street and Gladstone avenue, tomorrow evening, March 20, at 7:45 sharp. All persons interested in the large improvements now beginning in that section, whether members of the club or not, are urged to be present. Matters of supreme interest to every taxpayer will be brought before the meeting. Every property owner is requested to be present.

Local Union Mass Meeting—A local union mass meeting will be held at the Vernon Presbyterian church, Tuesday, March 28 at 8 p. m. This meeting will be of exceptional interest. Each of the four divisions of the union will report the progress of the work under the new constitution. There will be a report of the state convention, held at Ashland, Or., February 10, 11 and 12, which will be of great interest to all Endeavorers. Dr. J. W. McMichael will furnish special music, after which a social hour will be held.

No Use Talking, you want your clothes to fit you. The only way to have them fitted to you in the making. That is what we do, and we guarantee the result at our special low price, $25 made to your individual measure. Come in tomorrow and take a look at the newest designs and colorings. ## MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION LOSES FOURTH STRAIGHT

The jury in the case against Martha Adams, indicted for running a disorderly house, was out yesterday only 15 minutes until a verdict of not guilty was returned. She was indicted upon information furnished by the Municipal association in its efforts to clean up some of the lodging houses last December. This was the fourth case the association has lost. None has been convicted.

Martha Adams was accused of conducting a disorderly house at 235 Everett street. The detectives for the Municipal association testified they bought liquor in her place, and secured further evidence tending to show the place was disorderly. The defense was that the place was conducted as a lodging house.

Where to Dine.

A. L. BARBUR Announcement

The present auditor, announces his candidacy to succeed himself as auditor of the City of Portland. During his term of office he has inaugurated many reforms in the auditor's office and has shown himself competent, and always with an eye for the protection of the city's interests. As a politician remarked the other day, "We have nothing against Barbur but we think he has been a little over zealous in looking after the city's interests." Perhaps he has, but the city is not the loser. Some people have not been able to carry on certain business unrestrictedly; they, of course complain of his over zealousness but Mr. Barbur desires to say that as long as the people hire him as auditor to run their corporation he will protect their rights and see to it that as far as his office is concerned the people will get a square deal. His slogan is, "Will continue to serve all the people faithfully and merit their confidence."

The Inside Facts About Jewelry--Is What Counts

"Where did you buy it" is often the first query. Not what you see—but what you don't see—is what counts in selecting jewelry and silver. That's where a commercial reputation comes in. Buy of the firm who boasts one, and makes good. The stupendous cut on all goods prior to our Removal is made from the finest, down to the most insignificant, article in our store. We have an honest reason for handing you our full profits—we want an empty store. We've only a short time left to close out this big stock.

SALOONMEN LIE; CAN'T BE CITIZENS

Declare They Have Never Been Arrested; Records Show They Have.

Two men were refused naturalization papers yesterday afternoon in the circuit court because they testified under oath they had never been arrested. One was a saloonkeeper who had been arrested three times. The other was a carpenter, arrested once. They will not be allowed to apply for citizenship for five years.

John Scheideman, proprietor of a saloon at 715 Williams avenue, and Fred Samuelson, were the men. Henry B. Hazard, United States naturalization agent, asked Scheideman if he had ever been arrested. The applicant replied not. A few more questions were asked about naturalization, and the first question was again put. Again Scheideman replied that he had never been arrested.

The naturalization agent then introduced the records of the municipal court, showing Scheideman was arrested April 21, 1909, for violating the liquor laws; January 28, 1909, for allowing a minor in the saloon; and March 3, 1909, for selling liquor to a minor. Fred Samuelson was proprietor of a saloon at Front and Jefferson streets, from November, 1910, to March, 1911. He also said he had never been arrested. The naturalization agent exhibited records to show he had.

do with the refusal to allow the final papers than the fact that the two men had been arrested.

The citizenship papers of Jerry Ljubetich, Austrian, were revoked. He was admitted to citizenship in December, pending verification by the government officials at Staten Island, of his statement that he had landed there, which did not come.

Final papers for Edwin E. Rothague, Harman Schaffner and Robert Neusel were refused on the grounds that their witnesses did not meet the requirements. In the case of Schaffner, it was found one of the witnesses for the naturalization of his father was disqualified, and this invalidated the application of the son.

Citizenship papers were granted William Johnson, Bernard Brady, Ole Walland, Joseph M. Variety, Fred Richter, Henry Gottschalk, Andrew Hegre, Caspar Marugg, Joseph Friedman, and Nadin Syrcianey. The last man is a Syrian, and is the second of his race to be given papers in this state.
